TRIO OF TINY COSTUMED DANCERS WHIRL BEFORE AUDIENCE AT HERRICK NURSING HOME IN FRIDAY PROGRAM

Toes Tap and Eyes Twinkle

Patients of Herrick Nursing Home enjoyed a colorful dance revue Friday evening.

Ballet and tap students of Mrs. Candace Roesch presented the one-hour program — mythically transporting the residents to the "open range country".

Forty gaily-costumed performers executed their routines with spirit and poise.

Dancing eyes and smiling faces affirmed the deep appreciation of the patients for the program entitled "Tappin' Texans".

Taking part were Irene Mudgett, Debbie Clark, Debbie Ingersold, Becky Dusseau, Christine Clark, Diane Raymond, Bonnie Ryan, Mary Ellen Bognell, Janice Miller and Mary Rodlund.

Others were Carolyn Smith, Lori Lowery, Taffy Raymond, Jackie Suydan, Karen Lowery, Debbie Suydan, Jeff Emerson, Cindy Griffin, Linda Schultz, Margaret Ann Furry, Sharon Bosche, Robyn Barnes, Diane Landenberger, Gay Van Hoosear, Maureen O'Brien, Kim Howard, Paula Macbeth, Susan Laidlaw, Mary Laidlaw, Paula Holmes, Coleen Fagan, Lynn Peck, Cathy Young, Bill Macbeth and Brenda Smith.

Also on the program were Cindy Griffin, Linda Schultz, Margaret Ann Furry, Sharon Bosche, Robyn Barnes, Taffy Raymond and Karen Lowery.

The dancers are young people of the Tecumseh and Adrian areas. Those from Tecumseh meet each Saturday morning at the Community Center for their instructions.

★

EACH WEEK a special program is planned for the patients at the Nursing Home by members of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Easter themes were used by the high school madrigal singers, by Mrs. Buttolph's fourth grade class, and by Mrs. Francis Packard in her felt board story.

The Shawnee Square dancers evoked some toe-tapping during their demonstration in early April. Two Cub Scout dens of Pack-72 presented lively skits in the Mexican mood.

Members of the Monday Club brought chuckles with their play "In Broad Daylight".

Tecumseh abounds in talent and versatility. Groups and individuals are invited to offer programs for the Herrick Nursing Home shut-ins. All types of entertainment are appreciated.

If you know of someone who could give a half-hour of pleasure and diversion to these senior citizens, please contact Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, 423-3589 or Mrs. William Macbeth, 423-4182.

French Club Candy Sale

The Tecumseh High French Club is holding a candy sale at noon Friday in the THS hall. The popular candy sale, which was originated in the school by the GAA, has become quite a money-maker.

Peace Corps Test

An opportunity for area residents to test their aptitudes for Peace Corps service will come at 9 a.m., Saturday, in the Adrian post office.

CLINTON — Sheila Beatty, a Tecumseh 4-H club member, presented a demonstration on the "Care and Showing of Horses," at a meeting of the Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club Monday.

Judy Arnold was hostess for the meeting attended by 21 members, Mrs. James Woodward and Mrs. Kenneth Munger.

The club voted to send $5 to the IFYE fund which will be used to send Larry Gould of Morenci, the Lenawee 4-H representative to Mexico.

Carol Davenport, who represented Lenawee County as the "Dairy Sweetheart" reported on her educational weekend at the state meeting in Lansing.

James Woodward and Bruce Carleton gave a demonstration on "Choosing Good Seed Corn and Fertilizer."

Several county 4-H members will be guests of the Michigan Milk Producers Association for the two day event and will stay in a Detroit hotel overnight. They will be accompanied by Norman Reese of Tipton.

The group planned a club tour for their next meeting to be held May 23. Members are to meet at 1 p.m. at the home of Sheryl and Patty Aebersold and will visit each member's home to see his projects. Parents are invited. The tour will end at the James Woodward home with a weiner roast and planned supper for the families.

2,000 Visit World's Fair at Center

Excellent weather apparently worked against this year's Kiwanis World's Fair.

It was perfect—sunny skies, warm and spring at last.

Apparently, most folks headed for the hills instead of the Community Center.

Attendance was about 2,000 for the three-day event, estimated Jan Baxter of Kiwanis. This was a drop from last year's 5,000.

Profits to the club will probably not exceed $1,000, added Mr. Baxter.

The money is used exclusively for civic projects of the service organization.

Here and There

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Since Memorial and Independence days fall on Sunday, this year we will have two long bonus weekends with Mondays being holidays.

Supposing that many of our readers will be casting about for interesting places to go, here is the first of several articles devoted to trips, which may easily be made in a weekend — or expanded upon for a longer excursion.

April marked the 100th anniversary of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln and is would seem an appropriate time to make a pilgrimage to those places which held significance in his life.

A fine overnight trip is to Springfield, Ill., the state capitol and site of Lincoln's home and of his tomb.

★

THE ROUTE to historical places in the city is well-marked so visitors should have no trouble finding the most interesting sites.

The Lincoln home is much as it was when the family lived there. The tomb in Oak Ridge Cemetery contains the bodies of the president, his wife and three of their four children.

My husband and I found our visit to this revered memorial inspiring and rewarding. Children, prepared by their parents, will enjoy this opportunity to visit one of the nation's shrines.

Two Illinois state parks offer much of interest to persons interested in Lincoln lore. Both, by the way, permit camping.

Lincoln's New Salem State Park is 22 miles northwest of Springfield near the town of Petersburg. The 328-acre park is an authentic restoration of the old town of New Salem, where Lincoln lived from 1831 to 1837.

There are 23 cabins, including 10 shops. A museum holds relics of Lincoln and other settlers.

Lincoln Log Cabin State Park is about 15 miles southeast of Mattoon. Here the log house where Lincoln's father and stepmother lived, has been reconstructed and furnished.

★

ANOTHER INTERESTING place is the Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial immediately south of Lincoln City, Ind.

Lincoln's mother, Nancy Hanks Lincoln, is buried on the memorial grounds. The Lincoln State Park with a picnic area and a lake is in adjoining Lincoln State Park.

Kentucky is filled with interesting places to visit and is close enough for long weekend jaunts. We will limit this article to those places pertinent to Lincoln.

At Harrodsburg is Pioneer Memorial State Park, a reconstruction of old Fort Harrod, which was built in 1774. Here, within the Lincoln Marriage Temple, is the original log cabin in which the parents of Lincoln were married.

Three miles south of Hodgenville is Abraham Lincoln Birthplace National Historic Site. In a granite memorial is the little log cabin in which Lincoln is believed to have been born.

The visitor center houses exhibits of the Lincoln family and includes a diorama and an audio-visual program depicting the various travels made by Lincoln during his boyhood.

★

TRIPS SUCH AS the one suggested here are most rewarding if one is aware of the historic events which happened in the region visited.

The interested motorist can find all kinds of fiction and non-fiction books which will kindle his interest in the region he plans to visit and parents would do well to see that their children also are aware of what they are to see and its relevance to their own lives.

A Touch of the Past

The high school department opened April 22 for 10 weeks with E. A. Dickinson as principal, assisted by Julia Bacon and Harriet Gilbert in the Female Department.

A cold northeast storm arrived here this week which turned to snow. The temperature was 30 degrees and ice was ½-inch thick. Fruit was in full bloom and all prospects blighted.

Our Readers Write

Editor's note — Contributions from our readers are always welcome. They must be signed if they are to be published. She Feels Deep Regret

TO THE EDITORS:

I feel deep regret in being compelled to write this letter, but as former residents of Tecumseh and Tipton, my husband and I like to feel part of the community.

Inasmuch as we have a daughter and her family living there and many fine friends.

The last two years we lived in Tipton, and are in great sympathy with all the people [illegible] the finest people live there and we know by past experience and relationship with them.

My husband was very ill while we lived there and at a time like that you realize who are your friends. Many times our yard was cleaned, our walks and drive removed of snow — they didn't want pay or cease — they did it out of the kindness of their hearts for which we will be forever grateful. And again our sympathy goes to them in their loss.

Now for the real reason that this letter is being written is the fact that each Friday I may be five minutes late to the hairdresser waiting for The Herald as I read it while under the dryer.

However, after reading as far as the fifth page I really became so heated that I won't have needed the dryer.

"Credit Left Off" — I imagine that if everyone who helped in this way was listed, there might not have been a Herald Publication this week.

Mrs. Luce expressed publicly that she could not have done this alone without the help of many whom she did not know, and she is not the kind of person who lives on praise.

She works very hard in her Coffee Shop, to have the necessities of life, because of the handicap Mr. Luce has, she must do it, although he cannot do many things he would like to do, he is always busy and cheerful and that is more than many do who are more able than himself. They would sit down and give up, this is it, he still continues.

The Good Lord was with the Luces to spare what did remain, so the less fortunate could be helped if needed. Why are people so petty?

We live from day to day — tomorrow it could be you or me.

Not yesterday's load we are called on to bear,
Nor the morrow's uncertain and shadowy care;
Why should we look forward or back with dismay?
Our needs, as our mercies, are but for the day.

The people of this area had more dreadful experience near our home; 158 buildings were demolished; three killed here and 13 killed in Findlay. Unfortunately some lost all they possessed.

Everyone that could work did what they could, many came from far distances, no relationship, just to give a helping hand and I have yet to hear one gripe.

We were on I-75, just missed Findlay by five minutes and waited two hours outside of Sidney in lines of traffic until the road could be cleared.

So we feel the Good Lord was with us and we are thankful and have helped here and will continue as long as we are needed.

Your truly,
Mrs. Walter Beck,

Halleys Say 'Thank You'

TO THE EDITORS:

Public recognition of the great response on the part of all our local businessmen (implement dealers, contractors and all the rest) in coming to the aid of those of us who were in the path of the recent tornado is past due. We surely can be proud of the fact that our community is served by such grand people.

Personally — a big THANK YOU to our many friends, on behalf of my family, I humbly thank you for the many kindnesses extended to us immediately following the tornado. Your immediate response was outstanding, and you were extremely helpful in seeing that needed action was taken in the right direction and at the right time.

Neighbors' facilities were kindly put at our disposal for care of surviving livestock. An unlimited amount of food came in from many sources, and the consoling comfort of everyone meant more to us than our words can express.

Having received no personal injuries, we realize how much more fortunate we are than many others. There is so much for which we are truly grateful that it leaves little reason to be discouraged.

Youths Steal Two Bicycles

TO THE EDITORS:

Tuesday was Thomas McKenzie's ninth birthday anniversary and not a very happy one, I might add, because Monday night about 10:30 two boys in bathing suits or short shorts, white tee shirts and white sailor hats came up along side of our home and stole his bike and his sister's, too.

They woke my daughter who had just gone to sleep and she came running downstairs to get me. By the time I had my clothes on, they were gone.

The police were there in a matter of minutes, but the thieves were gone. I would appreciate any information about the boys of the bikes as I can't replace two bikes right away.

The boys' parents must know from the description if it could be their sons, because I'm sure there weren't too many boys running around town at 10:30 that night dressed as they were.

The boy's bike has a red frame and chrome fenders, also high handle bars. The girl's bike has a blue frame and chrome fenders.

Thank you,
Mrs. Catherine McKenzie

Goodbye Florida, Hello Tecumseh

TO THE EDITORS:

We are leaving Fort Myers tomorrow.

It will be good to get home where it will be comfortable sleeping under a blanket.

Your coverage of the terrible tornado was excellent. Wonderful pictures.

We will want The Herald sent to our Tecumseh address.

Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw.

Son-in-law Enjoyed Pix

TO THE EDITORS:

Am asking for the next issue of the Herald be sent to my home address, Britton, Mich.

Have enjoyed your paper so much. It was sent to me as a Christmas gift by my grandchildren.

Sure did appreciate the issue concerning the tornado.

My son-in-law, who is a printer working for a print shop in Mt. Dora, thought those pictures were wonderful. He does commercial printing but has worked on a newspaper.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Who gets the blame?

The kids, who steal candy bars and trinkets during lunch hour, or their parents?

Petty pilfering may seem of little consequence, but stolen nickle-and-dime items quickly add up to a major sum on store balance sheets.

Several Main Street merchants are being bugged by what amounts to roaming bands of youngsters, who seem to flood a store and pocket items so quickly the storemen haven't got a chance.

One retailer caught some lads, who, instead of being contrite, pleaded a variety of reasons why they shouldn't be punished — even to "my father is sick in the hospital."

★

THE MERCHANT called a mother, police and a school official.

The educator talked turkey: "Prosecute!"

He added that folks running stores don't like to do this because they figure it's bad publicity, but that's the best way to stifle the pilfering.

The mother said she would handle her son. It was apparently the first she had heard her boy was enjoying after-lunch sweets from downtown stores without bothering to pay.

The police said if storemen wished to prosecute, there really are no complications, as the youths and their parents are called before the juvenile judge in closed hearings.

In one instance, a patrolman volunteered to appear in a downtown store during the noon hour, wearing his uniform shortly before he was to report for his duty shift.

The merchants welcomed the plan, and here's what happened as related later by the store owner.

"There were about 30 kids in the place when the policeman arrived. I greeted him from the back of the place with 'What did the judge do to the boy we caught shop-lifting?' "

The question was supposed to get some reaction from the youngsters present — and it did. So much so, that the merchant confessed he nearly fell in a dead swoon.

"Before the policeman got halfway to the back of the store, 27 of the kids had hustled out the front door," the merchant explained.

It hit him then that the 27 were there for just one reason — to help themselves.

Earlier pilfering estimates by the merchant suddenly took a racing run upward. That's what almost produced the faint.

★

SO BACK to the original query — who gets the blame?

Like the mother mentioned, possibly many parents never know their kids are stealing. A pointed question or two might clear the air on this.

If kids can be made to realize that a swiped candy bar at 12 can grow into a heisted automobile at 18, they might decide on a more sensible approach to the noon break.

Everybody loses when kids steal.

Mostly, the youth themselves.

Banquet To Highlight Annual Michigan Week

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Plans for Michigan Week have been announced by Dyke Helms, general chairman of the event, which will be observed throughout the state starting Sunday.

Spiritual Foundations Day, Sunday, will be observed in churches at the discretion of ministers, Mr. Helms said. He has asked the Rev. Harold E. Speer, president of the Tecumseh Ministerial Association, to alert pastors and to request that they point out to their congregations the religious significance of the week.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church is planning the dedication of a cross made of timbers of the old church as part of its observance.

Early Sunday morning Tecumseh firemen will hose down the city's downtown streets.

On Monday, Mayor Exchange Day, Mayor and Mrs. Harold E. Easton, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moore, Mr. and Mrs. George McCombes and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Puffer Jr. will go to Alma where they will be entertained by city officials during the day and feted at a banquet at night at Alma College.

Alma's head man, Robert Anthony, and the official delegation from there will visit Tecumseh on Thursday.

★

COUNCIL MEETING, usually held on Monday nights will be postponed until 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall.

Mr. Easton and councilmen are hopeful that residents, including Tecumseh High School students of government will attend the meeting.

THS students of government and economics will elect members of those classes to "public

BUSY BUILDERS — Five homes, four of them already sold, are currently going up in Kerby Heights Subdivision. Two are for Fisher Body executives. The quintet rounds out the Miami Ct. section of the residential area at the extreme end of N. Union St. From here, the Schultz Builders of Adrian will move to Pontiac Trail, which is the subdivision's next street to the north and begin a segment of 22 more homes. Kerby Heights is one of nine residential building sections rolling at top speed in the Tecumseh area.

Teachers Repudiate $50 Raise

Whether Tecumseh school teachers receive a $50 raise for the 1965-66 term will not be decided until the Board of Education meets Monday night.

Last week, the board unofficially approved raising the base salary from $4,700 to $4,750 with present teachers receiving a flat $50 increase over their annual increment.

Tuesday afternoon at a meeting in the high school, the Tecumseh Education Association rejected the increase.

Although some teachers abstained from voting, the final tally was 50 to 11 for rejection.

According to Mrs. Robert Stone, elementary teacher at Sutton School and publicity chairman for TEA, the raise was turned-down so the board could balance its budget, for fear that a raise now would jeopardize a possibility of a larger raise next year, and in the belief that the money should be spent for teaching supplies.

The TEA salary committee is expected to attend next Monday night's meeting.

POWER SEWERS BUSY — These women are sewing sun visors at the Tecumseh Fisher Body plant and are among 105 women who have been trained to operate the power motor machines which will sew upholstery for GM automobiles. By fall some 1,000 persons will be employed at the big factory on Occidental Hwy., southwest of Tecumseh. Some 14,000 persons have applied for jobs at the plant and applications continue to "flow in".

Machines Hum at Fisher

Things are humming around the Fisher Body plant.

Hourly-rated payroll now includes 135 and the salaried total is at 80, reports Harvey Vogt, industrial relations and personnel chief.

The numbers will grow until they reach approximately 1,000 by fall.

The Tecumseh plant has received 14,000 applications for jobs and they continue to "flow in day after day," Mr. Vogt reports.

Working on production sewing machines are 105 women, who have been doing sun shades and head linings.

Beginning this week, they'll start doing seat cushions and seat backs, explained Mr. Vogt.

Thirty more women are in a training class. It takes approximately four weeks to master the basics of machine operation.

Eighty of the eventual 190 salaried people are already at work.

Mr. Vogt points out that only 12 people hired have quit, which is considered "excellent over-all" for losses in a new manufacturing operation.

☆

ACCOUNTING PERSONNEL, who have been working in the Fisher Body temporary information center next door to Adrian Federal Savings & Loan office, will move into their permanent offices at the plant Monday.

Some of these people have been transferred in from Detroit and Livonia.

Four Bands Provide Music for Big Safety Check Parade

Four girls will vie for the regal title of 1965 Safety-Check queen.

The city's automobile dealers have entered candidates who'll ride in convertibles during the giant Safety Check parade Thursday, May 20, starting at 6:30 p.m. with the winner being crowned at the end of the parade.

Candidates and their sponsors:

Debbie Crawford — Keith Bailey Olds.

Susan Ford — Wilson Motor Sales.

Katherine Carter — Tecumseh Motor Sales.

Beth O'Neil — Schneider Chevrolet-Buick.

IN ADDITION to the queen, Mr. Safety will also be crowned. Nominations for this honor are currently being accepted at The Herald office for the Safety Check committee.

Mr. Safety laurels will go to a safe driver, who may be nominated by anyone submitting reasons in a letter, listing why the candidate should get the special designation. Prizes go to both Mr. Safety and the person nominating him.

Winners of the Jaycee Auxiliary Baby contest, which is now being conducted with pictures of candidates displayed in various Tecumseh stores and voting by pennies, will also be crowned as part of the parade.

Four Take Petitions for Board

If petitions taken out for the school board are filed, races for two seats on the board are certain for the June 14 election.

Dr. Fred Freeman, incumbent, and Jerry Barton have taken out petitions for the one four-year term.

Mrs. Donald Cobb and Gibbs Barber have petitions for the one two-year term.

Petitions, available at the board office on W. Chicago Blvd., must be filed there by 4 p.m. Saturday with at least 50 signatures of qualified voters.

Tipton's Angel, Mrs. Fay Luce, will be spotlighted in the post parade festivities with Senator Gil Bursley presenting her a special copy of the resolution passed by the Michigan Senate after her heroics following the tornado.

★

FOUR BANDS are taking part in the parade, which steps off from city hall. The line of march goes west on Chicago Blvd. to Union St. and then back over the same route.

Anyone wishing to be in the parade should call:

Police Chief Murell Clark — 423-7494

Spec Simmons — 431-2437

Clarence Beach — 423-2624

A grandstand in front of Easton's service will be the focal point for dignitaries and judges of the queen contest.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore will act as master of ceremonies.

Visiting Mayor Robert L. Anthony of Alma will say a few words of greeting to the crowd.

★

FOLLOWING THE parade, the Safety-Check lane will officially open and start inspection of cars and trucks. It will remain

Poppy Sale Opens Friday in Tecumseh

Commander Arlan Kapnick of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4187 today announced the appointment of Richard Perry as chairman of the VFW's annual Buddy Poppy drive which will be held in Tecumseh Friday and Saturday.

In accepting the appointment Mr. Perry expressed a sincere hope that this would be the biggest year ever in the sale of Buddy Poppies here.

He pointed out that today, more than ever, we have a solemn obligation to help those who gave so much during times of war.

"The high cost of living," he said, "has placed an increased burden on our disabled veterans. It is our responsibility to see that they are properly cared for and relieved so far as possible from greater hardships.

"In addition, we must not forget those widows and orphans of veterans now living at our National Home at Eaton Rapids."

Lack of Quorum Delays Hearing on Gas Pumps

Lack of a quorum last Thursday night resulted in the Board of Appeals' hearing for gasoline pumps on W. Chicago Blvd. being rescheduled to Wednesday night, May 12.

Joe Collins, Jackson businessman, has sought the hearing to get approval to install pumps in front of a new car-wash.

The Board of Appeals also will hold a hearing May 26 for the Kerby Heights Subdivision.

Leland Kerby, Morenci attorney, was turned down by Council Monday when he requested it to allow a 25-foot setback from N. Union St., instead of enforcing a 35-foot setback.

Council met briefly Monday to approve the 1965-66 budget. The tentative budget previously presented, was approved without changes, putting into effect, a .6 mill increase.

For next year, the city will operate on 12.6 mills.

Cable Lifts Weight from Nun's Heart

"We're fine," the cable read.

A great weight was lifted from the heart of Sister Carmen Joseph, O.P., fifth grade teacher at St. Elizabeth School, as she read the two words.

The message came from her parents, who live in revolt-torn Santo Domingo.

Its arrival ended a week of worry and concern for the Tecumseh nun, who had tried unsuccessfully to contact her folks.

The family has lived for 14 years in the Dominican Republic, where Sister Carmen joined the Dominican Order, which is headquartered in Adrian at Siena Heights College.

Sister Guillelma, O.P., superior and the 19 nuns stationed on the island, all have been evacuated.

Their 12-grade school, Colegio

Diggers Can't Locate Water

Hopes for a new city well, just west of Red Mill Pond and north of Brown St., vanished last week when diggers were unable to hit a sufficient amount of water.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says other attempts for a new well may be made in the west end.

Santo Domingo, on a 15-acre plot of land, is intact and guarded by marines and Dominican citizens. Sister Guillelma arrived in Adrian late Friday and talked with Sister Carmen Saturday.

★

WHEN TROUBLE started, American officials in Santo Domingo ordered the nuns to keep in the school until they could be sent to Puerto Rico and then Miami, with the superior asked to return to the Mother House.

The Dominican Order maintains three convents on the island, two small missions in the hills and one at the school, which has an enrollment of approximately 800.

Seven men formed Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. a little over two years ago. When the doors opened Feb. 1, 1963, there were 20 employees. The work force is now at 100 and business is running 35% ahead of last year. Another solid industry for our town.

George Schumm chuckled Monday morning as he pulled a check from his mail that he didn't know he had coming. "Well," he said, "This must be part of LBJ's new program. I didn't know it worked like that."

To help bring in donations for new Clinton High School band uniforms, Virgil Ludwig, owner of the Clintonian Arms Apartment, and Mrs. LaVonne Buell, who runs LaVonne's Restaurant, have come up with a neat deal. Give $25 to help put bandsmen in new threads and get a free sirloin-for-two dinner at LaVonne's.

Tornado forecast — conditions are ripe for tornadoes, keep an eye on the sky, your radio on as you go about your business.

There's a talented fellow named Simone D'Arcy who works for Union Pen & Pencil Corp. of New York. He sent us a beautiful gold ball point with this touching note:

"The enclosed ball pen, premier model of our 'Coeur de Mystere' series, was designed with the French market in mind, where it would appropriately retail for 3 francs, 50 centimes (about 69c each). Because French tariffs were not lowered, as anticipated, we still have 75,000 of these pens left in inventory. If you can use some for your business, they are being closed out at only 25 cents each for 150 or 22 cents each for 300."

Enclosed with the note was a check for $60.

The McKenzie children have their bikes back because their mother wrote a letter to the editor in last week's Tecumseh Herald. Two rascals from the southwest area of Lenawee County had thrown the bicycles into a gravel pit but brush had kept them from submerging and they were found by asparagus pickers. Since the finder had read the paper it was easy to discover the owners.

Please open your door to the school census takers. Each year Mrs. Donald Brazee and Mrs. Victor Lawson are plagued with numerous return trips to residents who may think the ladies are selling something. From now until May 31, they wish only to inquire about the number, ages and schools the children in the family are attending. Come on now, open up.

Gary Betz is a two-time winner. This is the second year in a row that he has rolled the highest score in the Father-Son Bowling tournament. His score was 1262 this time.

Can't find that roaster or casserole dish? Maybe it is at the Presbyterian Church. Many persons who sent food to tornado victims are still missing the containers they used. The church is open all day for the convenience of those who wish to pick up their pots and pans.

Wednesday the student "officials" will sit in with their respective city officials and be briefed on the duties of the government.

★

THURSDAY will be the busiest day for promoters of the "Week."

Mayor and Mrs. Robert L. Anthony of Alma will arrive at the Tecumseh Airport at 10 a.m. Thursday. They will be driven through the downtown section of the city which will be decorated with flags by members of Hall-Slater Post, American Legion.

After a two-hour rest period the official party will join hundreds of other spectators to watch the annual Safety-Check parade scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. (See parade story).

★

THE DAY will conclude with a banquet at 8 p.m. in the Tecumseh Country Club, with the public invited.

Speaker will be Lewis Lamm, manager of the Tecumseh Fisher Body plant, who will talk on Russian industry in contrast to that of this country.

Persons who plan to attend should contact Mrs. David Schoonover, 423-4600, chairman for the Jaycee Auxiliary members who are in charge of the dinner. Tickets are $3.50 each and should be reserved by Saturday, Mr. Helms said.

★

NO PARTICULAR observance will be made in Tecumseh of Hospitality Day, Our Heritage Day or Youth Day as designated by the Greater Michigan Foundation, sponsor of the state wide promotion.

However, Mr. Helms said, merchants are being urged by the Jaycees and the Senior Citizens to display in their windows Michigan merchandise and articles of historical value.

It is hoped, he said, that merchandise will be tagged with the name of the city in which it is manufactured.

Mary Margaret Boynton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Boynton, 4171 Allen Rd., was one of 67 outstanding Michigan State University coeds initiated into Mortar Board and Tower Guard honoraries at the May Morning tapping ceremony on the MSU campus. in operation until 10 p.m.

Hours of the Safety Lane on Friday and Saturday will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Qualified mechanics will examine exhaust systems, lights, brakes, steering, seat belts, windshield wipers, mirrors and horns.

If vehicles pass all tests, a special windshield sticker will be awarded drivers. Owners of those with defective points, will be asked to have them repaired and return for eventual OK.

As an added incentive, when a driver returns in this manner, he will have a chance on a host of prizes given the committee by local merchants.

MRS. CHRISTOPHER WHEELER
The former Gail Walscheid

Gail Walscheid Weds Christopher Wheeler

Gail Ann Wahlscheid of 147 S. Larch St., Lansing, and Christopher Kent Wheeler were united in marriage in an evening ceremony, Friday, in the First Baptist Church in Tecumseh.

The bride is the daughter of [illegible] of 3522 Stage Rd., Ionia. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wheeler of 7788 Clark's Cove Rd., Addison, formerly of Tecumseh.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore performed the ceremony before an altar enhanced with vases of pink and white gladioli and white daisies.

The bride was given in marriage by Wilfred Graves, a friend of the family.

★

THE FLOOR-LENGTH bridal gown of white peau de soie was designed by the bride with simple styling featuring a rounded neckline, long sleeves, and an A-line skirt.

She wore a silver cross necklace, a tradition in the bridegroom's family. Her viel of French illusion lace was held by a pearl-accented crown trimmed with a cabbage rose. The bride carried a white prayer book, a gift from the bridegroom, upon which were Eucharist lilies and ivy streamers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Rockwood were the attendants. Mrs. Rockwood wore a street length dress of aqua brocade taffeta styled like the bridal gown. A matching Dior bow and veiling formed her headdress. She carried a nosegay bouquet of pink roses centered with violets.

The ushers were A/3c Kermit Wheeler, airmen third class, of McCord Air Force Base, Washington, and Douglas Wheeler of Addison, brothers of the bridegroom.

A RECEPTION was held following the ceremony in the Baptist Youth House. The bride's table was covered with light blue taffeta skirted with nylon net and centered with crystal candelabra and a bouquet of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and blue forget-me-nots.

Upon their return from a wedding trip in the eastern states the couple will live at 3905 Kaiser Rd., Clinton.

Weatherman Helps Start of Golf Year

Several prayers were answered in the Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf League May 5, when the weatherman gave up a warm sunny afternoon.

Last year the first five nights were played in a nasty combination of snow, rain and wind, and most members didn't discard their long winter underwear until after Memorial Day.

The warm weather induced fairly low scoring, and was topped by a pair of 38's shot by Bill Berkley and Eldon Walker.

WHAT DOES IT ALL ADD UP TO?

In the well-known city where this young fellow is growing up crime has shown a steady increase for more than a decade. And many of the convicted offenders aren't old enough to vote. Rough-looking "kids" loiter on the street corners with nothing to do. Smooth-looking "kids" flash by in cars with no place to go. The police patrol certain beats with dogs — humanity alone cannot cope with the situation.

But this young fellow must grow up nevertheless. And for him . . . for the community . . . for the nation . . . tomorrow depends on how he grows up!

It all adds up to the most crying need of our time: early, continuing, determined moral and religious instruction. It demands spiritual awareness in our homes. It requires resolute, sacrificial support of our churches.

In every city, village and hamlet an awakened nation is mustering its total spiritual resources . . . seeking God's help . . . and seeking yours . . .

Board OKs New Tractor

CLINTON — The Clinton Board of Education, meeting Monday night, voted to purchase a Ford tractor, mower and scraper from the Ford Tractor Sales in Saline.

The decision was reached after demonstrations of implements by the Saline firm and by the Whelan Implement Co. of Tecumseh.

After hearing Mrs. Richard Sharpe and Mrs. Mary Hull, representing the Band Boosters Club, request aid in the purchasing of new uniforms, the board expressed unanimously its interest in the project and empowered Richard Wegner, superintendent, to work with Karl Wirt and the uniform committee in the selection and financing of new uniforms to be made available in the 1965-66 school year.

TEACHING PERSONNEL contracts and curricula were discussed by Mr. Wegner and Principal Richard Steudle.

Plans are being made to implement some team teaching and large group instruction, to add a vocal music teacher to the staff and to introduce new courses on the secondary level.

Election materials and procedures were discussed. Three positions on the board are to be filled at the June 14 school election. Petitions of candidates must be filed with the secretary of the board, Charles Knight, before 4 p.m. Saturday.

A freakish accident at the A&P parking lot sent five to Herrick Hospital for treatment Saturday.

Sam Saylor, 44, Onsted, was parking his car when his foot apparently slipped off the brake and hit the accelerator. The auto zipped over a curb, across the sidewalk and Herrick Park Dr. into a plowed area before ramming into a tree.

Stauffer's car hit a parked auto owned by Ruth L. Kuder, rural Clinton.

Both cars, involving two motorists, Sunday were towed away after a collision at N. Occidental Rd. and Conklin Rd., formerly Munger Rd.

Frances Z. Yoder, 37, of 8244 Clinton-Macon Rd., was charged with failure to yield the right of way after driving into the path of a car driven by Richard C. Lent, 36, of 1533 N. Munger Rd.

Success hasn't gone to its price

After all, you don't get the No. 1 place (or stay there year after year after year) unless you give people a lot for their money. That, Chevrolet does. Look what's new for 1965. Everything.

Like the handsomest new styling you've ever turned around for another glance at. Like Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride, even better now with Wide-Stance to steady things as you go. Like however much economy or excitement you'd want, our miserly 140-hp Six to our ferocious Turbo-Jet V8, 325 hp on order.

Besides price, one other thing hasn't changed: Chevrolet's traditional resale value . . . still so good you won't believe it until you get it. So get it (along with all that's new) at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM
IN MEMORY of our darling Mother, Mary P. Jones, who passed away six years ago, May 12, 1959.
In a graveyard softly sleeping
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
But whom we could not save.
God knows how much we miss her,
He counts the tears we shed,
And whispers, "She is only sleeping".
Our loved one is not dead.
Forever missed by her children, John Paul Jones, and family

In loving memory of my dear husband Sam who passed away one year ago, May 14.
Mrs. Sam Shervino M13c

Huron League Track Meet Is Here Next Wednesday

The Huron League track meet will be held here next Wednesday afternoon and evening, with the undefeated Tecumseh Indians big favorites to run away with first place.

The preliminaries and field events are scheduled to start about 4 p.m. with the finals planned for 7 p.m.

Unless there's a collapse, Tecumseh will add the track crown to the basketball and football titles also won this school year.

★

GROSSE ILE and Milan will provide the stiffest competition. Both were trimmed in dual meets by Tecumseh the past month, although the Indians had to rally to beat GI.

If Coach Tom Fagan's team runs to its potential, the Indians could wind up with eight first places.

Steve Derby, probably the best all-around trackster in THS history, is a near certainty to win both the 180- and 120-yard hurdle events. Teammate Lee Hannibal could grab a fourth or fifth spot.

Bill Thomas, like Derby, a school record holder, should win the shot put event.

★

TIM COLLINS, present league 100-yard dash champion, could repeat again and add the 220-yard dash to his laurels. His top competitor will be Bill Eaddy of Milan.

Roger Young boasts the best times in the 440 and should avenge a defeat by Milan's Greg Keith. Since losing to Keith, Young has lowered his time by well over a full second.

The Indians are strong in both the 880 and mile relay teams and should finish no worse than second in either — possibly winning both.

Kirk Lucas, top Indian pole vaulter, is expected to win second place. GI has one vaulter who has cleared 12 feet, a slightly better mark than what Lucas has been able to do this season.

Mike Sharpe could pick up some points in either the mile or 880 run, depending on the event Coach Fagan enters the senior runner.

Both Derby and Lucas could place in the broad jump with Derby also a point prospect in the high jump.

★

DON BRAZEE, assistant high school principal and former Tecumseh track coach, is in charge of the league track meet here, the first time the Indians have ever hosted the event.

There's no admission charge.

Indian Thinclads Take Fourth Spot in Albion Relays

Steve Derby and Roger Young place finish in the annual Albion placefinish in the annual Albion Relays Saturday.

Derby won both the 180 and 120-yard hurdle events, and Young took the 440.

Bill Thomas, failing to hit his previous distances, took a second place in the shot put.

Kirk Lucas finished fourth in the pole vault, and fifth place finishes went to:

Tim Collins, 220-yard dash.

Lee Hannibal, 180-yard low hurdles.

Mile and 880 relay teams.

Stock Car Racing Opens at Speedway

Clear skies and balmy weather greeted the stock car season at Manchester Speedway Friday evening.

The track continues Friday racing throughout the summer with time trials at 7 p.m.

In the event of rain, races are run Sunday evening, starting at 6 p.m.

Dick Slade of Hillsdale had the fastest time in qualifying on opening night. Louie Stemen of Hillsdale was second and Harold Reynolds of Athens third.

Reynolds captured the first heat, followed by Slade and Dick Hinkle.

Dale Miller of Hillsdale won the second heat, trailed by John Porter and Fred Seltenrite of Homer.

The checkered flag in the third heat went to Chuck Chadwald of Deerfield. Bob Burrows of Hillsdale ran second and Jim Martin of Manchester third.

Ron Stetten of Petersburg captured first in the fourth heat with Bob Clark of Hillsdale second and Neil Baggett of Manchester third.

★

IN THE PURSUIT, Harold Reynolds came in first, Jim Drumhiller of Marshall was second and Dick Slade third.

The semi-feature was captured by Jack Carr of Adrian. Roscoe Stetten of Petersburg was second and Sam Henson of Saline third.

Jim Drumhiller took the flag in the feature, with Dal Miller holding second and Willie Lewis of Tipton third.

It's Eight in Row for THS Team

Tecumseh won its eighth straight dual track meet Tuesday with a walloping 77-32 victory over visiting Jackson St. Johns.

The Indians won every event except the 880 run.

Bill Thomas set a new school record in the shot put with a toss of 51'9¾".

Steve Derby won firsts in both hurdle events, and the broad jump and anchored the winning 880 relay team. Tim Collins copped two firsts — 100 and 220 — and ran the first leg of the 880 relay team.

The visitors were so far outclassed that a second Tecumseh unit in the mile relay just missed finishing second.

Flowering Plants Honoring Veterans To Be Bedded

Girl Scouts will plant 100 geraniums in a bed near the entrance to Brookside Cemetery as tribute to the veterans of all Wars. The work will be done May 31, immediately after Memorial Day services at cemetery.

In former years the plants which are paid for by the city, have been placed on the grave of each veteran. The practice has been discontinued this year by decision of the Tecumseh City Council because, as Cal Zorn, city manager said Tuesday, of the difficulty of giving necessary care to the flowers when they were scattered about the cemetery.

A plaque, explaining the memorial will be placed in the flower bed.

Mrs. Barton Chrisman, neighborhood chairman of the Girl Scouts, said that Cadet Scouts from the seventh and eighth grades will do the planting.

Donald Woods, past commander of the American Legion, will be parade marshal this year.

Units will form at the intersection of E. Chicago Blvd. and Maumee St., at 10 a.m. Monday, May 31.

THE WAY TO DO IT — Sandra Miller, Paula McKenna, George Lancaster and Cindi Parker rehearse for the Clinton High School senior play, "One Foot in Heaven" to be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, May 14-15 in the high school.

Seniors Present Comedy Twice

CLINTON — "One Foot in Heaven" will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday by the Clinton High School seniors. Mrs. Donald Geiger is the director.

The comedy is about a minister and his family who move into a dilapidated, crumbling, old house in Laketon, Iowa in the year 1910.

George Lancaster plays the role of the Rev. William H. Spence whose patience is sorely tested by Mrs. Sandow, a wealthy widow, played by Cindi Parker. Mrs. Sandow's donations provide half of the minister's salary.

★

THE MINISTER'S wife, Hope, is played by Paula McKenna. Paula in real life is a minister's daughter. Her role is one of a kind and understanding woman who must stand up for her children's rights, but must also keep peace between her husband and his parishioners.

Sandra Miller, playing the daughter, Eileen, is a typical teenager of 1910. Her friendship with a Mexican girl causes her father some problems.

Other members of the cast include: Dennis Bowman, Dan Miedduch, Cheryl Stout, Bonnie Rogers, Pat Kaiser, Ron Brown, Linda Brown, Carolyn Girbach, Don Hoyt, Bernadine Baisch, Bonnie Hoelzer, John Basinger, John Hoyt and Denice Anderson.

STAGING A period play of this type requires able committees for work behind the scenes. These are: sets, John Schaufle; props, Karen Johnson; publicity, Audrey Wight; programs, Mary Williams; costumes, Sheryl Winchell; make-up, Roxanna Pilbeam; lights and sound, Don Hoyt; prompter, Karen Johnson; business manager, Glenn Kinney; house, Cheryl Faust.

Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. Refreshments will be served at intermission.

CLINTON — The Village Council has approved an increase of $5 per week to the William Terns Co. for garbage collection in the village.

The action was taken at the May 5 meeting.

Bids were opened for curb and gutter work on Marion and Clinton Sts. They were turned over for tabulation and recommendation to the village engineer, Alter E. Frazier Associates.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Flying Squirrel Takes Residence in Martin House

Bill and Bertha Mackey are entertaining an unusual visitor this spring. A mama flying squirrel has taken over the martin house that Bill so painstakingly built two years ago.

Urged by his wife to "climb up there and find out why the martins weren't interested," Bill got a ladder and proceeded to pull a partially built nest from one side of the martin house.

As he turned to the opposite side of the bird house, a small dark colored little object with wings flew out.

"Well, that's that," Bill told Bertha. "If that rare little creature wants our martin house for nesting, we'll just build another. I'll be glad to have a flying squirrel here."

Dresses Compete in National Sewing Contest

TIPTON—The Lenawee County judging of the National Grange Sewing Contest was held Friday afternoon at the North Adrian Grange. There were 20 dresses entered for competition. The dresses were later modeled and judged.

Those placed in the first class will be taken to Lansing for judging at state level. Winners will be announced at a noon luncheon to be held Saturday at Capitol Grange.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Rae Frank from the Singer Sewing Machine Co. gave a very interesting demonstration on the sewing and use of new fabrics.

Gift certificates were donated to the first place contestants by the Watkins Shop of Tecumseh, A. B. Park Co. and Adrian House of Fabrics.

In conclusion light refreshments were served.

First Methodist Children Present Program Sunday

"God's Steadfast Love Endures Forever" will be the theme of the Children's Day program at the First Methodist Church during the morning worship service Sunday.

Harry Stanifer, church school superintendent, announced that the youngsters participating will include those in the nursery through the eighth grade classes with the older youth acting as readers and ushers.

Correlation of the program is being worked out by the teachers in the respective classes and no church school sessions will be held," Mr. Stanifer said.

During the program the Rev. Donald C. Porteous will include mention of Spiritual Foundation Sunday in observance of Michigan Week.

House Family Reunion Held at Duck Lake

A reunion of the family of the late Ross House was held recently with 75 attending a smorgasbord dinner in a restaurant near Duck Lake. Games and contests were provided for the children during the afternoon with several skits put on by members of the family.

Norbert Hope of S. Lyon presented a color film of several big game hunting trips and the House orchestra presented music for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Carson House, Jr., of the Shawnee Squares and several others presented a specialty square dance. Singing was included in the festivities.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN — Michigan Week, sponsored annually by the Greater Michigan Foundation opens Sunday and continues through May 22. The observance throughout the state has drawn nation-wide attention to the industrial, economic and vacation possibilities to be found in this Wonderland.

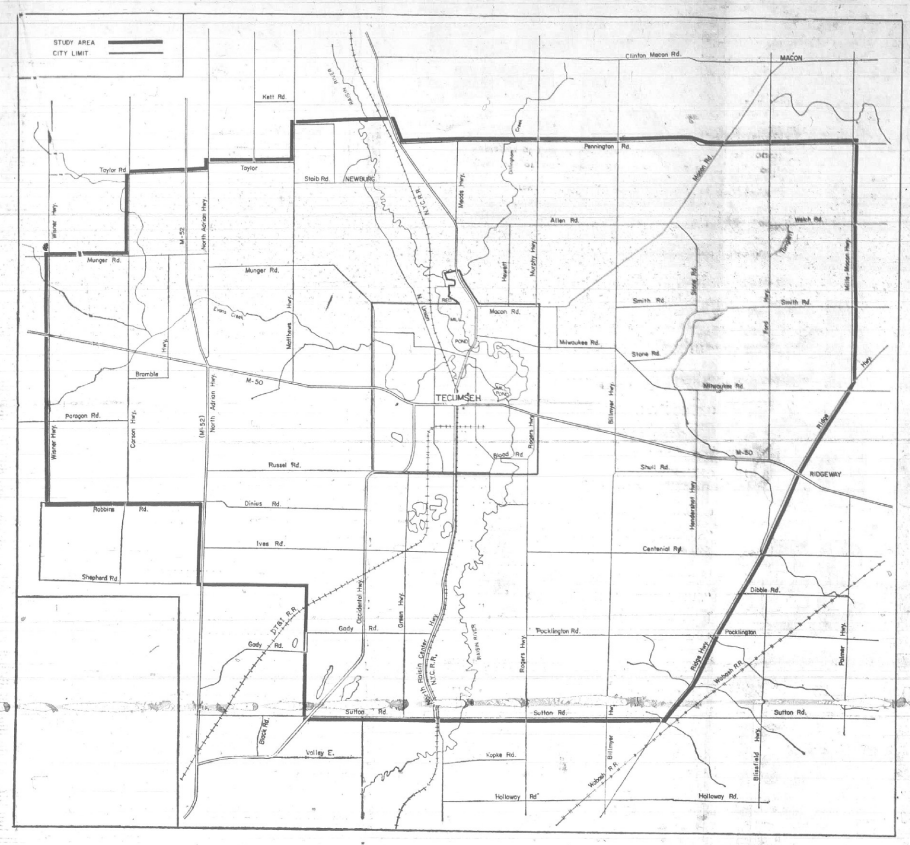
TECUMSEH STUDY AREA



HEALTH STUDY AREA — This map depicts the segment being used by the University of Michigan School of Public Health in conducting the unique Tecumseh Community Health Study. Started in 1956, it is the only one of its kind in the world. The entire health and ill-health of every resident is charted thru the years. A budget of more than $500,000 is expended annually to conduct the study.

Health Study Welcomes New Residents To Join

Second cycle of medical examinations in the Tecumseh Community Health Study will be completed by the middle of June.

Thus far, 8,800 persons have been interviewed and examined and about 400 others are expected to be included in the current phase of the study.

Most of those examined this time were also examined earlier during 1959 and 1960 at which time 8,641 persons received their initial examination.

However, persons new to the community are also being included. By the end of this current cycle the total number of medical examinations given since the start of the study is expected to reach the 18,000 mark.

★

PERSONS NEW TO THE community have been included at the time they were contacted in the regular canvass of dwelling units by the field interviewers, but some may have been missed.

Persons who have never been examined in the study clinic at Herrick Memorial Hospital and who live in the community are invited to call 423-3740 or 423-2896 so that arrangements can be made to include them before the current phase of study ends in mid-June.

Good Luck, Sarge!

Lieutenant Jon T. Weakly is in the unusual position of being officer in charge of his former platoon sergeant, Wayne D. Hobbs.

Lt. Weakly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weakly, 206 S. Oneida, is the newly-assigned executive officer of F-17-4, U. S. Army Training Center, Armor, Fort Knox, Ky.

He took his basic training there with the 17th Battalion and has now returned to the same battalion as an officer.

★

LT. WEAKLY began his Officer Candidate School training at Fort Benning Sept. 20, 1964, and graduated March 22.

Prior to that he attended two weeks of a leadership course at Fort Knox and advanced infantry training at Fort Dix, N. J.

He attended Central Michigan University and the University of Michigan, graduating with a bachelors degree in psychology.

He is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity and was employed as a civilian by the City of Detroit as an employment counselor.

★

THE FORT KNOX publication, "Inside The Turret", stated "The IBM computer that whirs out the assignments for OCS graduates must have been geared just right to return Lt. Weakly to the 17th Battalion.

"Upon reporting to the Brigade Commander, Col. Carlyle P. Woelfer, Weakly received the customary incoming interview. When the colonel was informed that Lt. Weakly was a former trainee in the brigade he made sure the lieutenant returned to the 17th Battalion.

"This unusual turn of events provides an actual example, and motivation for other trainees in the 17th Battalion to follow," the colonel remarked."

Reduce Excise Tax on Air Conditioners, Wes Vivian Asks

Federal Excise Taxes are a subject of much discussion in Washington these days.

President Johnson is expected to send a message to Congress within a week requesting cuts in these taxes totaling $1.7 billion.

"It is my hope — and the goal toward which I am working — that reductions in the tax on telephone service, automobiles, and air-conditioners be included in the legislation that emerges from the Ways and Means Committee and is passed by the Congress," states Congressman Wes Vivian.

"Some might still doubt the wisdom of cutting Federal Taxes at a time when the Federal Government is running a deficit, but our recent experience with limited income tax cuts should put such doubts to rest: the longest peacetime economic expansion in the history of the nation continues, unemployment rates have fallen sharply, and most important — the added spending power generated almost as much tax revenue as was lost," he added.

★

"LAST WEEK, I introduced legislation to eliminate one small, but unfair and locally troublesome excise tax. This is the tax on room air-conditioners. These appliances are currently taxed at 10%, which is twice the rate on other home heating, cooling and refrigerating appliances," he went on.

"Reducing the tax on room air-conditioners to 5% would reduce federal revenues by about $15 million out of a total of over $15 billion currently collected in excise taxes.

"Against this insignificant tax loss are the interests of over 4,000 employees, and their families, of Tecumseh Products. This company with headquarters in Tecumseh and research facilities in Ann Arbor, is the world's largest manufacturer of air-conditioning compressors. Its employees live throughout the Second Congressional District.

"Reduce the excise tax on 'room' air-conditioners from 10 to 5% could improve the world market position of American manufacturers, lower domestic prices, and create greater employment opportunities within the industry.

"Without doubt, Tecumseh Products and its employees will benefit from the abolition of the discriminatory taxation of 'room' air-conditioners," Congressman Vivian added.

★

EARLY IN February, he submitted legislation to abolish the 10% Federal Excise Tax on automobiles, automobile parts and accessories, which brings in about $2 billion annually. Automobile manufacturers have stated publicly on a number of occasions that they will pass any tax savings directly to consumers by reducing auto prices.

He strongly supports the effort to end or reduce the wartime "luxury" tax on telephone service. This tax was imposed during the Second World War, at a time when the government was attempting to reduce consumer expenditures.

"Now the reverse is true: we are attempting to stimulate the economy," he notes.

"Moreover, telephone service is one of the most unlikely candidates for 'luxury' taxation that I can think of," he concluded.

KINDA KOOKIE — When it came time to picture the three budding poets of Tecumseh High School, Mary Lynn Blumerick, Jeff Long and Pamela Ann Williams, there was the question of a gimmick. Jeff flipped out an invitation to "Le Jardin de Paradis," which their junior class will present May 15 at Tecumseh Country Club and Pamela tried on the tiny ring which will be given as a favor. Oh, yes, on the poetry deal, works by this trio were chosen to appear in a National High School Poetry Anthology, currently being printed.

It's the Attitude

"How much time do you put into prayer?" was the initial question asked members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church last week.

Asking it was the Rev. Donald C. Porteous, who spoke on the subject, "Rekindling the Inner Life Through Prayer."

The Rev. Mr. Porteous continued by stating "that in order to pray, we must not be elsewhere in thoughts, but be there. It is not the posture we assume in praying, but the attitude in which we pray."

He stated further that, "We are in no condition to ask God for anything; yet we are invited through prayer to rekindle our inner lives.

"God takes us where we are and with the forces of prayer brings us out on a higher level," he concluded.

★

THE DEVOTIONAL portion of the program was led by Mrs. Carl Hale and included a solo, "The Lord's Prayer," by Barbara Wood, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Bush.

Mrs. Vanyard Close, retiring president, conducted the business session at which time the annual reports from the numerous Society secretaries were read.

Mrs. Close thanked the members of the Society and her Board for the cooperation she has received during her year in office.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Tracy Lord, Mrs. George Blanchard and Mrs. Harley McConnell.

Greeters were Mrs. Viola Mark and Mrs. Edward Leighton.

VanValkenburg Farm Designated by State Society

This farm, located in Tecumseh township, has been in the possession of the family since 1847. It was originally purchased by the grandfather of the present owner, from Jacob W. Cairnes.

Stewardship of Soil Week Opens on May 23

With domination over the earth and the fullness thereof man bears a great responsibility to his Maker, to himself and to all the living world around him — a responsibility for maintaining and developing the endowments with which he cohabits the earth.

Each year recognition is given to an important part of this responsibility in observance of Soil Stewardship Week. "We do so this year from May 23 through 30 with the theme "The Challange of Growth." We acknowledge man's dependence on the soil and his duty to care for it. We have come to know that a land of conservation is a land of plenty," says R. H. Barclay of the Soil Conservation Service.

Drivers Can Test Skills

LANSING — Michigan [illegible] just how good a driver you are by sitting in your living room. Sound impossible? Not at all if you watch when CBS News presents the National Drivers Test Monday, May 24.

This unique telecast — aside from providing helpful tips to drivers — allows every driver in a family to take a driver test in his home. Test blanks are being distributed by various methods throughout Michigan according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission.

Mr. Hare said that the Michigan safety commission, composed of state officials and organized safety groups had "given unqualified endorsement to the program.

"If we can help people become aware of their driving habits — good or bad — we'll have contributed tangibly to a safer Michigan," he noted.

He said 2,125 persons were killed on Michigan highways last year and nearly 150,000 were injured, some of them permanently. In addition, Mr. Hare noted, accidents cost Michigan wage-earners a whopping $400-million in costs — more than $1-million each day.

The program will feature a team of [illegible] drivers who will put millions of viewers "behind the wheel" to give them the experience of the "sight an[illegible]highwa[illegible]ter," Mr. Hare said.

VIEWERS will be tested on their driving judgment in two-car collision situations, and on their ability to perceive driving hazards.

"Michigan drivers will be able to test their knowledge against other members of their family, their neighbors, and some of the so-called experts," said Mr. Hare.

Other specially prepared sequences which were filmed on public highways will show how accidents develop and happen. One of the test cars will give viewers the feeling that they are in the driver's seat.

Purpose of the National Drivers Test, produced in cooperation with the National Safety Council and top safety experts, is to enable drivers and their families to experience — in dramatic fashion — the circumstances of fatal or disabling collisions so that they may become familiar with the fundamentals of defense driving.

★

"A WELL-SCHOOLED defensive driver, acutely conscious of his surroundings and other drivers, can often prevent a dangerous accident from happening," Mr. Hare said.

"Test-taking drivers can compare their scores with a cross-section of 2,000 American drivers who will take the test just before the telecast in studios of [illegible] major stations in the country," he added.

Most Michigan TV stations — including Detroit Channel 7 — will carry the telecast at 10 p.m. but that viewers should watch their local listing for program time and details.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer. If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

VFW Buddy Poppy Days

Friday & Saturday, May 14, 15

A DESCRIPTION OF THE VFW WRITTEN BY MRS. LLOYD STITES OF VFW AUXILIARY POST 4187, TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS OF THE UNITED STATES

The VFW is one of the largest veterans' organization in the United States. It develops comradeship among its members, assists needy veterans and their widows and children, organizes memorial services for the deceased veteran and promotes patriotism. There is about 1,300,000 members in the United States and its territories and in other countries. This organization is exactly what it is called, Veterans of Foreign Wars, VFW. Any officer or enlisted man honorably discharged or on active duty in the armed forces who has fought in any foreign military campaign of the United States, may join the VFW.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is a national non-partisan, non-sectarian organization composed exclusively of men who have seen service overseas in the U. S. Armed Forces. There are 10,000 VFW Posts located in all States, Dist. of Columbia, France, Puerto Rico, Canal Zone, Philippines, Okinawa and Japan. The membership includes Veterans of the Spanish-American War, The Boxer Rebellion, Philippines Insurrection, Campaigns on the Mexican border, Nicaraguan expeditions, World War I and II and the Korean War and now Vietnam vets since July 1, 1958, and others will and have been added since the Pow Wow in Jackson last October, 1964.

The annual National convention governs the VFW. Convention delegates determine the policies of this organization. They elect a commander in chief to lead the VFW. A national council of administration, it has 15 regional representatives who represents the national convention between sessions.

It has a National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, for Veterans' orphans, provides care for the children of deceased Veterans. It has family-size houses, hospital, swimming pool, gymnasium, a nursery and a community social center. There are some 200 children who receive care and education at no expense to themselves or relatives. They may live at the home through high school or until parents can care for them once more. The VFW posts in the United States sponsor Buddy Poppy sales each year usually helped by the Auxiliaries. Part of the money from these help support the home. The Military Order of the Cooties is the honor branch of the VFW. Only members who have made outstanding contributions toward furthering the objectives of the VFW may qualify for the order. Its members devote their time in hospitals helping the veterans.

In Sept., 1899, Jaes Romanis, a young veteran of the Cuban campaign of Columbus, Ohio, with 12 veterans, organized a club and called it the American Veterans of Foreign Service. Membership was limited to overseas veterans. Three of these organizations combined in 1913 to form the VFW. The VFW headquarters is located at 34th St. and Broadway, Kansas City, Mo.

The VFW develops the comradeship formed during war, support the laws and government of the nation. They also provide care for the widows and children of deceased veterans. This group has great political influence because of their large membership. They use this power to obtain legislation which benefits veterans, such as pensions, education and care of disabled veterans. The VFW has a siscter Auxiliary organized in 1914. It also is a non-profit, non-partisan and non-sectarian organization which celebrated its 50th year in 1964.

Anyone belonging to this great organization can be mighty proud because not everyone can belong, just the choice ones who fought on foreign soil in overseas campaigns. This is a great order that fights just as hard in peace time to keep freedom for the individual all over the world, and against such organizations as Communism, and its likes. It believes and lives according to the Constitution of the United States.

If you are eligible to join, by all means you should and help in its fight to keep our freedoms.

The ideals symbolized by the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy were born on the battlefields where our fighting men have made supreme sacrifices.

Honor the dead by helping the living. Give generously when members of the V.F.W. and its Ladies Auxiliary ask you to wear a Buddy Poppy.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: The annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, an organization chartered by the Congress, has been officially recognized and endorsed by the President of the United States and the Veterans Administration; and

WHEREAS: The proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans; and

WHEREAS: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor The Dead By Helping The Living;" therefore,

I, Harold E. Easton, Mayor of the City of Tecumseh, do hereby recognize the patriotic merits of this cause by urging the citizens of this community to contribute generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies, on the day (or days) set aside for the distribution of these symbols of loyalty in this city. I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

Signed: HAROLD E. EASTON,
Mayor.

SCHOOLS MAY GET EXTRA MILL

Surplus of County Funds Hits $1.3 Million

By JIM LINCOLN

A tremendous surplus — over $1,350,000 — in Lenawee County funds has apparently resulted in county schools receiving an extra mill from the county treasury.

By a 4 to 1 vote Monday, the Lenawee County Tax Allocation Board tentatively approved cutting the county's operating millage from 5.5 mills to 4.5 mills and giving each school district one more mill.

This would mean over $38,000 for the Tecumseh schools.

Lone dissenter was John Keller, supervisor from Fairfield Township and member of the county's finance committee.

Mr. Keller received support from George Kunze, Madison Township supervisor, and a fellow finance committeeman, but it failed to alter a majority vote from Dr. William Hewes, Harold Near, Carl VanValkenburg and Milton Porter, county superintendent.

Three Tecumseh school officials — Supt. James McDowell and his assistant Norval Bovee, and boardman Robert H. Moore — pointed out the big surplus of cash in county funds while schools go begging.

☆

Mr. Moore told the tax board that the county certainly could not be suffering from lack of monies, and also inquired why county records were not audited annually.

Supt. McDowell said the county had been "short-changing the kids in this county," and inquired if the county was going to continue to build up their surplus funds or give some of it back for education.

Willis Moore, county treasurer, speaking in support of the Board of Supervisors, pointed out to the audience that the county depends completely on monies from property taxes and that it has little chance of getting people to pass millage for the county.

School officials exclaimed their situation was practically the same, that tax payers were reluctant to pay more school tax.

The county treasurer confirmed that records were not audited annually, and said the last audit was for 1962 business. He said 1963 records would not be audited at all, but auditors were expected to check in 1964.

He explained that the small staff in the auditor general's office in Lansing simply did not permit annual audits.

Somewhat of a verbal hassle developed during the meeting when Dr. Hewes, Adrian physician, questioned figures reported by the finance committee.

He said budget figures presented at the meeting by Mr. Keller did not match with figures given previously. Mr. Keller retorted that the doctor was bantering with figures.

☆

THE COUNTY has 38 funds, some of which the Board of Supervisors has no control over. A few of the funds reported with surpluses, as of Dec. 31, 1965, were:

General fund — $403,000.

Long and Short

As part of Michigan Week, Wednesday was designated Student Government Day in Tecumseh. Appointed editor of The Herald, Jerry Hale, jumped into the assignment with both feet, taking over as guest columnist among other chores.

—Tom Riordan

By JERRY HALE

The big day had finally arrived for 138 seniors of Tecumseh High School.

Sunday morning, May 2, the long-awaited senior trip began.

Anticipation of the annual journey was evident all during the previous week.

For many, "senioritus" had set in for good.

The trip began with the long and tiring bus ride to New York City. After many hours of riding, the tune changed from "Go Greyhound" to "Greyhound Can Go."

However, as the buses came into sight of the largest city in the USA, everyone forgot their restlessness and stared in awe at the lights of New York.

The fact that thousands of people and cars were in the streets during the middle of the night was enough to make many kids doubt their eyes.

It was amazing how quickly everyone adjusted to life in the big city. For small town people, most of the kids proved themselves very cosmopolitan.

Many people probably have the false idea that the senior trip is run as a strict tourist group. Instead, everyone was practically put on their own.

★

THE TOURS were well organized and everyone was expected to participate, but the responsibility was left to each individual. The kids accepted this responsibility and they should be commended for it.

The tour of New York consisted of the usual attractions—the major items being the Empire State Building, New York Harbor, and The World's Fair.

Our stay in New York ended on May 4, then it was on to our nation's capitol.

Arrival into Washington probably began the most enjoyable part of the whole trip for the majority of students.

The beginning of our stay in Washington was marked by our fine accommodations in the Sheraton-Park Hotel.

The hotel, spread out on the outskirts of Washington, was a fitting change to the crowded feeling one receives in New York City.

As was the case in New York, our tour covered the entire range of attractions available to the Washington visitor.

This was probably more so in

SPARKS FLY — Robert Woda, of Toledo, a welder on the Stauffer Chemical complex job, works on doorway at one of the giant fractionation towers which will soon be in operation.

Stauffer Complex Nears Production

A $20 million chemical research and manufacturing complex is taking shape on Sutton Rd.

What once was quiet farm land now is a bustling beehive of construction activity.

This is the new Stauffer Chemical Co. layout.

It is part of a long-range program to extend the company's position in the field of organo-metallic chemistry and calls for the production of various silicon compounds in the forms of fluids, resins and elastomers.

★

CURRENT manufacturing plans call for completion of the first three plant units by the end of this summer. Further expansions are already being planned.

Initial employment of about 200 here is expected to increase in excess of 1,000 employees in from five to seven years.

To operate the new facility Stauffer organized a new silicone Division. It is an outgrowth of Anderson Chemical Division, a pioneer in research and commercial development of organo-metallics.

Organo-silicon chemistry encompasses an extremely broad field including all organic compounds that contain silicon, the second most abundant element in the earth's crust.

However, with the exception of the rather specialized sector of silicones, the field or organo-silicon compounds has been left largely unexplored.

For this reason Stauffer plans to focus primarily on new research-developed products, although the company will also produce a full range of silicones.

Complete research facilities have been built and fully staffed.

An initial group of organo-silicon research specialists now occupies the first unit of the new research center and the company plans to add additional buildings in the near future.

★

IN ADDITION to the new research center, Stauffer has established special technical-service laboratories at Adrian and in New Jersey.

Another is planned for the West Coast and others will be added as needed to provide comprehensive technical service when the new silicone plants come "on stream" and as the range of products is extended.

Amos R. Anderson, vice president and general manager of Stauffer's Silicone and Anderson Chemical Divisions, directs the organo-silicon expansion.

Mr. Anderson, an internationally-recognized authority on organo-metallic chemistry, founded Anderson Chemical Co. in Adrian in 1946 and later built a larger facility at Weston, just south of Adrian.

The company was merged into Stauffer in 1958. In addition to producing several hundred organo-metallic compounds, some in commercial quantities, the Anderson Division also manages and markets the products of Texas Alkyls, Inc., the world's largest producer of aluminum alkyls.

This company is jointly owned by Hercules Powder Co. and Stauffer Chemical Co.

Robert L. Anthony, mayor of Alma, will be honored at a Michigan Week dinner at the Tecumseh Country Club following the annual Safety Check parade. Lewis Lamm, manager of the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant, will speak, contrasting Russia's industrial plants with those of the United States.

Auxiliary Poppy Days This Week

Mrs. John Zarnoch is the chairman for the American Legion Auxiliary Poppy days, Friday and Saturday, in Tecumseh.

"Wear a poppy to show that you remember," suggested Mrs. Zarnoch.

Other members of the Auxiliary will be making the same appeal this weekend in behalf of disabled veterans and their families.

Proceeds of the sale are spent only for the veterans' rehabilitation and care and for the needs of his family.

"Wearing a poppy on Poppy Day is the individual act of tribute to the nation's war dead," Mrs. Zarnoch said.

The little flowers are replicas of the wild poppies of France and Belgium which bloomed so brightly on the battlefields and cemeteries of World War I.

They have been made by disabled war veterans

Pupils Make Trip

Thirty-two fifth grade students of the Herrick Park School went on a conservation tour of the Medford Pfister farm Wednesday.

School Hours Are Changed

Elementary pupils will have to turn their alarm clocks ahead next year.

New school hours were set by the School Board Monday night.

The first three grades will run from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. with an hour off for lunch, 11 to 12.

Grades four, five and six will also start at the same time, but will not let out until 3 p.m., due to phy. ed. classes.

Kindergarten hours will remain 9 to 12 and 1 to 3.

Junior and senior high students may sleep in. Their classes will start at 9 a.m., adjourn for lunch at noon, convene at 1 and run 'til 4 o'clock.

★

CHANGES IN the school hours were made reluctantly, but lack of four school buses forced the board to alter the schedule.

Five old, 1956 school buses are being discarded, while only two are being purchased. Four more buses would be needed to continue the present schedule.

St. Elizabeth elementary school hours will conform to the next schedule, since some of its students are bused along with the public school youngsters.

Warning System Set by Firemen

A tornado alert warning for Tecumseh residents has been approved by a committee of city officials.

In the future, a one-minute steady blast of the fire siren will warn residents that a tornado has been sighted, or touched ground, west of town in the Hillsdale and Coldwater areas.

Since tornados struck just west and north of the city last month, officials have been meeting and discussing methods of alerting residents here.

The siren warning will vary from the usual fire alarm. The tornado siren blast will not waver, it will reach its high pitch and remain there for a full minute.

★

RESIDENTS will have an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the tornado warning with two practice alerts already scheduled. The first is planned for next Thursday, May 27, at 6 p.m. The second practice alert is scheduled for Thursday, June 3, at the same time.

Next week, all residents will receive a handbill, outlining the city's tornado plans with instructions to follow for safety.

Both police and fire departments have requested residents not to call either department when tornados are sighted or deemed likely for this immediate area.

★

ALTHOUGH the two departments are coordinated for the alert, an all-clear signal will not be given. Residents are asked to go to their basements, or some other safe place, and turn their radios on for further instructions and an all-clear signal.

The local committee which worked out the alert system is:

Cal Zorn, city manager.

Murell Clark, police chief.

Harold Easton, mayor.

Wallace MacGeorge, fire chief.

Dave Ousterhout, assistant fire chief.

John Saling, civil defense director.

Dick Beasley, local fireman and president of the Lenawee County Fire Association.

Alma Hosts Tecumseh Officials

Mayor and Mrs. Harold E. Easton and four Tecumseh City councilmen and their wives were in Alma Monday where they participated in the Mayor's Exchange Day festivities in observance of Michigan Week.

Councilmen going to the Central Michigan city were John Hamilton, Lawrence Moore, George McCombs and Raymond Puffer Jr.

The mayor was presented a "key to the city" and a plaque indicating he had been named an honorary president of the Alma Chamber of Commerce.

The visitors were briefed on city improvements during the past 10 years, taken on a tour of city facilities and factories and of the Alma College campus where they were luncheon and dinner guests of the Chamber and of the mayor, Robert L. Anthony who will be a guest of Tecumseh Thursday, May 20.

They were guests at a reception given by residents of the Alma Masonic Home where they visited Mrs. Maude Cummings, a former Tecumseh resident who now lives at the Home.

Goal: 1,000 Vehicles

★ ★ ★

Safety-Check Opens with Giant Parade

With a goal of 1,000 cars and trucks to be examined, the 1965 Vehicle Safety-Check will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

As always, the Rotary-sponsored event opens with a giant parade Thursday evening at 6:30.

★

FOUR BANDS, queen candidates, pretty babies, Cub League baseball players in uniform, decorated trucks and bikes and horses will be in the march.

The parade forms along N. Maumee St., next to city hall, with the ranks open to all who wish to take part.

The parade will roll west on Chicago Blvd. to Union St., then back through downtown again.

A grandstand in front of Easton's service station will hold dignitaries and judges of the queen contest. She'll be chosen during the parade and crowned immediately afterwards.

Then the check lane will be officially opened until 10 p.m. It will be in business Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Drivers are welcome to have their vehicles examined for any faults in lighting, exhaust systems, mirrors, turn signals, windshield wipers. Those passing will be given a windshield sticker.

★

IF DEFECTS are found, car owners will be asked to have them corrected and return for an OK, then be eligible to win one of the prizes being donated by Tecumseh merchants.

Service stations and car garages also have been designated as Safety-Check points for the convenience of customers.

Did you know that Tecumseh Product's employment list includes two people who reside in Moscow? That's Michigan.

As a prize for being a top salesman of products by RCA Whirlpool, Bob Wolf was able to treat his wife to six days in Puerto Rico last week. Asked what he liked most about the fabled vacation, Bob chortled, "Knowing they were paying for everything."

Michigan Week brings to mind the incident of four years ago on Hospitality Day. "Let's give a free meal to those in a car with out-of-state tags coming through town during the lunch hour." An auto from Ohio appeared and was dramatically flagged down and an invitation extended to be the guest of Tecumseh at Don's Beef Buffet. Said the driver, "I'd be delighted. In fact I was just heading for Don's. That's where I usually eat." The young lady was a Tecumseh Products secretary.

A bit of history fell before the crow bar and wrecking hammer Sunday. The soda fountain at Wright's Drug Store was removed. The move will allow Bill Wright to enlarge his magazine and greeting card display area.

A 24-foot cross, made from timbers of the Old St. Peter's Church, was blessed Sunday evening by the Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, Bishop Suffragan of Michigan, as a highlight of Spiritual Foundation Day of Michigan Week. The cross will eventually be placed on the site of the first altar, which was at the east end of the church. A bronze plaque will record a memorial inscription.

The most delightful things happen when "Big Bad John," Eldon Service, enters the scene. Thursday he stopped to see his mother, Mrs. Rose Service, and members of The Tecumseh Herald staff. Friday we enjoyed the huge watermelon that Eldon brought with him from Florida. He also gave cucumbers to the office personnel.

The babies hatched — in spite of the fact that Mama Robin put the nest just outside the entrance to Patterson School and children's and teachers' "comings and goings" frightened her away numerous times. Two little birds eagerly await her offerings of food as the students watched the busy little bird from inside the foyer.

Second grade students at Patterson did their bit for Michigan Week. They made a handsome display honoring the state.

"I'd rather raise poodles than steers," said Mrs. James Tonneberger of Newburg Rd. A small black steer had jumped into the poodle pen the other morning, scaring two little dogs. A "silver" one is "expecting" and even though the steer is quiet, he still is a frightening friend for the poodles. Anyone lose a steer?

Did anyone happen to catch the fact that one of the candidates for Safety-Check queen, Susan Ford, is being sponsored by Harvey Wilson's Plymouth agency?

Have you seen a lost hospital bed? According to Mrs. Vern Manwaring, hospital equipment chairman for the American Legion Auxiliary, one is missing. It was a new bed, loaned from the Corkery Funeral Home before it was purchased by Les Proctor. This bed and other equipment is made available to the public free of charge and is much in demand. Any information regarding the bed or a reasonable facsimile thereof would be appreciated by Mrs. Manwaring. Her number is 423-7091.

Could Tecumseh have a record breaker? In gym at Herrick Park school, 6th grade pupil Mark Hamilton ran the 600-yard dash in 1 minute 45 seconds. The national record for elementary students is 1 minute 29 seconds. With a little practice we might have a winner.

A guest at Rotary Tuesday was Dr. Saburo Kitamura of Tokyo, en route to the International convention at Atlantic City. He received a Tecumseh Rotary flag from Bob Karle, president. Dr. Kitamura was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Laidlaw, whom he came to know while the local dentist was with the Air Force in Japan. Dr. Kitamura is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and now is a distinguished physician in Japan.

"Another pretty face," one patron greeted the newest girl handling out bacon and eggs at Kerby's eatery. She's Helen French, who for many years was a Main Street fixture while she and hubby George operated a market in what now is Don's Beef Buffet.

What a shame. Aunt Gertrude's wonderful coffee cake ended up soggy. Mrs. Robert Murray made the luscious confection for the graduates of the scuba school at the YMCA and dropped it, still warm, in the pool. Must have been a hole in the plastic. Drip, drip.

One just can't be in two places at one time but Ivan Halberstadt was beginning to wonder when fellow employees at the Tecumseh Products Co. questioned him about the news release from the USS Northampton printed in last week's The Tecumseh Herald. Must be the Navy is confused. (We just couldn't be.) Ivan has been at the Products since September.

Remember Bertha LaPointe's "editorial" a couple of weeks back, chiding the Great Society? A lot of people have told Bertha how much they enjoyed it. So did we.

Washington, because practically every corner is adorned with a statue or memorial of some type.

After the supper meal on Thursday, the class boarded the buses and prepared for the long trip home.

While everyone was having a grand time, there wasn't a soul who wasn't eager to return home. The highlight of the return journey was "sleep."

★

TAKING 138 seniors on a five night trip is not an easy job. However, as the five adult chaperons can avow, their job was made an easy one by the students.

Mr. and Mrs. Neville Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gross, and Mrs. Barbara Speerstra were allowed to spend the entire week enjoying themselves.

The dress and decor of the entire group brought positive remarks everywhere we went.

While the actions of youth are often criticized, this year's Senior Trip can be lauded as a favorable achievement for the youth of Tecumseh.

27 Confirmed

BISHOP MYERS

The Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, Bishop suffragan of Michigan, confirmed 27 persons at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday evening.

Before the service he blessed and dedicated a cross made from the timber of the former church. The cross will be erected soon on the site of the first altar of the church.

This was the bishop's first visit to the congregation here and following the service he and the newly confirmed members were honored at a reception in the Parish Hall.

★

THE REV. FRANK W. Hawthorne, rector of St. Peter's, presented 20 persons for confirmation. Six were presented by the Rev. Thomas Cox, assistant of Christ Church, Adrian, and one by the Rev. Wesley Perschbacher, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church at Hillsdale.

The Rev. John Smucker, vicar of St. Barnabas' Church, Chelsea, and Episcopal chaplain at the Michigan School for the Deaf at Flint, interpreted the service in the sign language for a member of the Tecumseh class, Kathryn E. Manley, to whom he had given instruction at the Flint School.

★

OTHERS FROM the local congregation who were confirmed are Wilbur Andrews, Mrs. Dora Ball, Marc Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Oram Burkhead, Sandra Lee Burkhead, Jack Curtiss, Frank Geisenhaver, Lawrence Getz, Charles Goodacre, Steven Guy, Jenny Jadwin, William Jennings, Kimberly Johnson, Amy Jo Kring, Owen Merrill, Leslie Montague, Susan Smock and Virginia Smock.

Mrs. Charles Goodacre and Mrs. Christopher Wheeler were received into the Episcopal Church, having been confirmed earlier.

$1.3 MILLON SURPLUS

County Library — $22,000.
Drain Fund — $77,000.
Health Unit — $26,000.
County Road Fund — $127,000.
Welfare — $138,000.

Mr. Moore of Tecumseh emphasized that these surpluses existed at the end of the county's fiscal year and before the county had collected most of its tax monies.

Treasurer Willis Moore said the surpluses in most of the funds have been building up for the past five years. He said that a building fund created last fall, already has $126,000.

The Board of Supervisor's budget for 1966 was presented to the Tax Allocation Board in brief form.

The Board finance committee — Mr. Keller, Mr. Kunzie and Wayne Fish — sought 5.5 mills from the tax board, estimating income at $1,649,660 and expenditures at $1,820,228, thereby showing a deficit of nearly $200,000 for next year.

The budget consumed only one sheet of paper and did not specify expenditures of various departments, anticipated income nor other particulars required of a complete budget.

A request for such information the following day by The Herald Willis Moore said it was not available.

★

IF THE Tax Allocation Board sticks to its present vote next Monday, all schools will benefit from additional monies. If any waiver, County Treasurer Moore can then vote, and he is certain to cast his ballot for the Supervisors.

He remarked Tuesday, "The Board cannot operate on 4.5 mills and still provide the same services."

Some pressure is expected to bear on Dr. Hewes and Messrs. Van Valkenburg, Neer and Porter to switch their votes.

Two Tecumseh supervisors, Harold Easton and the Rev. Blair Bashore, both unhappy over the way some of the county's departments have been run, favored returning some of the county's tax monies to the schools.

They were in accord with the 4 to 1 vote by the Tax Allocation Board.

VOICE of THE HERALD

How 15 - Mill System Works

How does a county government in Michigan obtain operating funds?

This is an area in which many folks are left in the dark. But the present $1.3 - million surplus in county funds is certain to focus lots of attention on the method.

County and township governments and basic school operating funds all come from one ball of wax — the 15-mill state equalized tax, levied each winter.

Breaking the 15 mills into shares is the job of the six-man Tax Allocation Board.

It includes the chairman of the Supervisors' finance committee, the county treasurer, county superintendent of schools, a representative of the largest school district, a representative of the largest municipality and one county resident not officially connected with a school or municipal corporation.

The latter two are appointed by the Judge of Probate.

The county takes its share "off the top." Last year, this amounted to 5.5 mills.

Next came the townships, whose limit by law is one mill.

The remainder, 8.5, went to the schools.

At one time the school districts share of the 15 mills ran as high as 12 mills, but this has been gradually depressed over the years, until schoolmen decided to howl.

The climax came Monday at a preliminary session of the Allocation Board and as a result, the county segment was dropped one mill and the schools increased this amount.

A final decision comes Monday afternoon at 1:30 when the Tax Allocation Board meets once more.

The 15-mill idea is now getting much longer looks with the squeeze on schools becoming so tight — while the treasury surplus grows.

☆

THERE'S AN ODDITY about the system, as far as providing operating money for schools.

It goes like this. A district in the county needs more money. An election is held to obtain taxpayer permission to levy three new mills. (These would be in addition to what the school gets as its share of the 15-mills.)

The vote carries.

Then comes the strange twist.

The allocation board might then slice the schools by one mill. In essence, then, the voted three mills would actually become two mills for school operation and one mill to the county.

This may seem far fetched.

But look what has happened over the years. The school's portion of the 15 mills has grown less and less as local taxpayers have voted more and more for school purposes.

The Herald agrees that a reasonable surplus is desirable. However, logic would dictate that either assessed tax money is used for bona fide needs or not assessed in the first place.

GOP Plans Aggressive Efforts

The Lenawee County Republican Committee, meeting last week at Roumell's in Adrian, formulated plans for an aggressive oranizational effort to regain political supremacy in 1966.

Dr. Daniel Sarepo of Adrian, who heads the policy committee, presided.

Dr. Wallace May, of Adrian, county chairman, outlined plans for filling vacancies on the county committee from each precinct.

Named to the organization committee, headed by Mrs. Raymond Platt of Tipton, were Yale Kerby of Morenci; Milton Porter, Bill Sanford, Edgar Peavey, Lee Sanchez and Bruce Brown, all of Adrian.

Named to the planning committee, headed by Mrs. Donald Cobb of Tecumseh, are Mrs. Henry Newling of Blissfield; Alice Lee, Louella Reynolds, and Prosser (Mike) Watts, Jr., all of Adrian; Mrs. John Hamilton of Tecumseh; and Ed Barz of Manitou Beach.

On the policy committee with Dr. Sarepo are Virgil Eisenmann, Palmyra; Harvey Warrick, Dr. Jerry Edwards, both of Adrian; Charles V[illegible]enei, Hugh Walters of Tecumseh; and Prosser Watts, Sr., of Blissfield.

Firemen Put Out 3 Minor Blazes

The Tecumseh Fire Department extinguished a grass fire and fires in two automobiles within the past week.

May 12 they were called to the home of Kenneth Hunter at 4836 Milwaukee Rd. where burning trash had gotten out of control.

A car parked on the Tecumseh Products Co. lot and owned by Luchen Cagle or 150 Bristol St. was damaged when cigar ashes ignited the seat of the automobile. Loss was estimated at $250.

An automobile owned by Mrs. Wayne Curtis of Tipton was damaged slightly Saturday by fire originating in the rear seat. Loss was negligible.

'Customers' Test Science Kit

A project begun by Sister Miriam Michael, O.P., of Siena Heights College in Adrian, has proved to be an interesting adventure for eighth graders at St. Elizabeth School.

Head of the Science Department at Siena, Sister Miriam has been working on the development of a new series of science text books for junior high schools.

It is her conviction, that science at any level is most effectively taught when the students themselves actively participate in making observations and drawing conclusions.

In this way, students can begin to learn the methods of science long before they reach the college level.

She has geared the experiments to involve each student in the observation of simple phenomena.

★

AT A RECENT session here, a lesson on color, found St. Elizabeth eighth graders interested and eager participants, finding that the diffraction grating supplied to each one allowed them to see the complete color spectrum.

A rainbow from white light.

Then, this spectrum was studied with various colored filters. Students listed data for each filter, stating colors transmitted and absorbed by the filter.

The ability to infer and generalize from their observations is a skill which pupils are gradually developing from work on these experiments, as they find that results are not predicted for them, nor specific "right" answers expected.

★

TYPICAL student reactions:

"It helps you to learn things you never knew before. I would like to do another one soon because it is fun."

"Personally, I would rather do some experiments in chemistry or biology, but I like doing these experiments, too."

"The experiments seemed silly at first because of the odd materials we needed, but after we started to work with them they were lots of fun."

"I think that the experiments were very interesting, and it also helped me to learn about science in an easier way. With the experiments I think it was easier to learn than if we would just read about it. To me the experiments were very helpful."

Sister Miriam was anxious to get reactions of eighth graders before the new text and working kits are issued.

After all, she grinned, "They are the customers."

A change in zoning to permit multiple dwelling on N. Van Buren St., near Patterson school, was declined by Council Monday night.

The change was sought by Jess LaVoy, Temperance builder, and Ernest Oliver, local real estate agent.

Many residents in the area objected to allowing an apartment in the area.

Ambassador Question Policy

Joseph C. Satterthwaite, of Tecumseh, the United States ambassador to South Africa, has voiced some of the conflicts in national policies of the two governments.

Ambassador Satterthwaite has represented the multi-racial United States for five years in a nation where the apartheid policy of racial separateness rules.

Mr. Satterthwaite said, "We leave no doubt about the official feeling of the United States government and the race policy is one on which we do not agree."

However, he adds, there is much on which the two countries can agree in South Africa.

In 1948, South Africa was one of the first to repay lend-lease debts to the United States. South Africa's participation with the Allies in World War I and II, and in Korea is not forgotten.

★

"THIS PRO-WEST country is anti-communist, there is no doubt about it's non-communism," observed the ambassaror, "but its racial policy leaves it rather exposed to Communist penetration because out of a population of 16 million, more than 11 million are Bantu (Negroes), 1½ million are of mixed race and 500,000 are Caucasians."

A special kind of segregation exists in South Africa. Taxation without direct representation in the all-white parliament and legal restrictions on where and how a nonwhite may live, work and assemble are some examples.

That in the future the Bantus will have separate areas and be completely independent of the white man is the desperate program already in progress in one such emerging nation, Transkei.

All-black Transkei must be self-supporting to be self-governed. This will be difficult as few Bantus are trained for administrative posts. So far industries have a difficult time supporting the economy.

★

IT IS FEARED such a young struggling nation would be an easy target for Communists.

"We do not see how the policy can be carried out successfully because of these considerations," said Mr. Satterthwaite.

"They consider that what they need is time and eventually the world will see that the seperation of the races is better in a complicated situation such as exists in South Africa," said the ambassador.

While the rest of the world moves toward integration, "time" and equally important factors.

Mr. Satterthwaite, brother of Perry, Beth and Geneva Satterthwaite of this city, has reached retirement age.

All of his adult life, except for service in World War I, has been spent in the foreign service with assignments in Germany, Mexico, Argentia, Iran, Turkey and Syria.

After a post in Burma, he became director general of Foreign Service and Assistant Secretary of African Affairs, a post now held by former Governor of Michigan, G. Mennen Williams.

Board OKs $50 Raise Over Teacher Veto

A decision to raise the base pay for Tecumseh teachers from $4,700 to $4,750 and give all instructors a $50 raise for the 1965-66 term was confirmed by the School Board Monday night.

Teachers had earlier rejected the raise plan at a meeting last week. Several were present to discuss the pay hike at the board gathering.

Don Johnson, music instructor, explained to the board that four reasons for rejecting the raise were:

► $50 actually doesn't help the teachers.

► $50 will not help hold present teachers.

► Cost will not help the board balance its budget.

► Raise will not help the teachers' public relations at this time.

★

At their meeting, the teachers wanted the money spent for equipment, supplies and instructional materials.

Supt. James McDowell reported that several new teachers already had been employed with the $50 raise included on the contracts.

The Board pointed out that the token raise was merely showing good faith. Members wanted the teachers to realize that the board was concerned with the teachers and their salaries.

TEEN TALK

By DEBBIE EARLING

"Le Jardin de Paradise was a well-chosen theme for this year's Junior-Senior Prom. The Juniors artfully planned the decorations and atmosphere around it.

Flowers decked the ballroom of Tecumseh Country Club and a wishing well and a fountain with running water were placed at opposite ends of the room.

Tables and chairs were arranged on the terrace and lawn.

The featured entertainment was the Johnny Harbard Orchestra. The royal couple, King Jeff Osburn and Queen Susan Bottorff were crowned at 11 p.m. and reigned over the ball until 12:30 p.m.

Members of the court were Bob Glen, Carol Winfield, Russell Shanden, Kathy Brown, Fred Freeman, Marilyn Curtiss, Tim Dickinson and Karen Cole.

The dancers were each given miniature THS class rings and the girls were presented tiny white and gold swans filled with fresh pink rosebuds as they left.

A buffet supper was served soon after the coronation. (Old Mr. Full Moon was an added enjoyment.)

Congratulations to the Junior class on the success of their efforts.

Michigan Is Blessed in Natural Resources

Governor Romney has proclaimed May 23 to 30, as Soil Stewardship Week in Michigan.

"Divine Providence has richly blessed Michigan with an abundance of natural resources, the most basic being soil and water.

"It is only proper that all Michigan residents pause to consider the bounty which is ours."

The directors of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District have distributed to the ministers stewardship materials to be used from their pulpits on Rogation of Rural Life Sunday, May 23.

The Governor further says, "For 28 years Michigan's Soil Conservation Districts have been diligently working to promote sound conservation managements of all the state's natural resources.

"We commend them for their many accomplishments. It is imperative that we apply the principles of soil and water stewardship to each acre of Michigan land if we are to maintain a high standard of living and a dedication to the land which has made Michigan strong."

New Church at Ridgeway Approved

RIDGEWAY — Members of the Ridgeway Nazarene Church, in a special meeting, voted to accept the recommendation of the Official Board to build a new sanctuary and other facilities.

They also voted to purchase additional property for parking approximately 65 cars.

The new structure will be erected at an estimated cost of $50,000. Bids will be received in the near future and work will begin as soon as possible.

The new sanctuary will seat 260 persons plus 30 in the choir. The new addition to include rest room facilities, a pastor's study and a nursery, will cover an area 52 x 70 feet.

The present sanctuary will be used for Sunday School rooms and will be adjoined to the addition by an eight-foot hall.

Property for parking, 82 x 224 feet, is located across Ridge Rd. from the church.

Findings of Health Study Published in Medical Paper

The Journal of the American Medical Association in its April 19 issue carried an article which dealt with the prevalence of goiter and other thyroid diseases in Tecumseh. Basis for the article was information gleaned through the Tecumseh Community Health Study.

Authors were three physicians and a doctor of philosophy who concluded:

"The data on thyroid disorders from a total natural community had not been previously available. The future study of the function of the thyroid in a whole community should be a useful approach in understanding, preventing, and treating the disorders of that organ."

Gas Pump Is OKed —with Reservations

Although approval was given for installation of gasoline pumps at a proposed car wash on W. Chicago Blvd., the Board of Appeals Friday night also placed several restrictions regarding the pumps.

Hearing before the Board came about after a permit for the car wash and gas pumps had been issued in error at city hall.

In a release to the Jefferson Road Co., Jackson, the Board cited the restrictions:

► Pumps to be distinctly an accessory to the car wash.

► [illegible] pumps, to be located in a secondary location.

► Pumps not to be located near roadside.

► No advertising of gasoline for sale outside premises of the building, nor can advertising of gasoline be so located in building as to be seen from road.

► Company maintain a 24-hour attendant.

► Ingress and egress lanes be approved by city engineer.

The decision was unanimous by the Board, which consisted of Donald Brazee, chairman; John R. Thompson, Dr. Richard Coak and Frederick F. Dickinson.

Another member of the Board, Robert Bonner, was not present.

Honored Guest Cooks Steaks

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Dr. R. G. B. Marsh was honored Thursday evening.

But he went right to work at the charcoal grill, cooking steaks for the 26 people attending the party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Cook.

A chef's hat replaces the familiar close-fitting white surgeon's garb since the Lenawee County dean of doctors has retired as of May 1.

Fortunately every one of the physicians of Herrick Memorial Hospital was able some time during the evening to be present considerably pleasing the honored guest.

A plaque featuring a stainless steel picture of Dr. Marsh and his dog was presented to the retiring physician who was given also an enlarged picture of the bridge which he built across Evans Creek.

★

A CIVIC EVENT was not planned in accordance with the wishes of Dr. Marsh, who, with Mrs. Marsh, will soon be leaving for Boulder, Colo., to make their home.

It was difficult for many persons to comply with the desire of the respected and beloved doctor that no open house be held.

Mrs. Marsh was feted at a coffee hour Saturday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Helzerman. Thirty-five friends and relatives gathered to wish her happiness in Colorado.

Mrs. W. T. Claxton of Britton made fruit cup for this event.

Mrs. Marsh was presented a transistor radio by the group.

Wants Help

TO THE EDITORS:

I'm doing a study of the newspapers of Britton for my civics class. I would like to know if you have any information on the history of the Britton Citizen, which started in 1907, and the Britton Eagle, published in the 1880's by S. C. Stacy, and if so, would you please send me some information on them, if possible.

If not, could you please inform me where I could get some information on them.

Thank you,

Highway Funds Drop

LANSING — The State Highway Department has started distributing first quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

Howard E. Hill, Acting State Highway Director, said net receipts of the Highway Fund during January, February and March of 1965, amounted to $90,896,324, a decrease of $1,042,491 under revenue for the same period in 1964.

The decrease, Mr. Hill said, was because thousands of motorists bought their 1965 license plates earlier than usual.

License plate sales during November and December were up 67% compared to the previous year and this resulted in a $6 million increase in Highway Fund collections during the final quarter of last year.

The Lenawee County total is $405,448.

Among area communities:
Britton — $2,250
Clinton — $5,246
Tecumseh — $24,739

Tom Fagan's THS Thinclads Still Unbeaten

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh continued its domination of Huron League track teams Monday night with an easy 66-43 victory over Blissfield on its new track.

The Indians won every event except the 440 and the mile relay.

All times in the running events were slow, largely due to the new track which is still loose.

Tecumseh's record is 5-0 in Huron League competition and 8-0 for all dual meets.

In a triangular meet, the Indians trimmed two Class A schools, Adrian and Bedford.

Coach Tom Fagan's team sewept seven firsts in the 13-event meet.

Tecumseh finished with 51 points, Adrian 47 and Bedford 39.

★

STEVE DERBY and Tim Collins were double winners for Tecumseh with Derby winning both hurdle events, and Collins speeding to wins in the 100 and 220 dashes.

Other firsts were Bill Thomas, shot put; Kirk Lucas, pole vault; and Roger Young, 880.

The Indians were blanked in both relay events and in the 440-yard dash.

5 Qualify for State 'B' Meet

Five from Tecumseh's undefeated track team will compete in the Class B state meet at the University of Michigan track Saturday.

In qualification events at the regional meet in Ypsilanti Saturday, Steve Derby finished second in both the high and low hurdle events.

Others who qualified:

► Tim Collins, third in the 100 and 220.

► Mike Sharpe, third in the mile.

► Bill Thomas, second in the shot put.

► 880-relay team of Collins, Derby, Lee Hannibal and Jim Morse, second place.

Sharpe set a school record in the mile run with a time of 3:38.5, making four members of the present squad to hold school marks.

Derby holds records here in the hurdle events, Roger Young in the 440, and Bill Thomas in the shot put.

Other Tecumseh competitors at the regionals were Young and Kirk Lucas. Lucas finished fourth in the pole vault, and Young, fifth in the 440. Neither qualified for the state meet.

Golfers Are '3 Notches' Off Pace

By CHUCK ALLEN

With the advent of beautiful, spring weather, the Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf League members have ample time to practice and are finally getting into condition.

Their winter dormant muscles are starting to cooperate and most members are able to get within three notches of last summer's belt length.

Walt Johnston was in especially fine form last week and cut eight strokes from his average with a 38, low score of the league.

Floyd Busz accomplished an amazing feat by shooting 42 without a single par. His three birdies made up the difference.

WHERE PRODUCTS WORKERS LIVE — In an interesting feature that appears in the current issue of the TP Broadcast, employee publication at Tecumseh Products Co., the home towns of workers are shown. The chart was a joint effort of the Employment Office, Tool Design and Salaried Payroll Department, which gathered the statistics and made the drawing. Dean Hebb Hurls Perfect No-Hitter

Sophomore Dean Hebb hurled a perfect no-hit game as Tecumseh stopped Blissfield, 2-0, on the Royal's diamond Tuesday.

Hebb's control was excellent as he set down 21 straight batters, nine via strike-outs.

Tecumseh got its first run when short stop Jeff Osburn doubled home Gregg Allen, who was safe on a fielder's choice and went to second on a wild pitch.

Gordon Gibson tallied the other THS marker after drawing a walk, went to second on a fielder's choice, third on a wild pitch and home when a pick-off attempt by the catcher sailed into left field.

The victory was doubly sweet for Coach Hale and his team, following last week's 18-1 drubbing at the hands of Adrian. The Maples, apparently pained at not having sports next year, decided to use up what would have been their 1966 base hits — and all against Tecumseh.

THS entertains Milan Friday at 4 p.m. with Hebb slated to hurl.

Teams Register for New Season of Blooper Ball

Wally's Wonders and Henkel's Clippers will return to the athletic field again this season for Men's Blooper Ball.

An organizational meeting was held May 13 when considerable interest was shown in team ball.

It is hoped that teams from the Tecumseh Products Co., the engineering department and a defending teachers' team will register soon.

The deadline for registration at City Hall will be May 28.

Don Moffatt of the recreation department, said Monday that team roster must not include more than 15 players, age 25 and over.

The total team fee is $30 and league play will start the second week in June on the lighted soft ball field.

THS Officials Are Pondering

Although school officials have not been notified officially, Adrian is almost certain not to appear on the Indians' sports calendar for 1965-66.

It may mean an eight-game schedule, although Hillsdale is being considered for the open date. Other switches can not be made since Huron League rules forbid switching of dates for league games.

Adrian's dropping of sports also may limit — or cancel — the ABET basketball tournament held during Christmas vacation.

Official word from Adrian is expected this week about the schools sport status.

Two Injured in Accident at Downtown Intersection

One of four accidents investigated by Tecumseh police during the past week sent two area people to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

In a collision Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of N. Evans and Logan St., Ruth Ann Ranges, 21, Roseville, and a passenger, Mary Beth Amstutz, 39, suffered bruises when the Ranges car struck an auto driven by Irving W. Gove, 70, Matthews Hwy.

Neither Gove, who was cited for failure to yield the right of way, or Eric Amstutz, 4, third passenger in the Ranges vehicle, were injured.

Harvey E. Kapnick, 67, Palmyra was charged with an improper right turn Sunday when he turned in front of a car driven by Janice E. Morden, 20, Lambertville.

Both vehicles were making right turns off Evans onto W. Chicago Blvd. when the Kapnick car passed the Morden auto and then cut in.

Warren Wardwell, Tipton, decided not to press charges after his car was hit while parked near the high school. The second car, registered in the name of Harvey Scott, Clayton, left the scene but was identified by Lynn Noble, city engineer.

Wardwell's car esustained only paint marks on a bumper.

Jacolyn P. Van Camp, 34, of 510 Center Dr., was cited for improper backing after running into a parked auto owned by Paul Rozsa, 40, Adrian.

The mishap happened in front of the Van Camp home Tuesday.

Track Star Is Injured

Tecumseh's track hopes in the Huron League meet held Wednesday night took a big dip when an injured Steve Derby was cancelled from his specialities—180-yard low hurdles and the 120-yard high hurdles.

Derby, school record holder, boasted the best times in the league and should have won both events easily. He also anchored the Indians 880 relay team.

School officials rqeport a muscle injury in the back scratched Derby from Tecumseh's list of entrees.

The back has been bothering him for several weeks and accounted for a second place finish in the regional meet Saturday.

Septic Tank Request Is Denied

A request for installation of a septic tank at the Schneider Chevrolet-Buick agency was denied by Council Monday night.

Louis Schneider, owner, has built a large new addition to the agency, including toilet facilities. His plans were approved by the city.

The closest sewer to his property is approximately 300 feet east, where it crossed in front of the Kroger store.

The sanitary sewer considered likely for the agency is the Evans Creek Sanitary Sewer still under construction by the city.

All easements for this sewer have not been obtained and it is presently bogged down where it crosses N. Evans St., over a mile from the agency.

City officials say construction on the sewer may start again late this fall.

Carol E. Manchester, Charles C. Knight Married in Clinton Methodist Church

CLINTON — Carol Eileen Manchester and Charles C. Knight II were united in marriage Friday evening, May 14, in the Clinton Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Manchester of 401 Jackson St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight of Willow Rd.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Miller.

A prelude of nuptial music and the traditional wedding march were played by Helen Kinney, the organist.

★

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her father. She wore an embossed organza bridal gown, featuring a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was draped over a lace flounce with a double chapel train of organza edged in Rachel lace.

A crown of pearls held her finger-tip veil of imported silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white carnations and yellow Goldilock roses.

Mary Ann Manchester was her sister's maid of honor. Janice Roe was the bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in street-length dresses of white embossed organza over mint green taffeta. They wore matching green headdresses. The attendants carried wicker baskets of yellow carnations and daisies with ivy streamers.

★

FREDERICK KNIGHT, brother of the bridegroom served as the best man. Donald Payeur of Ann Arbor, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was the groomsman.

The ushers were Glen Lewis, Richard Roe and Richard Brown of Clinton and Robert Gibhart of Hart.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the church social room after the ceremony.

Mrs. Nicholas Karapas served the wedding cake. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Donald Payeur of Ann Arbor, Constance Brown, Sandra Poore and Sandra Bennett.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in the former Clyde Knight home on Willow Rd.

★

THE BRIDE is a 1964 graduate of Clinton High School. She completed an IBM Course at Jackson Business College.

The bridegroom is a 1962 graduate of Clinton High School. He completed an Agriculture Short Course at Michigan State University and is engaged in farming with his father.

The bridegroom's parents entertained at a rehearsal party in their home Thursday evening.

Seniors Present Period Comedy to Good Crowds

CLINTON — The senior class gave two well-attended performances of "One Foot in Heaven", a period comedy, Friday and Saturday evenings.

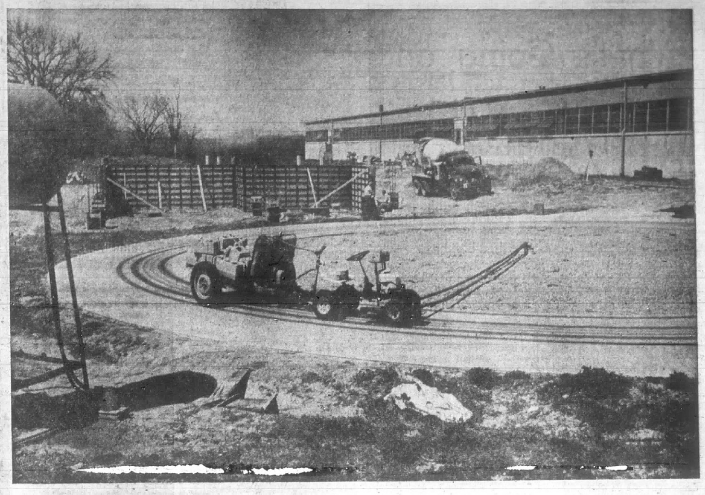
Bonnie Hoelzer, a member of the cast, was hostess after the final show for a cast party at her home. Thirty young people enjoyed a wiener roast on the lawn. Bonnie's mother, Mrs. C. W. Hoelzer, had decorated the area with colorful patio lights and lawn furniture for the occasion.

Contract Awarded for Construction of New Apartment

CLINTON — A contract for the remodeling and construction of an apartment on the rear of the Smith-Kimball Community Center, was awarded to Donald Meyers and to Harold Socks, two local builders.

The action was taken at a special meeting May 12 of the center board.

Harry Werth resigned as custodian and is succeeded by his father, Harry Werth. When the apartment is finished in the fall, Mr. and Mrs. Werth will move in to supervise and maintain the center.



ENLARGEMENT AT PEERLESS — The 10,500-square-foot addition to the Peerless Gear Plant, at the southern edge of Clinton, is getting underway. It will extend from the southern side, next to the tiny test track, (seen in foreground) over which small tractors, equipped with transaxles made by Peerless, are run for periods of many hours.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

The northeastern wing of Cardinal Mooney Hall, winners of the Lenten Mission Drive and prefected by Brother Francis O'Donnell, C. S. C., recently enjoyed a night out in Ann Arbor.

A filet mignon dinner, served at Boysville prefaced the evening's entertainment.

Following the meal, members of the junior dorm boarded the bus and went to Ann Arbor where they viewed the western satire entitled "Cat Ballou." A stop at a hamburger stand brought the evening to a close.

This past week the Boysville library has been completely refurnished with library tables and chairs. The tables are of Imperial Walnut formica tops with gold metallic frames. The chairs are cushioned in tangerine, olive green, and white, and are supported by gold metallic frames. With these new furnishings plus new drapes for the windows, the library can comfortably accommodate 60 students, thereby meeting the standards set for high school libraries.

Brother Philip Armstrong, CSC, director of the Boysville Glee Club, and Brother Richard Emge, CSC, director of the Boysville Drum and Bugle Corps, have announced that the annual spring concert will be held in the Boysville Gymnasium at 2 p.m. Sunday. Additional entertainment will be provided by vocal and instrumental groups from the campus. There is no admission charge and everyone is invited.

Class picnics dominate the agenda for the next few weeks at Boysville. Most classes announce nearby Wampler's Lake as their picnic site. The Juniors lead off Saturday, May 27 the 8th Graders and possibly Freshmen journey to Wampler's, followed by the Sophomores on the 29th.

Boysville's administration announced that the fourteenth annual graduation day ceremonies will be held June 6. Commencement exercises will be held on the porch of Boysville's Holy Rosary Chapel, weather permitting. Ron Klos, an outstanding athlete in Lenawee County, is the valedictorian.

In sports news, Boysville presents a league baseball record of five wins and no losses, placing the Knights at the top of the league standings. The Knights swept two in a row, beating Ida and Britton 5-1 and 13-0 respectively.

Adrian Catholic Central suffered the same fate as they were downed on the Boysville diamond 5-1. Whiteford proved to be no match for the pitching of Ron Klos as he threw a four-hit shutout. Sand Creek fell to the Knights early in the season.

In non-league games, the Blue Knights of Wayne St. Mary's fell to an onslaught of Boysville hitting, 19-2. Madison High School lost to the Knights on an earlier occasion, and the Knights suffered their only season loss to Monroe Catholic Central in the first game of the calendar.

Boysville's slow-starting track team placed third in the River Raisin League meet last week in Tecumseh. Moe Jacobs broke the league record for the 220 yard dash, turning in a time of 22.3, and tied the league record for the 100 yard dash with a 10.3 time. Harry Church broke the school record for the 880 yard run with a time of 2:09.4. Richard Cowan broke both the school and league record for the mile run with a time of 4:54.9. However, so did two other River Raisin track men who finished ahead of him.

Sunday Boysville held its annual open house. The day's activities included student-conducted tours of the campus, pony rides and horseback rides for the children, a softball game between St. Patrick's Council and Monaghan Council of the Knights of Columbus, and a grab-bag tent.

Roast beef dinners were served throughout the afternoon. The size of the crowd was smaller than expected. High winds and tornado forecasts discouraged some people from attending. The weather held out, however, and a pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all who attended.

'Positive Image' Subject of Farm Bureau Meeting

CLINTON — "Creating a Positive Farm Image" was the subject for discussion at the May 11 meeting of the Northline Farm Bureau, held with Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger. Robert Vogel was the discussion leader.

The group voted to recommend that "The farm image would be improved if the funds expended by the Federal Agriculture Department were limited to actual farm-related expenditures, with all other items such as 'Food for Peace' to foreign nations and welfare programs, such as food stamp plans, hot lunch programs and surplus food distribution being assigned to the Welfare or Defense Department budgets."

The group briefly discussed the subject, "Developing Human Resources" which was made available by the Extension Department.

The group will resume regular meetings in September. A family picnic is planned for July at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vogel.

Mrs. Schmidt Tells of Trip

CLINTON — A vivid description of a trip to Europe in 1964 comprised the interesting program enjoyed by members of the Clinton Woman's Club when they met May 12 for the last meeting of the season. It was given by Mrs. Hans Schmidt, a member of the club.

A co-operative dinner, arranged by the board of directors, preceded the meeting which was conducted by the outgoing president, Mrs. Daniel Reilly.

Two guests, Mrs. John Monaghan and Mrs. Anna McDermott were introduced.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Mrs. Frank Gilman, a recently deceased member.

The annual report show that the club has 53 active members, 11 associate members and 7 honorary members.

Mrs. Reilly presented the traditional club gavel to the new president, Mrs. Frank Fitzpatrick.

MR. AND MRS. Schmidt left New York April 15 and returned July 9 on the Holland-American freighter "Westerdam". They toured Europe in a small automobile then met the fiancee of their son, Robert, and her family in a remote German village, and enjoyed the parties and June wedding in the Bonn area, where Robert is employed by the General Electric Co.

Their tour included the Holland Tulip Festival at Keukenkof Gardens near Lisse, visits with relatives in Denmark, and a visit with Christa Von Schwerin in the Bavarian Alps. Christa was a German Exchange student and, in 1954, graduated from Clinton Sigh School.

The Schmidts spent two weeks on Balearic Island, Majorca in the Mediterranean Sea, where they traveled mountain roads, saw primitive farming country and attended a bull fight.

Meetings of the club will resume October 13. The new officers and board of directors will meet during the summer to plan the schedule for the coming year.

"Some of Clinton's finest young men gave their lives in America's defense during the three wars of the past half century. We should not lose the inspiration of their service and sacrifice, but should keep their memories bright.

"We owe today's free America to them and all the others like them who stood between America and the enemy in time of war," she said.

A & P Store Employees Buy Bonds

Tecumseh's A & P store will conduct a "Star Spangled Savings Bond Campaign" among employees, May 17 through 21.

The local drive is part of a corporate-wide effort to encourage employees to take advantage of the Payroll Savings Plan for the purchase of Bonds.

Store Manager Al Snyder will serve as chairman of the drive, during which each employee will be contacted personally and urged to join the Bond program.

He said the theme of the campaign is "Practical Patriotism", which was conceived by a group of national business leaders promoting payroll savings in industry in 1965.

"Practical Patriotism simply means that every American can help himself by buying bonds and at the same time help his Country in defense of Freedom", Manager Snyder said.

The goal for the drive here is 100% participation. In 1964, the Minute Man Flag was awarded to the company for attaining a high rate of participation.

Back-Siphonage Can be Prevented by Tiny Breaker

LANSING — State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis said that several types of insecticides or weed killer sprayers which attach to the garden hose are potential sources of contamination of the plumbing system.

Back-siphonage, a phenomena resulting from a sudden drop in water pressure, such as might occur while an automatic washer is in operation, can literally "suck" the insecticide or weed killer solution through the hose and into the house, the commissioner said.

He said that this can be prevented by attaching a small siphon-breaker, which can be purchased at any plumbing supply outlet, to the outside faucet.

"Back-siphonage can occur inside the house as well, especially in multi-story dwellings," Dr. Heustis said.

"For this reason, never submerge a faucet or hose in anything you wouldn't want to drink — such as a pail of cleaning solution, insecticide, or backyard wading pool."

Sister Joachim will tell of her recent trip to Russia, using slides to illustrate.

Both meetings will begin at 8 p.m. The latter one will be held in the Adrian Public Library auditorium, upstairs, corner of E. Church and Dennis Sts.

GARY JONES, SON OF MR. AND MRS. GLEN JONES, TIPTON, WORKS ON SEVENTH GRADE VOCATIONAL EDUCATIONAL PROJECT

Pupils Learn To Use Hands

Editor's note — This is another in the series of articles and pictures on educational opportunities offered within the Tecumseh School system.

Teaching the use of the hands and tools, developing coordination, knowledge and the ability to follow directions and promoting an interest in a hobby are among the reasons junior high school boys and girls are given vocational training. Some 125 boys and girls in the seventh grade learn to work with wood, metal, plastics and leather. They practice the use of the jig saw, buffer and kiln.

Forty-five eighth grade boys take an elective course including nine weeks in mechanical drawing, 18 weeks using metal and power tools and nine weeks in the study of electricity and electronics.

The girls meanwhile are studying nutrition and sewing.

PLANT SORGHUM-SUDAN if you're in need of summer forage. For pasture seed 20 to 25 pounds per acre—in rows if possible to save trampling. For haylage or green chop consider drilling 30 pounds or more to produce finer stems which will dry faster and give better forage. Apply phosphorus and potash as you would for a 100 to 150 bushel corn crop. Use 40 to 80 pounds of nitrogen per acre at seeding and another 50 pounds after the first crop. To avoid prussic acid poisoning, don't graze until plants are 15 to 18 inches tall.

BEEF HEIFERS should be bred more according to size than age. Heifers should weigh 650 to 700 pounds which can be reached before 15 months of age. Heifers bred at 15 months can produce one extra calf during their productive life compared with those bred at 24 months.

PREVENT MILK FEVER by feeding cows extra grain before they calve — something which may be overlooked with cows calving on early pasture. Illinois research revealed that grain fed at the daily rate of 1 percent of body weight will prevent or reduce the incidence of milk fever in the dairy cow. Grain level was increased from 0.5 percent to 1 percent, 3 weeks before calving.

FARM MACHINERY rental charges that are fair to both parties can be a problem. Typical charges are expressed as percentages of the purchase price for time periods: 1 day — 1%; 1 week — 3%; 1 month — 15%; and 3 months — 25%.

How Skilled Are You at Driving?

The most massive one-shot safety communication effort of all time and the opening shot of a coordinated, concentrated effort to improve the defensive driving skills of everyone on America's highways will be presented nationally by the Columbia Broadcasting System on Monday, May 24.

The telecast, entitled "National Drivers' Test," will feature the six positions of the two-car crash upon which the National Safety Council has built its new nationwide Driver Improvement Program. It will appear on Toledo Channel 11 at 10 p.m.

The show is being presented shortly before the start of the three-day Memorial Day weekend, in cooperation with the National Safety Council, International Business Machines Corp., and the advice of an independent board of consultants from industry, government, and education, in an effort to make the public more aware of driving hazards and how to cope with them.

The telecast will test drivers' judgment in two-car collision situations, their knowledge of road rules, and their ability to perceive driving hazards. Specially prepared film sequences will illustrate each driving situation. These will be shown in slow motion and at normal speed to allow viewers to share the experience of a collision or near-collision.

Test forms will be published and distributed nationally in advance of the program so viewers will be able to participate in the test and score themselves. They will be able to test their answers and scores against those of a cross section of American drivers selected from across the country who will begin taking the same test minutes before the broadcast begins. The test answers of these 2,000 drivers, categorized by sex, age, geography and driving experience, will be transmitted instantaneously from CBS facilities throughout the country to the headquarters of IBM in New York City.

There the answers will be fed into a computer and tabulated. The home viewers will receive the correct answers immediately following each question and also, for comparative purposes, the results of the cross-sectional response.

The entire facilities and resources of the National Safety Council have been made available to CBS News in the production and development of the Drivers' Test.

Prior to the telecast the biographical and driving histories of the 2,000 drivers constituting the sample will be taken and analyzed. Immediately after the show this pre-selected group of drivers will again be subjected to a special series of tests covering their psychological, sociological, and driving characteristics. The results of these tests will be correlated with their responses to the National Drivers' Test and the data will be made available by the Council to any persons interested in traffic safety.

The telecast will coincide with the six-month anniversary of the first announcement of the National Safety Council's Driver Improvement Program. This program will bring to the average licensed driver the techniques that professional drivers in fleets belonging to the National Safety Council use to protect themselves against the mistakes of other drivers and to avoid collision courses while they still have time to take evasive action. The drivers in these fleets have an average accident rate approximately half that of all drivers.

Since the NSC Driver Improvement Program was announced, an intensive instructor development program has been undertaken with the aim of building up an active list of 20,000 qualified instructors across the country who can train a million drivers a year.

MICHAEL FERO

Michael Fero in Peace Corps, To Go to Brazil

Michael Fero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Fero, of Industrias Kaiser Argentina, Sarmento 1230, Buenos Aires, Argentina, former Tecumseh residents, has been named a Peace Corps Volunteer. He completed three months of intensive training at the University of Wisconsin in Milwaukee, and is now on leave at the home of a grandmother in Owosso.

Mr. Fero is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and a 1964 graduate of Michigan State University.

He entered the Peace Corps Feb. 12, at the Brazil training site in conjunction with the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Program in Public Health Sanitation and Community Development. The training program which began Feb. 12 and ended May 8 included 350 hours of Portugese language training.

★

HE WILL LEAVE May 19 from New York City for 24 months duty in urban work. The assignment is to health posts in urban and rural areas maintained by Brazilian State Secretariats of Health. These health posts are designed to provide preventative and curative health services to the community.

During vacations, Mr. Fero plans to tour Brazil and, perhaps, Argentina, to visit his parents.

More than 500 Peace Corps Volunteers are already at work in Brazil, more than half of them in public health and sanitation.

★

OTHERS ARE in community development, agricultural extension and home economics, university instruction, school lunch programs, and 4-H Clubs.

Applicants interested in starting a two-year Peace Corps assignment this summer, a Corps spokesman said, should complete and submit a Peace Corps Questionaire as soon as possible and take the Peace Corps Placement Test, which is given throughout the country the second Saturday of each month.

All pertinent information can be obtained as post offices or by writing the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

Witnesses To Go to Ypsi Convention during Weekend

All meetings this weekend of the Tecumseh congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have been canceled. Richard Krebs Jr., presiding minister, said the cancellation will permit members to attend a Bible educational convention in Ypsilanti. Forty members of the congregation will attend as delegates.

The program featuring demonstrations, round-table discussions and lectures will begin at 6:45 p.m. Friday in the West Junior High School, 105 N. Mansfield St., Ypsilanti, and conclude at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The principal speaker will be J. W. Filson of Brooklyn, N.Y., who will address the convention at 3 p.m. Sunday as well as speaking on Saturday.

Silent Wings Will Fill Air

Residents of Michigan and northern Ohio can expect silent wings overhead this summer.

The thirty-second National Soaring Championships takes place in Adrian June 28 through July 9.

Sanctioned by the Soaring Society of America, and sponsored by the Adrian Soaring Club and Chamber of Commerce, the contest has already attracted 60 applicants.

Every indication points to a record turnout of contestants in their sleek, silent, high-performance motorless aircraft.

Already applicants have been accepted from all over the United States, and some foreign countries — Germany, Switzerland and Canada.

The contestants from outside the United States will not be vying for the title of United States Champion, for this goes to the outstanding soaring pilot of the nation.

★

IN THE COURSE of the contest, there will be tasks assigned for distance around triangular courses, speed dashes, and goal and return flights, usually 90 miles out and return.

Arrangements have been made with customs officials of the United States and Canada to assure a quick return of any contestant who may land in Canada.

The Adrian location offers every possibility of some national records being established because of the outstanding soaring conditions around this mid-Michigan community.

The longest distance flight from this city was made in 1962 by Rudy Mozer of Birmingham, who flew 396 miles to Frederick, Maryland. A number of flights exceeding 300 miles have been made, and duration flights of eight hours are not uncommon.

32 Seniors Kept Busy in Capitol

BRITTON—Thirty-two weary, but happy Britton-Macon seniors returned home Saturday morning after a three-day stay in Washington, D. C.

The seniors enjoyed a tour of the capitol building conducted by Michigan Congressman Weston E. Vivian. Each of the seniors met Mr. Vivian personally and a picture was taken on the steps of the capitol building.

The group visited Arlington Cemetery where they saw the grave of President Kennedy and the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

An evening tour of Washington included the Lincoln, Jefferson and Washington Memorials, the Pentagon, Library of Congress, National Archives Building and airport.

The seniors toured the Capitol, White House, Senate, Mt. Vernon, FBI Building, Bureau of Engraving and the wax museum.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hetrick, George L. Lyman, Paul Marks were the chaperones.

Tory Nine Score Third Win of Year

BRITTON — The Britton baseball team lost its fourth game of the season May 7 to the Aggies of Sand Creek 6-1.

The Aggies scored a single run in the second inning, three in the fourth, and a final two in the sixth.

The Torries' only run was scored by Jack Brown, who had reached base on an error.

On May 10 the Tories came through with a big win over the Monroe JV team. Monroe has lost only two games this season.

Britton gained a three run lead in the first inning and Monroe couldn't obtain the lead after that. Britton's runs came from hits by Larry Henning and Jack Brown.

Bill Prochaska went the entire distance on the mound for the Tories.

The season's record stands at 3-4.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia:
Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Mayor Given Grand Tour

CLINTON — A whirlwind swing through Clinton's main points of interest climaxed by a tour aloft for a view from the air marked the visit Monday of Melvindale's Mayor John Kessey.

Mr. Kessey was accompanied by city officials, J. Takacs, detective sergeant of police; F. Forgim, city assessor; and A. Schnipp, commissioner of public works.

Meanwhile Clinton's president, John Truesdale, and three members of the Village Council, Floyd Tate, Dr. Richard Dixon and Richard Tarske, were guests of honor in the City of Melvindale.

★

THE VISITORS from Melvindale were greeted by Mrs. Frank Fitzpatrick, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Supt. Richard Wegner and Lester Proctor, a former village president, conducted Mayor Kessey and his party on a tour of the Clinton Community Schools and the Michigan Police Post, during the morning.

They returned to the lobby at the Clintonian Arms, where they were introduced to members of the C. of C. and the Rotary Club.

The Mayor's Exchange luncheon was held at 1 p.m. in LaVonne's Dining Room. Those attending were: Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Robert Mohr, Thomas Young, Waldo Ehnis, Loren Scott, John Pribile, the Rev. George Miller, Arthur Schuler, Herbert Schott, Mr. Wegner and Mr. Proctor. The Rev. George Miller gave the luncheon invocation.

★

MR. KESSEY and his officials spoke briefly about conditions in Melvindale. Mrs. Fitzpatrick made the presentation of gifts to them from the C. of C.

A tour of the village, the waterworks and the Electric Light Co. plant was conducted in the afternoon by Arthur Schuler, former village president, Charles Wilson, John Pribile and Mr. Proctor.

Loren Scott, owner of Terra-Form Footing Co., a former Melvindale resident, invited the visitors to ride in his private plane for an air view of the area, including the Irish Hills' lakes.

An unscheduled tour was made through the Shamrock Egg Co. plant, upon their return.

Since Mayor Kessey and his party had to return to Melvindale for a traditional City Officials' Recognition Banquet, Clinton was unable to schedule the usual public banquet.

★

JOHN TRUESDALE reports that he had a "thoroughly enjoyable" day in Melvindale, a suburb of Detroit.

With a city population of 15,000, Melvindale has almost no industry within its boundaries, he said, although several nearby industries have located storage facilities within the city limits.

Although unable to visit the main industry, a government space research installation, Mr. Truesdale and the Clinton councilmen were taken on a tour of the Ford Assembly Plant in Dearborn.

Mayor Kessey is the owner of a construction firm, (not a school teacher as previously supposed.) He is serving a second term as mayor, which is unique in the city's history.

His city has only one full-time paid, elected official, the City Clerk, who conducts the city's business with a staff of employees.

★

THE CITY has its own paid fire department of 15 men. The Fire Department also provides the unusual service — free accident ambulance service to residents of the city.

There is an outstanding civic recreation program, Mr. Truesdale said, which includes a new outdoor swimming pool, which is self-supporting.

Mr. Truesdale and the Clinton councilmen were entertained at the recognition banquet in the evening, attended by 250 persons.

Mr. Truesdale reports that several of the men he became acquainted with in Melvindale expressed interest in Clinton's industrial growth.

"I wouldn't be too surprised to see some of these men come out here to take a closer look at our industrial and residential building potential," Mr. Truesdale said.

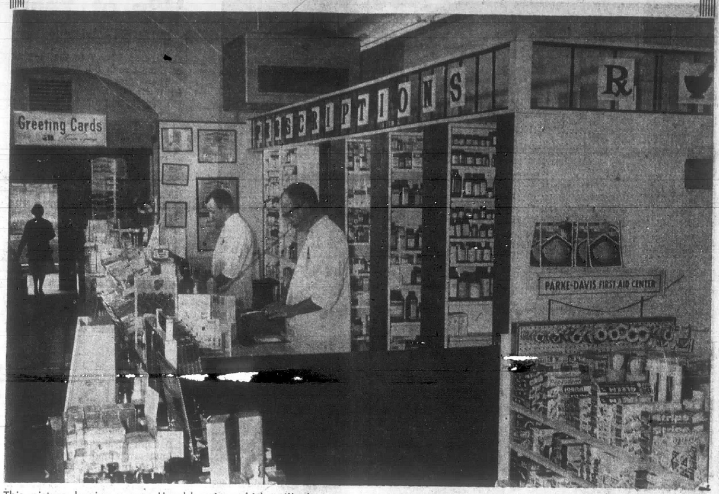
Mrs. Gordon Garlick, principal of Herrick Park School, and a member of the board of directors of the Michigan Association of Elmentary School Principals, attended a leadership workshop at Camp Kett, Cadillac.

The group included board members, chairmen and committeemen. Plans were made for study groups and projects for the Association.

Changes in Tecumseh



This picture begins a new Herald series which will depict improvements and additions to Tecumseh business establishments. Hodges Drug Store recently did over its prescription department, giving pharmacists Court Nighswander and Bill Holmes much greater space in which to work. The move also helps focus attention on the store's rear entrance, through which a customer strolls.

Here and There

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Did you ever go to a distant city to visit friends or relatives and suggest that you would like to see certain attractions?

Your host will be happy to accompany you, but chances are, though he may have lived in the area for years, he has never bothered to visit them himself.

How many times we have been guests in homes throughout the nation and have had our friends say, "You know I always meant to go there, but I probably never would have if you hadn't come."

How many of us have bothered to spend a weekend in Detroit? And yet annually thousands of persons from all over the world include it in their tour of the nation.

There is something for everyone in Detroit.

Tours of some of the big industrial plants will interest all but the smallest members of the family. Everyone will enjoy the big, gay shopping centers. The kids will enjoy riding the escalators there and in the big downtown stores!

★

BELLE ISLE has 1,000 acres of beauty with winding roads, trails, a children's zoo, a conservatory and aquarium.

Fishing is good along the Detroit River and just watching the ships go by — through one of the world's busiest waterways — is an attraction which holds interest for hours.

The Dossin Great Lakes Museum on the island includes among a myriad of attractions an opportunity to view the river through a real periscope.

World famous are the Detroit Institute of Arts with its priceless treasures and its exhibits even the children will enjoy.

Immediately across the street is the main public library — a showplace and fine for browsing.

Nearby is the Detroit Historical Society Museum, which has a continuous exhibit of displays to show Detroit's growth from the time it was occupied by Indians to the present.

Such sports events as Detroit Tiger games and boat races on the Detroit River are other attractions.

★

DEARBORN'S Greenfield Village with adjacent Henry Ford Museum is world-famous and a mecca for visitors from distant lands but chances are many Tecumsehites have never visited these places, which offer much in the way of vacation fun.

Among the Village's most famous buildings is the Clinton Inn, which stood for a century on Michigan Ave. in Clinton.

Royal Oak is the site of Detroit's Zoological Gardens and well worth a trip to the city.

Detroit has fine restaurants. The Fisher Theater is one of the world's largest and most glamorous and the city's movie houses offer pictures which you won't see on TV for another five years!

Vast Cobo Hall has something "going on" all the time.

Hotels, even motels in downtown Detroit, are ready for your family, many of them with special rates.

You can't take that New York City trip this year? Well, Detroit is nearer — and it doesn't cost as much!

FHA Loans Are Pegged at 3% in Disaster Areas

Congressman Wes Vivian announced in Washington that the Farmers Home Administration would now make loans at 3% interest to help eligible farm and rural non-farm families restore homes and farm buildings damaged by natural disaster.

Previously the interest on these loans was 4%.

Three percent loans are also now available for replacing livestock, equipment and home furnishings in areas where natural disasters have caused a need for such credit.

Previously, when 3% loans were made available in areas damaged by natural disaster, the emergency credit was used primarily to finance annual spending expenses of families.

Loans for the replacement of equipment and livestock in the past were financed at 5% when funds were available under the regular programs of the agency, Vivian stated.

★

The repayment term of the 3% loans will depend on needs and repayment ability of applicant with maximum term of 33 years on homes and farm buildings and maximum term of seven years on the replacement of equipment and livestock.

Currently the 3% loans for replacement of buildings, livestock and equipment are available in areas where tornadoes and floods have damaged rural property in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia:
Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Long and Short —

By TOM RIORDAN

At first brush, the news that a new shopping center is to be built in Adrian's north end would be disheartening to downtown merchants.

Both in Adrian and Tecumseh.

Well, there's no question that it will have a direct effect on Business Rows of both towns.

And rumor has it that another cluster of shops is being considered for a point near the Fisher Body plant.

So it would seem that some long-range planning for our downtown should be made — with dispatch.

Many of Tecumseh's storemen have been doing just that —as individuals — with excellent results in vastly improved facilities.

But as important as the store-by-store programs is an overall project to beautify the downtown area.

In case you've forgotten, the city got the start of this with a Master Plan, as prepared by architect Jim Smith. When some folks took their first look at it — including a couple on the city's Planning Commission — they yelped in horror.

The idea, which would have to be worked out over a period of years, showed several downtown blocks of Chicago Blvd. and two of Evans St. as a shoppers' mall. Traffic would be diverted around the middle of town, one-way eastbound over Pottawatamie St. and one-way westbound over Logan St.

★

AFTER A FEW heated discussions over the Master Plan, it was quietly slipped into the file. This happened about three years ago.

With Montgomery Ward soon to break ground for its new store, this might well be the time for Tecumseh to do some digging — spading up the Master Plan to see if possibly it doesn't have some of the right answers.

By an interesting coincidence, a trio of Tecumseh High School drafting students, David Radant, Ted Sisty and Guy Boss, recently teamed on a class project of building a model Tecumseh downtown.

Spending more than 300 hours for research and construction, the youths dubbed it "Tecumseh in 2000."

Maybe they should update it by about 35 years.

The boys' model, along with work of other students, is currently on display at the Adrian Federal Savings & Loan office and well worth seeing.

In their proposed downtown, Dave, Ted and Guy have done some amazing work. They envision a mall along Evans St., with Chicago Blvd. still open to traffic.

Their buildings are low slung and modern — which is what we're going to need if the battle to keep folks coming downtown is won.

★

OUR BUSINESS ROW has a tremendous asset in its off-street parking facilities. Four king-size lots have been paved, lighted and lined. Some day the meters on them will go — the sooner the better in view of coming events.

Gradually, as more property is acquired, it too will be turned into parking. In the age of the automobile, this is the starting point in planning for any shopping facility.

Tipton Grange Plans Food Tent

TIPTON — Members of the Tipton Grange, gathering at the John Wismer home, decided to meet monthly during the next three months and to serve late refreshments.

It was decided also to have a food tent at the Lenawee County Fair. A short memorial and Mother's Day program was presented.

School District Gets $38,000

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh schools received a shot in the arm Monday when the Lenawee County Tax Allocation Board approved an extra mill for all schools in the county.

The additional millage will give the Tecumseh School District $38.000.

Local officials have not yet allocated the money for any specific purpose, but it will likely be used to help balance finances.

The new budget shows a deficit, which the $38,000 could cover, if no more buses are purchased.

Monday's meeting of the Allocation Board at the Lenawee County courthouse was mild compared to the week before.

John Keller, chairman of the Finance Committee for the Board of Supervisors, was resigned to defeat in preventing the schools from receiving an extra mill and the county losing a mill.

Willis Moore, county treasurer, opened the session with remarks that the tax board had cut the county too short, and agreed with Mr. Keller that cuts in county services would have to be made.

Both Messrs Keller and Moore voted against cutting the county's share of the tax monies, and against adding a mill for the schools.

Apparent reason for slicing some millage from county funds is a $1.3 million surplus in approximately 38 county funds, while the schools are having financial difficulties.

Supt. James McDowell, his assistant Norval Bovee, and Robert H. Moore, board member, attended the tax meeting.

The local superintendent thanked the board for its decision and assured it the monies would be spent in the best manner for education.

BUDD CO. FRONT DOOR IN CLINTON IS OPEN, WITH MANAGER CHARLES STRAIGHT SEEKING SKILLED HELP

100 New Jobs

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Budd To Start Disc Brake Operation in Clinton

CLINTON—There's more good news on the industrial front for this community.

Budd Co. will begin producing passenger car disc brakes and related products for the automotive industry at its plant here.

This means 100 new jobs for Clinton.

Applications are now being accepted for skilled machinists, states Charles Straight, plant manager.

Budd has leased the former Clinton Engine plant through November, 1967, with an option for renewal. It is a steel and cement block building on Tecumseh Rd.

For the past year, Budd disc brakes have been widely used on police cars and other similar high-performance vehicles. They will be available as optional equipment on several 1966 standard passenger car models.

Budd officials state that a new labor agreement has been reached with Union Local 39, UAW, which represents hourly workmen in the area. The new labor contract also extends through November, 1967.

Budd has occupied a small portion of the Clinton plant under lease for the past year to carry on limited pilot operations in disc brake production.

On taking over the entire plant, the company is proceeding immediately with the installation of new machinery for expanded manufacturing, machining and assembly operations for disc brakes and related products.

Mr. Straight, formerly with Budd's Detroit plant management staff, estimates that the initial production phases will be completed about the middle of July.

He said that approximately 100 persons will be working in various production operations before the end of the year.

New Ward Store Will Be Featured

A $1 million shopping center, featuring a 47,000-square-feet Montgomery Ward store, will be constructed in the extreme north end of Adrian on M-52, directly across from Charlie Knapp Dodge.

Project Development and Leasing, Inc. of St. Louis, Mo. is developer of the center, which will contain nine other units in addition to Montgomery Ward.

In total, there will be 90,000-square feet of store space and hard-topped parking for 1,300 cars, states John J. Cento, a vice-president of the St. Louis firm.

Mr. Cento reveals that a Hi-Fi and Television shop has also signed a lease and that negotiations are now going on with food and drug chains of Detroit.

★

COVERING 13.16 acres, the property measures 600-feet along M-52 and 800-feet east to the River Raisin. The land was purchased from three Adrian professional men, physicians William H. Hewes and Howard R. C. Eddy and dentist James W. Reynolds.

To be started in approximately three months, it is scheduled for completion by January, 1966, explains Rex Glover of Ace Realty in Adrian.

Negotiations on the shopping center began in June 1964, explains Mr. Glover.

Are Valuations OK?

Field representatives of the State Tax Commission started spot checking the city of Tecumseh Monday to determine if present state equalized values on real and personal property were out of line.

Last month, City Manager Cal Zorn petitioned the clerk of the Board of Supervisors for investigation of tax assessments here.

An error in classification of construction is the basis for the petition.

The city official is hopeful the Commission's investigation will show that equalized property values are too high; and, if so, change the city's formula for determining state equalized evaluations.

★

MR. ZORN in his petition cited examples of increased assessments, which showed the state equalized tax for the city was raised approximately $100,000. This in turn hiked property taxes about $3,300 and distorted the true equalized value of real and personal property.

He's hoping that business people and residents will cooperate with the field representatives during the next two or three weeks.

If the state equalized values here are adjusted, it will be necessary for the State Tax Commission to conduct a hearing before the Board of Supervisors in Adrian.

A free Chamber of Commerce dance will be held Saturday night at the Tecumseh Country Club for members, potential members, employees and guests.

A five-piece orchestra from Jackson will play from 9:30 to 1:30.

Chamber officials anticipate a turnout of more than 60 couples. Reservations may be made by contacting the Chamber, 423-3795 until noon Thursday.

There are approximately 75 members in the Chamber and officers hope to reach 100 in the next few weeks. Dues are only $25 a year.

Three False Alarms Bring Warning from Fire Chief

Some residents may be asking for an arrest if false fire alarms continue, and some motorists will find themselves in the same predicament if they continue to follow too closely behind fire trucks.

Wallace MacGeorge, Tecumseh fire chief, says three false alarms have been reported in recent weeks. Calls in the future may be traced and parties arrested.

The local chief also reports that some motorists are tagging along just behind the fire trucks in violation of the law.

He points out that firemen hanging on to the trucks could fall directly into the path of following vehicles.

Tom Hufnagel of the D. & C. Store has some good household hints up his sleeve. He said Friday his mother put metal washers in the bottom of cups on her chrome chair legs when they wore out too fast. Reduces the expenditures as well as the scratches on the floor.

From the Ingham County News in Mason comes a description of a Polish wedding Dick Brown attended. "When the Poles tie the knot they leave nothing to chance. It's an endurance contest. The hour-long church service was followed by an hour's-long reception for young and old at Cascades club house complete with all the trimmings, including a loud and melodious band. I was disappointed and embarrassed during the grand march, which covered all of Jackson County and parts of Lenawee and Hillsdale Counties and at one time appeared to be on its way to crossing the Ohio border. I haven't been in a conga line like that since V-J day. The embarrassment came when I pulled up lame during the second hour somewhere near Litchfield."

General Motors' capital expenditures in 1966, under favorable conditions, could total about $1.3 billion, Chairman Frederic G. Donner told stockholders last week. Sounds great.

Vic Lawson got the "first deer" of the season. Saturday night in Newberry. "Too bad we couldn't bring that meat home for a spring sports banquet," Louise remarked.

Two out of three cars which were Safety-Checked last weekend had seat belts — which is an excellent trend.

Who could accuse Bob Karle of Tecumseh Motor Sales, local Ford agency, but somehow it happened and we wonder if Bob was simply standing around? The incident? When Lewis Lamm, head man at Fisher Body, was seen coming down Chicago Blvd. in the big parade Thursday, he was riding in a Ford Galaxie 500.

The ladies of Chapter 51, Order of the Eastern Star erally know how to spread a smorgasbord. Wednesday they served many appreciative folk at noon in the OES Temple. Funds raised will be used to buy fresh fruit for the youngsters living at the Eastern Star Villa in Adrian.

Turns Back Calendar 30 Years

By TOM RIORDAN

"We sometimes fail to realize the progress that is made on a day-to-day basis," Lewis Lamm, manager of the Fisher Body plant, told those attending the Mayor Exchange Banquet Thursday.

"However, if we turn the clock back some 30 years, we see dramatic changes," he added.

In 1935;

► Ice boxes were the standard for food preservation.

► Gasoline with 66 octane was considered ultimate.

► Steam was considered "it" in railroad locomotion.

► Airplanes would never fly faster than sound — "they'd disintegrate."

The automotive field 30 years ago was having misgivings about all-steel body construction, automatic transmissions and power steering were almost unheard of.

★

"TODAY, electrical refrigeration, air conditioning, 100 octane gasoline and many other items are commonplace. And looking ahead 30 years taxes the imagination beyond our present comprehension," the speaker said.

Then, Mr. Lamm told his listeners about a trip he made to Russia and suddenly the calendar was turned back 30 years.

"Modern jets and obsolete cars meet at the airport; The TU 104 jet passenger plane, while unpressurized and noisy, does have good performance.

"The Volga car, which is the backbone of Russian automobile transportation, is strikingly similar to the Henry J of about 1946.

"The larger Elna, used by government officials, is a copy of the 1935 Chrysler. Farm tractors are copies of ours dating back to pre-World War II days, as well as copies of our later machines.

"Home refrigerators are for the most part non-existent," he went on.

As to television sets, the Red variety resembles USA models of 1950 vintage.

Many USSR manufacturing plants are obsolete and would be ready for replacement by standards of this nation. Some resemble plants here of 20 years ago.

In farming, tractors "work side by side with horses."

Because of lack of leadership and training, "management (in industry) as we know it is nonexistent," according to Mr. Lamm. The results are that "the Russian industrial workers produces about 31% of his American counterpart and the Russian farmer less than 10%."

★

IN HOUSING, Mr. Lamm noted that "no single family dwellings have been built in any of the larger cities since World War II." Prefabricated apartment house complexes provide living quarters.

An inner-change of ideas between government and industry is lacking and this is a major factor for Russia's long lag in progress, as compared with America, the speaker related.

"Here, many of the leaders in local government are also leaders in local industry and thereby have an intimate knowledge of both governmental and business needs.

"A government position is considered a civic responsibility, not a political plum," he said.

In his concluding remarks, Mr. Lamm spoke of industrial expansion and particularly of General Motors.

"I have helped put all three of our trim plants into operation and never have government and business leaders in a community gone so all-out as Tecumseh i aiding the establishment of new plant."

Alma Mayor Robert Antony, vice-president of Leonard Re fineries, spoke briefly at the di ner.

He said he was impressed wit the friendliness of Tecumse and the type of people he'd lik to live with. Two days earlie his city had played host to visit by Tecumseh Mayor Harol and Mrs. Easton, along with ot er representatives.

Mr. Antony was presented wi a silver tray, which had bee engraved, "Mayor's Exchang 1965."

Aerialist Is Feature at Carnival

Tecumseh Jayeees' annual Spring Carnival, which opened Monday, will continue through May 31.

The Jayeees promise "fun for all the family," with carnival rides, a midway and free entertainment every night.

This year's featured act is "The Great Kormpates," an aerialist.

Saturday is "Kids' Day" and all rides will be at half-price that afternoon. Later in the day two bicycles will be given as prizes.

Congratulations are in order and we heartily extend them, Don.

The plane came downtown as part of the Michigan Week celebration and got considerable attention from spectators at the Safety-Check parade.

Girl Scout Activities Planned

Activities for June were announced by Mrs. Bart Christman at the monthly neighborhood meeting of Girl Scout leaders.

Several Brownie Fly-Ups are in the planning stages. This is a ceremony leading Brownie Scouts "over the bridge" into Junior Girl Scouting.

Day camp will be June 21-25 at Aho's Landing and is open to any girl who is a Scout or who will be eligible for scouting in September. The charge of $3.50 covers program insurance and milk or juice at noon. A local physician will give physical examinations the first day.

Each troop is expected to donate baked goods equal to one-half its membership and to bring it to the back door of the store between 8:40 and 9 a.m. June 5, Mrs. Lothair Q. Hardesty said.

Two leaders and two older Girl Scouts will be on hand to sell according to a schedule set by Mrs. Donald Creger. Brownie Scouts will be carrying sandwich boards around the business district to remind the public of the sale.

★

Clean-Up Funds Are Available

Additional Agricultural Conservation Program funds are being made available for Lenawee County.

These funds are designated for use in the tornado disaster area to help defray the cost of two new ACP practices were approved for cost-share assistance are as follows:

1. Removal of debris from farmland.
2. Restoration of livestock fences.

Practically all farms in the damaged area are eligible for assistance on one or both of the new practices approved.

★

REQUESTS FOR assistance should be made at the Lenawee County ASC Office.

These requests can be made even though the practice has all ready been started or completed if applied for before June 5.

It is realized some clean up has been accomplished with donated labor. However, most farms still have some areas to clean and piles of debris to be disposed of in some manner.

Most farmers have furnished some clean up labor as well as machinery to accomplish what has already been done.

★

THE PURPOSE of these two ACP practices are to help share the expense of restoring the farmland to a productive state.

Assistance is also available for improvements to woodlots hit by the tornado. This practice must be applied for before the practice is started. Technical assistance from the District Forester is available to help farmers in the application of this practice.

Information on any of these practices can be obtained at the ASC Office.

PATTERSON SCHOOL PATTER

By SHERRIE LEE HART

This merry spring weather has all the kids at Patterson excited. The fifth and sixth grade girls and boys are having fun playing ball in gym. They are learning a little more than just what they call "kids rules". The rest of the rooms are having fun playing ball, too.

Instead of having teacher's reports this week I'm going to tell of the fifth grade conservation trip and what they saw.

At about 10 a.m. all of Mrs. Raymond's and Mrs. Keith Swain's boys and girls loaded on a bus headed for a farm. Everyone was excited.

After what seemed hours we drove up in a big field and got onto some big wagons with straw on them. We rode a ways and then came to a place where charts were set up. These charts were on soil. There we learned the different things that a plant needs to live.

Next we came to a place where we went down a path on foot and found ourselves by a small river. There were several charts and things set up to show us about our water.

The man there told us that we have as much water as we did when Columbus came to our country. At that time there was nobody here but Indians and not many of them at that. Now we have 10 times as many people and that is why we are having water shortage.

Our next stop was at a place that told of the lumbering industry. There was a big round saw blade. It had saw teeth that you could take out and put in. The man said that every once in a while a tooth would come out and stick in the rafters of the saw mill. We also were told about reforestration.

Next we went to a stop on wild life. There we learned about the game animals and their homes. We were also told of the animals you couldn't hunt. We were told of the food for animals, too.

Then our last but best stop was one on forest fires. There was a big stuffed Smokey the Bear who told about preventing forests fires. There was a forest ranger at this stop.

Of course Patterson wasn't the only school that was represented on the conservation trip. There were other fifth grades from all over this area.

By for now from Patterson.

Dearborn Man Wants Supplement

TO THE EDITORS:

The Fundamental Fellowship weekly paper from Tipton has been telling briefly of the tornado storm as it affected Tipton recently, giving some small pictures taken locally.

In addition this paper mentioned a special supplement of your paper which showed excellent pictures which really show the tremendous impact of the storm on property and people affected.

It was indicated that the cost to send one copy of the supplement would only be 10c by mail. Therefore please find enclosed 32c in U.S. postage for which please send me two copies of this particular publication. I plan to send one copy to my folks in New York State.

Yours truly,

TO THE EDITORS:

As chairman of the Michigan Week Banquet I would like to thank you for all the publicity that you gave, which helped in making the banquet the great success that it was.

Attendance this year was more than double that of last year. As a relative Tecumseh newcomer, I feel that this is indicative of the dynamic, progressive attitude of the citizens of Tecumseh.

Once again, thank you for your assistance.

Lights, Brakes Bad

Rear lights and brakes appear to be the biggest cause of concern for auto and truck owners.

Those most often were found defective during the three-day volunteer Vehicle Safety-Check last week staged by Rotary.

All told, 52 cars of the 716 which rolled through the check lane were rejected—most with bad brakes or lights.

Among the 64 trucks examined, 11 were cited, many with the same problems.

The mechanics on duty noted that 162 of the cars had seat belts, an increase over last year from 15.2% to 25.6%. However, only eight autos were equipped with rear seat belts.

Half of the motorists with seat belts admitted they used them only while on trips.

This would make National Safety Council officials blanch. They advise "hooking up" if only to drive around the block, pointing out that a big percentage of mishaps happen during close-to-home driving when victims are pitched out of their cars following a collision.

Shawnee Squares Pass Peace Pipe

The passing of the "peace pipe" highlighted the dinner dance held Sunday evening by the Shawnee Squares at the Tecumseh Country Club with 43 couples attending.

Retiring presidents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams are to be succeeded by Mr. and Mrs. Don Newman.

The gentlemen exchanged the "peace pipe."

Other officers installed were:

Vice-presidents — Mr. and Mrs. Al Holdridge

Secretary and treasurer — Mr. and Mrs. Lee Prettyman

Publicity — Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kruse

Pastel shades of pink and blue featuring tall white tapers centered each informal table grouping.

★

THE NEW OFFICERS will assume duties June 1. Mr. Williams conducted the meeting when past programs and new schedules were discussed for the coming year.

Gifts were presented to the outgoing officers and callers.

In appreciation of Don Moffatt for his co-operation and with continued interest in the Tecumseh Community Center, and facilities the club has purchased and donated six new banquet tables with formica tops and a cart for storing them.

After the business meeting, the group returned to the more spacious facilities of the Community Center for an evening of dancing.

Glenn LeFever of Toledo and Chuck Dillenbeck of Detroit shared the calling honors.

TEEN TALK

By DEBBIE EARLING

The Hootenanny sponsored Friday evening by the sophomores was such a great success that another one is being contemplated for this summer.

Besides the local talent presented, The Riders Three were imported from Chelsea to add a professional air to the event. Congratulations to Barb Clark who was in charge of the program and to her crew for a well planned program.

The Hootenanny was unadvertised because freshmen and sophomores are not permitted to enter any money-making projects involving the general public. A guest list was provided for guests not concerned with the school.

This year's Junior-Senior Picnic is scheduled for Thursday, May 27, at Frontier City.

Fun, food, and games are on the agenda. The upper-classmen will be accompanied by their class advisors.

The Spanish Club invited the French Latin Clubs to attend final meeting this year Wednesday, May 26. The guest speaker, Bruno Zaffina, was entertaining and informative.

Mr. Zaffina, a philosopher and artist, has traveled all across this country presenting views of philosophy through delightful sketches.

The theme of his program is "Adventures in Chalk." It has been described as "one of the finest" by critics throughout the country. It was a most unusual and enjoyable experience.

We of the Latin and French Clubs wish to extend our gratitude to the Spanish Club for inviting us to their wonderful program.

Air Conditioner Sales Should Rise

"I think we should see a noticeable rise in the sale of air conditioners almost at once due to the very favorable prospects for ending the excise tax on them," U.S. Congressman Weston E. Vivian said this week.

"People who buy air conditioners from now on can be pretty confident they will have the 10 per cent excise tax which they pay on them refunded later on this summer," he said.

Congressman Vivian, who submitted a bill to accomplish this objective, had conferred earlier with management and labor representatives at Tecumseh Products Co., world's largest manufacturer of air compressor units.

★

VIVIAN SAID he had learned tentative approval to end the tax had been agreed to by the House Ways and Means Committee, retroactive to May 14.

President Johnson early last week submitted to the Congress his recommendations for excise tax reductions which would amount to a total of over $4 billion when they take full effect in 1967.

Among his recommendations was one to end air conditioner excise tax, effective immediately.

Memoriam

In memory of G. A. Abner who passed away 7 years ago today, May 26, 1958.

So many things have happened dear, since you were called away.
So many things to share with you, had you been left to stay.
We cannot bring the good days back, the ways of the world are such.
But we have many pleasant memories, of the ones we loved so much.
The happy home we shared so long, till you were called away.
Is home no more since you're not here.
But just a place to stay.
Sadly missed by his wife and family. Mrs. G. A. Abner

Card of Thanks

WORDS alone can never express my thanks to my relatives and friends for their prayers, help, flowers, gifts, cards and visits. Especially do I thank the Rev. Robert Mitchinson, Dr. Helzerman, Dr. Couk, Dr. Wilson, nurses aides, Candy Stripers and all others who in any way contributed their many services during my illness of five months. I sincerely thank you.
Mrs. Frances Haas

Tie for Top Develops in League

By CHARLES ALLEN

The partnership of Bill Berkley and Pat Hollar put all their good shots together this week and came up with 39's in the Tecumseh - Clinton - Macon Golf League.

This should have given their opponents, Lee Marsh and Larry Yoakum, lots of trouble, but they accepted the challenge and with a few handicap strokes split even with 10 points apiece.

Hal Weakley and Buck Furry also played a tremendous round to gain enough points to move into a tie for first place.

The standings:

Doug Hall & Chuck Allen	70
Hal Weakley & Buck Furry	70
Jack Ruffner & Mike Buku	68
Earl Yoakum & Bill Bunten	67
Bill Brown & Fay Crane	64½
Floyd Busz & Preston Caswell	63½
Don Linden & Paul Kollar	62½
Bob French & Vern Manwaring	60½
Tony Louden & Bob Miller	60
Pat Hollar & Bill Berkley	59½
Bob Beevers & Doc Morden	59
Bill Johnson & Dale Garrison	59
Mick O'Neill & Karl Roberts	57
Eldon Walker & Bill Walker	56
Lamont Hunt & Teke Mattis	55
Walt Johnston & Bob Wajtowicz	53½
Dick Meyers & Jerry Creger	52
Vaughn Massingale & Lonnie Olone	49½
Lee Phibbs & Charlie Studnicka	47½

Indians Run Minus Star, Finish 2nd

A heavily favored Tecumseh track team finished second here in the Huron League meet last week and finished its quest for the track title in a tie with Grosse Ile.

Team scores were:

Grosse Ile	65½
Tecumseh	52
Milan	50½
Blissfield	28½
Flat Rock	11½
Airport	10

The Indians ran without the services of Steve Derby, their top trackster and scorer, and this alone contributed to Grosse Ile's victory.

With Derby running, Tecumseh would have finished 1-2 in both hurdle events for a total of 20 points. GI would have picked up eight points, a difference of [illegible] points.

As it turned out, Lee Hannibal swept the hurdle events for Tecumseh, picking up 12 points. But GI, instead of finishing third and fourth for a total of eight points, moved into second and third places for 14 points.

★

TECUMSEH WON the hurdle events but still lost two points in the league race. Giving and taking away points, the Indians would have finished the meet ahead of the Red Devils.

An unfortunate incident in the last event also cut eight points off Tecumseh's total, although GI would still have boasted a slight winning margin.

Mike Sharpe, running the anchor leg on Tecumseh's mile relay team, passed a Blissfield runner on the back stretch and then cut in too short.

Both runners stumbled in the mishap with the Indians being disqualified. Sharpe, running strong, looked like a sure winner with Blissfield second and GI third.

The end result was GI in first place, Blissfield second and the Indians nothing.

Several top efforts were turned in by Tecumseh runners.

Tim Collins, first in the 220 and second in the 100.

Roger Young, first in the 880 run.

Hannibal, firsts in the 180 and 120-yard hurdles.

Bill Thomas, first in the shot put.

Kirk Lucas, second in the pole vault and fourth, broad jump.

Sharpe, tie for third, mile run.

Doug Gillies, tie for fourth, high jump.

Ron Andrews, Hannibal, Jim Morse and Collins, first in the 880 relay.

★

COLLINS set a school record in the 100 with a time 10.2, besting a former mark of 10.3 set by Roger Mead.

Sharpe, previous holder of the school record in the mile, lowered the time to 4:37.0, three-tenths of a second faster.

Only league mark erased was Ken Head's time of 4:25.4 in the mile. The Milan runner knocked over seven seconds off the old record, which he set last year.

Several Indians participated in the state Class B meet Saturday at Ann Arbor but none qualified for the finals.

Sky Divers Hold 3-Day Competition

Contestants from four states and Ontario are expected here this weekend for the third annual Memorial Day Sport Parachuting Meet at the Tecumseh Airport.

Hosts for the meet Saturday, Sunday and Monday, will be the Chuting Angels of Tecumseh which has as its co-sponsors Don's Beef Buffet, Tecumseh-Britton Hotel, Britton, and the Bucket Bar, Clinton.

WKBD-TV, Channel 50, will be taping the event for future use.

Jumpers will be diving from altitudes of 7500 feet for individual style events and from 3500 feet for individual accuracy of landing on a target placed in the middle of the airfield. There will also be a three-man team event.

Jumping will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 7 p.m. each day.

A banquet will be served at Don's Beef Buffet Saturday evening.

Michael Curtiss Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Tucker, 1102 River Acres Ct., will receive a bachelor of arts degree from Alma College Saturday. Mr. Tucker, a 1961 graduate of Tecumseh High School, has majored in business administration. Commencement speaker will be Gov. George W. Romney. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker and son Lance will attend the ceremonies held on the lawn of Dunning Memorial Chapel.

May 12 winners in the first flight were Mrs. Frank Rice, Mrs. Frank Owen, and Mrs. Donald Smith; topping the second flight were Mrs. Henry Bender, Mrs. Ray Sack and Mrs. Robert May.

The third flight was led by Mrs. William B. Davis, Mrs. Willard Mann and Mrs. Edward Komorowski.

Winners of the first flight May 19, were Mrs. Bill Hanna, Mrs. Bill Hannibal, with Mrs. Clarence Champanois and Mrs. Charles Butler tied for low putts.

Mrs. Joseph Rohweder, Mrs. May and Mrs. R. Dickinson took home the prizes for second flight; and the third flight leaders were Mrs. J. F. Furry, Mrs. Orville Laidlaw and Mrs. Austin

10th Safety-Check Parade Ranks Best

With more than 60 units and vehicles taking part, last Thursday's 10th annual Safety-Check parade easily ranks as the most outstanding.

Four bands, plus the Necessities — a four-lad rock and roll combo — filled the downtown area with music.

Decorated cars and trucks, queen candidates, Scouts, junior baseball players and mounted brigades kept a flow of action for nearly 30 minutes.

★

KATHERINE CARTER, a junior at Tecumseh High School, was chosen Safety-Check Queen and crowned by Alma's visiting mayor, Robert L. Anthony.

In Tecumseh for Michigan Week Mayor Exchange festivities, Mr. Anthony soon learned his was a working visit.

He also did honors with Mr. Safety, placing a spangled headpiece on Lee Prettyman, who won the honor on the basis of his son's nominating letter.

Then, there were the Jaycee Auxiliary Baby Contest Winners Queen to be crowned and again the Alma chief executive was on duty. Winning these regal titles were:

► Jacquelyn Hanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hanna, Rogers Hwy.

★

A FRAMED COPY of the Michigan Senate "Angel of Tipton" resolution, which honored Mrs. Fay Luce, was presented to her by former Lenawee County Sheriff Bib Stites, who now is with the Sheriffs' Association in Lansing. He represented Senators Haskell Nichols and Gil Bursley.

Senator Bursley had planned on being in Tecumseh, but the Legislature stayed in session until nearly midnight, working on last-minute duties.

Barbershop quartet songs were offered by the Four Dads Quartet — Gordon Comfort, Dr. Carlton Cook, Dave Woods and Gene Earling.

The Rev. Blair Bashore served as master of ceremonies, assisted by Charlie Butler, who again was Safety-Check chairman.

Heimerdinger Directs Work of 'Clean-Up'

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Residents of the area have marveled at the rapid clean-up of tornado damaged farms in Clinton and the northeast Tecumseh areas.

Much of the credit for this big task well done goes to Clarence Heimerdinger, 72, a well-known Clinton dairy farmer who directed the volunteer work for three weeks without pay.

The morning after the Palm Sunday disaster struck, the Agriculture Stabilization Committee, of which Mr. Heimerdinger is chairman, and the supervisors Edward Hulett of Clinton and Arthur Eaton of Tecumseh asked Mr. Heimerdinger to begin directing the clean-up work.

By 10 a.m., Clarence had rounded up his neighbors and work was begun at the Martin Halley farm, where a dozen cows were buried, some still alive.

The live cattle were moved to the Heimerdinger dairy farm to be milked. By Wednesday the last of the 12 live cows and many dead ones had been lifted from the fallen barn.

★

THEN, CLARENCE'S big task was to decide where help was needed next. After the livestock had been rescued, hay and grain were salvaged and then the complicated task was begun to raise trapped tractors and equipment.

An example of one such problem was on the George Dinius farm where a barn had fallen on a combine, driving the rear end of it eight inches into the ground, raising the front end over the top of a manure spreader, with the spreader tongue half way through the radiator of a pickup.

Clarence had the imagination and ingenuity for that task and many more like it during the next three weeks while debris was cleared at the farms of Charles Allen, Herbert Murphy, Edward Solarski, Jim Howard, James Tonneberger, Richard Sherman, Allen Rupert, Glen Simmerson, Donald Murphy, Tom Murphy, Wendell Reums, Floyd Spence, Walter Simons, Clayton Cousino and John Kotts.

★

A GROUNDSWELL of help began arriving by the first Saturday after the storm. Joining Don Lutton of Ogden, vice-president of the county Farm Bureau board and Lewis Ruesink and many others who had worked all week.

Carloads of Farm Bureau members came from Eaton, Monroe, Wayne, Livingston, Ingham and Jackson counties for various days.

The staff of the Extension Department at Adrian and others came from Williamston, Riga and Onondaga.

Seven executives of the Consumer's Power Co. at Jackson spent one Saturday working at the wreckage of the Felipe Valdez home in Newburg.

Several Clinton Rotarians and a group of Clinton High School students came out to work two Saturdays and during the Easter vacation.

These folks had to be told where and how to make the best use of their volunteer time — and Clarence Heimerdinger was the one individual who had the "know how."

School Board Posts Attract 7 Candidates

CLINTON — Voters in the Clinton Community School district will go to the polls June 14 to elect three members of the board of education.

Candidates for one-year terms are Charles Straight and Donald Geiger. Candidates for two four-year terms are Waldo Papsdorf, Mrs. Richard Sharpe, Mrs. Daniel Schindler, Mrs. Edward J. Thomas and Roger Waltz.

Qualified electors will also be asked to approve a .02 mill increase for operating expenses.

► Mrs. Edward J. Thomas, 31, is a graduate of Royal Oak High School, the University of Michigan, majoring in elementary education. She taught third grade in the Tecumseh Public Schools for four years and has been a resident of Clinton for 10 years.

She and Mr. Thomas have three children, ages 5, 3 and 1.

"I believe in dealing with each child as an individual," she said. "This is my primary philosophy of education, followed by a desire to provide our children with the finest teachers. Since 80% of school funds are used for teachers' salaries, we need to help them become better teachers by encouraging their continuing education. Without good teachers you have nothing!"

► Mrs. Richard Sharpe, 35, attended schools in Jackson. She graduated from St. Joseph's High School, Huntington, W. Va., and St. Lawrence School of Nursing in Lansing. She moved to Clinton in 1958 and is a part-time nurse in Herrick Memorial Hospital, Tecumseh. She has been reelected president of the Clinton Band Boosters Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe have four children in school, Joan 13, Jim 11, Tom 9, and Tim 5.

Mrs. Sharpe says she wants to see the Clinton Community Schools achieve accreditation by the North Central Association as well as by the University of Michigan. She thinks Clinton should work toward more teachers with master's degrees and for more adequate library facilities.

"More information should be available from the school board," she said. "It is time the taxpayers really knew what the school board is doing."

► Roger Waltz, a graduate of Clinton High School, attended Eastern Michigan University one year. He spent three years in the U. S. Army. He recently completed a die-maker's apprenticeship at Ford Motor Company and is employed at the Rawsonville plant. He is a member of the Clinton Fire Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Waltz have three children, Gregory 7, Terri Lee 4, and Amy Jo, 1.

"With economic conditions in Clinton beginning to boom, the job on the school board will be an important one," Mr. Waltz said. "We are going to have to enlarge our school soon and I would like to help with this task. I feel it is my obligation to serve my community. I have no axe to grind. Clinton is a good place to live and I want to keep it that way," he stated.

► Mrs. Daniel Schindler, 29, is a graduate of Melvindale High School. She has a BS in special education and an MS in education from the University of Michigan.

She has taught for six years, including two years at EMU, and for the past four years has been a special education teacher for Lenawee County.

Mr. and Mrs. Schindler moved to Clinton from Ypsilanti in 1961. The couple has two children, Danny 8 and Devin 3.

"As many groups as possible should be represented on the school board," she said. "I am particularly interested in elementary school education and would like to see Clinton study the ideas other schools are using and use as many improvements as seem workable. There is room for improvement in our total educational program," she added.

► Donald Geiger, 33, graduated from Clinton High School and from EMU with an MA in education.

He taught science for six years in the Detroit area and for one year in Clinton High School. He was principal of Centerville High School one year and is employed as sales manager for Thomas Co., Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Geiger have two children, Cynthia 7 and Rex 4.

"I don't think people in the community have taken enough active interest in their schools," he said. "They should be encouraged to attend school board meetings. People who are informed of the school's problems will make the right decisions."

► Waldo Papsdorf, 43, attended Saline High School and the Cassidy Lake Technical School.

He is owner and operator of a tool and die shop near his home on Arkona Rd., east of Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Papsdorf have five children in school. They are David, a senior; Don, a junior; Paul, eighth grade; Mike, third grade; and robin, kindergarten.

A married daughter lives in Ann Arbor and another daughter lives in Florida.

"More vocational training facilities must be provided for youngsters who are not going to college," he said. "We must also find out more about college requirements and be sure our graduates are adequately prepared for college."

► Charles Straight, 32, is a graduate of Sexton High School, Lansing. He has a bachelor of science degree in Mechanical Engineering from the General Motors Institute at Flint. He moved to Clinton in the fall of 1964 and is the manager of the Clinton Division of Budd Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Straight have two children, Holly 4 and Andrea 2. He is a member of the board of trustees of the Smith-Kimball Community Center and in March was appointed to fill the vacancy on the board of education, created by the resignation of Frank Gilman.

"Clinton needs people on the school board who are interested in giving their children the best education that is possible with the funds and facilities that are available. Those who will look to the future in needs of college-bound students, and those who desire to enter business or vocational training after high school. It will be necessary that they work harmoniously with the other board members and the school officials."

Porter Suggests Swap of 10 Acres of School Lands

A proposal to exchange about 10 acres of property along Sutton Rd. was made to the School Board recently by Milton Porter, county superintendent.

The local schools and the Intermediate School District had agreed previously that the area of Lenawee Institute and Sutton school, should eventually come under Mr. Porter's jurisdiction.

A portion of the Lester Hunt farm will be transferred to the Tecumseh district after survey work is completed and a price for the Sutton school is agreed upon.

Roads Will Be Jammed

With hundreds of thousands of cars expected on Michigan highways for Memorial Day weekend, the State Police will operate special traffic patrols for the holiday period from noon Friday to midnight Monday.

Traffic accidents killed 24 persons in the 78-hour holiday last year, the same toll as during the Memorial period in 1963.

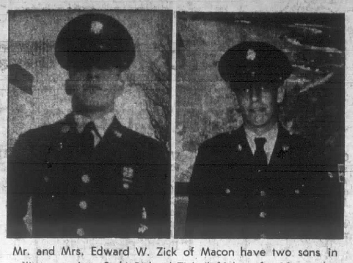
Highest toll for this holiday in postwar years was 34 killed in 102 hours in 1961.

Pass days are cancelled for the four-day period for all State Police uniform personnel at posts and districts. Detectives, where available, will take over desk duties to relieve uniformed officers for patrols.

Maximum patrol coverage will be from 3 to 9 p.m. daily during the holiday period, with special consideration to be given to sections of highways having bad accident experience.

"While monthly traffic death tolls this year are less than in the corresponding months of 1964, injuries and accidents continue to reach new highs," Childs emphasized.

Drivers should be extra vigilant in following safety rules. It's the surest way to continue the improved death record and gain a change for the better in the injury and accident trend.



Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Zick of Macon have two sons in military service. Sp/4 Richard Zick (left) has, for 18 months, been stationed with the Third Tank Division in Frankfurt, Germany. He works on fire control. His brother, Philip, is studying automobile mechanics in Fort Polk, La.

Entries for Hula Contest Sought by Hell Chamber

"A Bit of Heaven in Hell", will feature the Satans Holiday at Hell Saturday, June 26 in a Salute to the 49th State, Hawaii.

A Hula Contest and Hootenanny, along with the traditional Western Style Square Dance.

Members of the fair sex, 12 to 18, inclusive, are urged to send their entries for the Hula Contest at once to the Hell Chamber of Commerce at Hell, Mich.

The chamber is now sponsoring a contest for Hawaiians only, through The Honolulu Star Bulletin and receiving essays from the Islanders on "Why I Would Like to Go to Hell, (Michigan.)"

Strangely enough, many of them really want to go there.

You'll probably be on the road over Memorial Day. So here are some suggestions to make your trip more enjoyable.

These tips from the people at the GM Proving Grounds in Michigan and Arizona aren't an all-inclusive course in safe driving, but rather some extra guidelines. Insights that have been arrived at in over 300,000,000 miles of test driving.

First, have your car safety-checked. Make sure everything is working just right. If not, have it taken care of before you leave.

Next plan to stick to the freeways as much as possible. Even though those back road short cuts seem a good idea, you may find out a lot of other people had the same idea. Besides, our own testing on all kinds of roads proves today's modern highways—with limited access rights of way, generally easier curves and hills—are safer as well as faster.

Driving and scolding don't mix

If you have youngsters, decide in advance which of you is going to be the driver and which is going to be the disciplinarian. From driving with our families and from driving with test equipment, we know the value of letting the driver keep his full attention on the road. If that calls for rearranging your usual seating, do it. It can be worth it. And let the one who's not driving be the navigator, too.

Drive defensively

On the highways, keep in mind what you'd do if the "other guy" does something wrong. Use your turn signals. Watch for conditions at least a half mile or more ahead. (With practice, you can learn to "look through" the cars ahead of you.) Include your rearview mirror in the regular sweep of your eyes, and keep your eyes moving.

A special tip about passing: Before you pull out, look for some indication that the driver in front has seen your signal—like his slowing down or moving slightly to the right.

Use those seat belts

The first thing to do behind the wheel is buckle up those seat belts. As you drive, grip the rim of the steering wheel instead of the spokes. Many of our drivers vary the grip every so often, for less fatigue.

We tell our drivers who drive alone to keep the radio on—and switch stations now and then. A variety of programs will help you fight drowsiness. Take time off, too—at least once every two hours, and oftener at night.

Now about speed. You know that if you drive like there's no tomorrow, there very likely won't be. But beyond that, it's good to keep in mind what our test drivers keep in mind: Adjust your speed not only to the posted limit, but to road conditions, too. Cut it down if it's wet, if the highway is crowded, and at night.

The most important thing

But, remember, the single most important factor in driving safety is still the one that can't be built in any factory: the driver himself.

He can make all the difference in the world.

We hope these suggestions will help make your trip more pleasant. And your Memorial Day holiday the most enjoyable you've had in years.

Here and There

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Memorial Day this year will be particularly poignant, for American boys are again dying on foreign battlefields.

As the banners and the troops of wars past march down Tecumseh's Chicago Blvd. — and other main streets throughout the length of the land — there will be among the watchers a feeling of apprehension, a deeper regard for the flag and the men who have been willing to fight in its defense.

We will think of the "War to End War," of the "War To Make the World Safe for Democracy," and we will wonder if the longed-for peace is a dream that never will come true.

★

MEMORIAL — or Decoration — Day is said to have had its beginnings after the Civil War, when Southern women decorated the graves of fallen Union soldiers.

The custom spread and now is observed in practically all the states with some in the south, exceptions.

The thoughtful traveller, in the course of his journeys this summer, may want to take his children to one of the national cemeteries and battlefields.

Few persons could fail to be impressed by the many acres of graves, marked, in most cases, by simple headstones.

In the larger cemeteries, a stop at the office will provide information which will make the visit more satisfying.

★

BATTLEFIELD SITES often have visitors' centers. Examples are those at Gettysburg, Pa., at Yorktown, Va., where the "final" battle of the American Revolution was fought, and the site where Custer made his "last stand" at the Battle of Wounded Knee in Montana.

Here are dioramas of the battle, slide programs, exhibits. Brochures are distributed free of charge, guide service made available. Self-guided tours are outlined.

The American parent, puzzled about how to strengthen a feeling of patriotism in his children, will take advantage of his opportunities to do so as he travels beautiful America this summer.

MONUMENT TO LENAWEE HEROES — Some of the bravest soldiers of the Civil War fell in a wheat field at Gettysburg, Pa. July 2, 1863. Many were Lenawee County residents, who, on May 29, 1861, had been mustered into the 4th Michigan Infantry.

Glass blowing is an unusual and rare profession.

Ward Cornell, 210 N. Van Buren St., is one of four glass blowers presently working in a newly-incorporated business in Ann Arbor.

Dry-ice condensers, five-necked flasks, some with jackets, Allihn condensers and others that have little balls with points on them and are used by the food and drug people to test insecticides all are among the mass of blown glass done at Quality Glass Apparatus, Inc.

"Will one of you tell me where all this stuff is going," queried Gordon Parrington, who handles sales and delivery for the company as he wandered through the tables of expensive apparatus recently taken from the annealing oven.

Before his question was answered this writer captured Mr. Parrington, who became our enthusiastic guide on a tour of the shop.

The hiss of oxygen and propane gas jets is constant as the men quietly and efficiently blow glass into all sorts of intricate shapes for use in scientific apparatus.

Skillfully manipulating glass tubing or other stock items over the fires, each craftsman fashions a work of art to be used in some laboratory around the nation.

★

NOTHING HERE resembles the decorative pieces, often thought of when glass blowing is mentioned. No boats in bottles or swans for weather predictions, but rather most anything that a research director can dream up can be made from glass by these experts.

Customers are fussy, too, about just who does the costly work for them. Frequently a blower and his customer are so closely associated over a project that they become fast friends.

To make the needed equipment, a blower has to know almost as much as the scientist about his project.

In this manner, the glass blower stores away untold knowledge in many fields.

Mr. Parrington spoke respectfully of the workers as we toured the shop. "These men have the qualifications of a master's degree in a university."

Glass is of great importance for use as equipment in labs because it is completely inert and no chemical reaction takes place with the glass itself when an experiment is being conducted.

Also it is possible for the scientist to see exactly what is happening through glass walls of the flasks and condensers.

"To blow glass one must have creative instinct, he must be an artist and frequently the glass blower is temperamental," remarked Mr. Parrington.

"Blowers avoid repetition like the plague," continued our guide, "but when they are working on an item that is the first of its kind, then they are happy."

"Of 420 glass blowers in the United States there are only about 250 who are really capable of doing customized work like ours, making apparatus to specifications," he added.

★

COMPATABILITY is most necessary in the shop where these skilled men ply their trade.

Working with glass at high temperatures requires steady nerves, patience and extremely sure hands, as well as complete knowledge of the purpose for which the equipment will be used.

A blower works with many types of glass — there are more than 5000 in existence — and must learn to fuse such varieties as quartz, nonex, uranium and cobalt glasses to metals, etc.

Joel M. Babbitt, youthful vice president of Quality Glass Apparatus, Inc., remarked as we arrived at his bench, "We work with prima donnas of the research world." This broadens the mind of a glass blower. He never stops learning," said Mr. Babbitt.

"He must be able to work out unique problems for himself, be dextrous with his hands and have an eye for symmetry. A little artistic ability doesn't hurt," smiled the handsome young man as he placed some tubing over a flame and miraculously turned it into a mirror right before our eyes.

Joel is a 1957 graduate of Ann Arbor High School and Mr. Parrington said that he is one of the best in the field of glass blowing, having studied under a master blower at the University of Michigan, where great variety is demanded.

Some fields of research, such as space physics, work mainly in extremely high vacuums, some chemical engineers demand glass to metal seals on their equipment.

The two men incorporated the company in April of 1964. An instructor, Ted Brown, from Salem County Vocational Technical Institute, N.J., joined them in July and Ward Cornell, also a student of the New Jersey School, in August of last year.

In January of this year, Hershel G. Thomas, an extremely tall man from Sisterville, W.Va., came into the company, completing the staff of four blowers and Mr. Parrington, who holds a degree of engineering from the University of Michigan.

The Technical School aforementioned is the only one in the free world, according to Mr. Brown. There is another in Europe.

★

TED WORKED with DuPont, largest research laboratory in the world, for some 17 years brushing elbows with the men who perfected nylon, and others who have gained fame through their findings.

Though slight of figure, Mr. Brown has muscles in his shoulders, arms and wrists that are hard as steel.

Examination of the others proved that Ted and the "village smithy" had no corner on the "iron bands." Blowers have surprising strength in their arms. This is due to holding heavy tubing constantly in one position above the blue flame of a burner.

Pyrex tubing in four-foot lengths, from two millimeters to four inches in diameter, is used in the shop. Everything is measured by the metric system.

Contrary to the belief of many, the art doesn't take a lot of wind but, rather, positive pressure.

Articles made in the shop range in size from miniature or micro equipment to huge flasks as large as three feet across.

The micro equipment is used in trial processing to save on the cost of experimentation.

For instance the huge distillation towers at the Stauffer Division on Sutton Rd., were first made in miniature in a laboratory before being erected in all their immensity.

Mr. Thomas is an expert in chemistry and worked seven years with Dr. N. P. DeWitt, the research director at Stauffer.

Perfection is demanded in much of the blown glass.

★

AS MR. Parrington remarked, "When liquid worth $3,000 or $4,000 is placed in a tiny flask that will rest comfortably in the palm of your hand, it is absolutely necessary that not one drop be lost in distillation or any other way."

Tapered grinds are used in joining the equipment together to insure perfect fit of each one.

Finished pieces of the fragile apparatus must all be placed in an annealing oven and brought to a temperature of 1,050 degrees Farenheit, where the molecular strain is released as they cool.

This process helps to keep the equipment from breaking.

The fascination of working in this profession seems to be unending as each new day brings a new world of glass to conquer.

The Sun Is Wonderful — But Don't Get Too Much

Work or play in the sun can be healthful — we most always feel better for it. Vitamins from the sun's rays are beneficial, especially for children.

But those warm rays can be harmful too. Delicate skins require some protection, and burns require prompt medication. It is well to watch this carefully.

Witnesses Hear District Leader at 3-Day Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hinkle and family returned home after attending the three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Ypsilanti the past weekend. Some 1,000 persons heard J. W. Wilson, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, deliver the convention highlight lecture, "The Moral Breakdown, What Can Be Done About It?"

Mr. Wilson said, "'Moral breakdown' does not imply anarchy; it may co-exist with respected government.

"Behind the moral breakdown is a development characterized by rejection of Bible principles as a guide, and a refusal to acknowledge that God will ever take account or require a settlement.

"God's kingdom will end the breakdown by crushing out all immortality and persistent offenders, ushering in a never-ending new order free of corrupting influences," he added.

PYRAMID arrangements of white gladioli centered with pink gladioli and blue satin bows marked the entrance to the chancel which was outlined with a series of aisle posts holding arrangements of pink and white gladioli and garlanded with white satin roping.

A seven-branch circle candelabra holding blue candles and palm foliage stood at either side of the altar. Blue satin bows marked the family pews along the carpeted aisle.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown, an Angelo original, [illegible] organza and pearl embroidery fashioned on the princess line with round neck and long tapering sleeves. The skirt accented in back by a flowing chapel train, was topped at the waistline by a pert bow with wide streamers embroidered with pearls.

Their gowns and headpieces were identical to that of the matron of honor. All carried plateau baskets of delphinium blue arranged with peach colored glamellias and ivy cascades.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A fellow makes a lot of decisions in his life. Some turn out bum, others are delightful.

Twenty-five years ago a chap named Romain Healy of Detroit announced that he had selected his life work. He would join The Brothers of Holy Cross.

That obviously will go down as a perfect decision.

This was apparent Tuesday night when Brother Romain, a fixture at Boysville for the past 15 years, was the guest of honor at his 25th anniversary party in the school.

His 81-year-old mother, his brother and sister, assorted cousins and a raft of visiting [illegible] on hand, plus faculty and students of Boysville and friends from the surrounding area.

It was a grand tribute to a wonderful guy.

Brother Romain's duties in the Order have been varied and challenging.

He was stationed in Wisconsin, New York, Washington, D. C. and at the University of Notre Dame prior to being assigned to the Catholic boys boarding school in Macon.

As a faculty member at Boysville, besides teaching, he is a prefect, bookkeeper and as most folks off-campus know him, athletic director.

★

COACHES throughout the area greatly respect the always smiling brother.

A good-natured "feud" exists between Brother Romain and Sam Hamilton, the Hardwood Houdini at Britton. Sam, of course, was on hand for the party and took a lot of good-natured ribbing.

Brother Romain brought Boysville coach Pat Connors and his championship baseball team forward, and said a lot of nice things about them.

He confessed that with such a powerhouse, he and Pat were anxiously looking forward to the meeting with Britton. There were memories of Sam's hoopsters taking Brother's boys to the cleaners in past years.

"Then Sam never even showed up with the team," Brother Romain confided to the audience.

But his "boss," Brother Philip Armstrong, superior at Boysville, with his quick wit, helped Brother Romain gather a magnum of joy from the "feud," when he was handed the giant River Raisin League trophy.

Brother Philip told the audience he would read what had been engraved on it, listing the year and school, names of players, coach and athletic director. Then with a sly twinkle in his eyes, added, "And at the bottom, 'Sorry, Sam.' "

Although the party was slated as a Night for Brother Romain, he kept shifting the spotlight to "his boys."

★

He HEAPED praise upon Ron Klos, who was presented a trophy for being the most valuable player on the baseball team, after having won a similar honor in basketball.

Brother couldn't say enough nice things about Moe Jacobs, the school's best trackman—who is also captain-elect for both next year's football and basketball teams.

As guests studied the boys, it was apparent that they had not missed the most important point that Brother Romain stresses with his charges — above all, be a responsible Christian gentleman.

As always at such functions, there was one guy behind the scenes who helped to make the party a rouser. He's Arthur Gaul, chef at Boysville and a man who really knows his way around the kitchen.

Art prepared a gourmet meal that wouldn't quit.

And speaking of decisions, if they eat like that very often at Boysville, it would be wise to be around Art's dining hall at meal time more often.

Gloria Dei Church Confirmation Set for Next Sunday

Nine children will be confirmed during the 10:30 a.m. worship service, Pentecost Sunday, June 6 in the Gloria Dei Evangelical Church.

Coming to communion for the first time will be Stephen Chumney, Cynthia Durkee, Gary Fairbanks, Audrey Ferew, Vickie Pace, Janet Revesz, Georgianna and LaMar Rufner and Lorrie Spicer.

City Is Doubly Blessed

While other communities cite apathy and lack of interest in Memorial Day ceremonies, Tecumseh is doubly blessed.

Once again, residents witnessed and participated in an outstanding observance of the traditional holiday honoring American war dead.

In his speech at Brookside Cemetery, the Rev. Julian Gresham reminded his audience, "No nation or community should forget its history.

"No greater tribute can I bring to the graves of those who died then to stand and say, 'I remember what you have done. I will not forget it. I will go on remembering it and will try to support the principles and causes for which you gave your life,' " he concluded.

(Mr. Gresham's entire speech can be found printed on the first page of Section B.)

The Rev. Alvin Brazee offered the invocation and benediction.

As taps were played, VFW Auxiliary members placed wreaths at monuments and one was tossed into Evans Creek, while another was dropped from a light plane.

The Tecumseh High School band played two numbers as part of the service with Mayor Harold Easton serving as master of ceremonies.

Crowds lined the route of march for the annual parade, which stepped out promptly at 10 a.m., following a brief ceremony on the city hall lawn with a rifle salute and the placing of a wreath at the veterans monument.

Among the 36 units taking part were the THS band, cadet band and junior high unit, National Guard unit, VFW and American Legion color guards, Scouts, decorated bicycles, Aowakiyas baton twirlers, Knights Templar marching unit, cars honoring veterans of all wars.

Don Woods was parade marshal.

Following the festivities, 100 geraniums were planted by Girl Scouts near the cemetery's entrance. They were purchased by the city.

Dolls Are Dressed in Oriental Costumes

A charming Japanese atmosphere prevailed May 25 for the annual mother and daughter banquet at the First Baptist Church.

There were 204 women and girls who heard Mrs. David Simpson, a native of Japan, tell of life there.

Tall dolls, exquisitely dressed in authentic Japanese costumes by Mrs. Simpson, centered the tables.

Colorful fans, miniature umbrellas, chop sticks and fortune cookies added to the decor.

Mrs. Katharine Hunt played dinner music on the Kimball organ furnished by Flanders Music Co.

Mrs. Orville Bishop, mistress of ceremonies, presented Mrs. Blair Bashore who gave the invocation.

Mrs. Thomas Brooks led group singing and her daughter, Pamella, accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Thomas Gallant Jr., welcomed the daughters and her daughter, Beth, responded.

MRS. EDDIE Kirkland presented floral arrangements to Mrs. Jay Morse, 96, the oldest daughter; to Margaret Ann Withrow, youngest daughter of Mrs.

Little Damage in Area Fires

Firemen responded to three calls within the last week.

They found no fire when a false alarm called them to the Bruce Foundry Co. plant May 27.

A blaze caused when grease caught fire on a gas stove did little damage Tuesday in a house occupied by H. Witt at 416 E. Logan St.

A defective oil water heater caused smoke damage Sunday in the house owned by Robert Heavener at 1101 Russell Rd.

Society Schedules June 9 Potluck

The St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Murray on Green Hwy., for a potluck picnic at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday.

Weekend "Rock Swap" Scheduled

The State Line Gem and Mineral Society will hold a two-day rock swap at Frontier City Saturday and Sunday.

Rockhounds are expected from throughout the midwest, Frank Lasky, society member, said.

Lightning can strike twice in the same place and if you don't believe this ask Pauline Torres, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claudio Torres, 4987 Pocklington Rd. A year ago, Pauline won a bicycle at the Jaycee Carnival on Kids Day. Last Saturday, her ticket was drawn once more and she won another. The other winner this year was Kathy Creswell, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Creswell.

Holdens Home

Pony Express Carries Mail for Dystrophy

The hopes of muscular dystrophy victims will be riding June 12 with the Pony Express.

For on that day 238 horses and their riders, members of the Michigan State Sheriff's Posse Association, will be carrying the mail on M-50 to promote a drive for funds to fight the dread disease.

It is expected the "express rider" will reach Evans and Chicago Blvd. about 9 a.m.

The "express," the third annual such event for the posse, will begin at 6 a.m. at Monroe and at New Buffalo with each rider traversing a mile. The "route" will end at Coldwater in mid-afternoon when riders meet and where a big parade, an ox roast and a dance will conclude festivities.

★

INTERESTED persons should send contributions and self-addressed envelopes to MDAA Post Office Box 2425, Grand Rapids, Mich., by June 8, Sgt. Wilbur Vogel, of the Lenawee County Sheriff Dept. said. Sgt. Vogel is a captain in the Association and in charge of the eastern end of the trek.

"Acknowledgement of the contribution will be placed within the envelope and it will be given a special "Pony Express" cancellation," Sgt. Vogel said. "Such a cancellation is a real collector's item," he pointed out.

Lenawee County Sheriff Posse members who will take part in the ride are: Capt. Vogel and Jack Lennard of Adrian, Edwin Randolph and Tim Neil of Tecumseh, 1st Lt. Robert Torrey and Albert Lemley of Riga, 2nd. Lt. Carrol Woodby, Lyle Pifer and William Brighton of Clayton, James Rice of Hudson, Jerry Lee of Addison, John Pieh of Deerfield, Ronald Brazee of Seneca, Roscoe Wilson of Sand Creek and Allan Reister of Onsted.

★

ALL WILL RIDE their own horses. They will take up the ride at the Lenawee County Line Rd. and end the run at Billington's Corners west of Tecumseh, where the Jackson County Sheriff's Posse will take over.

A second "hitch" will be from the Hastings Lake Rd. about five miles west of Bundy Hill to the Hillsdale - Branch County Line Rd.

Six minutes has been allotted each rider to complete his course and transfer the pouch to the next horseman.

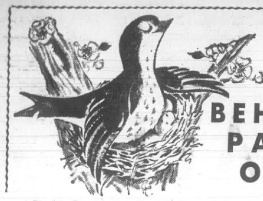
2nd Practice Alert To Be Two Minutes

Tecumseh's second practice tornado alert will be Thursday evening at 6 p.m., announces Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge.

It will be increased to a two-minute steady blast on the fire siren.

Adrian Radio WABJ will announce during its six o'clock news program an end to the Tecumseh practice.

Chief MacGeorge adds that some residents report not having flyers, regarding tornado emergencies, delivered to their homes. He said they may pick up copies either at the fire or police stations.



BEHIND PAGE ONE

Budd Co. is the fourth largest buyer of steel in the U. S. A. General Motors, Ford and Chrysler are the firms ranking ahead of Budd, which will be building disc brakes at its plant in Clinton. Incidentally, the firm will be paying $500,000 in payroll each year.

Kind enough to let us know that the preferred spelling of "alert" is with an "a", not an "e", was Mrs. Bill Clausen. She and several other residents noted the "elert" on tornado practice blast flyers printed by The Herald.

Shawnee Squares paused long enough in their dancing to buy six large, Formica-topped tables for the Community Center, also a rack in which to store them.

If one of Mrs. John Pobuda's fellow teachers in the Tecumseh System hits her with a two-by-four we'll understand. Gerry has been regaling them with a story of how nervous and wrought up she has been the past few months making her absent-minded to the point of walking off with a catsup container from Pearl's Restaurant one noon. Then Gerry extracts a jug from her purse, exclaiming "See it's still full." She gives a mighty squeeze and a stream of red shoots over the listener. Turns out, it's a gimmick container filled with scarlet yarn.

"They (surgeons) most likely covered the remainder of the blood vessel walls, where they were thin, with silicon or a similar plastic material," wrote Charles Marwick of The Detroit News in telling about delicate brain surgery performed on actress Patricia Neal following her near-fatal stroke. The key word is silicon, which is the substance to be manufactured by Stauffer Chemical Co. at its Sutton Rd. Complex.

Got any fish cornered? If so, keep Dr. Harold Ocamb posted. The medico will be loafing and fishing until July, due to a recent illness. Look out, blue gills.

For Me... and Only Me, the Bed Was Spread out last week regarding Safety-Check festivities was Tecumseh Greenhouses Floral Shop. Corsages for the queen candidates were beautifully fashioned by Mrs. Ollie Musch.

Odd bits of news and humor are always welcome for this column, which, incidentally, is one of The Herald's best-read features. Call 423-2174 or drop into the office and say, "Here's one for Behind Page One."

Golfer Bob Dickinson slammed out a cool 78 in weather to match during the Country Club tournament two Sundays ago, Bob Hoekstra an 80 and Pete Easter an 81 — then didn't even have it noted in the write-up. 'Twas our fault. The scorer had included it with tourney data.

Skywatchers will be treated to a partial eclipse of the moon beginning at 7:59 p.m. June 13. Just a few minutes before the moon appears over the horizon it will hit the earth's shadow. By 9:40 p.m. it will have freed itself and be riding big and bright.

Local public schools of Michigan get the lion's share of tax monies the Citizens Research Council of Michigan has revealed. In 1963, more than 30 per cent of the combined expenditures of the state and all its local units were used for the education of children. On a per pupil basis, total expenditures increased from $497 to $597. Total expenditures for schools including capital outlay and debt service increased from $688 million in 1956 to an estimated $1.1 billion in 1965.

An inspiring part of Sunday's memorial service at Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church was a special hymn sung by Mrs. Frank McRae.

Production of the musical, "South Pacific," on the Eastern Michigan campus created an inspiring evening for theater goers recently. Tecumseh's own Terrie McEnroe was understudy for the lead role and also held another part in the musical.

Would that our Tecumseh Players might tackle that one for their musical in this coming season.

It's hard to beat music like "Some Enchanted Evening" and "Happy Talk," to mention but two of the famed show's numbers.

A release this week from the Gamma Sigma Chapter of Delta Zeta National Sorority gives us the latest on Terrie's activity, too. They proudly announce her initiation to the Chapter.

Miss McEnroe is a sophomore at EMU, majoring in dramatic arts and English literature.

Two Churches Will Merge

BRITTON — The Ridgeway and Britton Methodist Churches have voted to merge.

The action was taken at an all-church conference Monday night in the Ridgeway church with all members 18 years old and over eligible to vote.

The meeting was conducted by Dr. Joseph T. Edwards, Ann Arbon District superintendent, with Dr. Jesse DeWitt, executive secretary of the Detroit Conference Board of Missions and Church Extension, also in attendance.

The merger, which was decisively accepted, went into immediate effect.

A name will be selected and made official after its approval by the Detroit Conference Cabinet. The new congregation will meet in the Ridgeway church until new facilities are secured, the Rev. Robert A. Mitchinson, pastor of the [illegible] will.

★

A UNITING SERVICE, at which time membership rolls will be made out, will be held in the near future. Until that time each congregation will hold its Sunday morning worship services in its own church.

At Monday night's meeting trustees were elected for the merged church with other officers and committees to be elected in the near future.

The two churches, one and seven-tenths miles apart, have congregations of about equal size. Combined they will number about 260 members.

"This step forward is significant and is an indication of the dedication and devotion on the part of the members of the church to the Christian cause," the Rev. Mitchinson said.

"The majority of the members have felt the need to unite because they want to serve the community better. It is true that to do this many sacrifices are being made because of old ties and deep feelings which reach back over the years. It is hoped that the Christian spirit will overcome."

The pastor has served the Ridgeway church eight years and the Britton church two years.

SELECT HARDWOOD FOR SLATTED FLOORS if you choose to use wood. Both Douglas fir and hickory were tested at Illinois. For farrowing stalls both woods worked equally well, but hickory proved best for pigs 70 pounds and over. Pigs in the 70-pound group chewed Douglas fir too readily. Scientists found slats spaced 1-inch apart were best for both farrowing and growing-finishing units. Slats spaced ½-inch apart did not clean easily and new-born pigs caught their feet in slats spaced ¾-inch apart.

PREVENT RANCID MILK [illegible] Avoid excessive agitation, start refrigeration 30 minutes after milking starts, check thermometer accuracy and adjust thermostat to hold average storage temperature at 45°F. Don't switch on refrigeration early thinking you will speed cooling. First milk poured in tank can freeze which triggers the rancid flavor.

PULLEY SIZE to get the desired speed or RPM's on driven equipment can be figured simply. First, read motor speed from nameplate. Multiply motor's pulley diameter by [illegible] motor speed. Then divide the answer by the desired RPM's of the driven equipment for the pulley diameter. On motors smaller than ½ hp, a 2-inch pulley is minimum; larger motors, 3 inches is minimum to avoid excessive slippage.

HARVEST SORGHUM-SUDAN hybrids for silage before the seed shatters. Seeds may grow the following year and be a weed in a succeeding corn or soybean crop. To get desired moisture without advanced maturity, consider cutting earlier and wilting before putting in the silo.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

Combine sharp hitting by Sophomores Andre Brown, Don Chalmers and John Yankoski and pitching by veteran Ron Klos, with a sure performance by both infield and outfield, and what do you have?

The River Raisin League Baseball Championship, of course.

Led by the pitching of Senior Ron Klos and the bats of the aforementioned Sophomores, Boysville's Fighting Knights boast of 7-0 undefeated league season, as they held league opposition to only seven runs while they themselves scored 47.

As far as individual performance goes, Sophomores Don Chalmers (.342), Andre Brown (.337), and John Yankoski (.324), paced the Boysville hitting attack.

Klos has a 9-1 record overall. In the league he has allowed 13 hits, struck out 64 and walked nine. Junior Norris McFarland boasts a 3-0 record. He allowed six hits, struck out 10 and walked eight.

The 1964-65 season for Boysville's Drum and Bugle Corps was brought to a conclusion Monday as the Corps marched in its last parade at Royal Oak in the annual Memorial Day Parade.

Moe Jacobs still continues to spark the Boysville athletic program. In the recently held Adrian Telegram Individual Invitational Track Meet, Moe came through with three firsts. He came within a tenth of a second of tying the 100-yard dash mark, which he won in a time of 10.2.

Moe also placed first in the broad jump and in the 220-yard dash with an outstanding time of 22.2.

A banquet honoring Brother Romain Healy, CSC, was held in the Boysville Dining Hall on Tuesday. Brother recently celebrated his 25th anniversary as a member of the Congregation of Holy Cross.

Since 1950, Brother has rendered his untiring services as steward, prefect, teacher and Athletic Director at Boysville. For this we are indebted to him.

Another school year at Boysville is fast drawing to a close. The fourth quarter has already come to a climax. Students now spend their class periods and leisure time absorbed in review and study for final exams to be held on the week following.

For the seniors however, this is all a part of the past. Their final exams were held during the week and commencement exercises are to be held on Sunday.

Graduation ceremonies will begin with a Baccalaureate Mass in the morning. Following breakfast an Honor Assembly will be held in the gym. At 2:45 the presentation of the Senior Class Gift will take place in the school. Then at 3 p.m., Ron Klos will deliver the Valedictory Address entitled, "Age of Independence" at the steps of the Chapel.

Following will be speeches by faculty members and the guest speaker. Presentation of the diplomas will then take place. Following will be the blessing of the new school flag.

Weakley, Furry Combo Leading Golf Competitors

There were no low scores shot in the Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf League last Wednesday night, but this is understandable since there were tornado warnings up and the rain was coming down in gobs.

The golf course looked like a rice paddy field and my shoes were so full of water that my feet were floating.

Hal Weakley and Buck Furry did their best to ignore the hazards and soundly trounced their opponents to take over sole ownership of first place.

—CHUCK ALLEN.

Building an Image

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Van Valkenburg was the meeting place for the May 21 meeting of the Jolly Farmers Farm Bureau Group.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Seizert attended as guests. The April meeting was not held due to added work resulting from the tornado.

Mr. Van Valkenburg presided and led the group in the pledge to the Flag. A man from Pakistan is going to be in Lenawee county for a week in July. The Farm Bureau is seeking a family for him to stay with for this week.

H. B. Willmott led the group in the discussion topic of "Building a Positive Farmer Image."

He pointed out that the Michigan uniform meat inspection bill that the Farm Bureau favored was passed. Some points made during the discussion were that members:

► Need to ob eorganized at the local level-ready to act immediately.

► Occssionally invite a city family to meetings.

► Accept public office and community responsibility, in schools, etc.

► Report meetings to local paper.

► Be considerate when driving on roads with machinery. Get off on berm whenever possible and let cars pass.

► Provide tours of farms for city people with possibly a noon barbecue.

► Remember today's farmer is no longer the country "bumpkin" of years past.

Members voted to send a contribution to Larry Gould, an IFYE Student.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Willmott will be hosts for the June meeting.

Ice cream and cookies were served by the hostess.

Each Living Moment Was Paid for in Past

Editor's note — This was the talk given by the Rev. Julian Gresham, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, during Monday's service at Brookside Cemetery.

A Memorial Day observance is a vital part of the life of a nation and a community, for no nation or community should forget its history. Every living moment has been paid for in the past.

Paid for with sorrow, service and sacrifice; the tears of its mothers, the services of its loved ones and the sacrifices of its sons.

We do well to consider the cost of this moment and the price of our existence.

We do well to pause periodically and remember for memory is one of the finest tributes that an individual or group can pay to the past.

For memory by its power to restore experience, to select from experience the saving item, and to use experience for a nobler way of life, is both a tribute to the past and a door of hope to the future.

We do well, therefore, to remember the experiences of our nation and community, a nation that was born and nurtured by the blood of its fathers, protected and shaped by the sacrifices of its sons in order that its members might live in community in freedom and hope.

★

EVERY COMMUNITY has its row on row of white crosses and uniform headstones.

They are a continual testimoy to that community's gift to freedom — and future.

The one who left from next door to return in a flag-draped casket.

The son who supported with his life the concepts of his fathers.

The members of a community and culture that have made alive its words with deeds.

The young men who went forth to meet him who was called the enemy.

Whether they fought from behind the trees and stone walls of New England;

Whether they fought in the woods and from behind the mounds of dirt in Shiloh, Tenn.;

Whether they fought in the mud of Flanders;

Whether they fought on the barren ashes of Iwo Jima;

And whether they fought in the jungles and foliage of Viet Nam:

The crosses in each community's cemetery say, "This is our gift to freedom and the future." They continue to say, "There is no life nor freedom without sacrifice and death."

If you are willing to be free without, you must go to distant points and do battle with strangers.

If you are to be free within, you must go to other parts of your country and do battle with your fellow countryman.

THUS THE MOMENT in which we live has its price and in reflection, we do well to remember that price.

For unlike some things which are paid for but once, the causes for which these dead have given their lives seem unsatisfied with just one payment.

The causes of freedom seem insatiable at times, for every generation seems called upon to make payment.

Whether it is a Colin Kelly in the Pacific or a Rev. Reed in Selma, the price remains the same.

Every generation, therefore, needs to remember what has brought it to this moment.

For everytime danger threatens there are some in that generation that would say, "Let us stay home and mind our business. This has nothing to do with us."

Every generation needs to be reminded that the crosses and headstones of its community represent those who turned not away from danger, but went out to meet it. Went forth, not without fear, but went forth nevertheless, for the price of staying home was too high.

★

WHY ARE there thousands in Viet Nam? Why were there hundreds in Selma? The answer is the same in both cases. That people may be free.

Time has not diminished slavery, only given it different forms.

Distance does not diminish danger. On the contrary, each new day is diminishing distance as a barrier to danger.

What would have happened if these persons beneath these crosses had stayed home? If they had said, "This is none of my business."

If they had said, "This has nothing to do with us."

What would happen? The same thing that happened in New York and Philadelphia while the crowd stood by and said this is not my business while a woman was murdered and a detective was beaten.

What would have happened? We would have row on row of crosses representing the victims instead of the defenders.

★

BUT THESE beneath the crosses and headstones did not say, "This is not mine."

They did not say, "This is none of my business."

They did not go back to the comfort of their job and the security of their community.

They went from their job. They went from their community. And they gave of themselves as participants instead of standing by as spectators.

Every generation must learn from the crosses and headstones of its cemetery the lesson of involvement. The need for participation. The sin of being a spectator in times of jeopardy for my neighbor. The sin of watching from the foot of the cross, my bedroom window, my living room chair.

Whether on the streets of New York, in the stores of Philadelphia, on the highways of Alabama, the crosses say, "I cannot turn my back on the needs of my neighbor. I cannot ignore the principles that are involved or the price thereof. I cannot withdraw from commitment to the causes for which my community and [illegible] stood."

★

AND SO IT is well that a nation and a community remembers.

Remembers that beneath each cross and headstone is a person who gave his life that I might have life.

No greater tribute can I bring to the graves of those who died than to stand beside them and say, "I remember what you have done. I will not forget it. I will go on remembering it and will try to support the principles and causes for which you gave your life."

My tribute to the dead: My gift to the future. I will remember, and live in the light of that remembrance.

Officers Installed

MACON — Mrs. Ray Williams opened the general meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service by reading from the "Methodist Woman," and everyone repeated the Lord's Prayer.

It was announced there would be a planning meeting for migrant work. Mrs. Williams planned to attend.

The Mary Martha Circle will have charge of the Nursery Sunday mornings during June.

There was discussion about the Silver Anniversary Tea to be sponsored by the Society at 2 p.m. June 17. Mrs. Williams gave an interesting account of the Detroit Conference meeting, that she and Mrs. Carl Hawkins had attended in Ann Arbor recently.

Mrs. Ronald Corl gave the devotions in the absence of Mrs. Walter Sally and spoke on the purpose of the Society.

Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore, vice-president of Ann Arbor District Woman's Society of Christian Service, instaiied the officers of Mac on Society. She used the theme "Let My Light Shine".

As each officer approached the altar she lit a blue or gold candle from the president's candle and told what her duties would be for the coming year. As she placed her candle in a gold candle holder, she quoted a Bible verse having to do with light.

Mrs. Moore challenged the women to search for their true roles in the WSCS and to dedicate themselves to their tasks.

Mrs. Carl Hawkins presented Mrs. Williams with her past president's pin. Mrs. Guy Zeluff gave her an orchid corsage from her officers. Mrs. Williams, in turn, presented Mrs. Moore with a corsage from the Society.

The entire group sang "How Great Thou Art" accompanied by Mrs. Williams. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table centered with a large bowl of iris.

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Over the weekend I did a bit of housecleaning and while going through my files I came across a copy of some correspondence I'd had years ago with the editor of a daily newspaper.

It dealt with a picture story I had sold him a week or so earlier and I was so amused as I re-read it that I thought perhaps the readers of The Tecumseh Herald might enjoy it also. It goes like this:

"The story of my taking the picture of the crooked tree is more interesting than the story of the tree.

"You know I have a little deaf son. As a rule my [illegible] for him in the late afternoon while I take pictures, etc.

"However, this tree was cut down at one o'clock and of course I had to take John along. We arrived early — but these eager beavers were already putting the chain around the tree.

"THERE WAS no time to cross the street and use a church for a background and I had to guess at the light.

"All my attempts at focusing were stymied by Johnny who insisted on [illegible] face in front of the lens or snapping down the cover of the camera.

"Every time I let go of his hand he'd start to run down the street.

"The cop was holding up traffic and waiting for me to say I was ready. Finally a foreman of the labor crew sent over a man to hang onto Johnny. I got my camera all set and the composition perfect. The bulldozer tightened the chain and everything seemed fine.

"Just as the tree started to fall the dumb cop walked into the picture and followed that crook right along. There was nothing I could do but snap anyway.

"Well, when the tree was on the ground—the laborer who apparently hadn't heard a word I said about hanging on to John—let go of his hand. He ran into the gutter and fell flat in the mud.

*

"I TOOK him over to the gas station and washed his hands, meanwhile trying to hold him up and pull the roller towel down. It was something of a problem for I was loaded down with two cameras and a purse.

"Just as I reached his hand up he snatched his stocking cap off and threw it into the toilet.

"I'm glad that darn story is behind me."

FAMED TREE — They have cut down the old crooked tree at Milan, and there was a great deal of headshaking among the old folks and a general feeling that somehow a [illegible] should be found to preserve it. Historians say the tree was once one of a series bent by Indians to mark turns in the trail — a trail which old US-23 later followed for hundreds of miles. This is the way the tree appeared before it was cut down.

What! No Lapidary?

"Have you ever wished you could decorate a pretty cake; make a breathtaking flower arranement; or be able to wear shell jewelry which you created? Would you like to show off your ceramics, or have a guest sit down on your needlework chairs?"

Those are questions asked by Mrs. Donald Stoner, publicity chairman of the Jaycee Auxiliary which is sponsoring a Hobby Day Show from 9 a.m. to noon, June 19, in the Tecumseh Community Center.

Each demonstrator will conduct two classes. There will be a donation of 25c at the door.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

HAPPY HOLIDAYS, 1965 STYLE

As explained the last time we met, May was vacation month for the Duncans this year. Bright and early on a beautiful morning, we took one last look to see if anything had been forgotten, seat belted ourselves into the station wagon and were off.

As in the past, Ida and the Marshes waved goodbye and as usual, they bon-voyaged us into a marvelous time — the best vacation ever.

Our goals were four National Parks in the great Southwest. They turned out to be everything we expected and more. But, let's start at the beginning.

As we left Tecumseh, our town was all gussied up in the first of her many springtime outfits. Tiny green leaves were beginning to appear in the tops of the maple and elm trees, forsythia bushes were great mounds of yellow gold and many early tulips were in full bloom.

Above all of this a gorgeous blue sky and bright warm sunshine, what more could anyone ask of a vacation starting day.

★

AS WE journeyed south and west we drove into Spring. In two days we jumped almost four weeks — it was like watching a time sequence movie of a whole season.

Iris, peonies, spirea, all of Spring's goodies were on display. Through Southern Illinois and into Missouri's Ozarks the special prizes were the wooded areas.

Wild flowers covered the ground, while above, the dogwood and the redbud trees were at their breath-taking best. Oh, is there any season nicer than Spring?

At Chenoa, Ill. we hit Route 66. Remember Nat King Cole's old record — well, the road does all the song promises. It took us across Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and part of Arizona.

We left it at Flagstaff, Ariz., but of course, there was much good looking before that.

Oklahoma and Texas were new states for the Duncans. Although both were interesting, bird-wise Oklahoma provided the biggest thrill. We were disappointed in her oil fields, actually Kansas showed us many, many more wells. However, for a state bird, Oklahoma's scissor tail is hard to beat. (Until Michigan adopts its own Kirtland warbler, that is.)

Handsome birds with extremely long and deeply forked tails, these flycatchers were everywhere. So intrigued were we with the black and white "scissors" that the rest of the bird was hardly noticed. A shame, too, because they are pretty — gray bodies, black wins and tints of pink under the wings.

ONCE INTO the high plateau and desert country the mad love affair, which began several vacations ago, between Marda and the desert blossomed anew.

It is not the sand dune Sahara Desert of the movies — it is a rugged, arid land full of bluish gray sagebrush and prickly cactus, flat top mesas and miles of weirdly eroded cliffs.

Often it is open range with no fences to confine cattle, horses or sheep. Although we did not see the desert at the peak of its flowering season, there were a few yellow and red cactus blossoms and great masses of yellow, blue and pink flowers.

We had to by-pass a day of rambling through little towns, north of Albuquerque, where there are many old missions to explore, but a short visit to the Indian settlement of New Laguna was most interesting.

Adobe houses, round, out-door ovens and the shy people themselves with such big smiles and white flashing teeth are our memories. Their small church was tremendously impressive — dazzling white, typically Spanish in structure, it has been in use since the early 1600, so a kindly nun explained to Mother. Just imagine.

Next week we shall be off to the Painted Desert, the Petrified Forest, the Grand Canyon and who knows where else.

WELL, HOW ABOUT IT? The Chamber of Commerce wants folks to try Tecumseh first and members are telling the world about it with a sign, which recently was painted on the south end of town, along Adrian St. With Tecumseh merchants helping to support schools, city and civic projects, the Chamber suggests you try the local folks first in your buying.

By Voting, Citizens Show Interest in Their Schools

CLINTON — An informative quiz, "Developing Human Resources," was presented by Mrs. James Heimerdinger at the May 27 meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ.

It concluded that citizens need to become more informed about the needs of educational systems in the county to be sure they are providing adequate vocational training.

One way citizens can demonstrate an active interest in schools is by voting in the June 14 school election.

Mrs. Robert Vogel and Mrs. Robert Wojtowicz arranged the devotional service.

Mrs. Harold Calhoun conducted the business meeting during which members voted to purchase stainless tableware for 144 places, for the church.

They're giving the church's old tableware, 140 place settings and a quantity of tablespoons which will permit dinners of over 400, to the school.

It was voted to give $50 to the Youth Camp Fund and to pay one-half the cost of sending two delegates to Women's Fellowship camp, June 20-26, at Pilgrim Haven Camp near South Haven.

Mrs. Paul McKenna will attend as a delegate if another woman can go with her.

Mrs. Calhoun, the retiring president, gave a rose to each of her officers.

President — Mrs. Robert King
Vice-president — Mrs. William Shelley

Partially-Treated Sewage Flows into River

By JIM LINCOLN

Approximately 200,000 gallons of partially treated sewage flowed through the Tecumseh disposal plant into River Raisin Friday.

Local officials were unable to stem the flow after lightning struck a transformer outside the plant and cut off power to four wet well pumps in the plant's basement.

Earl Bealey, parttime employee, discovered the power failure Friday morning.

With the pumps shut down, sewage had backed up through the plant's wet well and out a manhole, filling the basement to a depth of eight feet.

Besides these four pumps, there were three other large electric motors, three small motors, electric panels and a furnace flooded and under water.

★

RAW SEWAGE enters the plant and is normally processed through a primary stage — settling tanks — then through the trickling filter bed of rocks, from which it flows to the wet well, pumped into the secondary stage — more settling tanks — and then released into the river.

Friday, from about 1:05 to 10 p.m., sewage was treated only throuh the primary and filter stages. The large filter bed, completely surrounded by a large concrete circle wall, was floaded and overflowed during the shutdown.

★

CAL ZORN, city manager, says damages will amount to about $1,000, with insurance covering most or all of the claim. One of the large motors had to be rewound.

One of the local fire engines was used to pump out the basement. It was emptied by late Friday afternoon.

Mopping up in the basement was still underway as of Tuesday.

County health authorities were notified of the situation, and although the city is prohibited from sending such sewage into the river, local officials had no other alternative.

Several communities downstream use River Raisin for their water supply.

Tecumseh's new sewage plant will have necessary equipment and facilities to handle such emergencies in the future, and thereby curb the flow of partially treated sewage into the river.

★

PLANS FOR the new plant have yet to be approved by the state, but construction is expected to start this fall with completion scheduled for next year.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

While the average guy spends his two-week vacation relaxing at a cottage or junketing to the World's Fair, Tecumseh architect Jim Smith has a different slant.

Jim has been "vacationing" in South Cerney, England since May 28, which happened to be the opening day of the International Soaring Championship.

The meet concludes June 13 and Jim will jet back home and is expected to be at his desk in the middle of next week.

In the Internationals, Jim is No. 2 man on the United States team, one of 30 from nations all over the world taking part.

According to Reuters News Service, via the Blade in Toledo, Jim hasn't been burning up the meet, but you can bet he's still enjoying the vacation.

Who wouldn't, in a sleek all-aluminum sail plane, which weighs 700 pounds and has a wingspan of 50 feet?

Prior to leaving, at a test hop over Meyers Airport, Jim said he rated the new sail plane as 100% more efficient than the ship in which he won the USA soaring championship in 1962 and finished third last summer.

Jim's teammates in the International are Dick Johnson of Dallas, Rich Schreder of Bryon, Ohio, and Wally Scott of Odessa, Texas.

At last report, Wally was ranked sixth among the 45 pilots, thanks mainly to his "free distance" flight, which carried him 205 miles.

★

BOTH JIM and Mr. Schreder have signed up to compete in the coming National Soaring Championships, which will be run from the Adrian Airport, June 28 to July 9.

They're among 65 who have entered the meet. Twelve are from California, the largest delegation under state categories. Foreign entries already have been received from England, Germany and Switzerland.

Jim got into the "silent" sport in 1957. His all-time record soar stretched 420 miles. The world mark is 647 miles and was flown by Alvin Parker of Odessa, Texas.

He explains that a sail plane will glide about 40 miles for every mile of altitude it attained.

It takes a real touch to get the sleek beauties high into sky — riding the thermos up and up.

And, incidentally, the ship is not referred to among the faithful as a glider. That's the kind which is towed by a plane, then released to float earthward.

The sail plane is towed by a ground vehicle to start, then gains altitude by following the warm currents.

A lot of folks will probably become experts in the sport after taking in the Nationals at Adrian.

It stacks up as a lot of fun — and Tecumseh could well claim the 1965 USA champion.

SOON TO FLY HERE — Jim Smith (right), Tecumseh architect, will have his sleek, all-aluminum sail plane over Lenawee County in late June as the Nationals are run from Adrian Airport. With him is Leonard Niemi of Greenville, S. C., who designed the ship, which was built by Arlington Aircraft of that South Carolina city. See Long & Short column for more about Mr. Smith.

Saturday Deadline for Reservations for Alumni Party

Jerry Barton said that reservations must be made by Saturday, June 12, for the Tecumseh High School Alumni Banquet. The event will be held June 19 at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall.

Tickets may be purchased at Lawson TV Sales for $2.50 per person until June 12. They will not be sold at the door.

A coffee hour will be at 6 p.m., roast beef dinner at 7 and dancing to the music of the "Lamplighters" from 8:30 until 12:30 a.m.

Two-Minute Siren Blast 'For Real'

That was no practice Tuesday night.

When the city's fire siren let go for a steady two-minute blast about 7 p.m., residents realized it was time to take shelter from a possible tornado.

According to the city's warning plan, the siren blows only if a funnel has been sighted. One was spotted at 6:45 near the intersection of Rts. 127 and 223, southwest of Adrian.

Ominous clouds swept over the city for nearly one hour as residents were told continually by WABJ announcements to take precautions.

The radio station sounded an all-clear at 8:10 p.m.

It was the first time the city's new warning system was used.

★

TUESDAY'S alert made apparent the necessity of setting up a new policy in regard to recreation activities.

Don Moffatt, superintendent of Parks and Recreation, said Wednesday morning that the two-minute blast will signal immediate cessation of all activity in the recreation areas.

Both adults and children are asked to leave immediately for their homes.

Car Wash Is Set

Tecumseh High School cheerleaders are having a car wash from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 12 at the rear of Easton's Friendly Service.

Proceeds will be used to send cheerleaders to camp at Walden Lake, June 16-19. Fee for the wash will be $1.50 for all cars.

Banker To Attend Session at Rutgers

Mrs. Robert Bowers, assistant vice-president of the United Savings Bank, will enter the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University with the annual summer session, June 14 through 25.

Rutgers is located in New Brunswick, N. J.

Mrs. Bowers is one of 1,142 bankers who will attend the school, which is sponsored by the American Bankers Association.

The student body represents 46 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

★

THE STONIER Graduate School was founded in 1935 to provide an opportunity to experienced bankers for advanced study in banking and related subjects.

The faculty for the 1965 session numbers approximately 100 leading bankers, lawyers, educators and government representatives.

During the two-week session, they will cover all phases of banking, economics, law, government and related fields.

Until last year, the Stonier School of Banking had an all-male student body. In 1964, a new set of admission requirements were adopted and Stonier accepted its first 24 women students.

In the 1965 class, Mrs. Bowers is one of six women bankers who have passed the admission requirements.

★

TO QUALIFY for graduation, Mrs. Bowers must attend similar summer sessions again in 1966 and 1967.

In addition, she must complete two years of extension work at home and will be required to write a thesis based upon original research in some phase of finance.

MRS. ROBERT BOWERS

Mrs. Bowers has been on the staff at United Savings Bank for 12 years and was appointed assistant cashier in January 1964, then an assistant vice-president last January.

She resides at 603 Red Mill Dr. with her husband, Dr. Robert J. Bowers.

School Board Has Two Races

The election of two members to the Tecumseh Board of Education is actually two separate races.

Two candidates — Dr. Fred Freeman, who currently serves on the board, and Jerry Barton —will vie for a four-year term.

The other three candidates — Gibbs Barber, Jan Baxter and Mrs. Donald Cobb — oppose one another for the two-year term.

Following are biographical sketches of all five candidates:

FOUR-YEAR TERM

► Dr. Fred Freeman, 40, was born in Logan, Ohio. He is a World War II veteran, has lived in Michigan for 15 years and in the Tecumseh School District for 10 years.

He attended Ohio University in Athens, and received a doctor's degree in forestry and philosophy at Michigan State University.

He is director of Hidden Lake Gardens near Tipton and holds the position of assistant professor of Horticulture at MSU.

Dr. and Mrs. Freeman have three children in the Tecumseh Public Schools, Fred, 17, Cynthia, 11 and Carol Sue, 9. Mrs. Freeman teaches kindergarten at Herrick Park School.

He was appointed last fall to fill the vacancy on the school board when Mrs. Robert Stone resigned.

"I realize the importance of education because I have spent my entire life in being educated or in teaching," Dr. Freeman said.

"As a board member, my main responsibility would be to obtain the best education for the community with the funds available.

"There is generally room for improvement if we are to keep our children's education competitive in the years ahead."

► Jerry Barton, 27, has lived in Tecumseh since he was four years old. He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1955, attended Stautzenberger Business School in Toledo and the Walsh Institute in Detroit, studying accounting.

He has been employed for more than five years as a general accountant at Tecumseh Products Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton have two children, Melissa, 7 and Jill, 6.

"Now, while my children are in school is the best time for me to take an active interest in the school," Mr. Barton said.

"Last year's school election with one candidate for the one office was not a good situation and I'd like to see more interest shown in the schools."

TWO-YEAR-TERM

► Gibbs Barber, 47, is a 1936 graduate of Tecumseh High School and lives in Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Barber have four children, Philip, 17; Ruth, 14; John, 10 and Scott, 5. Mr. Barber is employed as an assistant service sales manager in Tecumseh Products Co.

"For many years my family has received the benefits of a fine school system run by dedicated citizens. I therefore consider it a duty to run for this important job," he said.

► Jan Baxter, 25, has lived in Tecumseh for two years, graduated from LaSalette Seminary in Jefferson City, Mo.

He is a 1962 graduate of Mary Manse College in Toledo, received a master's degree in special education at Eastern Michigan University in 1964 and is presently studying for his Education Specialist degree at EMU.

He has been teaching the mentally handicapped children for five years and is on the faculty of the Lenawee Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter have one son, Christopher, 1½.

"If I am elected, my experience in education will help me to better evaluate many educational problems of the community," Mr. Baxter said.

► Mrs. Donald Cobb, 50, is a graduate of Hildale High School and Michigan State University. She was a teacher in East Detroit for three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Cobb have two sons, Tom, 17, who graduates this weekend from Tecumseh High School, and another son, Richard, who is attending Parsons College in Iowa.

"I am interested in education because of my background of teaching and with my sons having been educated in the Tecumseh Public Schools," Mrs. Cobb said.

"I don't believe a school system can be truly progressive unless it is leading in education to the extent of its capabilities."

Technicality Causes Council Headache

A technicality, written into the city's charter, caused Council some headaches Monday night after officials had approved a sanitary sewer on N. Union St., north of Pontiac Trail in the Kerby Heights Subdivision.

Property owners who must pay for the sewer were not notified by mail of the public hearing.

James Beardsley, city attorney, ruled that another public hearing was due, even though the property owners admitted reading about the hearing in The Herald.

Councilmen were under the impression that all property owners were in favor of the sewer, including Louis Caterina, who attended Monday night's meeting and objected.

He objected to the cost — about $4,300 for his share — and told Council that others on his side of the street also objected, although none was at the meeting.

Leland Kerby, Morenci attorney, and developer of Kerby Heights Subdivision, told Mr. Caterina that it would increase the value of his property, and if he was not interested in developing the Caterina farm, he would be.

Council first approved installation of the sewer, but when Mr. Caterina returned later in the meeting, officials rescinded and scheduled another public hearing for June 21 at 8:30.

Seniors Hold All-Night Party Friday

An all-night party for Tecumseh's graduating seniors will be held Friday with students meeting at 11 p.m. at the high school.

Transportation will be by bus to a movie, dancing to live music at the Community Center, swimming and back to the Community Center for a buffet supper (?) to end at 4:30 a.m.

Arrangements for the event have been made by parents who will also chaperone the event.

Pool Number

New telephone number at the Joyce Andrews Swimming Pool is 423-7079.

Multiple-Dwelling Homes Mean Changes in Zoning

Council learned Monday night that more multiple-dwelling homes are planned for Tecumseh.

James Kile of Sylvania and his associate, Gene Elwell, discussed tentative plans with city officials. They asked if the city would be willing to alter its zoning for two or three sections under consideration.

Locations of the proposed sites were not released.

Dwellings planned are one and two-bedroom, with exterior probably of brick or stone with aluminum siding. Several units are planned for each building.

Vern Manwaring, local insurance and real estate businessman, introduced the two men to Council.

Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizens will continue to meet at the Community Center each Thursday through the summer.

Thursday, June 10, the Tecumseh group will host visitors from Clinton.

M. F. Bartenslager Among Navy Men in Recent Landing

Construction Apprentice Michael F. Bartenslager, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Bartenslager of 600 Orchard Lane, last month participated in the largest combat amphibious operation since Inchon, Korea in 1950.

Bartenslager, while serving with Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 10 (Seabees) landed at Chu Lai, Republic of Viet Nam on May 7.

This was the first completely "over the beach" landing in the four American amphibious landings that have been made in South Viet Nam.

Summer will arrive in Michigan officially at 9:56 a.m., Monday, June 21.

Now we accept complaints about what appears in The Friendly Free Press. Al Merz, the International truck man, chided Monday's FP Pre-Historic Forest story which said the safari train is pulled by a "jeep-like" vehicle. The truth of the matter is that it's an International Scout, which is sorta "jeep-like". Virgil Hane, who has an International agency next door to Pre-Historic Forest, sold the Scout to the folks at Pre-Historic.

Monday is Flag Day. Loyal Americans will welcome another special opportunity to display the Stars and Stripes.

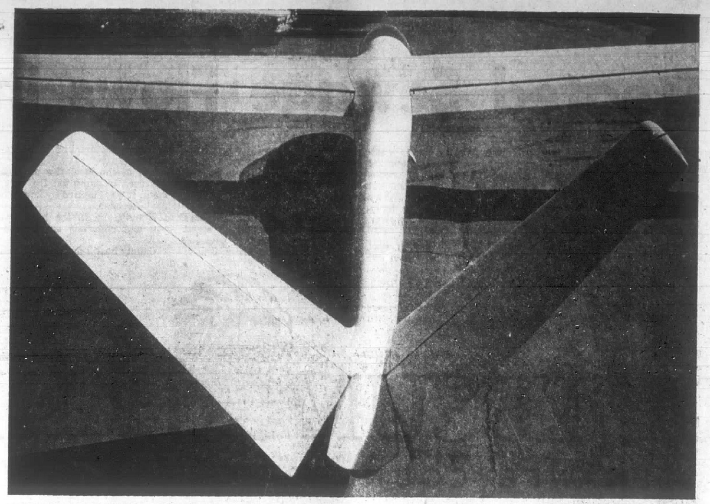
"I am unequivocably opposed to the recent $5,000 pay raise for legislators voted by the House of Representatives. Furthermore, I would predict that the Senate Appropriations Committee on which I serve will remove the $5,000 pay raise from the general government appropriations bill before reporting it out to the floor of the Senate," says Senator Gil Bursley.

Louie Schneider and the Buick Motor Co. are a couple of sly ones. The local dealer has been given a factory car, which he invites folks to drive for several days, "no obligations, of course." After a few times behind the wheel a guy is singing the praises of the beautiful 1965 edition.



VIEW FROM THE STERN — This is the way Jim Smith's sail plane looks from the tail. Weighing 700 pounds, the ship has a wingspan of 50 feet, is rated by its owner as 100% more efficient than the ship he flew to win the Nationals three summers ago.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

How could you, license number 9779-DY? Tipton area residents have picked up enough litter following the tornado without people like you adding to the work.

You allowed newspapers and layers from egg packing cases to be blown from your red pick-up truck Tuesday morning about 6:30 a.m. as you traveled M-50.

Most of this sort of thing takes place in the USSR. Slides taken by Sister Ann Joachim of her recent trip to the Soviet Union show beautifully-tended lawns, gardens and highways.

They bring heartfelt gratitude to the viewer when he realizes what a beautiful land that we live in and how free we are to litter the countryside if we so desire.

Sister tells that a would-be litterbug in Moscow is quickly reminded of the numerous trash cans placed conveniently, therefore no junk in the streets.

Well, I like the freedom you have to litter and I also like the freedom I have to tell you that you're a dirty dog for your carelessness.

PAT GREEN

Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert, 710 Wenonah St., will journey to Karlstad, Sweden, which is located near Lake Vanern in southern Sweden.

The basic purpose of the Teenage Exchange program is to develop understanding through living experience with families in other countries, using the resources of the school and community, as well as the family.

The Michigan Council of Churches has delegated the entire program operation to the Ann Arbor Washtenaw Council of Churches with Mrs. Rachel Andresen as director.

A total of 593 youths, from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, will spend the summer abroad.

★

PAT GREEN is delighted to be going to the McKay family, which includes 19-year-old Jane, who was an exchange student last year in Adrian.

She stayed with the Gaylord Baker family.

Besides the parents, the McKay family includes Steve, 22, who climbs mountains for a hobby, and Hugh, 17.

Pat's group will leave June 23 from Metropolitan Airport with members of the Michigan Chorale, who will start their concert tour in Ireland.

Two of her eight weeks' stay will be spent touring England, with Jane visiting her pen pal in Liverpool, Hull and London.

Bangor, Ireland, is a thriving seaside town with a population of 23,865 and has long been acknowledged as a premier holiday resort. It is located about 13 miles from Belfast, capitol of northern Ireland.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ruhl Sr., 302 W. Kilbuck St.

Mary Williams was the soloist accompanied by Mrs. Carl Thomas.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father wearing a floor length gown of white organza and lace fashioned with rounded scalloped neckline on the lace bodice. An apron effect enhanced the skirt.

★

HER BOUFFANT veil was elbow length and she carried white glamelias and carnations.

Mrs. Eugene Martin was matron of honor in a floor length gown of blue peau de soie with bell skirt.

She wore a circle hat with brief veil and carried peach colored glamelias and carnations.

Developer Puts Blast on Zoning

City zoning, which has come under criticism by contractors in the past, was questioned again Monday night at Council by Leland Kerby, attorney, and developer of Kerby Heights Subdivision on N. Union St.

The Morenci lawyer pointed out to councilmen that setback requirements for corner lots would necessitate building in a ridiculous section on the site.

He asked Council to consider changing the zoning for the best interests of Tecumseh. He said present zoning would not allow developers to build and maintain an attractive street.

Councilman John Hamilton remarked that developers could allow for larger corner lots and keep within present zoning regulations.

Mr. Kerby's request was referred to the Planning Commission.

Tipton Jets Donate $5 for Junket

Tipton Jets 4-H Club members agreed to donate $5 to Larry Muck to help finance his exchange trip to New Mexico.

Recreation was provided at the June 5 meeting by Bob Platt, Susan Platt, Rosalie, Dianne and Bill Spycher, along with refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buell, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stockinger and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jackson after the meeting.

Sign Firm Says 'Let's Horse Trade'

Tecumseh's attempt to secure an easement from Central Advertising of Jackson hit a new snag Monday night when attorney James Beardsley told city officials that costs for condemnation would run about $1,5000.

He said that Central Advertising had refused to give an easement unless the city would consent to new signs.

The area is just north of W. Chicago Blvd., at the point where the street becomes two-lane. The easement is for the Evans Creek Intercreptor Sewer.

Councilmen John Hamilton and Ray Puffer objected to negotiations with the advertising firm on the basis that signs are in a residential area and detrimental to Tecumseh.

By a 5-2 vote, Council authorized the city attorney to negotiate and to attempt to limit the time the signs may be kept there. A 20 to 30-year period was discussed.

Rescue of Drowning Youth Brings Citation to Troopers

Four Michigan State Police officers of the Blissfield and Clinton posts have been cited for awards.

Troopers Clifford Adcock and Dwayne Wheat of Blissfield post and John Shear of the Clinton post received merit citations with Trooper Jack T. Davis of the Erie post.

They captured an armed 20-year-old disturbed youth in Palmyra Township, who threatened to kill a former friend he accused of stealing his girl friend.

The incident took place in February.

The youth, who fled into a woods, alternately menaced officers with a shotgun and threatened to kill himself. He was captured without a shot being fired.

Trooper Barton of the Clinton post, saved the life of an 11-year-old boy who fell through ice with a companion on a pond on Carson Hwy., near Clinton March 25.

Trooper Barton used a 10-foot plank, extended over the ice to pull the boy out and revived him.

● TRACIE ANNE WILSON

Services were held at the Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn Saturday for Tracie Anne Wilson, 3, who was killed when struck by an auto June 7 in Brooklyn.

Threshers Roar Again at Reunion

The past will come alive again at the Fulton County Fair grounds on highway 108, near Exit 3, Ohio Turnpike, and Wauseon, O.

The National Threshers Association, Inc., will hold its 21st annual Reunion Thursday thru Sunday, June 24-27.

With greater proximity to Toledo, Detroit and the Ohio Turnpike, larger crowds than ever are anticipated to come see the oldtime steam engines saw lumber, thresh grain, climb inclines, balance on teeter-totter, run the Prony brake, and Baker fans.

Story of Congregation

Editor's note — Grace Bible Church, which is housed in the old "Pink School" on M-50, east of Tipton, was very heavily damaged by the Palm Sunday tornado. In spite of the fact that 16 persons were in the structure at the time, no one was injured. In a recent issue of the Fundamental Fellowship, a religious weekly published at Tipton, the Rev. David M. Holly of Tecumseh, pastor of the church, has written a moving account of the experience.

By the REV. DAVID M. HOLLY

"The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord. In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly" (Job 1:21-22).

This is the testimony of the members and friends of the Grace Bible Church of Tecumseh, as on Sunday night, April 11, one of the many tornadoes that devastated large areas in the midwest struck the Church, knocking out three walls of the original structure.

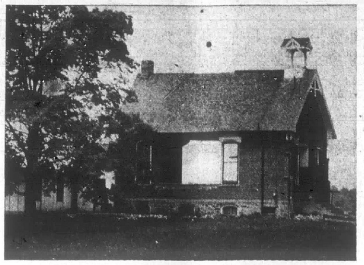
It will be six years this June since God marvelously gave us an old brick school building — known in the area as the "Pink School" — to use for our newly-organized Church.

Dedicated money and labor had gone into making this former school building a comfortable house of worship.

★

IN THE SUMMER of 1963 a Sunday School building was added, giving us a plant meeting the overall needs of our congregation.

At 8:03 p.m., this time being indicated by the stopped clock on the wall of the Church, the lights went out.



HERALD PHOTO BY DELAPHENE SHELTON

GRACE BIBLE CHURCH STILL APPEARS BLEAK

I was in the midst of reading the Scripture in preparation for the evening message and was unaware of tornado warnings.

One of the ladies, Mrs. Ralph Reusink, said, "Let's go to the basement!"

And so, holding on to one another, we made our way to the basement.

Very soon we heard sounds of the building coming apart. As we huddled in the darkness consoling the children, the dust from the mortar and plaster settled upon us.

★

THEN, AS quickly as it had come, the storm was gone, and someone began to sing the Doxology.

Others joined in and, what may have been lacking in harmony was compensated for by real thankfulness to God for His goodness.

I then led the group in prayer, not only thanking God for preserving us, but asking that somehow out of this which we could not understand, His Name might be glorified and His purposes fulfilled.

Upon viewing the auditorium it was found that the pews where most of the folks had been sitting were broken down to the floor and were covered with bricks and debris.

The piano had been turned and rolled against the east wall. A window frame lay across the organ.

★

MY BIBLE, which had been open on the pulpit, was gone, as were the sermon notes for the evening message which had been beside the Bible.

The Bible was found the next morning in the back of the Church.

Later I found the notes of the sermon I had not preached in the rubble outside the building, but the notes for the morning message and the order of service for the morning, which were in the back of my Bible, were gone completely.

Plans for the future are indefinite. We had planned, eventually, to build a new Church sanctuary that would complement our new Sunday School addition, and to tear down the old school building.

Perhaps the Lord is giving us a push in that direction.

I have quoted Job 1:21-22 as our testimony at this time. I believe we may take Job 42-12 as God's promise to us,

3 Delegates Named

Mary Ann Allen, Susan Kennel and Emily Manwaring have been selected to attend Wolverine Girls' State on the campus of the University of Michigan June 15-22.

The seven-day conclave is a government education program sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

The girls play the role of junior politicians and build a unit of government, electing from their own representatives, city, county and state officials for a model state.

Under the sponsorship of the Auxiliary, the girls will be assigned to cities, petition for offices, form party platform and caucus their way into a whirlwind week of self government.

At the close of the session, two girls will be selected to represent Michigan at Girls Nation held in Washington, D. C.

The demonstration of democratic principles is in its 25th year with 462 high school juniors attending this month.

Established in 1941, the Girls' State program is dedicated to the training and development of girls who have qualities of leadership.

The primary objective is to stimulate girls to take a deep interest in the development of home and community life and to encourage them to be better citizens of tomorrow.

A knowledge of national state and local government is brought to them through actual practice.

Mary Ann Allen is the daughter of Mrs. Ann Allen, 7870 Wisner Hwy., Tipton.

Susan Kennel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kennel, 204 Chippewa St. and Emily Manwaring's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring, 116 W. Pottawatamie St.

Ray Now Is Number 4826

Ray Shelton may be known as No. 4826 in the future.

But we don't think that he would mind much, since it signifies that he is listed at that point in the roster of the Junior Chamber International Senate.

An outstanding Jaycee member, Mr. Shelton was presented the award admitting him to the select group of "Senators" at the joint installation and award dinner of the local Jaycees and Auxiliary.

It was held Saturday evening at the American Legion Post Home.

President Roger Butler presented the distinctive membership pin and life membership card that provides a tangible link for life with 300,000 men of 63 countries.

The JCI Senate has two important functions, to congregate Jaycees who have served their local groups with distinction and have been awarded "senatorships" and to supply necessary funds for expansion in the world.

★

MR. SHELTON, a charter member of the local Jaycees, has served his group well in the past 11 years.

He held elective offices of director-at-large, state director, second vice-president, first vice-president and president in 1961 and '62.

He also received the Richard Beemer Award in 1962, the Key Man Award, the Spark Plug Award for four years and several others.

With his wife, Maddy, Ray lives at 111 Burt St., where they are awaiting the arrival of their sixth child.

Maddy was presented a life membership to the Auxiliary by the president, Mrs. Earl Nisbett, at festivities Saturday evening.

She was a charter member of the local Auxiliary.

★

THE NEW "senator" is employed by the Scientific Products Division of American Hospital Supply Corporation of Allen Park. He formerly worked at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

An Exhausted Rooster Award was given Mr. Shelton by Ric Creswell. This is an honor presented to all retiring Jaycees at the age of 36.

Ray was also given a patchwork rooster for the back of his Jaycee vest from the club by Dwight Helms.

Promotion Sign Annoys Residents

A new promotion sign for Tecumseh, located in the Indian Hill Subdivision, is coming down.

Although businessmen undoubtedly like the sign, residents there protested to city officials and asked that it be removed. The sign has been located there for nearly seven years and at one time promoted development of the subdivision.

Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce had the sign painted with copy promoting local retailers. Officers now hope to relocate it.

Here and There

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Editor's note — This marks the final column by Delaphene Shelton as a Herald staff member. Mrs. Shelton has resigned her position so as to be able to remain at home.

That marvelous vacation time is drawing near and we have started counting the days (7), wondering if we can get everything ready in time for what has become almost an annual trek into the Southwest — this time to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

The lists grow longer and in dismay we know something must be left behind.

Which suitcases will we take? And, being sensible, we put aside the beautiful lightweight luggage and pull out the old camping suitcase which has accompanied us since our first trip to the Grand Canyon in 1949.

Our only concession is a soft-sided bag in which we can lay our only "dress-up" change of clothing.

The rest must be crushed into a single 26-inch bag, a train case and in innumerable sacks stashed away in unlikely spots — the corners behind the spare tire or under the jack.

★

FOR THIS is going to be one of those perfect trips which will combine brief visits with folk we love, dinner out a couple of times, and camping, hiking and rock-hunting in the mountains of Central and Southern Colorado.

The Automobile Club by now is puzzling over our long petition for maps, literature and trip-tips.

Old mineralogical magazines have been dug out of filing cabinets and studied for possible abandoned mine sites and semi-precious gem locations.

Our young son, John, has surrepticiously added more and more books to his collection of things which must go — little pocket volumes, which describe and will help him identify flowers, rocks and trees.

We perused, inch by inch, National Forest maps, gloating over such place names as Slumgullion Campground, Last Dollar Gulch and Starvation Creek.

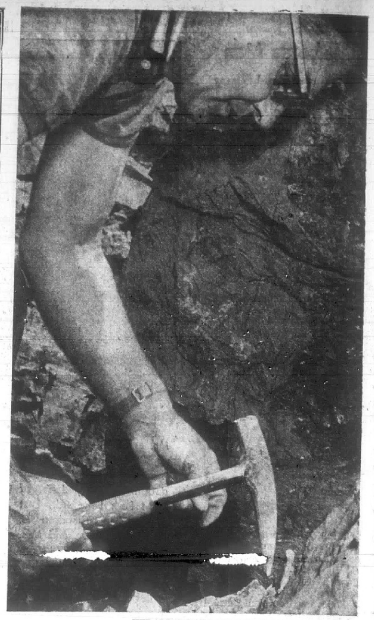
We've traced the trails, pondered over "Cannibal Plateau" and yearned for the day and hour when we can work our picks into the dumps of the long-forgotten mines.

★

WE'VE SORTED out our trading rocks — the spar-toothed calcite we sledged and picked from the France Quarry at Monroe, the fluorite from Rossford, Ont., the Thompsonite from the boulders bordering Lake Superior at Grand Marais, Minn., and the Petoskey stones from up around Lake Charlevoix.

We've washed them off, wrapped them in tissue and hoped that someone in faraway Bayfield, Colo., will offer us something as precious.

Yes, it's vacation time — and soon will be THERE!



HERALD PHOTO BY DELAPHENE SHELTON

TREASURE TROVE — Hollis Shelton of Milan picks gingerly at the rock surrounding a magnificent cache of calcite crystals. Rockhounding is a rapidly-growing hobby interesting persons of all ages. Mr. Shelton, whose pleasure in the pastime has taken him from coast to coast and into Canada, said, "One's own backyard can yield some fine rock specimens, too".

A charter member, Mrs. Shelton served as president of the local group and also district vice-president.

Two barbecue grills were given to the Jaycees by the Auxiliary for use in the Jaycee Park behind Patterson School.

Third year spark plugs went to John Day, Mr. Nisbett, and Frank Sandhoff, while fourth year plugs were awarded to Mr. Butler, Mr. Creswell, James Rundell, Walt Wonderly and Mr. Shelton.

Dwight Helms was the only one to receive a fifth year plug.

Ron Albert, Charles Robinson and Donald Twite were awarded spokes.

Karl Kleinshmidt was welcomed as a new member.

Mr. Butler presented the president award to Mr. Morgan.

Sparkette pins for the first year were given to Mrs. Elwartowski, Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Osworth; second year to Mrs. Fred Johnson and Mrs. Donald Stoner; third year to Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Creswell, Mrs. Helms Mrs. Nisbett, Mrs. Rundell, Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Wonderly.

ANIMAL IS ONE OF MANY KILLED ANNUALLY

Deer Add Hazard to Busy Highways

LANSING — The increasing deer herd in the Lower Peninsula is an increasing worry for state officials.

Statistics show 4,146 deer killed on all Michigan highways in 1962.

By 1964 the figure had jumped to 5,979. Lower Peninsula statistics show an increase from 3,180 in 1962 to 4,739 in 1964.

It is expected that more than 4,700 motorists in the Lower Peninsula will collide with deer this year.

One worried and frustrated official said every mile of highway built creates more favorable conditions for increasing the deer census.

He pointed out that deer jump the four-foot boundary fences to eat the grass and clover on the medians and rights of way. In winter, he added, they seek the melted road ice.

In an attempt to avoid deer-car collisions the driver should remember, he pointed out, that "drivers can read the 'Deer Crossing' signs — deer cannot."

RE-NAME THE PIT CONTEST

My choice .....

My name .....

Address ..... Phone .....

Mail to: Parks & Recreation Department
City Hall
Tecumseh, Michigan

Please include short statement of 25 words or less why you think this name should be chosen.

Needed: New Name for 'Pit'

What would make a good name for "The Pit?"

A contest is being staged by the Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department to name the popular summer swim site.

First prize will be a family season pass, good for two years, at The Pit.

Entries are limited on coupon printed below.

Parks and recreation's head man, Don Moffatt, states that the new name is being sought because the 22-acre park is being greatly expanded in services.

In addition, The Pit, as a name, can give some parents an uneasy feeling in permitting their children to swim there. Mr. Moffatt quickly adds that there is no danger, only psychological, since three life guards are always on duty when swimming is permitted.

★

MR. MOFFATT points out some of the coming additions for this recreation park:

- ► Miniature golf
- ► Band shell
- ► Tennis courts
- ► Sheltered picnic area
- ► Shuffle board courts
- ► Expanded winter sports

Besides these, Mr. Moffatt says that over-night camping facilities are also being considered.

Those submitting names in the contest are also asked to write in 25 words concerning their choices.

There is a charge of $4 for ammunition for the course sponsored by the National Rifleman's Association.

Manwaring Scores 39 in Mist

By CHUCK ALLEN

Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf Leagues sloshed their way through another rainy Wednesday afternoon.

They're getting so used to playing in the mist that if the sun shines they think the weather is against them.

Scores were generally low with Vern Manwaring leading the pack on a 39.

Earl Yoakum and Bill Dunten had the best combined round and edged their way into first place.

The last few weeks have seen the lead change more often than a woman's decision.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

Democratic legislators in House and Senate are in sharp clash as to who will be the biggest spenders.

In the closing day for committee action, the House Democrats moved to increase expenditures for school aid alone by $112,000,000.

Senate Democrats asked for a $50,000,000 increase and Governor Romney himself, had recommended a $32,000,000 figure.

As a Republican member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, I supported the more conservative Democratic faction, which tried to hold the figure not to exceed $30,000,000.

I also support the Romney proposals for increased support for special education, transportation, and handicapped children programs.

I am happy to report that the Senate is moving along a bill to strengthen support to library systems.

★

THE SENATE Appropriations Committee also wrote and reported out bills covering higher education and mental health. Here we supported modest increases over the governor's budget proposals which can be financed out of current receipts and without tax increases.

We are suggesting about 300 additional attendants for the entire state mental hospital system. Legislators visited these hospitals and I feel this support spread out over all the institutions is fully justified. It involves a little over $1,000,000.

We also approved a $5,000,000 increase for higher education with the suggestion that it be for salaries and wages. Eastern Michigan will get $400,000 and the University of Michigan $900,000 out of this total which provides substantial assistance to this district.

★

THIS SPENDING clash amongst legislative Democrats was also recently dramatized in differences over senior citizen tax exemptions when the House suggested what would have amounted to cutting general fund revenues by $40,000,000 and the Senate held out for a $13,000,000 program. The Senate position prevailed.

House Democrats have suggested an additional $140,000,000 in taxes to pay for all their suggested programs. Added revenues would largely come from extending the "use" (sales tax of 4% to various services including doctors and dentists bills, garage repairs, laundry bills, dry cleaning, barber shops, etc.

This tax would hit the low income groups and large families and would have the same "regressive" features that the Democrats have argued against in the sales tax.

★

THE SECOND major source of new income would be in substituting a corporate profits tax in lieu of the business activities tax. This is more equitable in principle, but the suggested 5% rate for businesses might be a bit steep. It would bring in about $50,000,000 more than the present business activities tax.

Two bills which I have sponsored in the Senate call for an expansion of the State Scholarship and State Research Funds. Both principles are supported by Governor Romney. This legislation has been reported out from the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Several important bills on highway safety were not reported out of committee in the Senate. I will support all possible parliamentary strategems to insure that good legislation is achieved in these areas.

The public interest deserves that defective automobiles be repaired or taken off the highways, that all drivers carry some form of liability insurance and that drinking drivers be curbed and penalized.

At the end of last week — May 28 — all Senate originated bills must have been acted upon on the floor of the Senate. The same holds for House bills in the House.

The month of June then remains for insuring that legislation from one house is acted upon in the other.

May Permits Total $456,481

Tecumseh building inspector Lynn Noble issued 22 construction permits in the city during May, with six permits for new housing upping the year's total to 34.

Estimated construction for the month is $456,481 with a shipping warehouse at Tecumseh Products for $123,500 and a hospital addition, costing $135,000, making up over half the total.

Permits for six houses estimate work at $95,800: one apartment, $95,800; one garage, $1,500; and 12 repair and alteration permits, $5,681.

Dancing Party for Unmarrieds Will Be Friday

An open house dancing party for unmarried persons, age 21 and over, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at the Pattengill School in Ann Arbor.

Music for dancing is by the Howard Bond orchestra of AF of M Local 625 Recording Industries.

SERIES ON SCHOOLS

Students Like Reading Series

Editor's note — This is another in the series of Herald articles pointing out the opportunities offered students who attend Tecumseh Public Schools.

By MRS. DORMAN EDWARDS
Tipton School Third Grade Teacher

General interest and enthusiasm surrounding each reading class in the primary grades can be attributed to the new Ginn Reading Program, introduced this year in Tecumseh District elementary schools.

The Ginn Basic Reading Series was chosen for a number of reasons. It concentrates on the development of reading abilities while at the same time contributing to the total growth of the child.

In the primary grades particular attention is given to word study skills and comprehension skills, good reading habits, desirable attitudes and appreciations.

The authors of the series are experts in reading and in children's literature and experienced writers who understand the needs and interests of children.

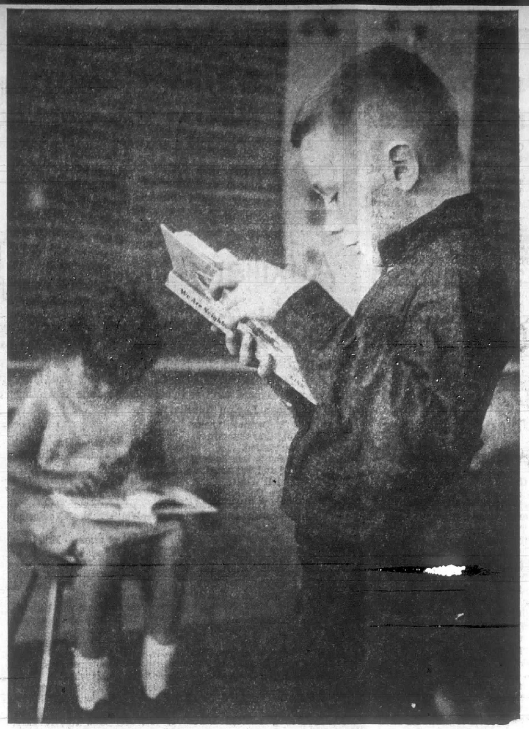
The Ginn Reading Program is spoken of as being both vertical and horizontal. The horizontal structure may be described in terms of grade levels.

The keynotes of this structure are abundant variety and meaningful repetition. At the same time the authors recognize that there is no such thing as a single reading ability that covers all reading situations.

*

THE SUCCESSFUL reader possesses not one reading bill, but a composite of abilities and habits. The series enables the teacher to provide for the varying abilities of each child at each particular stage of reading development.

It is planned to continue the program into the middle grades where emphasis is placed on developing a greater use and love of reading.



Tipton first grader Deborah Wimple concentrates as James VanValkenburg reads aloud.

'Mike' Adds New Laurels in Dogland

Mrs. James Mull's prize-winning Shetland Sheepdog scored big at Sunday's Kalamazoo Kennel Club show.

"Mike" added a third leg on his Companion Dog Degree with a score of 185½ points out of a possible 200.

If he continues at this pace, by the end of his next show, "Mike" will be a full-fledged CD and eligible to compete in the open class.

During the Kalamazoo event, Mike was ranked highest scoring Shetland Sheepdog in Novice A, rated second in his class and was tops among his breed in the Obedience trial, competing against all animals at the show.

500 Children Keep Secret

CLINTON — Mrs. Leon Bodell was completely surprised at a farewell party in her honor June 1, because 500 elementary school children and their teachers kept the big secret very well.

The room teachers had arranged for all the children to have a part, singing songs or speaking parts. There were Indian dances by the Red Arrow family. Band members in the fifth and sixth grades accompanied their class song on their instruments.

Mr. Bodell, the former superintendent in the Clinton schools, was present for the occasion. Mrs. Bodell was secretary in the elementary school for many years, continuing to commute this spring from their home in Erie.

Each child brought a nickel and the presentation of gifts was made by Charles Geiger of the third grade.

For the Bodell's new home in Erie, there was an outdoor yard lamp, and an umbrella-type clothes dryer. A friendship book, containing the signatures of each child was another to-be-cherished gift.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS — 1965 STYLE (continued)

When driving west on Route 66 one does not go far after crossing the Arizona border before encountering the sign at the entrance of the Painted Desert and Petrified Forest.

We arrived there about 4 p.m. and, although this timing hurried us a bit because of the 7 p.m. closing, it did provide an almost perfect lighting for photography.

The low sun, of either morning or afternoon, touching the hills and cliffs of the desert brings out all shades of red, brown, green, yellow and even blue.

It is indeed a painted desert.

The road which winds through this fantasy of color also takes one into the Petrified Forest. Here, trees which were alive 160 million years ago and have turned to beautifully colored stone, are scattered everywhere.

We were just sorry that time did not allow more wandering through and picture taking at this particular spot.

★

IMMEDIATELY south of Flagstaff, Arizona, is tucked a true gem of scenery, Oak Creek Canyon. Route Alt 89 zigzags down a steep mountainside, and works through a beautiful valley — red and white spires and cliffs form the walls while a lively creek bubbles along first at one side of the road and then the other.

At its southern end the canyon opens up, wide vistas and huge red rocks make this a cameraman's paradise. It was our fortune, or misfortune, to visit Oak Creek on Mother's Day.

We were glad to see people enjoying their own state, but when a picture presented itself, to have roads, turn-outs and parking areas full of cars and people was frustrating.

★

WE DID manage to nose into one pretty, tree-shaded picnic area. While Dad and his camera wandered down to the fast running creek, Mom and I stayed in the car watching birds and enjoying picnickers.

Our lunch of tea and cookies was a poor fare when stacked against their freshly-caught trout sizzling over an open fire. Wonder what would have happened had we gone begging for a bite? It was a temptation!

The bird at whom we had particularly good looking was a big Steller's Jay. He was a handsome fellow and kept bounding through nearby trees.

About 14 inches long and with a loud raucous voice to match his high crest, his head and shoulders were a shiny black while the rest of his body, his wings and tail were deep blue. Quite a bird.

★

THE NEXT two days we spent along the South Rim of the Grand Canyon. Wow! Words cannot even begin to describe and pictures only hint at the breath-taking beauty and awesomeness of this place.

Statistics are useless — 217 miles long, 10 miles wide, one mile deep, some rocks in the inter-gorge are over two billion years old and the mighty Colorado river carries an average load of silt weighing one-half million tons past any given point in the canyon every day.

All this, however, does not make real the size or shape or spectacular coloring of the Grand Canyon. It must be seen.

Although we could not get in to the North Rim because the road was still snow clogged, we thoroughly enjoyed the South Rim, which by the way is open all the time. A good black-top road follows the Canyon's edge and the many observation points enabled me, without even getting out of the car, to see much.

The West Rim drive was especially good in this respect. Actually our whole trip was outstanding in that almost everything could be viewed from the car. I, of course, appreciate this feeling "of being part of."

STATELY TALL trees and small gnarled little ones must not take much of our time here but, before saying goodbye to the Grand Canyon, three things must be mentioned.

Huge black ravens soar over and through the Canyon calling loudly — fascinating to watch. We saw the Abert's Squirrel, tasseled ears, darking gray body and big white tail — cute.

Finally, for a person's first look at the Canyon, I agree with a friend, who told us to take Route 180. It is a beautiful drive and suddenly, with absoultely no warning, THERE IS THE GRAND CANYON!

Next week we shall travel into southern Utah.

Nun Shows Slides Snapped in Russia

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Sister Ann Joachim, OP, spoke and showed vivid color slides of a trip to the Soviet Union last year to members of the Citizens for Good Government June 2 in the Adrian Public Library.

She told various ways in which she and her traveling companion were closely watched and delayed in their exploration of Russia and the city of Moscow.

★

SISTER THWARTED unknowingly the "bugging" of their hotel room by pulling the plug on a small radio playing soft music. She also was successful in obtaining fine pictures of life in Moscow by concealing the changing of film.

"We are sure that if we had been able to speak a word of Russian, we would not have been allowed to enter the country," she said.

As it was the two nuns, the first sisters of a religious order allowed in Moscow since 1917, were gaped at and their garments poked by the Russians.

The jovial Sister and her companion became so used to the curious that they soon offered their clothing for inspection when it was not rudely punched by the onlookers.

★

THESE SAME white robes were carefully laundered and ironed for only $1.25 for the two while they were in the Soviet city, the same price as one would pay for an ordinary size bunch of carrots.

Cost of laundering in other places on their tour was sometimes $7 or $8.

Sister preceded the showing of slides by encouraging club members in their study of government and remarked that women in this country should take a much more active interest in legislative offices since there are only about two percent now in office.

In the Soviet the women between the ages of 20 and 50 are told that "they run the government."

"At least they do all the work, laying foundations for huge 'flat' or apartment buildings, digging ditches right in the city while the men help a little and look on, etc.," she said.

★

"AN ATTEMPT is being made to make possible a room for each individual family. At present they are allowed less square feet than we require in prison cells," continued the Sister.

Operas, ballets, concerts and the like are extremely well attended in Moscow. The public buildings, gardens, fountains, parks are beautifully tended and offer pleasanter conditions than do the crowded flats.

"Trash cans are in evidence every few feet and one who drops litter is immediately reminded of the convenient trash can by the passerby," Sister Joachim said.

Sister said that 75,000 books are published each year there, more than any other country in the world. One in three of the people is studying.

★

ENGLISH newspapers were difficult to obtain except at the American Embassy. "They were either sold out or they hadn't arived as yet," she said.

Closeups of the Russian people studying, working and in the market were among the beautiful slides shown by the Siena instructor, as well as numerous ones of Lenins tomb, the wall around the Kremlin and the Kremlin itself, Red Square, the Exhibition grounds, cathedrals, artistry of all kinds and many others.

The audience was enthusiastic in their applause for the presentation by Sister Joachim. Members of the club heartily recommended her to others who are interested in learning about Russia, one of 15 Republics that make up the USSR today. She may be reached at Siena Heights College.

Wage Bill Will Cost Farm Owners

Senator Gil Bursley met with the Southeastern Michigan Grange at Tecumseh Grange Hall to review pending farm legislation.

"I would say chances look good for the passage of the meat inspection and milk inspection bills," he said.

"The so-called 'unfair trades practices act' in the milk industry aimed at preventing the use of milk as a loss leader in supermarkets and chain stores should also be a favorite to pass, but this one is much more controversial.

"There is every likelihood that we will establish a nine member State Bean Commission similar to several now in effect (cherry, etc.).

"There is also a good chance to exempt agricultural piece workers from the minimum wage act. The currently suggested bill on executive department reorganization calls for an independent Department of Agriculture headed by a five-man commission and for a similar set-up for a Department of Conservation and Recreation.

"A bill permitting producers of agricultural commodities, by referendum, to group together and establish state commodity programs passed the Senate and is in the House. This bill has been sought for several years by agriculture and looks like it has an excellent chance of passage," he added.

"Last week Governor Romney signed into law the revised Minimum Wage bill and this is going to cost farmers considerably more. Any inequities will have to be thrashed out in amendments next year," the visitor concluded.

The dinner, which climaxed Customer Appreciation Days at the mill, was attended by 250 persons. Tables were set under the covered driveway.

Two weaned pigs, which had been donated by Arthur Weidmeyer of Saline, had been raised in the mill for the past several months, and were butchered for the event with one being served and the other shared by company employees and Mr. Weidmeyer.

Franklin Board OKs Ordinance

TIPTON — Meetings of the Franklin Township Board will temporarily be held in the home of Supervisor Ray Jackson each first Tuesday of the month.

They will begin at 8 p.m.

At a session June 1, members of the board approved the purchase of a tractor mower and trimming equipment from the Hoyt Whelan Co. for use in the upkeep of cemeteries at a cost of $980.

Dale Cook, zoning inspector, told of the need for residents to check the township building code and obtaining a building permit before erecting a structure.

★

THE BOARD adopted three ordinances recommended by the township zoning board after due publication and hearings:

Two trailers to be used for commercial purposes within the township for a period of one calendar year at $50 per year, to be renewed by personal appearance as required.

Established procedure for tenting areas within the township with the same requirements as those for trailer courts.

Prohibited trailers, except those already inhabited within the township and hardship cases granted by personal appearance before the zoning board.

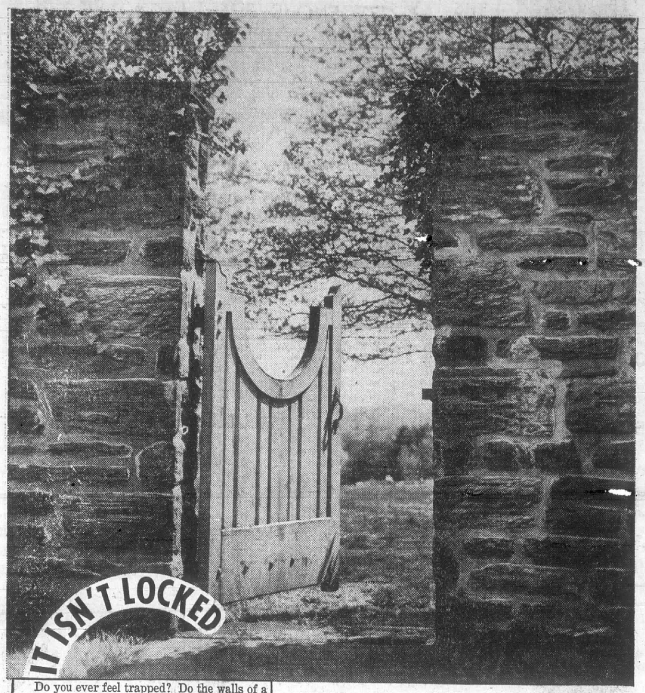
Service 6:30 p.m.



Do you ever feel trapped? Do the walls of a meaningless life seem to close in on you sometimes? Here's good news! Every life has a gate, and it is never locked. But it only opens from one side . . . . your side.

Seek for the gate with all your heart, and you will find it. Open it, and you will enter a world full of meaning and beauty. You'll step from darkness to light . . . . and never look back.

The key? It's waiting for you in Christ's teachings. His Church will help you to find it, and in His service you will discover life's real purpose. Go to church this Sunday, and hear God's words of promise and comfort. They are meant for all who yearn to widen the cramped horizon of their lives. They are meant for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Congratulations 65 GRADS!

COMMENCEMENT STARTS SUNDAY AT 2 P.M.

184 Seniors Make Class of 1965 Biggest

Another record-breaking class will be graduated from Tecumseh High School Sunday afternoon at 2.

More than 20 scholarships will be presented to fortunate members of the 1965 class numbering 184. These will include the four Sage Foundation and four Herrick Foundation scholarships, each valued at $3,600 over a four-year period.

The Rev. Donald Porteous, pastor of the Methodist Church, will address the class. Valedictory is being given by Joseph Poley and the salutatory by Donald Baird.

Under the direction of Don Johnson, the THS Symphonic Band will play. The THS Chorus is slated to sing two selections under the direction of Frances Moran.

Superintendent James McDowell will award the diplomas.

Class of 1965 colors will be exemplified in the gowns being worn by the graduates — white for the girls and green for the boys. The carnation is their class flower.

On Friday, at the traditional Class Day, [illegible]sident Paul Speer will present the class key to Robert Titley, who is junior class prexy.

Other officers for 1965 are Russell Blanden, vice-president; Deborah Crawford, secretary; Gregory Allen, treasurer and Jerry Hale, assistant treasurer. Charles N. Gross is class advisor.

'Portrait of Christ'

"A Portrait of Christ" was the subject of the Pledge Service at the June meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harry Farley led the program stressing how women have been moved by a living image of Christ since the days of Dorcas and were moved to meet to fulfill the needs that they felt were necessary for all.

A portrait of Christ was likened to a portrait of love.

From this point Mrs. Farley told the group of a challenge of paradox in the familiar scripture of giving all in order to be rich. She stated that life is such a paradox.

Following this service the members made their pledges to the Society for the coming year.

★

THE BUSINESS was conducted by Mrs. Carroll Sprague, newly-installed president, who opened the meeting with a commendation to Mrs. Vaynard Close, the retiring president.

A memorial service was held for two members of the Society, Mrs. Clyde Wittrup and Mrs. Marian Elliott, who died during the past year.

Announcements were made of the all-Circle potluck supper to be held in the Social Hall on June 21 at 6:30 p.m. and of the Officers' Training Day to be held at the church on July 12 from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Seaman Packard and Mrs. Glenn Rupp.

Kohler Real Estate would like to assist you in obtaining just the right type of Real Estate to meet your needs . . .

"Do you think we should trade our property for another? Or, would it be better to sell it outright and then buy again? Would it sell readily or would a trade be quicker?"

The answers to these and similar selling questions involve a knowledge of income tax laws, property values and the nature of the current real estate market. A general reply might not apply to your situation The safe rule is to call us when faced with a similar real estate selling problem.

Many times we are asked, "Would remodeling my home add to its value, or would I be better off to sell and buy a place more suitable?"

Likewise, owners of several pieces of property who are forced to raise money, want to know, "Which one should I sell? What type of property is in the strongest demand? How much will it sell for?"

Remember, selling real estate is our business. Based on nineteen years of experience right here in Tecumseh, we will be glad to discuss the sale of your property.

Please call at your convenience.

'Circus Fun' To Be Theme for 'Club'

The theme for the summer reading club at the Public Library is "Circus Fun."

Boys and girls from kindergarten age up are encouraged to join and read for fun during the summer months.

A child may join at any time simply by printing his name. He may add a star to a large clown for each book he reads. There are no meetings to attend.

Story Hour will begin June 16 and be held every Wednesday afternoon at 1:30.

All boys and girls are invited to attend.

Youths Tour Bakery

TIPTON — Second graders went to a Jackson bakery recently. They were accompanied by Mrs. Albert Tonneberger, Mrs. Robert Tuttle and several mothers. The children received a loaf of bread. Later all went to the home of Mrs. Tuttle for a picnic where they were served lemonade and cookies.

Mrs. Tuttle and the second student teacher, Susan Frost, entertained teachers at a luncheon May 29 at the Tuttle home.

First graders are hurrying to complete their subjects. They have been writing stories and letters in "language"; class reading about the country school and comparing it with the Tipton school as part of the social studies course, and have had a 50-word spelling test with the staff and most of the pupils happy with the results.

★

Boys and girls of the fifth and sixth grade service squad and safety patrol had a party Friday. They played games and were served cake and ice cream.

Mrs. William Vollmer, Mrs. Raynor VanValkenburg, Mrs. Tonneberger and Mrs. John Jones were in charge of refreshments.

Squad and patrol awards were to be presented Wednesday.

The class song was sung by the entire group, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Alexander. Gifts were presented from the class to the teachers who had accompanied them on their senior trip to Washington, D. C.

After the class night activities, the Awards Program was held. William Hetrick, principal, introduced the teachers who made the presentations.

Athletic Awards were by Coach Sam Hamilton, who presented certificates to letter winners in all sports.

Two boys who received letters in all four sports — football, basketball, baseball and track — were Walt Korican and Ray Vershum.

Expectant Mothers May Tour Hospital

First-time expectant parents and newcomers to the area may wish they could have a trial run-through at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

This is now possible.

Beginning June 16 from 1 to 3 p.m. and repeated the first Wednesday of each month thereafter, expectant parents will be invited to meet in the hospital lobby and will be taken on a conducted tour of the facilities.

★

REALIZING THAT such simple things as finding the admission office can be desperately important when a mother-to-be is in labor in the middle of the night, the staff will discuss items of interest to prospective parents.

They will be told what to bring with them to the hospital.

"This is a new idea at the hospital and it is hoped that newcomers will take this opportunity to find out what a friendly place Herrick Memorial Hospital is," said Norma Moll, director of nursing.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A guy really hasn't lived until he spends a few days at Girl Scout camp—as 29 other pooped pops and this scribbler did last weekend.

It was initially billed as a Father-Daughter campout, but the two and one-half day session also had another name, Do-Dad Weekend.

This meant, the fathers were expected to handle a few chores, like clear new camp sites, mow about 100 acres of grass and weeds, douse poison ivy, fit together a mammouth swimming dock.

The fun time took place at Camp O' the Hills, located on the western edge of Wamplers Lake and the summer home for two weeks at a stretch of eager Girl Scouts from Jackson, Lenawee and Hillsdale Counties.

Breathing all that pine-scented air can spin a fellow's memory back to the vigorous days of his youth and in no time at all, the dads were volunteering all over the place for work details.

Our "Boss Man" was a soft-spoken electrical engineer from Jackson named Dick Patrick. He was casual, but firm, in placing the needed arms and backs in the proper places.

Being the second annual Do-Dad Weekend, there were a few seasoned veterans from a year ago and they were quickly dubbed Straw Bosses and Assistant Straw Bosses. Our group — the waterfront detail — even had a Third Assistant who managed to draw most of the mosquitos and drop a heavy cast iron pipe on his big toe.

And if you don't believe Rex Nevins isn't handy, check the picture below of him "swinging a sledge."

But, you know, I've got to confess the whole experience was a real blast.

The dads were bedded down in Shadow Valley, which we found out contains the prime camping quarters, pegmanent screened-in huts with concrete floors, sturdy roofs and a trained mouse or two making midnight patrols between the canvas flys and the screens.

★

EACH FATHER received a mimeographed schedule with rising time noted as 7 a.m., followed by a flag ceremony, breakfast and then duty.

Boss Man Patrick didn't have any stripes on his shirt, but he could have passed for a polished top kick as he bounced from post to post, making certain all was running smoothly.

Dick carried a clip board so we knew he meant business.

In our organizational meeting, he told us "rookies" about last year and how a special "Goldbrick Award" was cooked up for one of the gang, looking casually about the room as he spoke.

During the first Do-Dad affair, one of the guys was especially enthusiastic on Friday night, prancing about and telling everyone how much he planned to do come the dawn. As he walked out of Hilltop House, which is the chow hall, the guy twisted his ankle and wasn't able to do a lick of labor.

Thus, was born a prize for the deadbeat of the weekend.

This time around, the winner was a chap named Irwin Gourlay of Jackson, who smashed up a leg several weeks earlier and hobbled into camp on crutches. Irwin now has a paper weight for his Bullens Fuel and Supply Co. office, a lovely brick painted gold and containing the inscription. "A devoted and beloved goldbricker."

In this case, Irwin is really miscast because over many years he has been one of the camp's greatest boosters and hardest workers. He and his fellow East Jackson Kiwanians have spent hundreds of hours improving and maintaining the camp grounds.

★

IN FACT, Boss Man Patrick is no slouch in the work department. He spends about 600 hours a year as director of sites and construction and his entrance into this Girl Scout business comes out real fascinating.

His wife was troop leader and his daughter a Scout and being an electrical engineer, he was asked to repair a defective No. 12 wire at the camp in 1956.

When he arrived, Dick discovered the Scouts were using a power line on which to hang their clothes.

From that first brush, he was soon enesbed in rewiring the entire camp, then falling into one new chore after another.

Dick has developed a master

Pat Meadows Explains New Bank Hours

United Savings Bank President Pat Meadows has announced new hours for the local financial institution.

Changes affect Thursday and Saturdays, when the bank will be open from 9 a.m. until noon.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesdays, the hours will remain 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Friday's hours remain 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The changes were made for several reasons, explains Mr. Meadows.

"While the trend in banking is to a five-day week, I feel it is imperative that we have banking hours on Saturday, otherwise this could work a distinct hardship on the local business community."

Business Row Site Selected

A 2,600-foot strip of the Carl Gruber farm, across from Tecumseh's Fisher Body Plant on Occidental Rd., has been sold for development for commercial and retail outlets.

The land, almost one-half mile in length and 330 feet deep, was sold to William Szabo of Szabo, Inc. of Toledo. The Ohio firm is a land investor and developer.

Jack Osburn, local real estate businessman, handled the sale and will also handle future sales. Exact plans for the area have not been released.

★

JAMES MITCHELL, Raisin Township supervisor, says the zoning has not been changed for the site yet, but sees no reason why a zoning change would not be approved.

A request for a change in zoning has been filed with the planning and zoning committee of the township. It will then make its recommendation to the township board for approval.

Mr. Gruber retained a small portion of his property along Occidental.

The Toledo company purchased the entire strip except the immediate area around the Gruber farmhouse and buildings.

The rest of the Gruber farm consists of several hundred acres.

dation grants. They were picked on the basis of scholastic accomplishments and financial need.

Each winner may enroll in the school of his or her choice and must meet scholastic requirements to maintain the gift.

Supt. James McDowell awarded diplomas to 181 seniors, the largest class in Tecumseh history.

Validictorian Joseph Poley and Salutatorian Donald Baird were presented trophies and their names engraved on a permanent school trophy. These were donated by the H. R. Terrybeery Co., which also provided medals for each of the top 30 scholars in the class.

In his valedictory address, Joseph told his classmates that the greatest reward attainable is the inner satisfaction of doing a job to the best of each one's ability.

He lamented the fact that the world seems to worship material success and rushes headlong in its pursuit.

"Let us not be caught up in the race for success," he warned.

★

THE SALUTATORIAN expressed appreciation to the parents for their help and understanding through the years, but noted "our real gratitude will come through the proper use of our education."

He likened formal education and graduation to the Pilgrim crossing and their stepping onto Plymouth Rock. It was only a beginning, a launching point, he noted.

"We realize it (graduation) is our stepping stone to greater realities," Donald concluded.

Guest speaker, the Rev. Donald Porteous, told the graduates, "Too few of us hitch our wagons to the stars."

"You need a goal. The world is yours if you give the right emphasis on the proper things.

"What you accomplish will be determined largely on the heights of your ambition," the Methodist minister said.

WHAT'S HE DOING? It's readily apparent that Rex Nevins of Jackson is sales manager of Shafer Baking Co. and not a regular cast iron stake pounder. Mr. Nevins and his fellow Do-Daders gave it the old college try and managed to get the job done — somehow. Complete details of the ordeal appear in the Long & Short column. More pictures section B.

Dr. Freeman, and Mrs. Cobb Win Elections

309 Ballots Cast in Tecumseh

Mrs. Donald Cobb and Dr. Fred Freeman won voters' approval Monday for two seats on the Tecumseh School Board.

Dr. Freeman, an incumbent who was appointed last fall to succeed Mrs. Robert Stone, received 193 votes for a four-year term. His opponent, Jerry Barton, tallied 114 votes.

Mrs. Cobb, who was elected to a two-year term, received 171 votes. Gibbs Barber, also running for a two-year stint, totaled 98 votes and Jan Baxter, 37.

Monday's election was one of the lightest here in many years as only 309 votes were cast, including five absentee ballots.

The number voting was approximately 7% of the 4,700 eligible voters in the school district.

Although the school election is only three days past, a vacancy is bound to exist on the School Board, necessitating an appointment, either at the June 21 or July 19 meeting.

Herbert Simpson, elected just last year, is in the process of moving to Wolf Lake, which is in the Onsted School District.

According to school law, a member of the board must reside in the school district.

2-Mill Levy Is Approved in Clinton

CLINTON — Two-mill school operating levy was approved, 178 to 57, in a light vote Monday.

A total of 267 from the Clinton School District cast ballots.

In the two races for the Board of Education, Waldo Papsdorf and Roger Waltz were both elected for four-year terms and Charles Straight won a one-year spot.

Mr. Papsdorf netted 151 votes and Mr. Waltz 123.

★

OTHERS IN the four-year race and their totals:

Mrs. Edward J. Thomas — 86
Daniel Schindler — 82
Mrs. Richard Sharpe — 52

In the one-year race, Mr. Straight topped Donald Geiger, 140-115.

The board will reorganize at its July 12 meeting in the high school office.

Britton OKs Increase in Millage

BRITTON — Only 176 people voted in Monday's school election as the millage increase passed solidly, 136 to 39.

This will give the district one and one-half additional mills for operating for the next two years, plus renewal of three and one-half mills which expired this year.

Trustees elected to four-year terms on the School Board were James Squires, who received 141 votes, and Clarence Schroeder, who received 117.

Naomi Spohr received 74 votes, and there was one write-in vote for Lowell Dunbar.

Realty Firm Buys Farm of 90 Acres

Abraham Realty Co. of Adrian purchased the Austin Partridge farm on Occidental Rd., just south of Tecumseh, last Friday.

John Abraham, president of the real estate firm, said there are no immediate plans for the farm of 90 acres.

The Adrian company will take possession next March, when plans may be completed.

Abraham Realty is a subdivision developer besides handling sales of property.

Parents Balking at School Hours

Over 50 parents favored school hours different than approved by the School Board during a session last week in Patterson School.

Shortage of buses caused the board to alter school hours for the 1965-66 term.

These hours, approved last month, are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for grades one through three, and an hour longer in the afternoon for grades four, five and six.

The Junior High and High School were scheduled for 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

★

FIVE DIFFERENT schedules were presented to parents and about 20 teachers and administrators at last week's meeting.

Hours favored by the parents were:

Elementary — 9 to 3:30
Secondary — 7:30 to 2:30

School hours undoubtedly will be discussed again by the Boardmen at their June 21 meeting.

Tecumseh will run 19 buses for the next term and would need a total of 33 buses to operate a standard school day

Monday Is Start of Bible School at First Baptist

Boy on Bike Hit by Auto

James Hawthorne, 10-year-old son of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Hawthorne, escaped serious injury when struck by a car after leaving a baseball game at Nelson Field on S. Union St., Tuesday evening.

The young boy was riding a bike when struck in the intersection of S. Union St. and W. Kilbuck St. by Ruth E. Albrecht, 31, of 717 S. Occidental Rd.

The Rev. Mr. Hawthorne, Episcopalian rector, said Wednesday morning that his son was released after treatment for cuts and bruises at Herrick Hospital, and after X-rays were taken.

He suffered a severe blow on the head and a possible concussion.

The driver of the car was not held responsible for the accident.

On Flag Day, the beautiful colors along Chicago Blvd. looked radiant in the morning sunshine.

Jeanne Hohenstein set some sort of record while playing golf with Mike Tucker on the Tecumseh Country Club course last week. She chipped into No. 4 cup, not once, but twice, in an 18-hole round. A bird perched in a nearby tree was heard to chirp, "Jeanne, that's just the way Mike's dad scrambles."

Wonder what an Interlochen on the Raisin River would be like? Tecumseh's man of ideas has done it again. Wilfred Waldron suggests that those considering a Junior College give some thought to locating it on the proposed lake, southeast of the city, in connection with the Watershed program some day. Wouldn't a summer art institute and music school be something?

If it seems like there are reports of an enormous number of graduation parties in this week's paper, there are. We have the weary editing fingers to prove it.

Do you know how to tell when you need a haircut? — when your wife starts calling you "Elvis."

In an off-the-cuff remark during Tecumseh commencement ceremonies Sunday, the Rev. Blair Bashore told those present that he, like many others, had been concerned with the future of our nation, but after looking at the 1965 grads stream into the gym, two-by-two, and watching them during the singing of the school's Alma Mater, he confessed he wasn't worried anymore. It was a moving tribute to a grand bunch of young adults.

"It's hard for a person to get ahead if he spends all his time getting even."

Philip Pierson of Harper Woods, a senior journalism scholar at Michigan State University, moved onto The Herald staff as an editorial assistant this week and will be on tap through the summer.

Free Press columnist Judd Arnett, who did a stirring piece entitled "A Teeming Tecumseh" Sunday, goes about the task of collecting his material in a fun-filled way. He spent Thursday in town, meeting people, chatting and testing out the greens at Tecumseh Country Club. He carded an 89, a few strokes higher than he usually shoots, but it's tough trying to jot down notes for a story and line up a putt at the same time.

The former Baptist parsonage is being moved this week to the George French property, kitty corner from the old S. Union St. location.

Tecumseh's newest motel, the Harvey House, is rapidly nearing completion. This calls for a nice picture story and we should have it shortly.

Harvey Wilson, the Plymouth man, is delighted over a recent deal — the sale of five deluxe golf carts to a chap about to open a unique tourist attraction in the Irish Hills. The carts will be run by guests along private roadways overlooking Wamplers Lake, just across from the Towers.

Newcomer Jane Wollenhaupt has already contributed her bit for civic good. The Miami University graduate made a five-foot clown for the boys and girls Circus Reading Club at the Tecumseh Public Library. By the end of the summer, the kids will have decorated his suit with stars, one for each book they read, until his outfit will match his colorful face.

Does anyone have a borrowed copy of "Joe Maddy of Interlochen?" Please return to The Herald.

Did you see a bug with a black head and a gray-green body with a stripe down the side? Br-r-r. Could be a European pine Sawfly. The pests are extremely numerous this year in the southern half of the lower peninsula according to MSU entomologist, Bill Wallner. He sez, "Spray as soon as possible."

Mrs. Jay Fisher, 2314 Rogers Highway, presented her husband with a unique gift on their seventh anniversary June 7 — a 7 lb., 10 oz. son, named Edwin Jay. Mr. Fisher is a farmer and the couple have two other children, Pamela Sue, 4, and Nora Marie, 3.

When it is done (chuckle), they'll probably call the thing the oldest new post office in the State of Michigan. Where? Why in our town, of course. Folks from Clinton are starting to take book that their post office, started months and months after ours, will be in operation first.

plan, which will see the entire 109 acres eventually utilized and three new camp sites developed.

Last weekend part of our gang opened up one section and 21 new four-girl tent platforms will soon be in use.

BEFORE THIS opus is closed, a report on Dr. Don Fox, an Adrian dentist and Do-Dader, must be made.

Weeks ago, Don blithfully promised his daughter, Sharon, 10, that he'd camp-out with her last weekend. He also told his son, Billy, 7, that he would take the YMCA Indian Guide canoe trip down the River Raisin on June 12.

Then suddenly, he discovered both events came on the same weekend. Neither youngster would let dad recant—so if Don had to take off a few days to rest up this week, there is a reason.

He labored hard and long Saturday morning, ate lunch, raced to Adrian, got his boy, hurried to Comfort Rd., south of Tecumseh, where the canoes went in. The boys loved the trip, Don reported later, but the dads about went crazy getting by 50 tree trunks that littered the river bed all the way to Sutton Rd.

The dentist waved goodbye to his lad and roared back to Camp O' the Hills — just in time for the big Saturday night square dance.

It was a great weekend.

John Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Boyce, played quite a role in family history as he graduated from Tecumseh High School Sunday.

He was the fourth in a family of four generations to complete secondary education at the local school.

Then came our Clara and James Waldron, Margaret and Wilfred to make up another generation.

Joyce Waldron Munn, Winona Waldron Hamilton and Wilfred Jr. and Elizabeth Boyce are the next generation.

More in the future are the four children of Winona and John Hamilton.

Cracking of Bones Not New

Bob Pettit, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Pettit, fell at school breaking his left arm.

It has been just five weeks since he had a cast removed from his right arm, with an almost identical break, according to his physician.

Breaking bones is not new to Bob.

He started when he was two and one-half years old, cracking a leg. Since that time he has broken both wrists, one foot twice, the other foot once and a toe once.

His mom said, "This doesn't include all the surgery he has had."

Two Teens Are Charged

Fines, suspended jail sentences and probationary periods were levied by Justice Ernest Oliver Saturday against two Tecumseh teenagers who tossed a cow's head and sack of cattle feed in the city's swimming pool, behind the high school.

Charged with disorderly conduct were Richard Hadsell, 18, 211 N. Oneida St., and Steven K. Hunt, 17, 215 E. Logan St.

Each were fined $25, or 15 days in the county jail, plus a suspended 30-day jail sentence.

Two other boys also may be involved.

Justice Ernest Oliver fined Jack Mullins, 18, 501 Murray Dr., and Floyd Sharp, 18, 609 S. Evans St., $50 each and two days in the county jail.

Ten more days in jail were to be added if the fines were not paid.

John Kennedy No Hits G & J

By PHILIP PIERSON

A no-hitter, pitched by John Kennedy of the Products Union against G & J on Friday, highlighted last week's action in the Pony League.

Kennedy set a new league record by fanning 16 G&J batters in leading his team to a 5-0 victory. He nearly pitched a perfect game, facing only 23 hitters, two over the minimum 21 for a seven inning game.

Three times Kennedy struck out the side and he walked only three men. One was promptly picked off when Kennedy made a beautiful move and threw to first baseman John Bryan.

Kennedy also scored the winning run in the first inning when he singled, stole second, took third on a fielder's choice and came home on "Butch" Quinn's long smash that was bobbled for an error.

Tony Nykodym was the Products' leading hitter with a 2-for-4 performance. Dennis Lewis, who struck out nine hitters in five innings took the loss for G&J.

PONY LEAGUE

Eagles	2	1
Britton	2	1
VFW	2	1
G & J	2	2
Products Union	1	1
Indians	0	3

IN OTHER GAMES last week G&J defeated the Indians, 3-0, in a contest that was called after five innings because of the tornado warning.

Jim Hemphill of G&J struck out nine and only allowed one hit.

Indian pitcher Tom Horton fanned eight G&J hitters and also only gave up one hit.

★

ON FRIDAY the Indians were again beaten, this time by Britton, 18-5, in a contest marred by many errors on both sides.

Ron Findley was the winning pitcher for Britton and Gregory Wise took the loss for the Indians.

► Jim Mobly pitched and batted the Eagles to an 8-3 win over Products Union.

Mobly struck out 12 and gave up five hits in addition to slamming a three-run homer as the Eagles notched their second victory of the season.

The winning run was scored in the first inning when Eagle catcher Gary Fairbanks tripled and came home on an error, after the Eagles had already scored three times.

Losing pitcher Butch Quinn led his team at the plate with two hits and struck out nine Eagle hitters.

► Jim Parros belted a grand-slam homerun, but it was to no avail as his G & J team bowed to Britton, 12-5, in a game that saw eight errors committed by both squads.

Britton scored its runs on only three hits but five misplays by G & J fielders aided their cause.

Rick Maska allowed only three hits in chalking up the win for Britton, which raised its season record to 2-1.

► Steve Dalton, Mike Decker and Pete Dermeyer got two hits apiece in pacing VFW to a 6-5 win over the Indians.

Decker was the winning pitcher as his team won its second game of the season against one loss.

Rick Calzada was the losing hurler as the Indians dropped their third game of the season without a win.

► VFW defeated Britton 6-4 in a game that took nine innings to complete.

Lamar Rufner started for VFW and allowed four runs in seven innings and fanned nine Britton hitters.

The winning pitcher was Ron Randolph who hurled the final two frames and struck out three men.

Cub Majors

► Exchange's battery combination of Craig Smith and Mike Kennedy proved too much for Union, as their team won, 4-2.

Smith took the win for Exchange as he gave up only five hits and Kennedy made several fine defensive plays behind the plate.

In addition the pair combined for five hits in six at-bats with Smith getting three of the safeties.

The winning run was scored in the third inning when Kennedy stole home.

► Vern Bennett struck out 13 batters in a six-inning game as Rotary defeated Falings Cities Service, 6-4.

Rotary scored twice in the third inning to overcome a 2-1 lead by Falings, but by the end of the fifth the score was tied 4-4.

In the sixth, Rotary's Gary Alcock doubled home Dan Gundar and Sam Brantingham for the winning runs.

With two hits in three trips to the plate, Gundar led the Rotary hitters. Ricky Bunch paced Falings with 2 for 2.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Willmott will be hosts for the Jolly Farmer Farm Bureau meeting Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Old Tent Platforms Burned, New Ones Go in Place

One important aspect of Do-Dad Day at the Irish Hills Council Camp on the site on Wamplers Lake last weekend was the removal and burning of out-dated tent platforms and installation of new ones. AT LEFT — Irwin Gourlay, the Goldbrick of 1965, watches an ancient model go up in flames. He and fellow members of the East Jackson Kiwanis Club have donated hundreds of man hours over the years building and maintraining the camp. AT RIGHT Do-Daders put brand new tent platform in place.

2 Musicals, 3 Comedies Will Be Playhouse Menu

The Clark Lake Players are in the midst of rehearsals for their first production, "Fantasticks," which opens Friday, June 25.

The musical had a record run of four and one-half years in New York City.

The play seems destined to remain a part of the permanent scenery of the theatre world.

Mrs. Roger Meyers of Adrian, who was assistant choreographer for the Tecumseh Players "Music Man" will put the dancers through their paces in this heart-warming musical.

The show continues June 26, July 2, 3 and July 9, 10.

IN A departure from their normal schedule, the Clark Lake Players will present two musicals, one to start, and the other to end the summer.

The season's curtain ringer will be "Bye Bye Birdie," a hilarious comedy, with a large chorus. These teen-aged dancers will be directed by Mrs. Ted Pihl and Mrs. Meyers.

★

THREE OTHER members of the Tecumseh Players have garnered leading rolls at the Lakeside Theatre.

Mrs. Don Geiger of Clinton, slated to play Marian, the Librarian in "Music Man," and sidelined by a broken leg, has the romantic lead in the musical "Bye Bye Birdie."

Mrs. Bob Murray, last seen as the heroine in Tecumseh's "Gaslight," plays the unmarried mother of a 20-year-old boy in "Invitation To a March," a high-style comedy.

★

MRS. JAMES VANZO, who left local theatre goers laughing in Tecumseh's "Solid Gold Cadillac," will also appear in "Invitation to a March."

Gerry Blanchard, who brought the Jackson Players through an outstanding, record breaking season last year, will direct the summer's productions.

Cathy Brown Is Honored at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Brown entertained Sunday following commencement exercises at THS for the pleasure of their daughter, Cathy.

Eighty guests attended the open house where class colors were used to enhance the refreshment table.

Cathy's aunts, Mrs. Franklin Humble, Mrs. William K. Brown and Mrs. Bruce Corley assisted with the serving.

Out-of-town guests were from Clinton, Britton, Blissfield, Adrian and Tecumseh.

Cathy has enrolled at the Michigan State University, School of Nursing.

Fifth Graders Learn About Conservation

The Lenawee Soil Conservation District recently conducted its fourth annual Soil and Water Conservation study.

Study material was offered to all fifth grade students in Lenawee County and was presented by their teachers as part of regular classroom work.

Included in the Soil and Water Conservation study was a Conservation map coloring contest. Students entering the contest were required to color a Conservation Map which illustrated good conservation practices as opposed to poor land use and their respective affects upon the landscape.

First place award went to the fifth grade class of Onsted School taught by Mrs. Adlah Potrude and second place to Riga School.

★

CLIMAXING the program more than 1,000 youngsters were taken on a tour of the Medford Pfister farm in Adrian Township to see first-hand some of the conservation subjects they had studied.

The importance of taking care of the top soil that supports growth of trees, grass and other plants was explained by Paul Rieke, Soil Extension Specialist from Michigan State University.

Water and the role it plays in sustaining all forms of life was pointed out by Woodrow Barclay, USDA and Ray Gillespie, 4-H Extension Agent, on the banks of Wolf Creek, source of Adrian's water supply.

★

FORESTRY was shown to be more than just trees, brush and seemingly unused land. John Hawkins, Rollin lumber mill owner and professional forester, assisted by Norman Bless, Agricultural Extension Agent, explained the many uses of wood and wood products.

"Smokey the Bear" was introduced by John Boudreau and impressed upon everyone the dangers involved when fire is used carelessly.

Wildlife and its place in Nature's realm was pointed out at the final stop by Ralph Bailey, Michigan Department of Conservation, and Charles Schick, Wildlife Extension Specialist.

The youngsters were shown how important wild animals are and how they are of benefit to man.

Atomic Force?

"Is the Universe, including man, evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Bible Lesson to be heard at Christian Science services throughout the world on Sunday.

2 Perform in Summer Stock

Two Tecumsehites are performing with the American Theatre Festival, second season of professional summer stock, at the historic Tibbits Opera House in Coldwater.

Dexter Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Bailey, 209 N. Maumee St. and Laura Ann Seager, daughter of Laura Ann Sealan Seager, 309 W. Chicago Blvd. are part of the 30-member company presenting 12 different plays and musical comedies in 12 weeks.

Dexter is the pianist accompanying the cast of "Fantasticks," which opened Tuesday evening.

Miss Seager will be playing the part of Connie Dayton in the comedy "Come Blow Your Horn" opening Tuesday, June 22.

★

"FANTASTICKS" is usually referred to as a romantic musical fantasy and has recently completed a run of more than five years in New York, making it the second longest running musical in New York history.

Miss Seager, a June graduate of Tecumseh High, has appeared for the past two seasons at The Irish Hills Playhouse, where she played the very difficult role of "Desdemona" in Shakespeare's "Othello" at the age of 14.

Miss Seager, whose father is a successful novelist, recently had a story accepted for publication in Mademoiselle magazine.

★

DEXTER, an accomplished pianist at the age of 17, will accompany the ATF performers all summer in rehearsal and performance for five musicals. He has studied music in Independence, Missouri, New York City and at The University of Michigan.

"Fantasticks" will run through Saturday, curtain at 8:30 p.m. A few tickets are still available for that performance.

"Come Blow Your Horn," an adult comedy, runs through June 26.

Reservations for either of these plays may be made by calling the American Theatre Festival at the Tibbits Opera House any day, 1 to 5 p.m., except Sunday.

David Porteous, a THS Graduate, Honored at Home

The Rev. and Mrs. Donald C. Porteous entertained Sunday evening at an open house in honor of their son, David, a graduate of the Tecumseh High School.

Mrs. Carlos Jones presided at the coffee service and Mrs. Merlyn Downing served punch.

Both women also attended the cake table decorated in green and white and featuring a graduation theme.

Visiting as a house guest is the Rev. Charles Wolfe, formerly the District Superintendent of the Marquette District of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church and now a resident of St. Cloud, Fla.

Mrs. Lynn Noble and Mrs. William M. Steele, Jr., assisted with the serving of the 125 guests.

Twenty-two Tecumseh area young men will attend American Legion Wolverine Boys State on the Michigan State University campus this week.

Governor George Romney, Dr. John Hannah, president of MSU and the Rev. Robert Richards will be among the speakers for the "mythical 51st state," slated for evening assemblies.

★

THE 1,250 BOYS attending the 1965 American Legion Wolverine Boys' State were selected on the basis of leadership, sportsmanship, personality and mental alertness.

While in attendance they will be at MSU student dormitories.

A sports and recreation program will accompany the government learning program.

During the eight-day session the youths will learn by doing in this "democracy in-action" educational project.

Under the guidance of American Legion instructors, the boys elect city, county and state officers; they learn how to draft bills, enact them into laws, then enforce and administer the laws as they are passed.

A novel method of acquainting the boys with these duties has been instituted this year. Questionaires have been sent out to each boy asking that a choice of the office which he would like to run for.

First in State To Train Mentally Handicapped Youngsters

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

"We are doing here what experts in the field of sheltered workshops for many years thought could not be done. We are proving that a small community can support such an operation."

Claude W. Whitehead, executive director of Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan, Inc., is justly proud of the record of the agency, which serve all of Lenawee County from its Adrian headquarters.

It has grown from a small retail outlet in 1958 to an organization employing 103 handicapped persons, and operating out of a newly-purchased 34,000 square foot plant which supplies goods for three retail stores, two in Adrian and one in Monroe.

★

IN ADDITION the agency is the first in the state of Michigan to develop a vocational evaluation and pre-vocational training program for youngsters severely mentally handicapped and those youths handicapped by cerebral palsy. This program is in cooperation with the Lenawee County Board of Education.

Fourteen trainable pupils of the Lenawee Institute, near Tecumseh on Sutton Rd., accompanied by a certified teacher, are bussed three days a week during the school year to the plant in Adrian.

At the end of a two-year program of evaluation and preliminary training in the sheltered workshop five will be hired for full-time work beginning July 1.

The agency has a co-operative program with the Adrian City Schools.

Six less severely mentally handicapped pupils attend school mornings and are being trained in the workshop during the afternoons.

The 103 handicapped persons whose salaries last month totalled $17,946.62, not only work at rejuvenating goods to be sold in the retail stores, but do contract work for several firms.

"GOOD MORNING — Crippled by polio, Julie Pearsall of Adrian, wife of Fred Pearsall, a Tecumseh Products Co. employee, operates a four-trunk line, 15-extension switchboard and welcomes visitors to the Goodwill Industries plant.

Among those being served are American Chain and Cable Co., Brazeway, Inc., Buckeye Products Corp., Adrian Rack Co., Kewanee Mfg. Co. and H. W. Tuttle and Co.

The work includes part inspection, packaging, painting, buffing and polishing of small parts, drilling and topping.

★

GOODWILL is operated by a board of directors with the administrative duties carried out by Mr. Whitehead.

Robert F. Sage, Perry Satterthwaite and Mrs. W. N. Winfield of Tecumseh are on the board. Mrs. E. C. Boss, also of Tecumseh, was a member for three years, last year serving as its secretary. Tecumseh's Mrs. John Thompson is another former member.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler of Tecumseh is an active member of the Women's Auxiliary, which provides services to the agency and its personnel.

Its most recent gift was a donation of $2,000 which is being used to equip employees' kitchen and dining room at the new plant.

★

FIRST LOCATION of the county's Goodwill store was a former pickle factory on James St., Adrian, established in February, 1958 as a branch of the Detroit agency.

By early 1960, still operating as a branch of the parent organization, the workshop program was inaugurated. Twenty-five handicapped persons were employed.

The payroll was $31,872.51.

In October of that year, the operation was moved to the former Tuttle Building, 261 W. Maumee St., where it became an independent agency operated by a local board of directors.

In 1961 a branch store was opened in Monroe.

★

MR. WHITEHEAD, who had been associated with Goodwill Industries management since 1952 when he was an executive in Chattanooga, Tenn., began work at Adrian in July 1962.

He is a graduate of the University of Chattanooga in the field of industrial management and did graduate work at the University of Tennessee School of Social Work, New York University and Bellevue Hospital's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

His salary is $9,600 annually.

The only other full-time employee, who does not come under the catagory of a handicapped or disabled person, is Duane Morey, Director Personnel, whose salary is $6,008.39.

★

AT THE annual meeting of the board of directors Jan. 19, 1965, Dr. Donald E. Bodley, president, had this to say about Mr. Whitehead:

"The entire annual report for 1964 reflects the leadership and planning of our capable executive director, Claude Whitehead. We are fortunate, indeed, to have this man at the helm of our day-to-day planning and operation.

"With Claude is an excellent team of staff people who have worked to accomplish great things for the handicapped."

The former Stearns Manufacturing Co. plant on E. Beecher St. was purchased in 1964 at a price of $65,000 with funds contributed by individuals and private foundation.

Extensive remodeling has been done and much more awaits further gifts or grants. The "grand opening" of the plant and its spacious store was May 10. Offices of the agency are there.

★

TWO ADRIAN outlets sell reconditioned articles of household goods, clothing, furniture, etc. These have been contributed to the agency by residents of 18 communities in Lenawee, Washtenaw and Monroe Counties with handicapped persons employed as representatives.

The auditor's report for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1964, prepared by Collins, Burt and McConkey, show total assets of the agency as $86,146.65. It indicated total income during that fiscal year as $139,921.55.

Total store sales at Adrian were $51,384.24 and at Monroe, $19,627.43.

Industrial contract work, salvage, State of Michigan - Division of Vocational Rehabilitation funds, gifts, etc. brought additional income.

Among recent gifts was a $5 000 grant made June 7 by the William T. Morris Foundation.

Presentation was made by Jack Rose, plant manager of the American Chain & Cable Co. and P. Gordon Chaffee, production manager.

It must be used for capital improvements and is the fourth grant from the Foundation.

★

A PERSONNEL survey made last year by a committee established by the board of directors and composed of professional and lay people indicated that as of May 1964 there were reported to be in the area 384 mentally and physically handicapped persons who might benefit by Goodwill Industries services.

Operating income is derived in the following percentages:

► 40% from store sales.
► 50% from industrial contracts.
► 8% from salvage.
► 2% from training fees and miscellaneous.

Buildings and equipment are purchased with donations from foundations, industries and individuals.

Jobs are bid for on a piece rate basis, determined by normal production of a non-handicapped person.

★

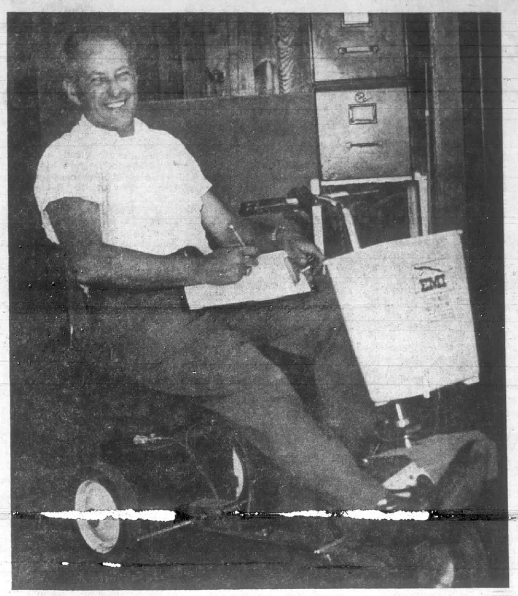
MR. WHITEHEAD said that because of lower overhead, particularly in the field of transportation, cost of equipment and buildings, the agency can bid successfully even though it pays wages comparable to those paid for the same work in industrial shops.

Mr. Whitehead anticipates a continued growth in sub-contract works as new industrial plants open in the area.

Such services should also result in many new opportunities for placement of trained handicapped persons, he pointed out.

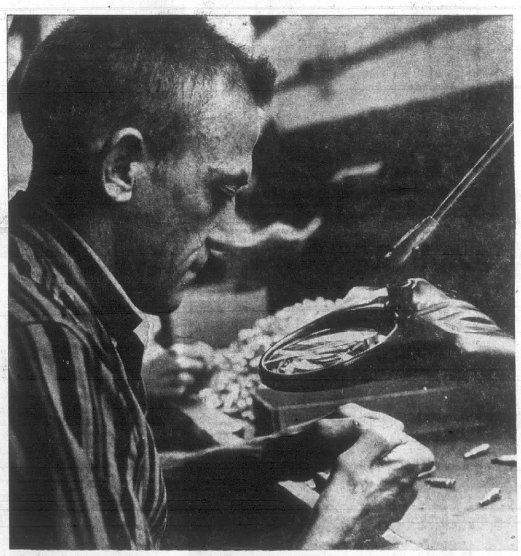
However, the resultant population increase, while it will provide additional growth in household discard collection and resultant increased sales, will in all probability mean an influx of marginal workers who have a physical or mental disability.

"We will have more raw materials and an even greater need for our services," he said.



A WHIZ ON WHEELS — Don Smith, a former plant superintendent, once declared "totally disabled" with a fused hip joint and other disabilities, determined to rehabilitate himself. He succeeded so well that now after two and one-half years, he is the salaried plant manager of the Goodwill Industries operation. Although he is able to walk he finds his battery operated cart an excellent mode of transportation about the plant on E. Beecher St. in Adrian. Part of his rehabilitation was financed by the State-Division of Vocational Rehabilitation and by the Veterans Administration.

TRAINEE — Eugene Currier of Adrian is learning the spray painting trade. Battered furniture is given a new lease on life in this sheltered alcove.



HERALD PHOTO BY DELAPHENE SHELTON

FATHER OF THREE — Murray Brown of Palmyra, a victim of muscular dystrophy, supports his family by inspecting connectors for refrigerator units manufactured by Brazeway, Inc. Goodwill supplies employment in its sheltered workshop where it does sub-contract work for factories. A committee of businessmen helps the agency in its efforts to submit bids and secure contracts.

Dancers Bill and Evel wore original costumes of brilliant hues imaginatively designed and made by themselves.

Delores Cruz, 1965 graduate of Adrian High School, danced in the Trio de Gloria number with the young men and in a solo peasant dance called the "Hota"

The Melagania dance was performed by Bill and Evel in fantasy was danced by Evel and they danced the Flemenco together.

'65 Graduates Will Work at Jobs Not Yet Invented

CLINTON — Dr. Lester W. Anderson welcomed Clinton's graduating class into the adult world at the June 10 commencement exercises in the school gym.

Dr. Anderson, Professor of Education at the University of Michigan, referred to the current youthful quest for "in" status. It is achieved by conforming to the rules in fashion, dancing cars and behavior. He suggests that adult life, as well, has certain requirements to be "in".

★

To achieve meaningful maturity, today's youths will need to follow certain guidelines, he said.

HE NOTED that:

► Most of the graduates would someday be working at jobs not even invented yet.

► More graduate courses are being taken through business and industry today than in all the universities together.

► Most persons who lose their jobs at present do so because they cannot get along with their fellow workers.

Dr. Anderson urged that graduates give serious consideration to the delay of marriage for the next three or more years while obtaining an education to meet the demands of the future.

"Now is the time when you have freedom of choice," he concluded.

★

THE REV. PAUL McKENNA gave the invocation.

Salutatorian David Papsdorf welcomed the guests, expressed gratitude of his classmates for the help of parents and teachers, and told his fellow graduates, "If we each gave our talents to benefit others we would really be a class Clinton could be proud of!"

The symphony band played for the processional and presented the Chorale and Alleluia by Howard Hansen.

Superintendent Richard Wegner announced the six seniors — Louise Alber, David Papsdorf, Karen Johnson, Carolyn Girbach, Sheryl Winchell and Paula McKenna — received special recognition for achieving a 3.5 average.

The girls quintet, of Karen Driscoll, Carolyn Girbach, Sheryl Winchell, Mary Williams and Audrey Wight, sang "Halls of Ivy."

Valedictorian Louise Alber said the graduates are aware that they have not come this far alone — that the encouragement of many made their achievement possible.

She suggested, "Each one has a chance for greatness and personal satisfaction in reaching life's goal or in helping others to reach theirs."

★

PRINCIPAL Richard Steudle introduced the Class of 1965.

Diplomas were presented by members of the board of education, Rex Winchell, president; Charles Knight, vice-president and Mrs. Edwin Wight, secretary.

—o—

Albert Fox, history and government teacher at Clinton High School, leaves this week for a vacation in Washington, D. C. and, perhaps, a tour of the eastern states, before he goes to Chicago for a visit with relatives. He will resume teaching in Clinton in the fall.

Mystery Trip Takes Scouts to Airport

CLINTON — A mystery trip was enjoyed by 44 Cub Scouts June 5.

They boarded a school bus at 11 a.m. with eager curiosity about their destination.

Even the wiseacres—who were "sure" it would be to a ballgame — were baffled when the bus headed another direction.

★

CUBMASTER Lawrence Gunn and his assistant, William Shelley, had arranged for a big welcome at the Jackson Airport where the boys toured the fields and hangars, visited the observation tower and were taken through one of the cargo planes.

The New York Railroad station in Jackson was the next stop, where the boys were given tickets for a train just leaving for Ann Arbor. Bus driver Paul Keith met the boys in Ann Arbor after their train ride, took them to the U-M stadium for a walk through the vast, echoing expanse.

Only a stop at an ice cream store could be a suitable topper for such an outing before the return at 5 p.m. to the school.

Others accompanying the group were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lathrup, Mrs. Ronald Redman, Mrs. Melvin Breeding, Mrs. Joseph Busch and Mrs. Charles Mattis.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

HAPPY HOLIDAYS 1965 — Continued

Kanab, Utah, could easily become a favorite spot. It's a small town, population of 1,500, if you count a few horses and dogs, so said a local citizen.

It also sits in the middle of the most gorgeous scenery imaginable.

To the south about 100 beautiful miles is the North Rim of the Grand Canyon.

Seventy miles to the east Lake Powell is building behind the new Glen Canyon Dam.

Magnificent Bryce Canyon is to the north and the much liked by the Duncans Zion Canyon is but a short way to the west.

Because of its high elevation, in the neighborhood of 9,000 feet, winter lingers a long time in Bryce Canyon National Park.

In fact, on the mid-May day we visited this fantastic park, fresh snow was on the ground. It covered the red, yellow, gold and orange rocks like frosting on an ornate cake.

★

WE LIKED Bryce.

This is a park one looks down into — the road winds along the edge of the plateau and, from well-placed lookout points, unbelievable views are obtained.

The magic sculpturing of erosion has made a fairyland which can drive a shutter-bug out of his mind. Pictures are everywhere.

The formations are — well, as near as I can describe them — like gigantic, elaborately-carved chessmen. Spits of snow and a strong winter-cold wind kept me in the car and since much of the best looking is from short paths on the above-mentioned observation points, already the Duncans are making plans for next year's vacation.

★

A PLACE which I could see marvelously well through the car windows was Red Canyon.

The road to Bryce traverses this little red wonderland and thus we saw it twice, once going and again coming. Why so little is heard about Red Canyon I do not understand.

True, it is not large, but surely the bright red formations, through which the road cuts, are spectacular and oh, that color.

We completely fell in love with Zion National Park, our next stop. This is the Canyon one drives down into and was thus more of Marda's type looking. The Zion-Mt. Carmel highway is just out of this world — it twists and turns over, around and through, providing unexcelled mountain scenery every inch of the way.

IN A MILE-LONG tunnel, there are even parking areas and windows through which breathtaking views are visible. After making the hairpin curve descent to the canyon floor, one drives along the ashy gray Virgin River.

Great red and white mountains rise on either side forming the canyon walls. An enchanting place and, as-usual, our cry was for more time. (Another stop for next year.)

Weather caught up with us in Glen Canyon — rain, rain, rain. And who but the Duncans could spend the better part of one whole day driving across the desert in a heavy downpour?

Route 64 is a comparatively new road which slices through the heart of the Navajo Indian Reservation in Arizona.

★

ROADSIDE scenes included:

► Indian women wearing brightly colored, ankle-length sateen skirts and long sleeved satin blouses.

► Men with their long black hair tied up.

► Cute children, big eyes and wide grins who are shy and quiet.

► Large flocks of sheep and goats.

► Traditional Indian homes, round earth walled dwellings called hogans.

I am not going to make much comment about the Indians. We have not been home long enough for our thoughts to straighten out and besides, it is a complex, many faceted situation.

However, after seeing the country we gave these people to live in, I seriously doubt that we have the right to criticize.

It is a beautiful country to see, but to make a living from, no. Fortunately the money derived from mineral resources, which are now just being discovered, is apparently going to be "invested" in schools and hospitals.

Perhaps the future is bright for the young Navajos.

★

WE HAD hoped to visit Monument Valley on the Arizona-Utah border but here again, the old bug-a-boo of no time plagued us. Another item for next year's itinerary.

So it is that our happy holidays, 1965 style were great — just great — the best vacation ever!

Summing Up and Starting Out

Our Guide To Service

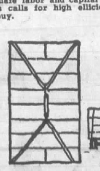
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

STRONG CATTLE PRICES are expected to remain during most of the summer. Currently, prices of slaughter cattle are running about 25% higher on most classes than a year ago. Market will come under greater pressure by fall. Carry cattle to top finish to profit from grade premiums. The strong fat trade has been a major factor in the feeder market, also. Prices should be steady to higher in the near term. By late summer a weakening trend is expected.

BEST HOG SYSTEM for a particular farm was determined in an Iowa study. It was found that raising and finishing hogs takes minimum capital and labor to produce a given volume of income. Feeder pig production works well where there is adequate labor and capital and limited corn available. Buying feeder pigs calls for high efficiency and skill in determining when to sell and buy.



TIE HAY BALES to a flat-bed trailer with this simple method. First tie one end of a rope to a rear corner of the trailer, run it up to about 4 feet ahead on the load and tie the other end on the other corner. Do the same on the front. Then use a wire stretcher to bring the ropes together on the top, as was done in the drawing.

HOLD MILK PRODUCTION UP this summer by following a careful management program. Feed high producers extra grain, feed supplemental hay or grain as pastures get shorter. Make certain cows have ample shade, and keep flies under control

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

In December and January I was told by the legislative leadership, with one exception, that there would be no tax action in this two-year period.

Now since then I have worked hard to bring to the attention of the legislature and the general public the need for tax reform and most importantly the need for fiscal responsibility—in other words, matching the expenditure with available revenue.

As a result of that program on my part, three things have happened.

1—Legislative leadership designated a bi-partisan group to work with me on taxes. When the legislative leaders continued to ignore my request to indicate how they want to get at the question of taxes this session, I finally wrote the Speaker and asked him to designate the committee to work with me.

And he said if I would come down to his office—essentially he would be willing to discuss this. So I went down to his office and the thing I got down in his office was his designation of the Democrats in the House to work on a bi-partisan tax program in this session.

Then I started the present series of discussions with the tax committees of the two houses appointed by the two parties.

2—I kept emphasing the essentiality, the absolute essentiality, of fiscal integrity — my unwillingness to approve of a program with expenditures in excess of purely available revenue and surplus.

And the House action on taxes at least indicated some acceptance of this principle. Thus I have reason to believe that there has been greater legislative acceptance of this basic idea of fiscal integrity.

3—Now the third thing that has happened is that the legislative leadership has finally answered the question I began asking all along: "Are you in agreement that we need to take tax action now, including tax reform?"

Their recent statement: "That the purpose of the fall session is to give full consideration to the matters of tax and revenue," indicated that they agree that we needed to take action now.

I am hopeful that these changes will mean that they're prepared to recognize that if we really want to get a sound tax program at this time, we ought to work out a bi-partisan form of tax reform. I expect to pursue that with the utmost of my ability.

*

I KEEP reading stories through this state that the governor is trying to pass the buck on this program. I haven't been trying to pass the buck to anybody.

I have been trying to get this job done. And the best way to get it done is through bi-partisan cooperation. The easy thing for me to do would have been to put up a specific tax reform program.

That's been done three times and it has failed. I don't know why I should be such a dumb governor as to try for a fourth time what has already failed three times.

Now the other thing they imply is that they might want to take tax action next fall to support the expenditures that they approve at this sitting of the legislature. Well, I have made it perfectly clear that I am not prepared to approve an expenditure program that depends on tax action in some future date.

I am unalterably opposed to taking any chances with this state's reputation in light of the heavy cost of our financial irresponsibility in the past.

If expenditures exceeding revenue from present taxes and surplus are considered essential, then tax action supporting such expenditures should be taken now, not next Fall.

Yes — and they are these: use pen, never pencil; write the amount in words at the far left, and fill in the unused space with a heavy line; write the amount in figures close to the dollar sign; be sure that these two amounts agree; don't erase or make alterations; sign the check only when completed. Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Folks who plan to catch the fun during the coming National Soaring Meet in Adrian are going to have to become expert weather watchers.

That's the key to the sport, confides Jim Smith, the local architect who just finished 19th out of 43 competitors in the International Meet's open class at South Cerney, England.

One of the reasons the Nationals are being held in Lenawee County is due to the past accomplishments of Mr. Smith, who won the Nationals in 1962 and finished third last summer.

But he might not even be able to fly. His ship was extensively damaged in a crash the final day of the International Competition.

Right now, he's busy trying to "hitch a ride" in another ship.

The mishap took place during a distance task with Jim attempting to squeeze out every last mile. He had to maneuver his sleek, all-aluminum sail plane over a covey of trees, then bank sharply and land in an open field.

He just didn't have enough altitude for the turn, clipped a branch and one wing dug into the turf, flipping the plane into a cartwheel. Jim escaped unhurt, but his ship must go back to the manufacturer for extensive repairs.

Incidentally, the United States team of four men did OK in England. Wally Scott of Odessa, Tex. was No. 6 in the Standard Class, which is for ships under 50' wingspan and Rich Schreder of Bryan, Ohio, No. 15.

The Open Class, for ships over 50' wingspan, found Dick Johnson of Dallas, No. 18, one rung ahead of Jim.

NOW, BACK to weather watching and the Adrian meet.

A total of 71 sail pilots have entered, which is an all-time high for the Nationals. They'll be arriving this weekend, with practices set for Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Fans can soon become attuned to the best flying conditions and thus have an idea of when the planes will be going up.

If the day is blue and wisps of clouds floating about, it will be good soaring weather, especially if a cold front has recently passed through the area.

Sail plane pilots fly on thermals, warm air currents from the ground which knife through the chilly layers. You know that old saw about warm air rising.

Normally, this means that takeoffs will start between 10 and 1 p.m. after the surface air is warmed up. Depending on the "task" for the day — each will have a different requirement for the competitors — planes will take off until about 2 p.m.

About 75% of assignments-of-the-day, will be timed races around a triangular course of from 80 to 200 miles.

This means spectators will want to be on hand for takeoffs, as a dozen tow planes haul crafts up to 2,000 feet, release them and they climb in huge circles until conditions are perfect, then dive across a starting line at about 3,000 feet, off on the run.

In short order, all the ships are gone and there's only a vast emptiness for spectators to view. The planes will return in from two to four hours, flash over the finish line, sometimes two and three at a time — again exciting watching. Each plane is clocked on elapsed time for the task.

★

THE REMAINING days will be devoted to races to goals or free flights, which means a start for viewers and that's it. The planes will be touching down up to 400 miles from the field.

A person must be on hand for the action or that's it.

The Nationals are being sponsored jointly by the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce and the Adrian Soaring Club. The meet runs to July 10.

New Drive-In Church To Open

New facilities have been built since the tornado. The opener features the Spurlows in "Face the Music," a story which will be understood and enjoyed by the whole family.

New School Hours Called 'Ridiculous'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Some Pupils Would Have To Board Buses at 6:30 a.m.

By JIM LINCOLN

Residents here should be thankful that the once familiar school bell of yesterday is no more.

New school hours — different from those established just last month — were approved Monday night by the School Board.

Rural students will now be able to wake up the chickens, instead of getting up with them.

If hours approved this week are effective come the fall term, junior and senior high students will be at their desks at 7:30 each morning. Following lunch, classes will adjourn at 2:30 p.m.

Elementary students, grades one through six, will attend classes from 9 to 3:30.

Dr. Fred Freeman, sole board member opposing the new hours, called them "ridiculous." He said it was unreasonable to have students boarding buses at 6:30 to attend school.

Lack of buses to transport the students is the reason for adjusted school hours. Sufficient buses are not even available to continue the hours effective during the 1964-65 term.

Fourteen buses would be needed to transport all students at the same time and have hours more attractive for students, teachers, administrators and parents.

At a recent meeting at Patterson School, several boardmen and school officials huddled with parents to discuss hours. At that time, a majority of parents favored hours adopted Monday night, over hours scheduled in May by the Board.

Those hours were 8 to 3 for junior and senior high; 9 to 3 for grades one, two and three; and 9 to 4 for grades four, five and six.

★

ELEMENTARY principals have voiced opinions that elementary pupils should not have classes after 3 p.m., saying that the youngsters are too tired and learn little that late in the afternoon.

With hours now planned, the young pupils will have an activity period of a half hour or so just before school lets out.

TRAFFIC CHANGE — It'll take Tecumseh drivers a while to get used to the idea, but no longer is it legal to make a left turn at the City's Four Corners. Last Friday the State Highway Department installed a "no left turn" sign at the intersection and eliminated the left turn lanes.

Ray "Pig" Newton, popular Tecumseh High School football assistant coach for the past three seasons, will be head football and wrestling coach at Jackson Northwest High School. Coach Newton is a graduate of Clinton High School and Adrian College.

New Nine May Open on Fourth

With tongues in cheek, construction committee members of Tecumseh Country Club are setting plans to open the new nine-hole layout on July 4.

A trial foursome played the layout last week with this reaction:

► Greens are in surprisingly good shape.

► Fairways need work, although one player noted, they're "about as good as the ones on the first nine were when it was opened back in 1949."

Two of the players, Frank Purcell and Charlie Butler, are charter members of the club and Mr. Purcell, as first president, drove out the original ball from atop a gold tee.

Last week, after hitting a high drive from first new hole, which will become No. 2 on the front nine, Mr. Purcell mused, "As I recall that one (back in 1949) was a blooper, too."

The foursome discovered many weeds among the grass along the fairways and the rough to be just that.

All the greens were challenging and in advanced condition.

Mr. Butler, who is a member of the committee, reports that a "bang-up program, befitting the occasion" is being set up for the Fourth — if the decision to open the new nine is affirmative.

Ricky Moran, club greenskeeper, was lauded by the trial foursome for his dedicated labor in building the course addition. He joined the group to play several of the holes and proved as adept with a driver as he is with a rake.

The long, dry spring has hampered the planned growing period for the fairways, although the new watering system has run most of the days in recent weeks.

Others on the construction group are R. H. Moore, Fred Randall, William Furry, Al Merz, William Hanna, Paul Gilliland and Mr. Purcell.

Council Approves Installing Sewer on N. Union St.

Council unanimously approved a special assessment district for installation of a sanitary sewer on N. Union St., north of Pontiac Trail in the Kerby Heights Subdivision.

Louis Caterina, largest property owner affected by the assessment, objected to the sewer

Mr. Caterina protested at the June 7 meeting when Council scheduled a public hearing for Monday night.

Board Accepts New Classrooms for Sutton School

Two new portable-type classrooms were accepted by the School Board Monday night for the elementary school at Sutton.

The two units, to be paid for by state aid and the Intermediate School District, headed by county superintendent Milton Porter will be installed just north of the present Sutton school and east of Lenawee Institute.

Tecumseh is receiving the two classrooms after agreeing to administer the school program for physically handicapped youngsters who will be attending Lenawee Institute.

These pupils were formerly taught at Michener school, and their program came under the Adrian school administration.

Installation of the units are expected before school starts in September.

'Will God Let Her Come Back?'

"When I told her that Miss McCann had died, she said, 'Mama, if I send her a get-well card, will God let her come back? I love her so much.' "

This was part of a letter sent to The Herald by an Adrian mother, Mrs. Alton C. Mathis, whose nine-year-old daughter, Debbie, was a student in the special education class taught by Mary Pat McCann, who died suddenly June 7 at the age of 27.

Mrs. Mathis asked, "would you please write an article about this exceptional lady as a sort of memorial?"

The Herald asked one of Miss McCann's associates to prepare such a story.

By MRS. RAY BETZOLDT
Special Education Teacher at Tecumseh Acres

In 1960, the Tecumseh School System began a Special Education program. The purpose was to take children, who had learning difficulties, out of the classroom and put them into a room, where there would be fewer pupils and the teacher could give them more individual attention.

The administration made a wise choice when it hired Mary Pat McCann as the first teacher for this program.

These children needed understanding, guidance and skilled help. Miss McCann was the person to do this.

She was a teacher the children could depend upon. She was understanding of their problems and was ready to listen to them and give them love and guidance whenever they needed it.

She helped these children to overcome the earlier disappointments and difficulties they had come up against in their first school years.

Her classroom was a pleasant, happy, relaxed atmosphere where every day each child was given an opportunity for self-expression, socializing and self-realization.

MARY PAT McCANN

Her whole concern was for the children with whom she was working.

Only a few days before her death, she was filled with excitement as she told about her plans for the coming year and of the new techniques she was going to use to help her to be even more successful in her work with these exceptional children.

Mary Pat McCann was truly a dedicated teacher.

Board Honors Miss McCann

The Tecumseh School Board honored Mary Pat McCann Monday night when members approved a resolution of appreciation.

Miss McCann, a special education teacher and considered one of the finest teachers in the Tecumseh schools, died June 27.

She had taught here since 1960

The resolution is to be given to her mother, Mrs. Helen McCann.

THS Cheerleaders Capture 2 Ribbons

Tecumseh Varsity cheerleaders are proud possessors of second and fourth place ribbons won at the Cheerleader's Camp at Waldenwoods, near Hartland, June 16-19.

The second-place ribbon was for a cheer made up at camp. The fourth place ribbon was for presenting a cheer learned at camp.

Yell leaders who attended from THS are Karen Miller, Karen Gottschalk, Janis Linger, Diane Lake, Debbie Goldsberry and Linda Oberlin.

The camp was directed by Pauline Hess, Michigan State cheerleading advisor, and her staff included cheerleaders from several state universities.

★

MANY NEW cheers, chants and songs were learned during the three days of vigorous activities.

Each group had an opportunity to present pep meeting skits, pom-pom routines, individual talent or cheers at the evening programs.

Attending were 25 squads from all over Michigan, Iowa, Ohio and Indiana.

The Tecumseh cheerleaders are appreciative of the public patronage at the June 12 car wash which made their camp week possible.

Dave Schoonover, the AAA man, has come up with an idea which received Council OK Monday and is "on its way." Dave has devised a plan to get the Community Center waterwheel rolling on a regular basis, including having it lighted at night. "It is a wonderful landmark for the city," says Dave. The whole idea will cost only $125 and instead of asking business firms for donations, Dave has come up with a Person-to-Person Program with 125 people giving $1 each. Those wishing to donate, may leave a buck at city hall for Tecumseh Waterwheel.

Some volunteers are needed to help out Saturday at Camp O' the Hills to move more tent platforms. They should report to Hill House by 9 a.m.

In addressing graduates of Jackson Junior College, Lt. Col. James McDivitt noted, "It's vitally important, no matter what you're doing, to get along with people."

He noted that this is "an explosive time when scientific technical knowledge is increasing at rates never before experienced in history.

[illegible] will never [illegible] will have to keep your mind active and fresh throughout your career."

And to think some kids will drop out of school.

Mrs. Albert DeJonghe presented her husband with a unique gift on their 24th wedding anniversary June 21.

A baby girl, their 15th child, was born to the couple at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The children range in age from the two-day-old to her brother, Richard, 23, who is in the army.

Others in the family are Robert and Rosalie, Mrs. Jerry Hawkins, Allen, Annette, David, Dennis, Rosemary, Sylvia, Kathy, Delores, Julia, and Edwin.

A little girl born in December of 1963 is deceased.

If a "Very Concerned Parent" will identify herself, The Herald will print her letter. We cannot run missiles unless they are signed — but we will withhold the name if the writer requests.

Saline is deliriously happy over its new Ford plant, which will employ 1,000. The Saline Reporter revealed that the project started May 19 — all top secret — with zillions of meetings for city officials, some of whom went nearly 48 hours without sleep to make everything right. This included a harrowing ride to Lansing for a session with the State Highway Department by Mayor George Johnson and Councilman George Anderson, who passed through the edge of a tornado as it struck Mason. Their car radio went out in a blast of static and the wind picked up their vehicle and shoved it into another highway lane. Said the mayor, "We decided we were going to the meeting even if we had to arrive by air."

Teen agers who seek summer work may have a free classified ad in The Herald's next edition. Limit them to 20 words, kids, and state the sort of work you'd like — baby sitting, lawn, clerking, tutoring, etc. At the same time, The Herald would welcome requests for young help from merchants.

Petunias around the telephone poles down by the Hayden Fuel and Supply Co. on S. Evans St. brighten a spot that would otherwise be most drab.

Hurrah for McDivitt and White. Tecumseh's 22 representatives arrived at Wolverine Boys State just in time to retrace their steps to Jackson and be in the parade for the astronauts last Wednesday.

Ed Jones, serviceman at Jim Lawson Television, is thinking maybe he'd better take a few courses in foreign language. He's trying to repair a Jaguar auto radio and the manufacturers diagram for the set is in French, German and Spanish — but no English.

A psychologist from the University of Illinois claimed at a recent meeting of his fellows in New York that newspaper men had the highest anxiety level of any American occupational group which he had studied so far. They were even more anxious, he said, than navy frogmen, pilots in training, and business executives. The fear of drowning, flaming death in an air crash, and bankruptcy is less than that of sounding like an idiot in print — just as we had always thought.

A colorful, 6-inch snake with definite brown and white markings and a white Y at the back of his head — was killed Thursday morning on a farm near Tecumseh by Dan Schultz.

Mrs. George Schroeder brought it into The Herald, but our Boy Scout editor couldn't identify it, can you?

The Herald inadvertently printed last week, "the late Mrs. Burch," in the article pertaining to Dr. Larry Burch.

Mrs. Burch, the doctor's mother, is very much alive.

The hardest part of getting to the peak of success is getting through the crowd at the bottom.

At exactly 1 p.m. on July 4, a great chorus of church bells will begin ringing in every city, town and village across the state. The bells will chime for four minutes in solemn tribute to our country's founders, to remind us of the real meaning of this great national holiday and as a rededication to our national unity and undying devotion to our country and for what it stands thanks to YMCA Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs who sponsor the idea.

MRS. SYDNEY TURNER

Mrs. Turner Gets B.S. from MSU

Mrs. Sydney Turner, 111 Pine St., received a B.S. degree in interior design from Michigan State University Sunday.

Mrs. Turner, mother of four, has been studying through correspondence to earn her degree, but she does not plan for employment until her children are all of school age.

Two open houses were held in Lansing Sunday in her honor.

One preceded commencement exercises and was at the home of her mother, Mrs. Clyde Williams, with many of the family from Pontiac attending.

Another reception for relatives and friends was held afterward at the home of Mrs. Turner's father, Avery Wade.

Others besides the Turners attending from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Wynn Matteson and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dermyer.

The Turners have four children, Lucinda, Melissa, Katherine and David.

Graduation Party Is Held Honoring Walter Zarnoch

A graduation reception for Walter Zarnoch was held June 12 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zarnoch.

A dinner for the immediate family was served preceding the ceremonies.

Nearly 50 relatives and friends from Toledo, Ohio, Dundee, Clinton, Petersburg, Ida and Tecumseh were served a smorgasbord supper featuring a book-shaped cake made by Mrs. Vincent Charzempa, Walter's aunt.

4-H Club Plans Swimming Outing

Members of the Raisin Cane 4-H Club will meet July 8 at the Holloway Firebarn and from there go to the Bob Murray residence on Green Hwy. to go swimming.

Twenty new members were initiated at the June 24 meeting.

Original Poem Read

An original poem and a resolution from the City Council highlighted the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred G. Waldron June 12 at the Methodist Church.

The poem, written by Clara Waldron, was read by Mrs. Wilbur Boyce and preceded the reading of the resolution by City Clerk Naomi Sallows, which declared Wilfred Waldron to be an honorary citizen of the City of Tecumseh.

Nearly 250 attended the event, which included the renewing of the marriage vows of the honored couple in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Donald Porteous.

Vocal solos were sung by Jamie Danforth, Mrs. Lucille Miller and Wilfred R. Waldron, son of the anniversary couple.

Mrs. Paul Brantingham presented a piano solo. Mrs. Donald Bush presided at the organ during the wedding ceremony.

In keeping with a neighborhood tradition, Dean Van Valkenburg, long-time friend of the Waldrons, played a harmonica selection to close the program before the reception in the church social rooms.

The joyous occasion was planned by the couple's children, Mrs. William Munn of Waynetown, Ind., Mrs. John Hamilton and Wilfred R. Waldron of Scottsdale, Ariz. and their families.

Fifty Years, You Say — Oh, No! Just a Memory Ago

Memories of youthful toil;
Pride in products of the soil;
Children's laughter, tears and fun,
Joyce, Winona and then Son.

Comrades all, in work and play,
Making each a happy day;
Growing up, and greater joys—
Seven, welcome, girls and boys.

Pleasure in the great outdoors;
Trips that led to distant shores;
Music, like a silver thread,
Winding through the years that sped.

Church and clubs and work and friends
By that path that slowly wends
To this time, with memories sweet,
When the day and sunset meet.

Fifty years, you say — Oh, no!
Just a memory ago.

Too Much Sugar Is Cited as Cause of Heart Trouble

High consumption of sugar and carbohydrates should be considered a contributing cause of coronary heart disease, according to the University of Michigan community health study.

These findings are cited by seven doctors from the university's department of epidemiology and the full report is found in the current issue of "Annals of Internal Medicine."

This report also indicates that blood sugar levels may be relatively more important than serum cholesterol or high blood pressure.

In commenting on their investigation, the Michigan doctors stated that "much of the current therapy or prophylaxis of vascular (heart and blood vessel) disease depends upon effects to lower serum cholesterol."

★

"PROPONENTS of fat restriction support their position with impressive statistical evidence of a direct relationship between the level of the serum cholesterol and the incidence of coronary heart disease," they said.

"As yet, however, there is no proof that levels of cholesterol attainable with a tolerable diet prevent or delay the progress of atherosclerosis," the report said.

One of the doctors, Dr. Leon D. Ostrander, emphasized the importance of a thorough examination of each heart disease patient because of the variety of biochemical differences among individuals.

The doctors questioned the value of effectiveness of treatment of heart disease through efforts to lower the cholesterol and sugar levels in the blood.

It would still seem reasonable, the doctors pointed out, to limit fats and carbohydrates in the diet to reduce body weight.

Resident Wants Summer School

A request for summer school in the Tecumseh schools was made Monday night by Ray Schlegel, local resident.

He cited the need here by students who need to make up classes and now have to attend summer school at either Clinton or Adrian.

James McDowell, superintendent of schools, explained that each class should have 20 or more students and that past experiences showed not enough students were interested.

Aden Mead, school board president, suggested a meeting between the board, the superintendent and Neville Hart, high school principal, to determine if interest now warranted summer classes.

City To Purchase New Pickup Truck

Purchase of a pickup truck from Schneider Chevrolet-Buick was approved by Council Monday night.

Schneider's bid of $1,632 was low. Other bids were Tecumseh Motors, $1,637; and Tecumseh Equipment, $1,685.

21 School Bus Drivers Take Course

Twenty-one bus drivers of the Tecumseh School District have been awarded certificates for completing the needed 12 hours of prescribed instructions offered by the Michigan School Bus Driver Education Program.

It was conducted by Eastern Michigan University.

Among them are:

Bessie N. Adams, Mae K. Anderson, Annie Bailey, Elizabeth J. Bishop, Olin E. Crosby, Glennis L. Curran and Suzanne M. Dicks.

Arthur E. Fritz, LaJoyce Glascock, Dorothy J. Goldsberry, Carol L. Hammack, Fay G. Kempf, Virginia L. Kish and Eloise R. Mattis.

Madeleine Shelton, Arthur A. Snyder, Jean Vargo, Wanda L. Ward, Dorothea M. Warren, Harold L. Warren and Harold W. Anderson.

Computer To Handle Phone Bills

General Telephone customers in the Tecumseh area will be introduced to a modern, computer-processed billing format in July billing, Ken Conway, district manager for the company, has announced.

The Tecumseh district includes the Britton, Clinton, Saline, Tecumseh and Tipton exchanges.

"With the recent addition of our new computer at Owosso, we can now offer more complete and more informative billing for our customers," Mr. Conway said.

Customer information, such as long distance call data, will be included on a single bill form rather than on several supplementary sheets, he said.

Plans now call for the introduction of the new billing process to all customers in the 463 Michigan communities served by General Telephone.

In removing some bricks from their tornado-damaged farm home, the Martin Halleys discovered an interesting jotting of figures on one, made while the brick was still soft. Someone had noted 3.60x6 equals 21, which probably was the fellow's wage for six days of labor. Other bricks have finger prints in them. The home was built in 1885 and purchased by the Halleys 18 years ago.

There is at least one disillusioned 12-year-old boy in town. He found a kitten, which his parents wouldn't let him keep. So he went to the police station to see if arrangements could be made with the Humane Society. He was told, "Why don't you just toss it into the river."

√

Apologies are due to Mrs. Douglas Palmer of Britton for the caption under the blood bank picture last week, which gave her name as Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks. It was really Audrey, who should get the credit for giving blood. Her husband Doug Palmer has been employed at the Products for many years.

√

Tom Cubberly, 16, was really up in the clouds when he celebrated his birthday Saturday. He made his first solo flight from Meyers Airport where he has earned a student pilots license.

√

A can of beans really doesn't care what the price on it's label is, but the grower, canner, seller and consumer does, therefore price control is actually people control.

She grows roses by the dozen.

Miss Gertrude Van Vleet, 108 N. Maumee St., brought a stem of fourteen to the Herald office Monday from a bush in her yard.

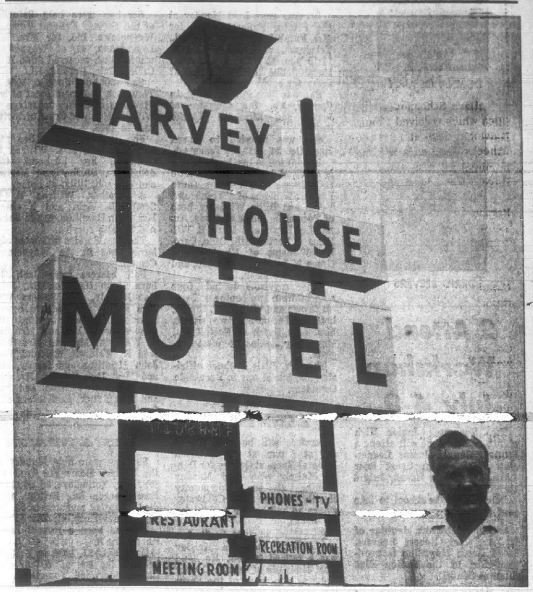
VOICE of THE HERALD



HARVEY CARPENTER STANDS IN FRONT OF THE SIGN FOR HIS $170,000 MOTEL.

First Class All the Way

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carpenter, owners and managers of Tecumseh's newest motel, The Harvey House.

Located on west M-50, it contains 21 units of modern accommodations — first class in every respect. The new facility, scheduled to open in another week, is an excellent addition to the community.

Mr. Carpenter, who has operated an eating establishment the past 10 years on a site just east of the new motel, is well aware of the need for additional motel rooms in the city. Diners at his restaurant who stopped in Tecumseh on business, often ended up staying in Adrian because everything locally was booked.

The Harvey House will have a meeting room capable of seating nearly 80, ideal for small conventions. As any businessman knows, conventions mean more income for the city's merchants.

Even as workers scurry to finish the new motel, Mr. Carpenter has been asked about possible reservations — representatives of the National Soaring competition want to book The Harvey House solid for two weeks, a fraternal state golf tournament in Adrian needs rooms, the National Corn Picking contest is looking, too.

In addition, Tecumseh Products Co. has a sales meeting for 100 from all over the USA and is lining up places for the men to stay.

The Carpenters plan to stage an open house so that area residents may tour the new motel just before it is opened to the public.

Citizens of Tecumseh definitely will have something of which to be proud as one inspection of the completed motel will quickly prove.

By KATHRYN M. SOMMERS

Editor's note — Currently a student at the University of Arkansas, Tecumseh resident Ray Sommers, is on the Adrian College faculty. While he labors over the books, studying on a National Science Grant, his wife, Kathryn, is pouring over a hot typewriter. This is one in a series of articles she has prepared for The Herald.

Fayetteville, Arkansas, home of the Razorback Hogs who are football champs of the recent season, is a lovely city.

The trees and foliage haven't lost their fresh-green look of spring. Probably that's due to the fact that it has rained at least once in every 24 hours we've been here.)

Its newest buildings are beautiful in design, featuring open beams and lots of glass, its people friendly and hills frightening.

I haven't seen so many hills in a city since we visited San Francisco. Our apartment, a duplex, rests on the side of a slope and the drive is sheer horror.

The three University students who rent the other half have [illegible] pity on us [illegible] verines and given us the only flat spot around for our parking place. They somehow manage to hang their own cars on the slants with no apparent trouble.

★

FIRSTHAND we've seen results of the battle for integration in Arkansas. While we were eating supper one evening in the small restaurant operated by the Town House Motel a Negro family entered, was seated and served.

Probably ours were the only eyebrows raised. The fortyish mother and father, their young married daughter and teenage son enjoyed the same privileges and service as the other customers present. It was a good sight.

★

ON OUR TRIP from Michigan through Illinois and Missouri to Arkansas along Route 66 was practically without incident.

That highway, the granddaddy of all four-lane, divided highways is still sturdy and in many parts of Missouri affords some gorgeous mountain scenery.

★

TOWARDS ONE HOT evening in the little town of Eureka, Mo., just off 66 we came upon a scene which I titled "The Weary Travelers."

A couple in their early 20's was thoroughly immobile. Their car, bearing an Ohio license plate, had obviously failed them.

The space under the hood was an empty maw, its contents laid out carefully along side.

The young wife was a study in frustration. She'd done all she could to help her mechanic-minded husband, but you guessed that a knowledge of mechanics wasn't a part of her basic equipment.

Wearing crumpled shorts and blouse grimy with the day's travel, she sat on the curb dejectedly taking one stone after another from the gravel beside her and idly tossing it into the air.

Was she thinking that no motel would accept them for the night?

★

PERHAPS, as the young husband was absolutely covered with grease from his crewcut head to his canvas sneakers. The once-white T-shirt and the khaki pants were greasy beyond laundering.

Grease even almost covered the tattoos on his forearms. He was doing his best for the ailing vehicle, but an observer detected discouragement.

It was plain to see that it had been necessary to almost completely unload the trunk to get at the tools necessary for the job. An overturned plastic wastebasket was under the car, supporting some portion of it.

Probably these youngsters had little money hence Mister must toil by himself. I couldn't help hoping that the trouble would soon be remedied.

Such is travel, USA.

Toledo Zoo Is Visited by Brownies

Members of Brownie Troop 238 accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Harry Withrow Jr., and Gayle Richardson, went to the Toledo Zoo for their last meeting.

Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. Avery Lee are the leaders of Troop 310.

Board Talks But Doesn't Settle Much

Much discussion but few decisions resulted from one of the shortest meeting of the board of education.

Members adjourned at 11:25, about an hour earlier than usual.

Decision included:

Fees from students for chemistry and biology for the 1965-66 terms.

Scheduling of the next meeting for July 6.

Discussions dealt on:

Construction of new Junior High addition.

School finances.

Teachers' salaries and increments, and compensation for teachers for outside experience.

Raising mileage payment for employees from eight cents to 10c a mile.

Salaries for custodians and secretaries.

Possible expenditures if the schools receive an additional $40.000 in state aid.

Mrs. Katherine Cobb recently elected to the board, attended the session.

Her two-year term will start at the board's organizational meeting on July 6.

Former THS Students Wed

Joan Langham and Lance Corporal William O. Bishop were united in marriage Saturday in the First Baptist Church in Tecumseh.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Langham, 706 Outer Dr.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop, 113 Maple St.

The Rev. Blair Bashore performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. James Danforth was the soloist. She was accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Vera Jane Smith.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white silk organza with a fitted bodice, scooped neckline featuring organza roses at the shoulders and triple-tiered kabuki sleeves. The full skirt ended with a chapel train.

Matching organza roses held her elbow length veil. She carried a cascade of Snow Song roses.

The groom wore his Marine dress blues.

The maid of honor was Candy McEnroe.

Betty Bishop, sister of the groom and Susan Hohenstein were the bridesmaids. Mary Kay Bishop was a junior bridesmaid.

The attendants were gowned alike in white cotton brocade with all-over embroidered rosebuds in varied shades of pink. White ribbon headbands were worn.

They carried nosegays of dusty pink roses centered with cascade arrangements of Happiness roses.

Richard Graham of Onsted was the best man.

The ushers were Gus Bishop, brother of the groom, Kent Lucas, Jeff Langham, brother of the bride, Gregg King and Bill Bailey of Britton.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the Baptist Youth House after the ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Prettyman as hosts.

The bride's table was skirted with white taffeta and nylon accented with pink satin ribbon and corner clusters of pink and Happiness roses.

★

Hurricane candelabra with arrangements of white pompon mums and pink roses flanked the tiered wedding cake.

Sharon Cubberly and Terry McEnroe served the cake.

Mrs. David Langham of Clinton, a sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Jerry Long of Lansing, a cousin of the bride, served coffee.

Punch was served by Elizabeth Ann Langham of E. Lansing, a cousin of the bride, and Mary Tressler.

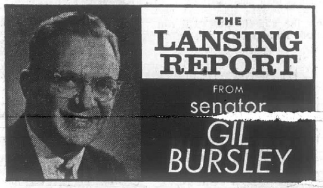
Debi Crawford passed the guest book.

The couple will live at New River, N.C., where the groom is in the Marine Corps.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

The groom is a 1963 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

The rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop in the Baptist Youth House.



House of Representatives action last Friday night called for a $6,250,000 cut in the Senate approved appropriation for the University of Michigan.

This action would not only be devastating to the country's outstanding state university but would also be catastrophic to Washtenaw County's economy.

Almost $5 million of this suggested cut would normally be disbursed in payrolls.

The Senate killed several proposed new taxes last week including a 5% business income tax, a real estate tax, and a beer tax reduction. We expect a session of the Legislature in October to consider the total tax picture. There is no point to piecemeal changes at this stage.

I made a motion in the Senate Appropriation Committee to strike out the $5,000 legislative pay raise voted by the House. This motion was approved by the committee and I think the issue is dead for this session.

Jaycee Auxiliary Sets Social Dates

Social meeting dates for the summer were set at the Jaycee Auxiliary meeting June 16 at the home of Mrs. Walter Elwartowski.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rundell will host the Chuck Wagon Social July 24 with Mrs. Elwartowski as chairman.

A profit of $109.25 was announced by Mrs. Marvin Nelson from the booth at the carnival recently.

Mrs. Dwight Helms, chairman of the Auxiliary for the Bloodbank, told of the members working on the June 10 project.

Mrs. Steven Kruger will be chairman for the July 4 rest stop.

Mrs. Rundell told of the "Weight Away" Club to meet once a week in her home.

Strawberry shortcake was served to the 17 present including Mrs. Charles Rickett and Mrs. Karl Kleinschmidt.

Mrs. Elwartowski, Mrs. Earl Nisbett and Mrs. Rundell went to the Girl's Training School Thursday to entertain the girl's badge club and serve refreshments as part of the national project for emotionally disturbed children.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Helms, Mr. and Mrs. Nisbett and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wonderly left Saturday for the Jaycee National Convention in Buffalo, N. Y.

July 4 Is Big Day in Town

Tecumseh will be the scene of much activity again this year on July 4.

Even though the holiday comes on Sunday, all of the events are scheduled to happen on that day and not on the following Monday.

Beginning with the Dawn Patrol breakfast at the Tecumseh Airport at 7 a.m., six events will be on the day's agenda.

Following the breakfast, which the public is invited and urged to attend, the VFW will hold a chicken barbecue at noon.

The afternoon's activities will feature a water ball contest involving the Tecumseh Fire Department at 1 p.m.

At 2 p.m. there will be a pony pulling contest with 16 trophies being awarded to the ponies who pull the most weight in proportion to their body weight.

A fireworks display at 9:30 on the athletic field will conclude the day's activities.

Just prior to the fireworks, there will be a drawing held to give away valuable gifts such as an air conditioner, a movie camera and complete fishing equipment.

Throughout the day, there will be skydiving exhibitions and plane rides at the airport.

Anyone wondering what to do with himself on July 4 should consider staying right in town as there will be plenty to do.

Father's Day Is Fun Day at Gruber's

Father's Day, June 20, was a special event this year for Carl, Jim, Joe and Uncle Joe Gruber.

It started when the fathers were greeted with corsages of radishes and weeds tied with string at the Joe Gruber residence.

The Dads were instructed to search for their fathers day gifts [illegible] clues on trees, poles and stumps about the yard.

A treasure hunt followed for live creatures including spiders, flys, night crawlers and worms. Carl was the first one finished.

After a few games of horseshoes and dinner, the group went fishing for the largest fish with only a part of a worm for bait.

This culminated in two big splashes when the men dumped Norma and Maxine Gruber in the water.

This didn't dampen the girl's spirits and they hurried home to clean, fry and serve the prize fish to the winner, Jim Gruber.

(Editor's note: Congratulations are in order for gals who made Father's Day such a memorable occasion for their men folk.)

Dennis Marsh and John Kennedy shared the pitching duties for Products Union.

► Mark Wegner's two-hit pitching sparked the Eagles to a 10-1 victory over the Indians.

'Necessities' Combo Has Incorporated Name

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Four enterprising young men of the area are making a name for themselves.

In fact, last week, they incorporated their name — The Necessities — and are officially in business as an instrumental quartet.

"We're available!" says Terry Hunt, the spokesman of the group.

Three of the quartet are Clinton youths, who play electric guitars. They are:

Terry Hunt, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hunt.

William Driscoll, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Driscoll.

Douglas Brown, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Brown.

Terry also capably handles the vocal numbers.

The youngest of the quartet is the drummer, Donald Osgood, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osgood of Onsted.

Among the youthful devotees of the "rock" beat, The Necessities are fast becoming well-known.

They appeared in the Clinton High School band variety show last winter and have performed at such places as the Tecumseh Teen Club and Clinton's Teen Can Teen, Allie's Resort at Wampler's Lake and at the Youth Center between Ann Arbor and Saline.

Well-groomed in trim matching outfits, these boys present a sharp appearance.

Wherever the youthful performers appear out-of-town, they have along their greatest fans — their parents.

4-H Club Gives $100

CLINTON — A community service project of the Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club culminated in the presentation last week of a $100 gift to Mrs. Latham Dewey, whose husband has been a TB patient in University Medical Center since Feb. 15.

The presentation was made by James Creger, top salesman for The Tecumseh Herald subscription drive, which contributed the major portion of the funds for the gift.

The club members also sold ball point pens for the project.

Mrs. Dewey expressed her appreciation on behalf of her family. Her son, Danny Dewey, is the official club photographer for the Hustlers.

Sheryl Aebersold was captain of the winning sales team, which sold 50 Herald subscriptions, cinching for them a treat provided by the losing team.

Bruce Grossman captained the losing team, which sold 26 subscriptions.

★

BRUCE GROSSMAN and Jimmy Woodward will arrange a hayride for a treat on a date in July.

Floyd Beatty was host for the June 14 meeting which was held at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jacobs. Twenty members attended and guests, Mrs. Latham and son, Mrs. Willis Davenport and Mrs. Charles Aebersold.

James Creger reported on his weekend in Detroit in May as a guest of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Barbara Vincent demonstrated "Packaging Meat for the Home Freezer."

Patty Aebersold demonstrated "Menus With Mutton" and prepared lamb kabobs.

★

DANNY DEWEY has been invited to take the official photos of the Share the Fun Contest for Lenawee County 4-H Clubs in July.

Sheryl Aebersold and Carol Davenport of the Hustlers have been named as two of the eight county delegates to the 4-H Citizenship Shortcourse to be held in Washington, D.C.

They will leave June 26 and go with a group from four nearby counties. Danny Dewey is the alternate.

A crop field day at James Woodward's home will be announced soon.

The next meeting date will be changed to coincide with the visit of a group of Iowa 4-H exchange youth to Lenawee County.

Two Iowa girls will be guests of Mary Ann Woodward and Patty Aebersold and will attend the meeting on June 29 at 8 p.m. in the home of James Creger.

'Spanish Neighbors' Is Program Theme

CLINTON — "Spanish Neighbors" was the theme for the program of the Methodist WSCS June 15.

The cooperative luncheon meeting in the church was attended by 15 members and the Rev. and Mrs. George Miller and family and a newcomer, Mrs. Raymond Kussmaul.

Mrs. Waldo Ennis presented the devotions.

Mrs. Wayne Powell had arranged the program which included Spanish songs by Debby Gibbard, Marcie Meyers, Rachel Miller and Barbara Hawkins.

Mrs. Charles Knight described her motoring trip into Mexico last winter. She displayed souvenirs and native foods which she brought home.

The next meeting of the group will be on July 6 at 8 p.m.

Joan Jones Married James Brown

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were spoken Saturday by Joan Jones and James Brown in the United Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orris Jones, 208 Division St.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Brown, 706 W. Chicago Blvd., Tecumseh, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul McKenna, pastor of the church. A bouquet of white gladioli and Majestic daisies graced the altar, which was flanked by palms and branch candelabra.

William Heimerdinger was the soloist. He was accompanied by the church organist, Mrs. John Fox.

★

AS THE BRIDE approached the altar with her father, she wore a gown of white nylon over taffeta. Sequin-trimmed lace appliques accented the bodice and the long tapered sleeves. The full skirt ended in a chapel train.

A pearl tiered crown held the bride's veil. A white orchid corsage centered her bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Northville was matron of honor.

The bridesmaids were Mary Timmins of Monroe, Gail Sullivan of Royal Oak and Cinthia Werth of Clinton.

The attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of blue crepe with empire styling. Each wore a headdress of veiling held with a light blue glamelia, and carried a white bone fan trimmed with blue glamelias.

★

SIDNEY BROWN of Onsted was best man for his brother.

The ushers were John Bauer of Clinton, Peter Lennington of Maceolona and Michael Dwyer.

A reception for 200 guests was served in the social room of the church after the ceremony by the women of the Priscilla class of the church.

Upon their return from a brief trip in Northern Michigan the couple will reside on Gier Rd., in rural Adrian.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Clinton High School. She completed her first year at nurse's training in Detroit June 10 and will resume her training in St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor on July 12.

Sports Illustrated

THROUGH MY WINDOW

SUMMING UP AND STARTING OUT

I couldn't do it. I just couldn't wrap up this year's trip west without mentioning Colorado. We had a marvelous drive across the southern part of the state on Route 160.

The weather was perfect and the snow-covered Rockies were dazzling in the bright sunshine. Crossing Wolf Creek Pass was quite an experience — on May 16 there was still over four feet of snow on the floor of the stately Blue Spruce forests.

And Wolf Creek, although we could hear water running, was still snow-covered. The water was bubbling along under the snow.

★

TRYING TO share the fun and excitement of a good vacation is frustrating. There simply isn't room to tell everything and the little things are apt to be neglected.

Little things like sitting in the car and having a big, handsome Steller's jay come so close that his whi[illegible] showed.

Really, these blue birds, with the black-crested head and shoulders, have two white streaks on their foreheads which look for all the world like eyebrows.

Other birds made good looking, too. It seemed that every martin house we saw had the "No Vacancy" sign out — the big, bluish-black martins were everywhere.

In fact, this was a good swallow vacation. Above every creek, little valley or wherever insects would be plentiful, the air was full of these sleek, graceful bug-eaters.

Hawks and vultures were excitingly numerous in the high plateau country and, of course, meadowlarks sang to us from almost every other fence post.

★

SPEAKING OF being serenaded, at the Gray Mountain Motel in Arizona, killdeer talked to us in their loud, plaintive voices until long after dark.

Had there been time to stop and listen, a beautiful song could have been heard beneath many of the cottonwood trees we saw. Streaks of brilliant orange and jet black flashed through so many of these cottonwood clumps — orioles.

Probably they were not the handsome Baltimores that we have, but from a quick glance that Mom and I had, we will name them Bullocks.

One of the major differences is in the head coloring — the latter has orange on his head whereas the Baltimore's head is a solid black color.

Wind was also a part of our trip. Starting our first afternoon out, we had it every day. Strong and drying, it was sometimes blistering hot and always it blew, blew, blew.

In Kansas we saw the rather ridiculous sight of roads being flooded and in near-by plowed fields dust devils twirling.

★

YES, IT was a fine trip. Before starting out next year, however, I think we shall add one book to our traveling library. Along with bird guides, wild flower and tree identification aids, I think we need something in the rock field. It is easy to see why people out there become geology buffs and rock hounds.

I am not going to plunge into politics, but just after we arrived home, President Johnson came out with an idea which we three must endorse wholeheartedly.

He proposed a ban on highway cluttering—auto junk yards and unrestricted billboard advertising are fast becoming a blight. Instead of enjoying our beautiful country at its scenic best, the highway traveler of today is finding more and more unsightly "messes".

Let's hope something can be done to keep America beautiful and let's hope that something will enable the motoring public to see our country at its best, not its worst.

★

OH MY, our vacation ramblings have run us out of space and I merely meant to wind up a few left-over trip ends, then start out on Tecumseh's Through My Window happenings.

Next week we shall be all settled down and back in the harness — our subject, "The Stranger who walks the creek.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the attention of this Municipality has been called to House Bill Number 2457, which is known as the Kelley Day Legislation; and

By PHILIP PIERSON

Tecumseh's newest motel, the Harvey House, should be open soon according to owner Harvey Carpenter.

"The upstairs units are completed enough to rent right now," Mr. Carpenter said.

The Harvey House is located on M-50 on the city's west side next to his Harvey's Grill.

The major source of delay now, according to Mr. Carpenter, is waiting for a sewer to be built under M-50 in front of the establishment.

The Harvey House will be equipped with most of the modern conveniences.

★

THERE WILL be 20 units with two double beds per unit and one two-room suite with a living room separate from the bedroom.

Each unit, 12 x 18 feet, will contain a private bath. One wall in every unit will be paneled and the floors will be covered with wall-to-wall carpeting.

There will be a television set and private phone in each unit.

Individual heating will allow the guest to control the temperature by regulating the thermostat in his unit.

★

THE MOTEL will feature hot water heating and chilled water air conditioning.

Coffee makers will be found in every unit for those desiring a hot drink during their stay.

In addition the motel will feature a meeting room and a recreation room.

The meeting room will seat up to 80 persons and be perfect for small conventions or group gatherings.

Mr. Carpenter plans to install a pool table and table tennis facilities in the recreation room.

Plans for a swimming pool are on the drawing board and will be added after the other construction is completed.

★

MR. CARPENTER and his wife, Doris, came to Tecumseh in 1955.

He purchased 16 acres of land and built the grill with plans of eventually constructing a motel.

READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

Since "blasting off" seems to be in the vogue these days I'd like to do just that concerning the Sells and Gray Circus held in town last week. It spelled inferior from the two piece band, to the bleachers without foot rests (which were held together with ropes only) and the dozen or so performers. The prices were high and the quality of performances low.

I hope the citizens of Tecumseh will adopt this as their motto for circus time next year:

"Stay away from Sells and Gray."

Who sponsored such a rinky-dink outfit?

TO THE EDITORS:

I wrote you a letter about five years ago when I tried to enter the contest for a vacation to Florida, but was considered ineligible since I live in Florida.

I also complained about the cold weather we were having that year. Well, now it is too hot here, up in the 90's every day. We will soon be visiting Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hall, who live across the street from The Herald.

I sure hope you have some cold weather for us. We'll be there June 27.

My folks still receive The Tecumseh Herald. See you next month.

BRITTON — Kathy Bailey and Marilyn Korican spent a five-day vacation at the New York World's Fair, returning June 16 by jet plane.

Boosters Seek Funds To Buy New Uniforms

BRITTON — A committee of the Band Boosters has been formed to raise money for new Tory band uniforms.

"The reason we decided to buy new uniforms instead of adding to the ones is that the band has doubled in number and we do not have enough uniforms," said a representative.

"Instead of adding to out-dated and faded uniforms, we would like to buy new ones that will stay in style for many years to follow," she added.

"We are selling popcorn and pop at the Little League Baseball games and plan to add other items. We are planning bake sales once a month, cake walks, dances, raffles, and concerts in the park.

"A chicken barbecue, which we hope to make an annual event, and other projects we trust will benefit our fund drive," the spokesman noted.

Members plan to canvass the entire school district for contributions.

Aowakiyas Seek Invitations

This summer Marilyn Bryan will have charge of the Marching Aowakiyas, in their pink and white uniforms.

The Indian title means "Band Together for a Purpose."

The group is interested in marching in parades and giving performances. No charge is made but donations are appreciated.

So far this summer the group has marched in the Safety-Check parade in Tecumseh and the Memorial Day parade.

The group is operated by mothers. An election was held and new officers took over June 1. They are:

Chairman — Mrs. John Escott
Co-chairman — Mrs. Marvin Ery
Secretary and treasurer — Mrs. Ralph Mull
Parade committee — Dorothy Vescelius
Publicity — Mrs. John Schoonover
Teacher — Marilyn Bryan

Further information or scheduling performances may be made by calling Mrs. Dorman Vescelius 423-4143 or Mrs. John Escott 423-3267.

Methodists Began Vacation Bible Classes Monday

BRITTON — The Ridgeway and Britton combined Methodist Church will have Vacation Bible School from June 21 through June 30.

It was not announced last week because several of the teachers' children had the measles, and there was some doubt whether they would be able to have the school.

All is well, however, and the school will continue as planned.

Mrs. Raymond Bird and Mrs. Dale Monagin are in charge of the 10-day school, which will be held at the Ridgeway church from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each day.

The classes are planned for children through the eighth grade.

Former Britton Girl to Marry Florida Airman

It is no accident that men, the world over, have built clocks into the steeples of their churches:

Reduce life to its simplest components and what have you? TIME and GOD.

Time marks the beginning of life. It measures the growth of our bodies. It provides opportunity for our work and play. It reveals to us our human limitations. And then, one day, Time leaves us behind . . .

But God is the origin of life. He measures the growth of our souls. He provides our strength and forgives our weakness. He reveals to us His limitless Love. And, never deigning to leave us behind, God beckons us on — even beyond the circle of time.

A parable then: the clock in the steeple!

Man finds material security and temporal happiness as he learns to respect Time.

Man finds spiritual security and eternal happiness as he learns to love God!

69 Compete Opening Day

HERALD PHOTOS BY TOM RIORDAN

GEORGE MOFFAT, JR., OF ELIZABETH, N. J., TOPPED 69 STARTERS IN CONTEST'S OPENING DAY

Skimming 130 miles over a designated course, George Moffat Jr. of Elizabeth, N.J. took the opening-day lead Tuesday in the 32nd United Stations National Soaring Championships, being staged at Adrian Airport.

Sixty-nine contestants, an all-time record number, were launched.

Wally Scott of Odessa, Texas, did 113.9 miles, to capture second place in the initial standings. Ben Greene of Elizabethtown, N. C., ranked third on 112 miles. In fourth spot was Rudolf W. Mozer of Bloomfield Hills, who sailed 110.3 miles.

Former national champion, Jim Smith of Tecumseh, whose plane was wrecked during the International Meet in England earlier this month, had to withdraw from all competition Tuesday when he failed to locate a replacement ship.

A free-distance task was assigned for Wednesday's action, with contestants going to the direction of their choice in an attempt to cover the most mileage.

Pilots meet each morning at 9 to learn of the day's action. Take-off time being at approximately 11 a.m. and this is the time spectators will see the most action.

Landings at Adrian Airport can vary greatly, based on the day's task.

First-day leader in National Soaring Championships was George Moffat, Jr., of Elizabeth, N. J., who is tucked into his cockpit by crew chief, Ralph Boehm.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

There was an unexpected thrill for me while photographing opening day action at the National Soaring Championships — a ride in Bill Davenport's two-seat plane.

Bill had been contracted to fly a motion picture lensman, who is shooting the meet for the Wide World of Sports television program.

About 45 minutes of air time were available and so Bill said "Come on," and into the rear cockpit this scribbler tumbled.

Bill's ship, owned jointly with Frank Bisher of Tecumseh, is a PT 26 trainer, used during World War II by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

If you get around Meyers Airport much, you'll see it parked there — the one with the Flying Tiger painted on the nose, a work of art done by Frank.

The ship was built in 1942 and never has been a minute of trouble to anyone. Sorta like a Model A to the car buff.

In order to get clear shots with that lovely new 105mm lens on my Nikkorex, Bill suggested pushing the canopy back. Believe me, it was real breezy. At 4,000 feet, a heavy jacket would have felt swell.

★

WHAT IS KNOWN in the trade as a Gosport tube allowed me to speak into Bill's chic headpiece, complete with ear phones.

He got my messages fine and would respond with a bellow or nod of the head.

We "shot" the sail planes from every angle, with Bill always showing great care not to get too close to interfere in the busy traffic pattern.

Contest officials did a tremendous job in launching the 69 ships, which took part in the opening day task, a run to Lima, Ohio, and back to Adrian, then to Bryan, Ohio, and return.

The launch schedule was at a plane-a-minute, with nine single-engine tow ships taking each sail plane up to 2,000 feet.

When all soaring pilots had gotten airborne, 75 minutes had elapsed — a scant six minutes over the schedule — proudly explained Werner Sommer, contest manager and head man at Adrian Airport.

Official starter Rudy Wolf of the Adrian Soaring Club and his team of assistants were hooking up two planes at a time, one would be off, then the other. About that time another tow plane would touch back down and taxi into position to grab the third.

Opening day was perfection.

Fellows of the Adrian Soaring Club and those from the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce, who are co-sponsors, are doing fantastic jobs of organization.

Fourth-A-Rama

The Shawnee Square dancers are inviting western style square and round dancers to the Fourth-A-Rama dance they are sponsoring at the Tecumseh Community Center July 4.

Eagle Rank Is Awarded 3 Scouts

Three Tecumseh Boy Scouts received Eagle awards during a campfire ceremony at Camp Kanestake on Washington Lake Wednesday.

Among the young men who reached Scouting's highest rank:

► Richard Roost, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Roost, 304 Herrick Park Dr.

► Dan Rodehaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rodehaver, 1008 River Acres Dr.

► Randall Disbrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Disbrow, 516 Seminole St.

Twenty-two Scouts are spending this week at the camp.

Couple Is Second in State Skate Meet in Hillsdale

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Flowers, 1107 Russell Rd., placed second to a Flint couple in the novice skate dance of the state roller skating meet at Hillsdale over the weekend.

The couple will compete in regional competition in Ohio this weekend. One point kept them from being the state first place champions.

Mrs. Flowers won second place in the senior ladies division and her husband won second with three men from Adrian in the men's relay competition.

AND GEORGE DID IT — On hand for the opening festivities was Gov. George Romney, who made a speech, then "ran a wing" in the ceremonial launching of Dean Fleming, president of the Adrian Soaring Club, oldest sail plane group in the state and host for the National competition. The governor, accompanied by his wife, flew from Lansing for the event, which was viewed by 1,500. He was lavish in praise for the area and especially the contest committee.

Tecumseh Will Bustle with July 4th Hustle

Tecumseh will be the scene of much activity Sunday with events ranging from an early morning breakfast at the airport to a fireworks display on the athletic field highlighting the July 4 celebration.

The breakfast, at 7 a.m., is being sponsored by the Exchange Club in conjunction with the Dawn Patrol at the Tecumseh Airport. Tickets for the breakfast, which is open to the public, are $1. The proceeds will go into the Athletic Field Bleacher Fund.

Beginning at noon the VFW is sponsoring a chicken barbecue that will last until people are no longer hungry for chicken.

At 1 p.m. the Tecumseh Firemen will hold a water ball contest behind the firebarn with trophies being awarded to the participants.

A pony pulling contest for 42" and 46" ponies will start at 2 p.m. The winners will be decided on how much weight the ponies pull in percentage to their own body weight.

There is expected to be more than 20 teams in the contest with a total of 16 trophies.

Throughout the day there will be skydiving exhibitions by the "Chuting Angels," and others. There will also be airplane rides given from the airport.

According to Orville Bishop, over 250 airports in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana have been sent invitations for this event and about 100 are expected.

In the evening there will be a fireworks display at 8:30 on the athletic field.

Preceding the fireworks, an 8 mm camera, a 7,500 BTU air conditioner and complete fishing equipment will be given away.

All of the events except for the Dawn Patrol breakfast will be sponsored by the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

Bookkeeper Retires After 18 Years

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Mr. McDowell is a wonderful person to work for," said Mrs. Margaretta Brisbin as she was interviewed by a Herald Reporter recently.

Mrs. Brisbin will retire as bookkeeper in the Tecumseh Public School system June 30.

She said, "I'm really looking forward to retirement with a great deal of pleasure, I have many things to do at home."

Probably foremost among the "many things" will be the piano lessons which she has been giving for years. In some cases she is teaching the third generation of a family.

Mrs. Brisbin is fond of children and the piano lessons keep her in touch with them, she says.

Eighteen years the bookkeeper in the Tecumseh system, Mrs. Brisbin is herself a graduate of THS in 1918. This was the year that the new high school, now the Junior High School building, was under construction.

★

CLASSES WERE held in various places about the village — mostly in the old Vandoma Hotel on S. Evans St., two blocks from the Four Corners.

Most of Mrs. Brisbin's classes were held in the basement of the Public Library, now the Board of Education building where she is employed.

"We really had no definite location and so finally graduated in the Opera House, now the Strand Theatre building," Mrs. Brisbin said.

After attending Brown Business University in Adrian, Mrs. Brisbin was a resident in the Toledo area for 24 years, employed in several county offices in Lucas County, the last being the Probate and Juvenile Court under Judge Alexander.

"I resigned this position to return to Tecumseh because of the failing health of my father, William Gibson," said Mr. McDowell's right hand gal.

Reminiscing, Margaretta said, "One evening in January 1947, William Berkhof, superintendent of schools, called my home to inquire if I would be interested in a position as his secretary and bookkeeper. I was employed and liked my work at Gerity Michigan Co. in Adrian but decided to make the change."

Mr. Berkhof accepted a position in Mt. Clemens and Earl Place assumed administration duties at THS.

MRS. MARGARETTA BRISBIN

During 1950 the new high school was built and with the increasing work load Mrs. Brisbin's sister, Mrs. Ruth LaPrad, was hired to assist.

After three years Mr. Place resigned and Mr. McDowell became superintendent, for whom Mrs. Brisbin has worked for 14 years.

She says of him, "He has been a wonderful employer, considerate, kind and understanding."

★

THROUGH annexation of 17 districts to Tecumseh's system, Mrs. Brisbin and her sister worked many evening hours.

With the increased enrollment, the budget increased from $180,000 in 1949 to about $1,500,000 in 1965.

Now that she will have more time, Mrs. Brisbin expects to take a more active part in organizations of which she is a member, the First Presbyterian Church, the Order of the Eastern Star (Greenwood Chapter), Business and Professional Women, Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and the Michigan Education Association.

She has always enjoyed the activities of her two nephews, William J. LaPrad, now in the Dental Services Detachment of the Army in Fort Dix, N.J., and Robert LaPrad, a student at Eastern Michigan University, who is also employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

Mrs. Harry Beland has been working with Mrs. Brisbin since last Thursday so that she will be ready to take over the many duties of the bookkeeping department in the local school system.

Interlochen Opens for 36th Year

INTERLOCHEN — Northern Michigan lakes and woods surrounding this arts institution exploded for the 38th consecutive year this weekend, as the eight-week National Music Camp season got underway.

Facilities of the 1,200-acre campus will be pushed to capacity for two months of music, dance, drama and art instruction mixed with swimming, sailing and softball for a total of some 2,500 students attending at some time during the summer.

Pianist Van Cliburn appears at Interlochen for the fifth straight summer, this year coming only once. It will be a July 15 performance with proceeds going for Interlochen scholarships.

Approximately 350 concerts, dance programs, operettas, plays and art displays are scheduled for the public during the activity-filled two months.

★

The campers range from eight years old through college level with a few being adults. Their summertime needs, from teaching to housing and meals, will be handled by the more than 850 faculty and staff recruited from throughout the country.

Interlochen's summer operation, which started with only 115 students when Dr. Joseph E. Maddy founded the Camp in 1928, already this year has shattered total attendance records.

Although each year has seemingly strained Camp facilities to the maximum, more people come every summer. This year the average weekly population during any given week will total about 2,700 students, instructors and staffers plus varying large numbers of visitors.

Building Begins at Junior High

Construction of a $100,000 addition to the Junior High started Monday at the south end of the present building.

The new addition will add about 7,500 square feet to the building, 70 feet by 108 feet on the outside, and increase the capacity to approximately 620 students.

Three large rooms are included, plus restrooms and storage areas.

The shop room for arts craft will be 38x80 feet; home making room, 35x40, with a divider to convert the room into two different rooms; and an all-purpose room, 36x40, also with a divider.

Team teaching, band and lunch areas are scheduled for the all-purpose room.

Student capacity of the one floor, brick addition will be comparable to the high school before last year's addition was constructed at the latter.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

When a hose, shooting hot tar on the street at the Four Corners, burst, the front of Ken-Ray Drug Store got a black bath, along with the walk in front of it. City workers eventually got the show windows cleaned, but in the meantime, people tracked a wide trail of goo into the store and it wasn't until midnight that the floor had been restored.

Those striking drawings of Tecumseh industries and their trademarks, which are displayed on the west wall of the United Savings Bank, were done by John Day, manager of Woolworth's. Say, that guy really has a talent.

Newest night club in the area opened Friday in Adrian. It's owned by Frank Dalton and Dr. Robert Murray, both of Tecumseh. Being completely smitten with the world of the theatre, they call the place, "The Stage." Beverages are non-alcoholic and the place mainly caters to young people. Hal Weakly of Tecumseh is manager.

This Thursday begins The Herald's annual distribution of 1,000 complete editions, for 10 consecutive weeks, to cottages throughout the Irish Hills resort area. The papers are hand-carried by a half dozen delivery boys right to the front porch. Merchants are paying for the distribution with the idea behind the promotion being to invite vacationers to do their shopping in our stores.

How about that? We did it again. A wedding story, that of nuptials for Sherry Shepard and Lt. Greg Mason, slipped through unnoticed by our bevy of proofreaders one week early. Old timers will remember (wish they could recall our smashing victories so well) back in 1958 when we told all about the wedding of Jane E. Smith and William N. Fischer a week before it took place. To Sherry and Greg, we say, "We're sorry."

More tornado news. Willis Davenport, working in a hay field one-half mile north of Taylor Rd., found a part of a check belonging to Wilmer A. Yergin, 512 W. Blvd., Elkhart, Ind., an apparent employee of Miles Laboratory.

Seems like the scrap of paper must have traveled more than 100 miles. Mr. Davenport plans to mail it back to Mr. Yergin.

How did this snake business get on my desk? Well, the snake on the George Schroeder farm has not been positively identified as yet but the family has come to the conclusion it was not fully grown and will therefore change somewhat to match pictures found in the nature books.

Mrs. Lena Butterworth of Ann Arbor spent considerable time in research and sent the names of several books showing her interest in the identification project.

For a third straight year, the George Underwood Ford agency was recognized by the Ford Motor Co. with an impressive certificate, which looks like this . . . .

The honor goes to selected agencies in recognition of "progressive management, modern sales and service facilities, sound merchandising practices."

And not to be outdone by Ford, the Mercury Division presented George with a plush red carpet for his office.

Did you get that highway map yet? Senator Gil Bursley has a few that may be obtained by writing him. See his column on another page of this issue of The Tecumseh Herald.

Mrs. Carmon Hyland of Occidental Hwy., called to say she read in The Herald about a certain nasty bug which has been attacking evergreens. This week, she happened to notice her own evergreen was covered with the inch-long bugs. They were gray and black, touched with yellow.

The voracious fellows had eaten all the needles from the ground to the top. Mrs. Hyland says she hastened to spray with Black Flag arsenic spray and got rid of the pests, but noticed afterwards that she had driven a mother bird away from her egg-filled nest in the tree.

Better have a look at your evergreens—.

Contrary to what was erroneously reported in The Herald last week, Harvey Carpenter did not build Harvey's Grill. It was built by Stanley (Red) Mack, and purchased from him by Mr. Carpenter and his wife, Doris, in 1955.

Nine boys and girls are looking for work in Tecumseh. They are taking advantage of The Herald's FREE classified ad offer this week. If you need help — give them a call.

Sanity Commission Denied by Judge in Scott Case

Circuit Judge Rex Martin has denied a motion by the prosecution to appoint a sanity commission to test the sanity of Wilbur Scott.

The 29-year-old army sergeant, who is accused of killing his wife in Britton March 26, has filed notice that he will plead insanity at his trial for murder. The trial is now scheduled for July 26.

The sanity commission was requested by Prosecutor Harvey A. Koselka so the people would have expert testimony of their own on the question of Scott's sanity. But Judge Martin said in a written opinion that the law does not allow it.

Judge Martin's opinion said: "We deal with a not too clearly drawn statute. We deal not with what ought to be the law, but what the law is. Before a sanity commission can be appointed, a petition must be filed stating sufficient facts to give the court authority to act. This requirement may place the prosecuting attorney in a dilemma. However, this is legislative command."

Mr. Koselka said that he gave the court all the information that he had relative to the alleged killer and even included a transcript of the preliminary examination in his petition.

Scott is represented by Alexander M. DesChenes.

He has been in trouble here before, and in other states. Shortly before he started a crime spree which crossed the country to the west coast, he was confined in a mental institution in Ohio.

Mrs. George Romney Unexpected Guest at Girls' State Session

By EMILY MANWARING

Mary Ann Allen, Susan Kennel and I had the honor and privelege of representing the American Legion Auxiliary of Tecumseh at Wolverine Girls State in Ann Arbor June 15-22.

The Wolverine Girls State is modeled, as nearly as possible, after the actual government of Michigan with necessary ommissions and modifications. The purpose is to emphasize the importance of government in modern life; to stimulate a deep and lasting interest in government, and to enlarge our understanding of governmental processes.

The basic method of Girls State, by which these goals may be achieved, is that of actual participation in the political and governmental process.

Every girl was able to participate in the electoral process and, in addition, hold at least one public office. No one person could serve in all the offices of government but a great deal was learned by observation of the activities of others.

There were basic political units of Girls State. The "state" is composed of 462 "citizens". They were all assumed to be of legal age and were organized as follows:

Twenty-one cities with 22 citizens in each, and seven counties with three cities in each.

The cities and counties were named for former department presidents of the American Legion Auxiliary.

★

NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS for public office was either partisan or non-partisan. Within each of these broad classifications there are several different methods of nomination.

In Michigan there are four types of nominating devices: caucus, petition, convention and direct primary. Each of these methods was used at Girls State.

Since government in the United States is carried on within the framework of a two-party system, each citizen upon arrival at Girls State, was assigned to either the Nationalist or the Federalist Party. It was expected that each citizen would adhere to her party identification throughout the nomination process. At the final elections, however, we had the opportunity to vote either a straight or a split ticket.

Mary Ann, a Nationalist, was from the mythical Byran City in Goetz County. She was appointed City Assessor by the mayor of Bryan City and successfully ran for the office of county Prosecuting Attorney. She also participated in the Girls State Chorus and soaked up the sun during our very rare recreation periods.

★

SUSAN, a Federalist, was from the mythical Collins City in Murphy County. She was elected judge of the Court of Appeals in her county and also participated in the chorus.

I was a Federalist from the mythical Miller City in Schrumpf County. Representing the Federalists as Party Chairman in my city, I was their voice at the county meetings and at the Federalists' Party Convention.

During the recreation period I played in the band, swam in the U of M indoor pool, and participated in tennis.

I was very privileged to personally know the Governor of Girls State, Mary Lou Keppen. The governor appoints three officials. I was very honored to have Mary Lou appoint me Highway Commissioner. This summer I am corresponding with the governor, the secretary of state, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. All three of these girls came from my county.

Each of the seven days at Girls State was loaded with things for us to do and people for us to meet. The first day we met Patricia Donaldson, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Michigan; Mrs. William J. Clarahan, National Committeewoman Judge R. Breakey of Ann Arbor; Dr. Harold Dorr, Dean of Statewide Education, and William W. Joy, Director of Department of Environmental Health and Safety.

LENAWEE GIRLS STATE — Lenawee County girls attending Wolverine Girls State on the University of Michigan campus were, from left, Marlys Richardson, Onsted; Deena Barshney, Onsted; Mollie Fish, Morenci; Linda James, Blissfield; and Emily Manwaring, Tecumseh. Congressman Weston Vivian, at the rear, addressed the citizens and administered the oath of office to elected "county officials" June 18.

MRS. GEORGE ROMNEY was an unexpected visitor.

Wednesday, there was a panel discussion on political parties in Michigan. Mr. Zolton A. Ferency, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Michigan, debated with Marvin L. Esch, State Representative of the 53rd District.

In two hours of organized quarrelling, most girls sided with Mr. Esch and his point of view because Mr. Ferency started calling names about Mr. Esch and his fellow Republicans.

Thursday, Wendal Hulcher, mayor of Ann Arbor, gave the oath of office to all elected city officials. He discussed the problems of city government.

Party conventions were held in Angell Hall Thursday evening. Each party nominated its state officials. There were demonstrations, confetti, songs, cheers, speeches, parading, pop bottles banging on desks and general confusion when it came to nominating one person out of four or five candidates for some of the offices.

The climax of the evening came when it was time to choose one girl to represent our party as Governor of Wolverine Girls State. The keynote speaker was Mrs. Clifford Kubert, vice-chairman of the Wayne County Democratic Committee.

★

THE MOST important day was election day on Friday. There were two speakers: Gustav A. Butterbach, Chicago Region U.S. Civil Service, and Weston E. Vivian, Congressman from the Second District, who gave the oath of office to the elected county officials.

The elections of the state executive officers took place during the talent show Friday evening.

My city ordered men's T-shirts from downtown Ann Arbor. We printed our names on them with felt pens and put on our version of the Mouseketeers with ears made from black construction paper.

Inauguration Day for all the elected officials was held on Saturday.

Greetings were extended by Duane T. Brigstock, commander of the American Legion, Department of Michigan.

There was a reception for the state executive officers after their inauguration.

The House and Senate held sessions to introduce bills.

Later Sunday, there was a general birthday party and jam session where everyone sang "Happy Birthday" to each other and had a fine time.

A mock trial was held on Monday, the last full day of Girls State.

I played the part of sergeant-at-arms and arrested four girls for contempt. They had previously been selected for their roles.

There was a final general assembly to present awards, certificates of attendance, Girls State pins and poppy corsages to all the girls.

★

TUESDAY meant sadness and general confusion. Most girls were crying as they said goodbye to their new friends. It was very difficult not to do so as you looked around and saw big tears streaming from everyone's eyes.

This last day didn't mean that those girls would then forget Girls State. We left with a mature appreciation of some of the basic strengths and weaknesses of the American system of government. We left with a firm resolution to make government a more effective and responsible servant of the people.

THREE-TIME WINNER — Bill Brodbeck of Bakersfield, Calif. flew a Meyers 200D, built in Tecumseh, to a third straight win in the Pendleton 100 International Championships. It's a race for single-engine ships with not more than 185 horsepower. Second place went to Don Wohlers of Tacoma, Wash. in a Beech Bonanza S35 and third spot was won by Bob Downey of Whittier, Calif., in a Piper Comanche 260. Eight planes took part in the event, which was 100 miles over a two-pylon closed course four miles long. Al Meyers, president of the local manufacturer, was on hand in Pendleton, Calif. for the event.

Dear friends,

A local citizen recently said, "I just can't make a personal call of sympathy when my friends are bereaved...I never know what to say."

We have observed that it isn't necessary to say anything. Your presence speaks for itself.

Friends mean more to a family, in time of bereavement, than anything else. The act of sharing their grief is deeply comforting.

Respectfully,
Lester D. Proctor

Woman Who Knows Baseball

Men always claim to know more about baseball than women, but in the Tecumseh Cub Minor League this may not be the case.

Currently the Braves remain unbeaten and they are managed by the only woman manager in any of the Tecumseh baseball leagues, Mrs. Clyde Locker.

Baseball is nothing new to Mrs. Locker, she has been in it for eight years. However this is the first year she has not had a son on the team she's been involved with.

Her son, Chuck, is now playing in the Cub Majors on the Tecumseh Police team which is managed by Mrs. Locker's husband, Mr. Clyde Locker.

If success is to be an indication of baseball savvy, then Mrs. Locker may well be one of the craftiest managers in Tecumseh as she has a two year record with the Braves of 11-1.

★

ACCORDING to Mrs. Locker her opposing managers dislike being beaten by a woman, but they shouldn't feel too badly when they realize what almost happened to her husband.

In 1939 both she and her husband managed different teams in the Pony League. Mr. Locker's team won the first half of the season, but Mrs. Locker's team went unbeaten in the second half to win the second half championship and enter the playoffs against the winner of the first half.

Mr. Locker's team won the first game in the three-game duel, but Mrs. Locker's team won the second game.

In the third and deciding game, Mr. Locker concedes that if an outfielder on his wife's team hadn't slipped while chasing a fly ball, he would have caught it and prevented the winning runs from scoring, and Mrs. Locker would have won a championship from her husband.

Mrs. Locker is also helping out with her husband on the Tecumseh Police team in the Slo-pitch League.

★

MRS. LOCKER is used to being with a winner and the Police are doing just that as they are unbeaten in both the Tecumseh League and the Adrian League.

The Police are hoping to avenge last year's loss to Monroe Greenhouse, 13-6, in the Michigan State Men's Slow Pitch Softball Tournament and win the tournament themselves.

According to Mr. Locker they have an excellent chance of winning the tournament and if Mrs. Locker has anything to do with it, they just might.

Asked about her future plans in baseball, Mrs. Locker said she plans to stay in it as long as she continues to have as much fun as she's having now.

Recently the Locker's became grandparents as their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Joseph Locker became the parents of Amy Jo.

"As soon as she's a year old, we'll put a uniform on her," Mrs. Locker said.

Who knows, Tecumseh may soon have the first female player in its baseball leagues.

In the last game played last week Mensing's Mustangs beat Edward's Tigers 30-12. Boys who were instrumental in their teams progress last week were John Burns, Greg Williams, Richard Brooks and Tim Rutherford.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

In Tuesday's action of the Pee Wee games, "The Tecumseh Chiefs" squeaked by "The Bikinis" 23-22. Three home runs were hit, by Karen Ashenfelter, Darleen Osburn, and Sue Lucas.

On Thursday, "The Bikinis" came back to beat "The Tecumseh Chiefs" 37-23. "The Bikinis" were down by one run going into the last inning and made a spectacular rally of 15 runs to stomp out "The Chiefs."

Kathy Simons and Brenda Lisenbee lead "The Bikinis" with batting averages of 1.000. Vicki Felton came closest to them with .900.

In the Junior teams, "The Things" scored its first victory by defeating "The Toads" 13-12. Margaret Bolden was the winning pitcher, who also hit a grand slam home run and batted 1.000 along with Cindy Coffee.

"The Champion Grubbies" also defeated "The Toads" 6-5. The game was all tied up until the last inning when Beckie Roost came in with the winning run. Jackie Rodgers was the successful pitcher.

Home runs were hit by Kathy Ball and Carol Riordan. A spectacular double play was maneuvered by Vickie Carpenter.

Mom's softball was rained out last Wednesday evening.

PLAYGROUNDS

A total of 354 children attended the four playgrounds last week.

Bicycle polo was played at Herrick Park. The winners were Neil Booze, Jeff Langham and Mark Burkhard.

Many of the playgrounds made Indian headbands and bracelets and all of the children wore cowboy or Indian costumes on Friday.

At Patterson, Kathy Wanzeck was the best squaw. Randy Macham—most original; Mark Hall—best cowboy and Scott Barber—best Indian.

The best dressed Cowboys at Shady Lane were Greg Covell, Tim Belcher, and Marty Harper. The Texas Checker Champ was Steve Hallenbeck.

The best costumed cowgirl at Tecumseh Acres was Janice Racey and Chris Brown and Greg Wonderly were the best costumed cowboys.

The playgrounds will be closed Monday, July 5th. Checker tournaments will be held at all playgrounds on Wednesday. A Hobo picnic is planned for Friday.

Construction Is Booming

House construction in Tecumseh continues to boom with six building permits issued during the month of June.

During the first six months of the current year, Lynn Noble, building inspector, has issued a total of 44 permits for new homes.

The estimated cost of June's housing totals is $107,000.

Total construction inside the city could hit $225,000 for the month with the school's Junior High addition being the largest single unit.

Garages and remodeling costs will hike total construction well over $200,000.

On Tecumseh's FIELDS of PLAY

► G&J stopped VFW twice last week to knock the latter from the top of the league standings.

On Friday, G&J spotted VFW two runs in the first inning and then came on to win 4-3 with a three-run rally in the third.

Mike Herbert was the winning pitcher as he fanned 13 batters and allowed only three hits.

Catcher Dennis Lewis and Don Dziachon were the big hitters for G&J, each knocking in key runs. Steve Dalton and David Lord swung the heavy bats for VFW with RBI's.

The winning run was scored in the fifth inning by Herbert on a passed ball.

► It took 11 innings for G&J to beat VFW again on Saturday, 7-5.

G&J jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first and held a 3-1 lead after five innings.

Helped out by Steve Dalton, who hit a homerun and single, VFW came back to tie the score 3-3 after seven innings.

In the eighth, both teams scored twice, but a diving catch by G&J's Jim Parros ended the game as VFW had the winning run on third base.

Hits by Dennis Lewis and Jim Hemphill in the 11th inning drove home the winning runs for G&J.

Hemphill started for G&J and pitched the first seven innings and struck out nine batters. Then Hemphill and Lewis switched positions with Lewis hurling the final four innings and fanning seven.

Lamar Rufner hurled the first seven frames for VFW and struck out 11. Tom Auito took the loss pitching the final four innings. Dalton did the catching for both pitchers.

► The Eagles kept the Indians' record winless with an 8-4 win.

Going into the fourth, the Indians held a 1-0 lead that soon disappeared.

Glen Davis led off with a double but then Dan Anderson lined to Pat Murphy who fired to second and doubled up Davis.

The Indians weren't able to get the third out until the Eagles scored four times. Two walks and three singles provided the scoring and it was the Eagles' ball game from that point on.

In the fifth the Eagles scored the winning run when Jim Mobly scored on an error on a hard smash by. Bill Puffer.

The Eagles' seven hits were spread to six different batters.

Mike Fowler, Puffer, Rich Hicks, Davis, Gary Fairbanks, and Mobly had the Eagles' hits. Fowler was the only one with two hits and Davis' double was the only extra-base blow for the Eagles.

Tom Horton, who pitched the first five innings for the Indians, and was the losing pitcher, had a triple and two singles.

Greg Wise had two singles and Bruce Des Ermia had a single for the other Indian hits.

Hicks was the winning pitcher as he went the full seven innings with Fairbanks doing the catching.

John Wall did the catching for Horton and for Wise who came in to pitch the final two innings for the Indians.

Pony League

► A four-run rally by G & J in the seventh inning provided the winning runs in a 9-8 win over Britton.

G & J scored the first run of the game in the top of the first, but Britton came back with two runs in their half of the inning and one in the second to take the lead, 3-1.

G & J tied up the game in the third by scoring twice and both teams scored single runs in the fifth and sixth innings, making the score deadlocked going into the seventh.

G & J needed all four of its runs in the last inning because Britton came back to score three times in their half of the inning.

The winning pitcher was Mike Herbert, the loser was Rick Moska.

Catcher Dennis Lewis was the big hitter of the game for G & J with four of his team's nine hits.

The other hits were by Jim Hemphill (2), Sam Brooks, Jim Parros and John Schoonover with one each. Mike Cote had two RBI's for G & J.

Three hitters, Mark Vallie, Moska and catcher Tom Schroeder had two hits apiece for Britton.

Cub Majors

► Mike Kennedy was the big gun for Exchange as they defeated Faling's Cities Service, 10-4.

Kennedy rapped out three hits in three appearances at the plate for pitcher Craig Smith.

Kennedy's second hit of the game drove home Mervin Maynard in the third inning with what proved to be the winning run.

Smith hurled only three innings for Exchange but struck out eight batters.

Cub Minors

► Scoring at least one run in each of the first five innings, the Giants defeated the Twins, 15-8.

The Giants scored four runs in their half of the first, but the Twins scored all eight of their runs in the bottom of the first to take the lead, 8-4.

The Giants scored twice in the second and five times in the third to take the lead to stay.

Jim Sessoms, the winning pitcher for the Giants, was late for the start of the game and didn't pitch the first inning when the Twins scored all their runs.

He did pitch the final five innings though and blanked the Twins and struck out nine batters.

Steve Drake was the losing pitcher for the Twins, but was the Twins' leading hitter with two hits in addition to striking out six Giant hitters.

Catcher Henry Jones played a strong ball game all the way behind the plate.

Dean Forsyth and catcher Tom Huber were the leading batsmen for the Giants. Each had one hit and walked three times.

► John Merz and Mark Murphy of the Indians combined their pitching talents to beat the Tigers, 11-6.

Merz went the first three innings and Murphy hurled the final three frames.

Gary Agnew and Mark Spohr also split the pitching chores for the Tigers but they weren't successful as the Merz-Murphy combination.

Merz also swung the big bat for the Indians with two hits in two at-bats, one of which was a triple.

Both catchers, Mike Gilpin of the Indians, and Tom Tilton of the Tigers turned in strong performances behind the plate. Tilton also had a single for the Tigers' cause.

'The Fantasticks' Proves Different

By TOM RIORDAN

It's different.

"The Fantasticks," now being offered at Clark Lake Playhouse, surprises people who think in terms of conventional musicals.

The story line contains a moral — there must be travail and heartaches in growing up.

A boy and a girl, next door neighbors, fall in love. Their fathers seem determined to keep them apart, even building a wall along the property line.

However, it turns out, the dads secretly want to match the pair, using reverse psychology.

Naturally, they eventually succeed, even if the plans seem to backfire at one point.

★

PLAYING THE girl is Carolyn Leyh, a Jackson secretary, with a charming soprano voice and sparkling eyes.

Her beau is Steve Jones of Franklin Village, who is working on a master's degree in choral education at University of Michigan, where he sang with the Men's Glee Club and "The Friars".

Steve wears well as the 20-year-old youth whose romance is shattered, propelling him into "seeing the world".

Playing the roles of the fathers, Donald Smith and George Carr, were especially entertaining in their duets "Never Say No" and "Soon It's Gonna Rain".

Probably the outstanding job of acting in the musical was turned in by Dr. Fred Pesetsky, who is a psychologist at Jackson Prison.

His grotesque make-up and costume, as he portrayed "The Old Actor", startled the audience, which reached out in sympathy for the ancient character player.

One of his lines: "Remember, Mortimer, there are no small actors, only small parts."

Mortimer, the sidekick, is Joseph Prybyski, who first appears as an ancient Indian in red flannels, and ample tummy, then as a pirate. His demonstration of a stage death scene was a bright point of comedy relief in a show that otherwise was at times grim.

"Fantasticks" is a narrator-type offering and Wayne Cooke, who has a rich baritone voice, did the role with authority and was especially loathsome as the abductor.

The two fathers hired him, the actor and his side-kick to pretend they were going to carry off The Girl. The Boy would then come to her aid and kill the three.

This was a merry scene as the villains fell, one after another, in death spasms, before the amateur dueling efforts of the youth. The victims outdo each other in offering the most dramatic death.

★

IN SINGING the familiar, "Try To Remember", Mr. Cooke turned in his best vocal role. Unfortunately, he and the heroine were teamed in an innocuous number and dance titled "Round and Round". This turned into a dizzy scene of gross monotony.

Twin pianos, a drum and bass provided the musical accompaniment. Tecumseh is represented on the band stand by Helen Bendes, a pianist who teaches elementary music here.

Backstage, Mrs. Pat Kureth and Mrs. Rita Blake of Tecumseh, handled make-up.

New Clark Lake Director Jerry Blanchard is making his season debut, following his two years of producing Jackson's Civic Player productions. He studied playwriting at the University of Miami and while in England with the Air Force.

"The Fantasticks" will be staged four more times, Friday and Saturday this weekend and also July 9 and 10. Curtain time is 8:30.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling Jackson LA 9-9141.

STEVE JONES AND CAROLYN LEYH OF "FANTASTICKS"

Dr. Easlick Speaks in Favor of Age

Kenneth A. Easlick, DDS, native of Ridgeway, gives his philosophy concerning the older citizens in an editorial for the Journal of Public Health Dentistry.

Having recently retired from practice and 36 years of teaching on the University of Michigan campus, Dr. Easlick is in an excellent position to speak.

In his article entitled, "An Editorial Growl," he states:

"Since I retired, the insults have been highly nauseous: 'How does it seem to have nothing to do anyhow?' 'Are you not happy as a new elder citizen or retiree or a member of the emeritis club or a senior citizen or an older American or a geriatric statistic or a member of the 65-and-over group of golden 65 or experiencing the golden age'? Golden my hat!"

He reiterates all the many chores that didn't cease needing to be done and suggests that no 70-year-old wants to be labeled in a special motheaten, decrepit category.

Dr. Easlick is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Schyler Easlick and was born and raised at a farm home on Ridge Rd. He is a member of the class of 1911 of Tecumseh High School.

He has made his home in Ann Arbor for 40 years, four years as a student and 36 years while teaching.

Michigan Goodwill Honored in Florida

A 1965 Goodwill Industries Achievement Award was presented today in St. Petersburg, Florida to the Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan for outstanding services achievement during the past year.

Presentation was made at the Delegate Assembly of the organization taking place at the Tides Hotel in St. Petersburg by Horace Warren Kimbrell, Kansas City, Mo., President of Goodwill Industries of America, Inc. The award was received by Claude W. Whitehead, Executive Director, of the local Goodwill Industries.

The accomplishment for which the Goodwill Industries received its award was the special vocational, evaluation, and training program for the severely retarded and the cerebral palsied.

The program was a co-operative program with the Goodwill Industries and Lenawee County Schools Special Education Department. Students from the Lenawee Institute were involved in the project in the vocational training center at the Goodwill plant three days each week.

Fifteen clients were in the original program and of this group five have graduated to full time employment in the Goodwill plant and workshop.

Competition for the award was among the 128 Goodwill Industries throughout the country. Each is an autonomous, locally administered, non-profit organization with membership in Goodwill Industries of America, Inc.

All conduct essentially the same program of providing training, employment and rehabilitation services to handicapped people. The repair for resale of donated clothing and household articles is the principal work operation.

Vivian Promotes Limited Disaster Relief Legislation

Congressman Wes Vivian has announced in Washington that the House recently passed H.R. 8620, a limited disaster relief bill that will be of aid to several score farmers in Lenawee County.

When passed by the Senate and signed by the President, it will allow farmers who have made acreage reduction agreements with the Department of Agriculture to be eligible for benefits though they were unable to plant because of a natural disaster.

Many farmers in the area suffered property damage and debris littered fields in the Palm Sunday tornados this year and were unable to plant as scheduled. If they had a prior agreement with the USDA, this bill will assure them their agreed income.

★

CONGRESSMAN VIVIAN stated that provisions of law relating to acreage reduction programs for cotton, wheat, and feed grains in effect for 1965, provide that when a farmer agrees to reduce his plantings of any of these commodities below his acreage allotment or base acreage, he shall be entitled to certain benefits, including certain payment-in-kind or certificates on the normal production of the reduced acreage he "planted for harvest" in 1965.

Any persons in the area have questions regarding the provisions of this bill, which is virtually assured being signed into law, they should contact:

More Revenue Is Needed for Highways Says Nunn

BLANEY PARK — There is a "clear and present need" for an increase in highway revenues if highway building in Michigan is to keep pace with growth in population and prosperity, Wallace D. (Mike) Nunn, state highway commissioner, said here.

To get the added revenue, Nunn endorsed four proposals;

1. Increase by one-cent the state taxes on gasoline, diesel fuel and liquified petroleum.

2. Introduce a new fee system for automobile licenses setting a minimum of $14 per car and a maximum of $29 for the heaviest passenger vehicles.

3. Adjust the distribution formula of motor fuel and motor vehicle taxes to increase the share received by cities and villages from 18 per cent to 20 per cent.

4. Reduce by one-half the sum of money cities of more than 30,000 contribute to trunkline improvements within their boundaries.

Lutheran Pioneers Enjoy Canoe Trip on Pine River

Fourteen Pioneers of the Grace Lutheran Church with 10 leaders and Pastor Kurt Koeplin recently had a real good time canoeing on the Pine River.

They left June 18 for the Cadillac area where they camped for two nights. Saturday in nine canoes the group traveled 22 miles down the river, stopping for lunch on the way.

Herbert Simmons made arrangements for the trip with Ken Hinkleman doing much of the cooking with the boys acting as their own clean-up crew.

One of the leaders had such a good time that he would like to take his entire family for a stay in the national forest project.

The group attended church services in Clare en route home.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

Just in case someone missed me during the past week or wondered why they couldn't reach me by telephone, perhaps you would like a report on where I have been.

There is a remote area at the edge of Tecumseh, called Aho's Landing.

It is a nicely-wooded hillside, graciously loaned to the Girl Scouts by Jack Osburn for a week in June, so that Girl Scout leaders can conduct a Day Camp for all girls, Scouts or non-scouts ages, 7-17.

No one could ask for a more perfect setting to introduce the outdoors and nature to a group of girls.

From Monday until Friday 30 girls and five adults from Clinton and 37 girls with six adults from Tecumseh took advantage of "their week in the woods."

They listened to the bird calls, identified trees, caught glimpses of the ground squirrels and recognized wild flowers and plant life.

★

WE WENT on observation hikes, nature scavenger hunts and alphabets hikes. We looked on the ground for leaves, nuts, worms, snakes and flowers, but the most fascinating things on the ground were the "land snails".

Few of us had ever taken time to look for them before, but they were there patiently waiting to be found.

We had campfires, learned how to start them, keep them going, but most important, we learned how to put the fires out — dead out.

We cooked stews, hot dogs, hamburgers and cocoa on our fires. We roasted marshmallows to make "Somemores", which are a traditional Girl Scout treat.

Wednesday night our prayers were answered when it stopped raining at 7 p.m., so that we could have our overnight, 37 girls and seven leaders gathered around a big campfire to sing songs and have a "treat".

When it become dark the center of camp was our bedroom where we slept in our bedrolls, on the ground, under the stars.

The sun woke everyone before 6 a.m., so we rolled up our sleeping bags, piled them neatly and set about cooking our breakfast of bacon and French toast on Buddy burners.

★

DURING THE past week we have tied square knots, clove hitches and bowlines. We lashed stands to hold our wash basins.

We have primed the pump, pumped and carried water, learned to use jack-knives, hatchets and saws.

We were treated to ice cream and Koolaid by a visitor, but we would have been glad to show off our camp to a lot more visitors.

We had a visitor from the Health Department who complimented us on our camp. We cut wood and whittled on sticks.

A nurse gave us first aid instructions in case we cut our fingers or fell down and scratched our legs.

We learned to sing songs, play games, pick up sticks for a woodpile, read a compass, do an Island Pole Dance and throw Lemme Sticks.

★

"SKIPPER" showed us how easy it is to make a willow whistle and when that whistle blew, it was time to form a "Horseshoe', for a flag ceremony.

We adopted camp names and made name tags, which read "Buggy", "Red", "Shorty", "Moth", "Marty", "Running Hazel", "Peg", "Jeannie", "Big Mama", "Skipper", and "Robin".

If you haven't any idea who these people are just ask any girl who went to Day Camp last week.

A Round-Up girl was in camp every day. We worked hard and we played hard, but we had FUN — FUN — FUN — and if you don't believe it, when next June rolls around why don't you volunteer to help the Kiwanis Club when they get Whelan's Implement truck to bring the tents, poles, boxes, pails, Lister bags and latrines out to Jack Osborne's woods.

Mothers you can offer to help for the five days that we need you at Day Camp. Fathers, there are tents that have to be put up the day before camp opens and those same tents have to be taken down the day camp ends so that they can go on to the next camp.

★

EXPLORER SCOUTS, it would be a great place for overnight camping for you, as we need a night guard to protect our equipment from weather and curiosity seekers during the night.

Doctors, we need a simple camp physical on opening day, the same doctors have offered their services for six years now.

Senior Girl Scouts, we missed you this year, and you were needed. We hope to need you even more next year.

If we can have more cooperation there is a possibility that Day Camp can be a glorious experience for two weeks next year for twice as many girls.

I am "back in town" this week, but you can bet your bottom dollar that my heart is still out in the "Woods" just one-half mile from Tecumseh.

Happy memories keep flashing through my mind while I am getting rid of the dust that accumulated in my house. The washing and ironing will be caught up in time and the floors will get the scrubbing they so badly need.

★

MY FAMILY will get some home-cooked meals this week after surviving on sandwiches they could make for themselves. My feet, legs and back ache, but I am "one happy gal"; last week -I was at Day Camp with 67 girls and 10 over-worked leaders.

Hope to see you there next year.

Mary "Robin" Tuckey,
(Mrs. Maurice Tuckey)
119 N. Ottawa St.
Co-director Tecumseh-Clinton Day Camp.

How Come on Sunday?

TO THE EDITOR:

Tecumseh celebrates the Fourth of July on Sunday. How many of us approve of this? I do not and so far I have not found anybody else who does.

Sunday is Our Lord's day, a day of rest and worship. There are already enough distractions on this day without having a big celebration.

Our Memorial Day celebration was fine, and the large number attending show our interest in it. Being held on Monday certainly did not lessen the enthusiasm.

Has Tecumseh lost all its respect for Christianity? The only redeeming feature is the offer of the Dawn Patrol to provide cars to take people to church. Will that make the rest of the day right?

Let others of us who disapprove speak up and prevent its ever happening again.

By KATHRYN M. SOMMERS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — "Where y'all from?"

"Michigan."

"Town?"

"Tecumseh."

A half-gasp, a giggle, and an incredulous, "Really?"

We nod.

"Good heavens, I can't even spell that."

"T-e-c-u-m-s-e-h," we oblige.

This bit of dialogue occurred when we were enrolling one of our sons in a Sunday School here.

Michigan the lady had heard of "Tecumseh" threw her.

★

WE'VE HAD time to do some exploring of our adopted area.

The business section of Fayetteville, whose elevation is 1,455 feet, is surrounded by peaks of the Ozark Mountains. Since the residential section spreads out from downtown, many of the houses are on the slopes.

One Sunday we decided to try to find the top of the Mountain which supports our apartment and found that the tar-bound road winds right up to the summit. Mt. Sequoyah, it's called. Elevation 1,725 feet.

Nestled all along its side are houses, many of them on odd-shaped lots. What the native Fayettevillians have been able to do with terracing and ledges to keep their personal yards of soil around their homes is amazing. Many have a back yard which looks down on the roof of neighbors below.

★

ONE STREET, named Dogwood Lane, has some of the most outstanding homes of the city. These are often barely visible from the road, the owners taking advantage of the terrain and existing foliage for privacy.

We were guests one evening in a magnificent house built in an enormous Y-shape and learned that an architect on the University staff, a former student of the late Frank Lloyd Wright, designs many of these plush homes.

On the very top of St. Sequoyah are the TV antennas for most of Fayetteville. There is a tower probably 150 feet high with ordinary antennas on it pointing toward the cities from which this area can draw reception.

★

WE STOPPED to look at the view and found that we could see across the city to "Old Main" on the campus of the University of Arkansas (elevation 1,450 feet).

This four-story structure of yellowing brick is in the center of the main campus and is surrounded by green lawns and many trees. I noted lots of oak, some pine, maple and elm and at least one tulip tree.

Evidently this was one of the first buildings to be built on the campus. It features marble columns at its front entrance and towers on the north and south ends.

Leading up to Old Main are wide sidewalks with the names of the members of each graduating class pressed into the cement. Those who earned a master's degree or above have their degree recorded after their name.

★

JUST IN FRONT of the steps is the Class of 1876, with only nine graduates, and each succeeding class (including the class of 1965) is recorded.

The most recent classes have had to settle for spots further and further away from the building, but my, alumnus returning to the campus must receive a reoccurring thrill as they see their name preserved in concrete for posterity.

A plaque on this campus honors James William Fulbright, the originator of the Fulbright International Exchange and Scholarship Program that has allowed many a student to study abroad.

Mr. Fulbright received his Bachelor's Degree here, was a Letterman from 1921-24, and served as president of his Alma Mater from 1939-1941, we learned.

This distinguished local son has a bit of Michigan attached to his name, as the plaque records that he's received an honorary degree from our University at Ann Arbor.

★

I'M GOING to round this out with a gripe. Milk here is 49c per half gallon! I was dumbfounded. My neighbor tells me to hold on, that maybe there'll be one of the "milk wars" soon.

It seems the local milk supplier tries every now and then to oust a competitor from the nearby town of Springdale. When these wars happen, she says, half-gallons may get as low as 29c.

I wonder, does milk freeze well? I'd like to stock up when that happens.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THE STRANGER WHO WALKS THE CREEK

My bed went flying down to its usual good-looking spot in front of the window at a record-breaking clip. At least, were there such things as speed records for moving beds, we would have smashed them all to smithereens.

My journey was short, but fast!

From past experience I know that Ida tossing a towel towards the chair and winging my bed for the window is the signal for me to start looking. Sometimes there is no time for words and this was one of them.

Fortunately I had an idea of where and for what to look — a good thing, too, because as we peered up the creek, we had a brief glimpse at a Great Blue Heron.

★

A BIT earlier in the morning Ida had given me the clue. With great excitement and enthusiasm she had described a large bird.

It was flying, with deliberately slow powerful wing beats, up the creek and just raised high enough to clear the top of Doctor's bridge — no, Marda, not Marshes bridge any more, it is now Marilyn and Doug's, M & D's.

(Editor's note — Mr. and Mrs. Doug Aylesworth recently purchased the Marsh home.)

Anyway, the bird was huge with a wing span Ida indicated by spreading her arms wide.

Its stilt-like legs dangled behind, but because it was headed up stream, she had no chance to see the head. Nor could she see that the long skinny neck was tucked back until the bird's head was almost resting on his shoulders.

Her response to my question about color was, "A pretty silverish blue-gray."

Who else, but a Great Blue Heron?

★

WHAT A SHAME she could not see the heron's head — that really would have been exciting. I would liked to have seen her face had she caught sight of the six-inch long, sharply pointed, yellow bill.

Of course, my brief sighting did not afford that either so I guess we are even.

Our second look at the Great Blue posed a slight problem, did we have one bird or two?

Both sightings were of birds going up the creek — had the first one doubled back and retraced his journey or was one following another?

Who knows—neither look was good enough to give even a hint.

Usually herons are solitary creatures, preferring their own company to that of others, but during the breeding season they have a change of heart.

Then pairs, sometimes a few and sometimes many, group together and build their large bulky nests in communities called heronries.

★

ON OUR stretch of Evans Creek, we have never had a Great Blue who was consistant enough to be called a regular, but almost every year there are occasional birds wandering by.

Few sights are more exciting than on an early summer morning when everything is all misty, to have a Great Blue Heron standing statue-still at the edge of the creek.

When breakfast swims by, his big spear-like bill darts out and, gulp, down the hatch goes the first course.

Sometimes, instead of waiting, a heron will take on the role of active hunter.

Lifting his skinny, knob-kneed legs with extrame care and slowly allowing them to slide back into the water with hardly a ripple, he stalks fish, frogs, crabs and other "watery" tid-bits.

To watch one of these four or five feet tall birds painstakingly work the creek is one of the joys of living by a small stream.

So it is that these days we are keeping an even more careful watch than usual, hoping to have more visits from the stranger who walks the creek.

Day Camp Proves Big Success

CLINTON — A highly successful Day Camp week was completed June 25 by 69 Girl Scouts from Tecumseh and Clinton.

The camp was held in Osborn's Woods near Tecumseh under the direction of Mrs. John Hoelzer of Clinton and Mrs. Maurice Tuckey of Tecumseh.

The 35 Clinton girls had a perfect attendance record.

The girls were given a physical examination on the first day by a Clinton doctor, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Young. The first aid program was directed by Mrs. Robert Way.

Assisting with the supervision were Virginia Reed, Peggy Porter, Jeanie Meyers and Cheryl Martin of Clinton.

Outdoor cooking, camp crafts and recreation comprised the daily activities.

The older girls remained overnight Wednesday to cook Thursday's breakfast.

Thursday was visitors' day which included a flag ceremony and program. The Clinton Girl Scout Association furnished ice cream and beverages for the occasion. Mrs. John Mabry represented the association.

Wayne Balliet, Jack Schwab and Robert Pardee dismantled the camp on Friday evening.

Mrs. Gross Wins Flower Workshop

Mrs. Charles Gross was the winner at the private flower show workshop held by the Little Garden Club June 22 at the home of Mrs. Earl Baldwin.

The judges agreed that the arrangement of daisies in a loaf of bread made by Mrs. Gross was of tri-color quality.

Mrs. Wilbur Andrews was program chairman and members each brought an arrangement for judging.

Mrs. Max DuPark and Mrs. Charles Love of Jackson, state accredited flower show judges, made the selection.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Donald Smith.

Mrs. Neil Pearson and Mrs. Gordon Comfort were guests.

The July meeting will be a tour of Hidden Lake Gardens with a picnic lunch. The date has been changed to Wednesday, July 21.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

By Friday at midnight the Legislature had approved over 400 new laws. This is more than 100 more than in recent years and I think a lot of unnecessary and unimportant laws were passed.

School aid was increased by $71,000,000 over last year. This was about twice the increase the Governor recommended. However record revenue collections permitted this step without creating a fiscal unbalance, I voted for this measure.

Apart from school aid the grand total of appropriations as passed by the Legislature was only about $4,000,000 off from the Governor's recommendations. By and large I think it a responsible budget and I think we will have enough surplus left to take care of the fiscal year which follows the one we are just entering.

I am preparing a detailed summary of all legislation passed which I will mail any citizen requesting it. I also have a limited supply of 1965 highway maps which I will also be happy to mail out upon request.

Send any requests to my residence at 2065 Geddes Avenue, Ann Arbor, as we will only be in Lansing on an irregular basis for the next few weeks. The Legislature is due to return to the Capitol for a day on July 29 and then for a fall session on September 14.

During recent months I have been meeting with citizens on Saturday mornings and have thus far conducted these Senate Citizen Sessions in Saline, Chelsea, Milan and this part Saturday Manchester.

On July 10th I plan to meet with any interested Dexter residents.

Tecumseh and Blissfield meetings are just now being arranged. If any service clubs, ladies' clubs, study groups — in fact, any type of citizen group — would like me to meet with them and report on the Lansing session, new legislation and what the future might bring of interest, I would be most happy to try to work out a mutually satisfactory date.

There is no substitute for person-to-person communication between legislator and constituent.

Lenawee Loses in Population

Lenawee County lost 1,289 persons in population between 1960 and 1964 according to a population study conducted by David Goldberg.

Goldberg, a University of Michigan sociologist and director of the University's Population Studies Center, says more people are moving out of the state than are moving in.

Goldberg also says the education level of those coming into the state is lower than that of those leaving the state.

"We're losing more than we're picking up," Goldberg said, "and we're doing badly in the trade."

Lenawee is one of 27 of Michigan's 83 counties that lost in population over the four year period.

★

THE MAJORITY of the losses have been to the West, but the South has also contributed heavily to the decline.

Goldberg says people seeking a more favorable climate and a chance for financial improvement, are the primary reasons why more people leave the state than come into it.

Though the total population of the state has increased by 3½ per cent since 1960, this increase has been due only to an increase of births over deaths.

There has been a loss of 190,000 people since 1960 in comparing the in-migration and the out-migration figures. Between 1956 and 1960, the figures showed a decline of 250,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Robison left last week to spend three months at their cottage at Atlanta.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Automotive manufacturers continue to surprise pessimistic economists by increasing sales where no market seems to exist.

Prosperity of the past 10 years is due in large part to the increase in two-car families. Approximately 12 million households in the United States now use two automobiles. Ten years ago the number was approximately one-third as much.

But now motor company executives feel that a new spurt in sales may be traced to an increase in three-car families. Already three-car households number 1,800,000 in the United States.

In view of the history of automobile sales, it seems absurd to talk of a "Saturated" market. The good product, the progressive store, and the lively community move toward expansion and extension.

Market expansion, neither for product nor store, can be significant without aid of advertising. Before they buy, people must always feel some need for buying. More automobiles, new furniture, prepared foods, better housing are sold only after the consumer has heard or read how and why a change would benefit him.

Selling a retail store is much the same as selling a second and third automobile to a family. The retailer who assumes that he has reached a peak is likely to find his sales falling.

The retailer who wishes to take a place of growth in an expanding economy exploits his unique advantages to expand. But he is not likely to reach his new market unless he makes effective use of advertising. The consumer must be constantly reminded of how and why a particular store may best serve him.

Scheduled to be completed December 1, the building will contain 1,300 square feet of interior space with a 150-sq.-ft. platform.

There will be a 3,000-sq.-ft. parking area.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Who would guess that just out of sight there's a six-lane turnpike! Thousands of people drive past this peaceful place every day, and never know it exists. Occasionally, through a break in the sheltering trees, someone glimpses shining water and green pasture-land in the distance . . . then the road curves, and the lovely scene is forgotten.

Many travellers hurry along life's road with empty hearts and unseeing eyes, never realizing what the transforming beauty of the Christian faith could mean to them. Because they always expect to find happiness around the next bend, they overlook the still waters of spiritual peace.

In the quiet, hallowed atmosphere of the Church, God answers man's deepest needs. Through prayer and worship, our souls are strengthened and restored. And when we continue our journey, we are not alone. God is with us.

Devil's Lake County's Toughest

Golf on Lenawee County's toughest public nine holes or 18 holes of miniature golf are among the entertainment features provided for lake visitors by Ed and Milt Waldman.

Also a new Dodgem bumper car ride is located this year right next to the Devil's Lake Golf course by the Waldman brothers.

The Devil's Lake nine is located on US-223 at the north end of the lake and is one of the finest in the county.

The course measures 3,100 yards in distance and has a par of 36. Out-of-bounds are found on every hole except No. 7, a 165-yard par three.

The longest hole on a public course in Lenawee County, a 535-yard par five, is found at Devil's Lake. A tee shot on this hole is hit into a large hill. There is an out-of-bounds on the right.

The Waldmans are in their 20th season, operating the course themselves. Ed is the golf pro, assisted by Jim Massey.

Electric cars are available for rental and clubs, balls and other golf equipment may be purchased in the pro shop.

If Wee Tee golf is more to your liking, the Waldmans have two in the lake area and another in their Wee Tee Amusement Park in Toledo.

One is located right next to the Devil's Lake Golf Course and another on US-12, across from the entrance to Hayes State Park. Each miniature course covers approximately an acre of land and playing time is about an hour.

The Wee Tee Amusement Park in Toledo is only about a half hour drive from Tecumseh on US-223, Mr. Waldman said.

It has a large Kiddieland with 12 rides as well as a complete collection of adult rides.

Dodgem Bumper cars are popular there, too, as well as the Giant Ferris Wheel, Flying Cages, Tilt-a-Whirl and the Haunted Castle Dark Ride.

Couple Pulls Their Possessions in Cart

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — It takes pull to get anywhere, and Mr. and Mrs. Nolin Dunn are proving it.

With all their worldly goods in a four-by-five foot, iron-wheeled, wooden cart, since last July 4, the couple have been trudging aimlessly about Indiana and Ohio, pulling the heavy cart behind them. About five miles a day is all they're able to travel.

"We're Unity-Truth mission students, a non-denominational sect, working for the Lord," Mrs. Dunn said.

Mr. Dunn, 61, was a billing clerk for many years in Indiana, until he was laid off a few years ago. Unable to find work that he could do because of a bad back, the self-styled poet and song writer began composing prayers and songs and making frames to sell them in.

He has had 27 songs copyrighted, he says. One song, "The Evansville March" was officially adopted by the City of Evansville, Indiana.

At first, the couple sold the printed poems and prayers, but with the advent of sales taxes in the state and the cost of peddler's permits, they found the going too rough.

Thus the idea for the pull-cart was born, to provide a place to sleep and live as they travel.

The couple claim they are not permitted to remain in many communities. Officials prevent them from staying long enough to establish legal residence to claim welfare. The Dunns say this keeps them from getting money to pay rent so they have to keep moving.

They spent the winter in a trailer in Greenville, O. while the cart was being repaired and started out again on April 29.

"We are in the hands of the Lord," says Clara Dunn, 55, whose feet are blistered from walking in shoes with soles worn through.

"Say she wears size 5½D," Mr. Dunn said. "Perhaps someone will have a pair that size for her."

Mrs. Dunn is a diabetic and last year when blood poisoning started in her leg, Mr. Dunn claims he sucked the poison out each day — "until the Lord saw fit to make her well."

It was then the couple made a vow to become "willing prisoners of the Lord."

With Mr. Dunn's six-foot frame stretching out beyond the inadequate shelter of the narrow cart, the couple sleep beneath a tarpaulin that leaks when it rains.

Two dogs, one only a puppy too small to walk much, are their only companions. Besides food and clothing gifts, folks sometimes give them dog food, they said.

Entirely dependent upon donations of the communities through which they pass the Dunns are an almost forgotten, though once familiar sight — the itinerant peddler.

Three miles west of Clinton, Saturday afternoon, the Dunns were headed for Dexter where Mrs. Dunn has friends.

"We hope to be able to stay with them until we can go to work," Mr. Dunn said.

"God Bless ALL America" a sign proclaims upon the brilliant yellow-painted cart that has a large American flag fastened to one corner.

"Take a hold, Maw —," he said as I left them beside US-12.

Linda Dean Vies for Title

Linda Dean, 22, is one of the 10 young modern American beauties vying for this year's Miss Top of Ohio title.

Linda has had a busy 12 months since being one of the 10 finalists in last year's pageant. The Playhouse Community Theatre at Montpelier has consumed much of her spare time, as she had the female singing role in the little theatre's spring musical production.

(Editor's note: Dr. and Mrs. Richard Coak attended and report that Linda did a really remarkable job.)

Last winter Linda successfully appeared in a Playhouse two-act old fashioned melodrama, and sang with the Goldsmith Combo. She has had six years of voice training.

For the talent portion of the program, she will be doing "You Can't Win Them All," a musical comedy presentation using two Bob Robinson songs from the original Playhouse musical, "Lovely Ever After."

A THS graduate, Linda attended Adrian College one year and would like to continue her formal education.

She is currently employed at the Ohio Art Company in the office of the Traffic Department.

During her high school career, Linda was elected to offices in several organizations and was a member of the chorus four years.

When a senior, she was selected to go on a good will tour to South America with the Michigan Chorale.

Linda has dark brown hair and blue eyes and is five foot five inches tall. Her spare time activities include listening to all kinds of music, reading, cooking and sewing.

The Williams County Playhouse Community Theatre is sponsoring Linda in the pageant.

Linda's mother, Mrs. Dale Dean, lives at 6982 Ridge Rd. Linda has three brothers and one sister.

The Miss Top of Ohio winner will represent a five county area in the Miss Ohio Pageant in July at Cedar Point in Sandusky. The local pageant, an official preliminary of the Miss America Contest, was held Tuesday, June 29, at 8 p.m., at the Bryan High School gymnasium.

It was co-sponsored by the Bryan Chamber of Commerce and the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co.

It's Expensive To Own a Car

The average Michigan motorist pays $3.22 daily to own and drive a car 28 miles, according to research statistics released by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Car owners in Michigan spend approximately $9 million annually on their automobiles," says Jerry E. Fisher, Auto Club touring manager.

"For many persons, a car is the largest daily expense after food and housing," he adds.

These facts are derived from information in AAA's pamphlet titled "Your Driving Costs," which is issued biennially.

Information in the latest edition is based on the performance of a 1965 eight-cylinder standard car of the lower price class.

Yearly cost for driving 10,000 miles is set at $1,177. This is up $15 as compared with 1963, according to figures compiled for the Auto Club by two independent research firms.

Expenses for gas, oil, tire and routine maintenance remain unchanged since the last report at 3.7 cents per mile.

Fixed costs — depreciation, insurance and registration — are up slightly across the nation.

Auto Club separates car expenses into two categories, as follows:

1. Variable costs per mile (based on 10,000 miles yearly) — gas and oil, .53 cents; maintenance, $0.68 and tires, $0.44. This totals a little over $1.01 daily or $370 yearly.

2. Fixed costs per year — fire and theft insurance, $31; property damage and liability, $126; license and registration, $24, and depreciation, $626. This totals $2.21 daily or $807 yearly.

Motorists who travel 10,000 yearly spend 11.8 cents per mile, according to Auto Club's pamphlet.

Traveling less than 10,000 miles yearly ups the cost per mile, whereas an annual mileage of 20,000 lowers it to 7.7 cents per mile.

Michigan car owners, however, pay less than the national average for car operation due to lower insurance rates than those paid in many other states.

Auto Club, which insures 22 per cent of all Michigan motorists, says that its average insuree pays $188 annually for liability, comprehensive fire and theft, plus $100 deductible.

This same insurance package would cost about $321 in New York City, $175 in Chicago and $248 in San Francisco.

In addition to the breakdown on operating costs for private passenger cars, the pamphlet, available free to Auto Club members at local division offices, has special sections on allowances for cars used on company business, vacation travel costs plus a special report on compact cars.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

STRETCH PASTURES with careful management. Where forage is short, more milk per acre is possible with stored or green feeding. If not practical, grazing pasture in strips will do almost as well. Giving pastures a chance to rest between grazings permits greater production of dry matter over the season. Another tip — try grazing pasture first with highest producers. Then follow those with dry cows and young stock. Top portion of forage is leafier and higher in protein than basal parts.

CLUE TO PROPER BALER ADJUSTMENT lies in shape of the bales. An uneven bale length means metering wheel is not turning uniformly. Adjust wheel teeth to penetrate bale further. Hay fed too slowly produces bales longer at the bottom, and if fed too rapidly, longer at the top. Ragged bales mean dull knives.

FEEDING BULLS FOR BEEF is being given a closer look by many cattle feeders. USDA and state feeding trials prove that beef from well-grown yearling bulls is both high in quality and consumer approval. Bulls gained an average of 2.10 pounds per day compared with 1.72 for their steer twin counterparts. The bulls reached a 900-pound slaughter weight at 15 months of age; steers, 17. Feedlot savings came to 18% in labor and overhead.

WATCH TEMPERATURE in controlled environment swine house as days get hotter. Temperature stress slows feed efficiency. Range for baby pigs should be 70° to 90°F.; for 50 to 100 pound hogs, 55° to 80°F.; 150 pounds to market weight, 55° to 75°F. Set a thermometer next to each thermostat for accuracy checks.

Highway To Get Patrolled Heavily

Special State Police highway patrols will be operated over the Independence Day weekend beginning at noon, Friday, July 2, and continuing until midnight Monday, July 5, according to Commissioner Fredrick E. Davids.

Emphasizing that Michigan's road toll of 43 deaths in the July 4 period last year was one of the state's worst holiday losses, Davids appealed to drivers to be especially vigilant in the expected heavy traffic.

Pass days for State Police uniform officers are cancelled for the four days July 2-5. Detectives where available will be used to relieve uniform officers for patrol duty.

There will be maximum patrol coverage from 3 to 9 p.m. each day of the holiday period, with special attention to highway sections with bad accident experience.

Assisting the State Police will be 108 National Guard members who will serve as second men on two-man patrols or on point control.

Record Auto Travel Seen

Auto travel in Michigan over Fourth of July weekend will be heaviest in the state's history, with a record 3.2 million cars making trips of no less than 20 miles from home. Automobile Club of Michigan's Touring Manager Jerry E. Fisher predicts.

This is about 200,000 more cars than were on Michigan roads over last year's Fourth of July weekend.

"A check of our 257 AAA touring counselors in Michigan shows at least 160,000 motorists will travel the maximum safe distance of 1,500 miles from Friday afternoon to Monday night," says Fisher. "This puts Copper Harbor or Montreal, New York City, the Smokies or Minneapolis all within driving range of Michigan cities."

"But, most weekend travelers will confine their trips to a 200 mile radius of home," adds Fisher.

Approximately 200,000 cars will enter Michigan from other border states and Canada, according to Auto Club.

The "AAA 'Bring 'Em Back Alive' Holiday News Service" will be in operation over the weekend giving motorists bulletins on the latest traffic conditions and traffic-safety tips.

The Club's air observation traffic service will be in operation for the Detroit area motorists over the Holiday. While air checks are being made, other staff members will be stationed at key traffic centers across the state reporting on traffic movement and special weekend events.

"All information will be fed to the "AAA 'Bring 'Em Back Alive' Holiday News Service" headquarters in Detroit. It will be compiled and distributed to all news media across the state.

"Motorists are encouraged to listen to their car radios for this information," says Fisher. "When a tie-up is reported, special bulletins will include suggestions for alternate routes."

"You're going to be on the road over the 4th? Decide beforehand who's going to drive and who's going to navigate."

From the men at the GM Proving Grounds in Michigan and Arizona come this and other suggestions—not a complete course in safe driving, but some extra guidelines based on over 300 million miles of experience on all kinds of roads:

For example, from driving with our own families and from driving with complicated equipment in our test cars, we know the value of keeping the driver as free from distractions as possible. So before you start, you and your wife should decide which of you is going to drive and which is going to handle such chores as reading maps, retrieving articles that fall on the floor and disciplining the little passengers in the back seat, if you have them.

Three things to plan for

But, if there is any single overall suggestion that the drivers at our proving grounds can offer from their own experience, it's this: plan your trip. That is, anticipate what can happen by taking into account all three factors of driving safety: the road, the car and the driver.

First, try to plan your trip over freeways. We prove our cars on everything from raw dirt trails to busy streets, but our own experience and statistical surveys show that the freeways have far better safety records. In other words, roads that are engineered to be safer really are. And they're more convenient, too.

Watch those rush hours

Another tip in planning your route is to try to avoid arriving in metropolitan areas when commuter traffic is heavy. The test drivers who make our cross-country runs also suggest getting acquainted with the speed limits and signs as soon as you can when traveling into another state.

Next, it's wise to have your car checked by a professional before you set out. At the proving grounds, we make routine inspections of tires, steering, brakes, exhaust system, lights, wipers and so forth every day. (The people who regularly service your car may offer a special pre-vacation checkup. It's generally worth many times the small cost.)

Now, most important, the driver. We not only make sure our test drivers are in good physical shape, we also advise them to get plenty of rest. If you're leaving early, get to bed early. And it's a good idea to eat sparingly before taking the wheel . . . it's no place to be drowsy.

Stay alert

To stay alert, you can apply a number of suggestions that our drivers have found useful. Stop at least once every two hours—preferably more often—and take a brief walk to loosen tense muscles. Coffee, fruit juice or pop will refresh you, too. And while you drive, keep a continuous supply of fresh air going through the car.

Another good way to stay alert is by keeping the radio on and switching stations frequently. Changing seat positions can keep you feeling fresh, too. And many of our drivers find that chewing gum or candy also helps.

Use those seat belts

The minute you're in the car, the first thing to do is buckle up.

Next, adjust your mirrors. And, as you drive, include them in the regular sweep of your eyes. If you decide to drive after dark, switch drivers, if you can—or, at the very least, take a "breather" before going on. And do what our drivers do: keep your guard up and your speed down.

A word about speed

Whatever the posted limit, underlying it is the basic rule that speed should never be greater than what is "reasonable and prudent."

You see, when all is said and done, the most important factor in driving safely is you—the driver.

We know 500 drivers and special testers at the proving grounds who will back us up on that.

So give these suggestions a try. We think they'll help you to have a more pleasant trip. And a happy 4th!

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Like a lot of others, I groaned and gagged while reading of teen-age riots over the holiday weekend.

A sick situation indeed.

But then another thought came into view — what about the good ones — and it seemed ridiculous that a few slobs are trying their best to give millions of teens bogus reputations.

Human nature seems to dictate that in each segment of society there are some kooks. Naturally, our teen community has a few.

The rest are parent-respecting, law-abiding, well-mannered young men and women. Their names never are hooked up with the off-beat antics.

In many instances, the kids have jobs and turn in excellent, responsible performances for their employers.

At The Herald we have always had several teenagers as part-time help, after school, on Saturdays and during the summer. They're given jobs to do and dig right in.

During our eight years in Tecumseh, there have been quite a lineup of kids. It has been my policy to teach a young man the techniques of news photography, with emphasis on darkroom toils.

Paul Surratt was the first one and he developed (pun) into a first-rate lensman, as well as a fellow capable of handling the delicate job of processing film and making prints.

Kim Dabe was another to master the Speed Graphic and then there was Ricky Duffin, who a couple of weeks ago graduated from Lapeer High School.

★

WHILE IN grade school, Ricky had a box camera and enjoyed taking pictures. As a freshman at Tecumseh High he began his apprenticeship as a Herald photographer.

One afternoon there was a car accident and one of the office staff drove Rick to the scene to take pictures.

Not too far from the wrecked auto was a giant billboard, featuring a traffic safety message. There was the drawing of a small girl and the plea to "Drive Safely."

Rick maneuvered himself to get a camera angle which would show the smashed vehicle in the foreground and the sign off in the distance behind.

It turned into a fetching scene.

So fetching, in fact, that a few months later, it captured first prize in the state press photographer's spot news division.

Quite naturally, The Herald gang was as tickled at the award as Rick — even me, despite the fact that none of my entries that year took a prize.

Rick's family moved to Lapeer a year ago and one of the first things he did was check in at the Lapeer County Press for a job, which he promptly got and he's currently building his savings for his first year at Oakland University this fall.

These kids are only a few of our teen agers. No doubt, there are owners of many business places around the area who recall with as much warmth as us the youngsters who have served them during their high school days.

It's too bad that all teens must take the rap when a handful raise the devil.

State Senator Gil Bursley will hold an informal session in Tecumseh for area residents Saturday afternoon from 1 to 3. The gathering will be in Tecumseh's Adrian Federal Savings and Loan building. The senator said he will be happy to meet with anyone to discuss current legislative matters.

Bank Will Build Branch Near A&P

By JIM LINCOLN

A second branch office for the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh is planned at 520 N. Evans St., just north of Ed's Standard Service Station and west of the A&P store.

The lot there, plus another segment of land, just north of Water St., next to the river, is under option.

"The increase in the volume of our business is the reason for the expansion," J. W. Meadows, bank president, explains.

Applications for the Evans St. office have been submitted to the State Banking Department and Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. If approved, bank officials hope the office will be built and opened next year.

★

CONSTRUCTION is planned to start next week on the bank's first branch at the [illegible] of Sutton and Occidental Rds.

A 24x40-foot brick veneer building is planned for drive-in and walk-in facilities. Mackey is the contractor.

Mr. Meadows says Mrs. Nina F. Wright, assistant vice-president, will be the Sutton branch manager. She will be assisted by Paul Mann.

Clearing and grading operations at the intersection, about three miles south of Tecumseh, have been under way for several weeks.

The United Savings Bank one of the largest in this area, has grown steadily for the first six months of 1965 and reports an increase in earnings of 8c per share over the first six months of 1964.

NEW NINE OFFICIALLY OPENED — Fred Randall, president of Tecumseh Country Club, did the honors Sunday morning as he drove a gold golf ball off a gold tee to open the new 18-hole layout. Moments before, Mrs. Robert R. Watts of Dearborn had clipped a ribbon over the first tee. In a brief ceremony earlier, R. H. Moore of the building committee explained that it was appropriate to open the new setup on Frank Smith Day, annually held July Fourth. The late Mr. Smith, a Tecumseh Products executive, owned the club. Mr. Moore turned over "keys" to the new holes to Paul Gilliland, greens chairman.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

Prizes Awarded to Many

Several people took home trophies and prizes as a result of winning efforts in the July 4 contests held in Tecumseh.

In the waterball contest the Tecumseh firemen were victorious over Madison, 115-53, to take the first place trophy.

The wives of the Tecumseh firemen weren't as successful as their husbands as they bowed to Madison, 134-40.

In all six teams competed in the men's division and four in the women's division.

Those participating in the men's division in addition to Tecumseh were Hudson, Fairfield, Raisin and two teams from Madison.

In the women's division, in addition to Tecumseh, there were teams from Raisin, Fairfield and Madison.

Mitchell Mobley of Tecumseh took first place in the pony pull for 42" ponies.

Finishing behind Mr. Mobley and also winning trophies were:

Clyde Adams, Whittacker, second; Lyle Bishoff, Ottawa Lake, third; Larry Tolls, Ottawa Lake, fourth; and Mike Seeley, Hudson, fifth.

In the 46" class, Ransom Squires of Milan took the first place honors.

The other winners were:

Russell Seeley, Hudson, second; Don Lott, Deerfield, third; Otis Kanitz, Milan, fourth; and the Craig Brothers, Milan, fifth.

Mr. Adams also won the horsemanship trophy.

James McDowell won the 7,500 BTU air conditioner Sunday night, James Crandall won the 35 mm movie camera and Bill Pope won the set of fishing equipment.

Local Bank Bids Lowest for Bonds

United Savings Bank and a Cleveland company were low bidders in the sale of the city's $560,000 general obligation bond issue.

Council awarded the bids Monday night.

The local bank bid on the Series 'B' issue of $135,000, callable in 1968 if the government approves a loan to the city. United Savings Bank's bid was 3.072727 per cent.

Ball, Burdge and Kraus of Cleveland bid 3.286907 per cent for the Series 'A' or for $425,000.

City officials were pleased with the low interest bids, of which there were three for the Series 'B' and five for the Series 'A'.

Youth Seriously Hurt in Mishap

A 17-year-old Tecumseh youth was seriously injured June 26 when the motorbike on which he was riding collided into a pick-up truck at the intersection of Sutton and Wilmoth roads.

Dennis Knight, 17, of Russell Rd., was a passenger on a motorbike driven by Doug Hoffmeister, 18, 6201 Green Rd., when it hit a pick-up truck driven by Buford Cox, 2518 N. Wilmoth Rd., when Cox attempted to complete a left turn in front of the boys' bike. The boys were traveling between 30 and 40 miles per hours.

Knight's right leg was pinned between the seat on the motorbike and the side of the truck. He suffered a triple fracture of his thigh bone, a severe gash in his thigh, a cut calf and a broken ankle.

He has been in St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor in traction since the accident and is scheduled to remain there for at least three months and possibly longer if his thigh bone doesn't heal properly.

Hoffmeister suffered only scrotch wounds and Cox was unhurt from the collision. Cox was issued a ticket for failing to yield the right of way.

Knight had completed four years of high school at Tecumseh High School and was attending summer classes at Adrian High School to acquire a few extra credits he needed to graduate.

He was recently employed by Faraday Manufacturing Co., and hadn't worked long before the accident. Hoffmeister is employed by the Tecumseh Products.

Teen Made First Jump on Sunday

"No I wasn't scared just excited," said Gary Spillman as he told of his first parachute jump July 4.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spillman, 301 Herrick Park Dr., Gary had been patiently waiting until his 16th birthday which was May 10, and the proper weather.

Sunday turned out to be his big day.

Gary has been "hanging around" the "Thunderbolts," a sky diving club for the past three years as they jumped at Meyers Airport.

He received some training from members of the club, Harold Lang, Lou Schroder, Pete Myks of Detroit, Dave Suave of Lansing and Karl Brushhaber of Ypsilanti.

A junior at Tecumseh High School, Gary would like to be a pilot some day.

Wind Blown Check Links Tipton with Indiana Town

Tornado victims in Tipton and Mishawaka, Ind., had a chat Tuesday.

Mrs. Olen Pettit, 8981 Tipton Hwy. made a phone call to Mrs. William Garrett in Mishawaka to tell her of her canceled check which the Pettit family found after the storm.

Mrs. Pettit made the call and was enthusiastically welcomed by Mrs. Garrett who revealed that the family would be happy to have even the check as a souvenir since everything that they owned had been lost in the tornado which lashed their area.

Fortunately she and her husband and two children were not at home at the time but arrived home at 11 p.m. at night to find their farm home completely demolished.

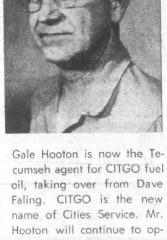
★

CHEERFULLY MRS. GARRETT explained to her caller that they hope to have a new home erected by September on another piece of property which they own nearby.

The Pettit's experience wasn't quite as serious but they did sustain considerable damage. Their garage was lifted from its foundation and dropped into a rear field, many windows were broken in their home and the roof had to be replaced and also the front of the home was littered with flying debris.

Mrs. Garrett queried as to whether Tipton was far from Manchester because a 12-year-old boy in Manchester had written to the 12-year-old Garrett boy using an address found on a Christmas card.

The two families are hoping for an opportunity to get togther for a visit soon.



Gale Hooton is now the Tecumseh agent for CITGO fuel oil, taking over from Dave Faling. CITGO is the new name of Cities Service. Mr. Hooton will continue to operate his service station at Logan and Evans Sts., where he has been in business since 1933.

Illinois Reunion Will Be Sunday in Pythian Hall

The 38th annual Illinois reunion will be held at the Pythian Hall in Tecumseh Sunday. A pot-luck dinner will begin the festivities at 12:30 p.m.

Starting Hour for Some Students to Change Again

Another change — this one of only 15 minutes — may be made in next fall's school hours.

Supt. James McDowell said, "We think we can push it to 7:45 a.m. from 7:30 for starting hour of junior high and senior high school."

He noted that this was only five minutes different than the schedule of two years ago when classes began at 7:50 a.m.

The day would conclude in these two buildings at 2:30 p.m.

For elementary students, hours are to be 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with the usual lunch break.

Hours have been changed twice in the past two months by the board.

Boardmen To Tackle 'Problem'

How to spend about $38,000 in new state aid will be on the agenda when the Board of Education holds its July meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the school offices, 304 W. Chicago Blvd.

Boardmen will also appoint a new member to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Herb Simpson, who moved out of the Tecumseh District.

Officers will be elected.

Mrs. Donald Cobb is the newest member of the group, having won a post at the recent election, along with Dr. Fred Freeman, who already was serving.

Other boardmen include Aden Meade, Orville Bishop, Bill Brown and R. H. Moore.

Veteran City Employee Retires

By MAXINE CALHOUN

"I'm trying to catch up on everything I didn't have time for while working," Mrs. Cecile Smith said this week.

June 30, Mrs. Smith retired after 11½ years as a clerical bookkeeper in the city offices.

During those years she became acquainted with almost everyone in the city as she issued building and electrical permits. She handled the switchboard and the complaints which she often heard ranging from "rusty water" to "box elder bugs."

She watched Tecumseh grow from a "sleepy little town" to a busy city in those years while she worked with Mayor Ed J. Nelson and later under the city form of government, with City Manager Cal Zorn.

She is exchanging this interesting occupation for a retirement which promises to be a busy one and just as exciting.

She has hobbies including sewing, knitting, making ceramics, playing bridge and writing poetry.

★

Mrs. Smith has an antique glass collection of pitchers and 30 glass hats. She is also a button collector.

A past regent of the D.A.R. Abi-Evans Chapter, Mrs. Smith is presently serving as treasurer of that organization.

She is a charter member of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church and is president of the Daughters of St. Peter's.

She is a past president of the Business and Professional Women's Club and is currently a vice-president.

Mrs. Smith was guest of honor at a co-operative dinner June 29 in the community center.

The 70 guests included Mayor and Mrs. Harold Easton, the members of the city council and all city employees and their spouses. Mrs. Ed Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoekstra.

Also present were Mrs. Smith's daughter, Mrs. Donna B. Elliott and son Gary, a granddaughter, Mrs. James Nass of Ypsilanti and a daughter and husband, the Rev. and Mrs. Loren Kuhn of Hendersonville, Ohio.

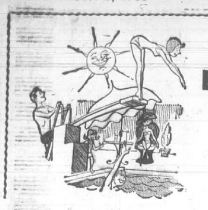
Mrs. Naomi Sallows arranged the event.

Don Moffatt, city recreational director, was the master of ceremonies. He introduced Mayor Easton, and City Manager Cal Zorn, who spoke in tribute to Mrs. Smith's many years of co-operative service to the city.

★

Remembering Mrs. Smith's often avowed threat to retire to a cabin in the hills the gifts included such amusing items as two chickens and a bird cage. They topped them off with a fine transistor radio.

She says she is going to take it easy for a few weeks then get busy again.



BEHIND PAGE ONE

To substantiate Dr. Kenneth Easlick on his philosophy concerning the retirement years, a gem, "Life Begins at Sixty", was found at The Herald office. It says that figures show that the greatest productivity lies between a man's 60th and 70th year. Sixty-four per cent of the greatest achievements have been accomplished by men who have passed their 60th year.

Timing pays. Bill Schooley and wife, Lillian, arrived at Buck Maynard's Service Station at the corner of W. Logan and N. Pearl Sts. at exactly the right time. The Goodyear Tire Co. representative happened to be there and Bill received a new tire to replace the one that was ripped open when Lillian ran over a broken pop bottle. Happy is Bill, and so is Lillian, glad to know that the company stands behind their products and that Buck "was on the ball."

Here and There is there. Della Shelton who recently left The Herald is presently in Phoenix, Ariz., with husband, Hollis, and son, John. She writes that they have decided that Colorado is for them next year instead of Alaska as they had formerly planned. They are entranced with the scenery, hiking, rock hounding and love the forest camp sites.

The Harvey House checked in its first guest, W. P. Anderson, of Berea, Ohio, who will be living there several months while working at the Fisher Body plant for his firm, J. B. Wells Co. Another dozen guests are signing in this week. The Harvey Carpenters plan a Grand Opening July 25 so that the folks of Tecumseh can tour their motel.

It's getting so tough to find a state park spot for a fellow's trailer, he has to take off on Wednesday to get acclimated for a weekend outing, reports Dick Myers, the New Era potato chip man, who did just that last week.

Who ever heard of wearing heavy winter night clothes and piling on the wool blankets the first week of July? Well, if you were around town and didn't, you probably were pretty chilly. This weather is crazy.

What's your number? Cucumber? What's your street? Pigs feet? Do you have any favorite jump rope rhymes? An elementary teacher is seeking them. Send them to The Herald.

All his young life, Kim Dabe, wanted to have a motorcycle, but his parents always demurred. Kim is now in the Air Force, down around Orlando, Fla. and married. Wife Jill recently was hired by Rollins College, meaning she needed to use the family car to get to work from the Dabes' offbase residence. This gave Kim just the reason to purchase a Honda, which he now proudly wheels to and from his AF duties.

Forty-six deaf girls, ages 7 to 18, from the Detroit area, are currently spending two weeks on the Boysville campus with four teaching nuns and two priests. They're taking classes, swimming and touring the area. There are special sermons in sign language during morning Mass. Wednesday evening the group saw "Mary Poppins" at the Strand, thanks to donations for admissions by Tecumseh and Detroit businessmen. Next week when the girls leave, a like number of deaf young men will stay at Boysville for two weeks.

In the annual Fortune Magazine listing of the 500 largest U. S. industrial corporations, Tecumseh Products ranks No. 264, based on its $230 million in sales during 1964. Twelve months ago, the Products was No. 272.

Host Families Sought

More than six hundred young people — including two from Tecumseh — are on mission of good will under the auspices of the Youth for Understanding Program.

Coming from more than 200 high schools in Michigan, these young people are spending two months as members of families in 14 different countries.

Linda Gilbert, 710 Wenonah St., is in Sweden and Patti Green, 510 W. Chicago Blvd., is in Ireland.

Others are with families in Finland, Denmark, Germany, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, France, Spain, England, Mexico, Uruguay and Japan.

Mrs. Rachel Andresen is the executive Director of the program which is now in its 4th year of operation.

Organized "to develop international understanding through a living experience with a family in another country," the program is both interfaith and interracial in its scope.

★

A SPECIAL feature of the program is a 68 voice Michigan Youth Chorale under the leadership of Robert Pratt.

Expressing the best in American life through the medium of music, this teen-age ensemble is singing in Ireland, England, Holland and Germany.

They, too, will live with families but will spread their influence in many communities.

Youth for Understanding is also spoken of as the "Michigan Teen-age Exchange" because it brings youth from Europe and Latin America to Michigan.

A farewell for the 400 European young people who have been here this year will be held in Northville on July 28 before sailing for home on the Aurelia from New York on the following day.

★

SIX HUNDRED-FIFTY European teen-agers will arrive during August to join Michigan families in more than 200 communities.

These young people stay for a full year and participate in the life of their family, their school and their community.

The opportunity to become a "host family" is still open.

Families interested in the program may contact the program office:

Fond Dream Coming True

Editor's note — Dawn Kruse, 17, who leaves July 14 from Jackson for the Girl Scout Senior Roundup in Bayview, Idaho, is preparing a series of stories for The Herald, starting this week. Seven other young ladies from the Irish Hills Council will also be delegates, including Carolyn Purple of Tecumseh.

By DAWN KRUSE

Girl Scout Senior Roundup!

These have been important words for me since six years ago — becoming more meaningful within the last year.

I have been a Girl Scout for nine and one-half years, started in the third grade and worked my way from a Brownie to a Senior Girl Scout.

I first heard about this wonderful thing called Girl Scout Senior Roundup in the sixth grade. At that time all I knew about it was a friend had been selected to go from our area to represent us to thousands of people and girls, not only from the United States, but also many other countries.

When would I be able to go to this wonderful thing?

Roundup comes every three years. My turn to try came during September of 1964 when I received an application for the Roundup.

★

AFTER SENDING this in, a card came saying to come to camp on Oct. 10, 1964. At this time 25 girls were selected to continue training for Roundup. Every other weekend all winter we would report to camp for training and testing. We were watched continuously.

Did we work well with the others? Could we give off-hand minute speeches and express ourselves? Were we afraid to speak up in a group? And most of all, were we nice hostesses to our judges, who only knew us as numbers?

We wrote papers of our future plans, evaluated each other and also had written tests about our skills. One cold day in late November came the real testing.

We were divided into pairs and tested. How did we set up a tent, start a fire, sterilize dishes, could we tie knots and lash? Did we know basic first aid?

On Dec. 31, 1964, came personal interviews. On Jan. 13, 1965, we were notified by mail who was going where.

★

I WAS ONE of the lucky ones for I had been chosen out of 22 girls to be one of the 8 to go to Big Round in Idaho.

The others were invited to go to Illinois and some hiking in the Smokey Mountains.

Jane Duvall, Julie Dyer, Judy Riley and Karen Howell all from Jackson, Debbie Robinson from Hillsdale, Carolyn Purple and I, from Tecumseh, will all be going from the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council.

DAWN KRUSE

Mary Beth Kline of Colon will represent the Tri-County Council.

There have been jobs getting equipment and clothes ready. Everything had to have a number on it to show who it belonged to and everything was shipped June 3.

Careful marking was vital since all of us will be dressed alike — 9,000 girls and 2,000 adult leaders.

Girls from every state and territory of the USA, plus six different continents will represent the Girl Scouts.

★

GIRLS WILL exchange gifts called Potlatch and also put on demonstrations telling about their area. We will depict the building of the Irish Hills Towers.

I'll be glad to receive your mail with any questions. Although I will not have time to answer all of the mail personally I will try to answer through the articles in the paper.

Meyers Co. Considers Addition

Meyers Aircraft has been granted a building permit by the city to erect a 10,000-square-feet addition.

However, it's not certain if the proposed plan will be carried out as officials of the firm weigh a number of other possibilities.

Should the new area be added, the one-plane-per-month production at Meyers would probably be tripled, an executive stated.

The new segment would be of cement block and located on the southwest part of the present layout.

FLANDERS MUSIC CO. will be closed until Friday due to the death of Mrs. Flanders' father.

Swimming Pool To Close Friday, Re-open Tuesday

Thank God for dirty dishes, they have a tale to tell,
While others go hungry, we're eating very well,
With home and health and happiness, we shouldn't want to fuss,
For by this stack of evidence, God's very good to us.

Need More Cash

A request for more money for the Tecumseh Police Department was made to Council Monday night by Chief Murell Clark.

In his annual report to Council, Clark pointed out that 16 men had been hired, and 15 resigned during the past fiscal year. The local department is one officer short of its quota at the present.

Policemen were given an $8 a week raise, effective July 1, raising their annual salary to $5,616. Clark is seeking an annual salary of $6,000 for experienced officers.

He says practically all patrolmen now have to work part time on other jobs, since their police salaries are not sufficient to live on.

The work week here is a scheduled 44 hours, although most officers work considerably more due to emergencies, vacations, and illness of other patrolmen. No overtime pay is granted.

Clark says there should be at least two patrolmen per shift, but due to vacations and sickness — plus a shortage of one oficer — the city often has only one patrolman on active duty per shift.

Present employment in the department consists of five patrolmen, two sergeants, three deskmen, one meter maid and the police chief.

Clark would like to have a sergeant and a patrolman on duty during the 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. shift; two patrolmen, a deskman and a foot patrolman on the 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. shift; and three patrolmen on the night shift, 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Council turned the chief's requests over to City Manager Cal Zorn for study.

Public Meeting Will Be in Adrian on Monday Night

A public meeting will be held Monday, July 12, at 7:30 p.m. in Adrian for the purpose of electing an action committee to obtain federal funds for Lenawee County.

The meeting will be held in the Employment Security Office across from the Post Office.

Programs have been initiated in nearby communities under the Economic Opportunity Act, such as the "Operation Headstart," in Madison.

David Young, superintendent of Madison schools, explained the program which started there last week.

A federal grant amounting to $12,870 is being used to prepare little children to enter kindergarten in the fall.

Plymouth has requested funds to provide housing for senior citizens under the EOA.

Sandra Beal Is Honored with Shower

BRITTON — Sandra Beal was honored at a bridal shower Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Chester Godzina and Mrs. Michael Carr entertained 20 guests at the Godzina home.

A pink color scheme was used in the decorations, with pink rosebuds on each table, and the guest of honor was given a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Games were played, and prizes awarded both to the winners and the bride-to-be. Sandra opened many linen gifts from a gift table centered under a huge white wedding bell.

Miss Beal will become the bride of Fred McCrate July 24.

Visiting Son

Mrs. Emma Rhora of Tecumseh is spending a few days with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rhora and daughter of Britton.

Playgrounds

A bicycle safety check was held last week Thursday. Over 60 youngsters received ribbons for passing the test. Brakes, chain guards, lights, reflectors, handlebars, seats and licenses were checked.

Tecumseh Acres had bicycle racing. Dawn Johnson, Todd Johnson and Greg Wonderly won the tricycle event. In the 9-11 age group, Jim Crandall was first, Gary Wonderly second and Randy Baker third. The 7-8 year old group was won by Lawrence Johnson and Wendy Reeves was second.

Jackie Lapham won the bicycle race at Shady Lane and John Rathkee took first place honors with Jim Sisty wrapping up second place. James Sessions won the obstacle bike race.

A bike rodeo was held at Herrick Park Wednesday. First place went to Marc Graff, second to Ike Smith.

Bicycles were decorated Friday. The following students were winners:

Best decorated: John Rathke, Lawrence Johnson, Randy Macham and Jeff Langham.

Most original: Danny Harrold, June Glenn, Cathy Retam and Mike House.

The children were instructed that they should not ride their bicycles through the business section downtown, or park their bicycles in the center of the sidewalk.

Riding double on a bicycle is dangerous, and the right side of the highway is the correct side of the road to ride a bicycle. Children were urged to watch out for red lights, cars and people.

bottom of the fourth to put his team in front, 2-0.

Hits by winning pitcher Jim Hemphill and Mike Herbert drove home the tying runs for G & J in the fifth.

This is the way the game stayed until the seventh when G & J scored their two unearned runs. The Eagles came back to score once in their half of the seventh, but it wasn't enough.

Hemphill turned in a strong performance on the mound for G & J and Mobley pitched as well for the Eagles but was hurt by the errors behind him.

Dennis Lewis was the catcher for G & J and Gary Fairbanks was behind the plate for the Eagles.

Ken Hinkleman, assistant manager for G & J called it "a real good game by both teams."

► TPW jumped off with five runs in the first inning and coasted to a 10-5 win over the Indians.

The runs were scored on only one hit .However there were three walks, a sacrifice bunt, a fielder's choice, and two damaging errors by the Indians that let in the runs.

John Kennedy and Dave Ward shared the pitching duties for TPW. They gave up only five hits and combined with an airtight defense, featuring three big plays, they were enough to subdue the Indians.

Kennedy struck out eight in the five innings he pitched and Ward added two more strikeouts in the last two frames.

Butch Quinn made a fine over the shoulder grab of a ball hit out of the infield, John Bryan made a leaping grab at first base of a line drive down the line and Ward made a long running catch of a ball hit by Bruce Des Ermia to rob the latter of his third hit of the game.

Rick Calzada started for the Indians and pitched the first six innings allowing 10 runs and striking out eight batters. Greg Wise came in and pitched the final inning for the Indians and didn't allow a run.

The catchers were Tony Nykodym for TPW and Tom Horton for the Indians.

Bryan and Nykodym led the TPW attack at the plate with two hits apiece.

Des Ermia paced the Indian batters with a pair of hits in four at-bats.

► TPW edged VFW, 3-0, in a pitchers duel that was scoreless for three innings.

Butch Quinn hurled the shutout for TPW and allowed only three hits while striking out seven batters.

Lamar Rufner started for VFW and for three innings matched Quinn's performance.

TPW broke open the game in the bottom of the fourth when with one out Quinn walked, stole second and third and scored on a two-out single to left by John Bryan.

Then in the fifth, after TPW scored another run, John Kennedy iced the game when he scored the third run on a steal of home.

VFW tried to come back in the sixth but were thwarted by two fine running catches by David Kitson in left field and Doug Haeussler in right field. Both catches took away possible extra base hits by the VFW batsmen.

In the four innings he worked, Rufner struck out eight batters for VFW. Ron Randolph pitched the final two innings for VFW and struck out three men.

TPW also only got three hits. In addition to Bryan's RBI single, Kennedy and Jim Whitney picked up hits for TPW.

Charles Butler Wins Frank Smith Trophy

In a sudden-death playoff, Charlie Butler of Tecumseh defeated John Thoss of Saline to capture the annual Frank Smith Tournament at Tecumseh Country Club July 4.

The affair is held in honor of the late Mr. Smith, a golfing pioneer in Tecumseh who at one time owned the club.

His son, Kirk of Clearwater, Fla., had a 75 for low gross, the best score turned in on the new 18-hole layout.

But the big excitement involved golfers Butler and Thoss, who with three-quarters of their handicaps, each turned in 74 net cards for 18 holes.

Tourney chairman Bob Hoekstra ordered a sudden-death to break the tie and the pair went three holes before Mr. Butler was able to win an edge.

★

IN THE women's division, club champion Mrs. Robert Bowers finished on top, one stroke better than Mrs. R. H. Moore and Mrs. Robert Dickinson.

Mrs. Bowers had a net 39 and the others net 40s.

Mrs. Butler Takes Third in Seniors

Mrs. Charles Butler finished third in the annual Michigan Senior Women's Golf Association tournament, held at Flint Golf [illegible]de 24 and 25.

Other Tecumseh women taking part were Mrs. J. H. Rohweder, Mrs. Dale Bowen, Mrs. R. H. Moore and Mrs. Frank Purcell.

In the group's business meeting, Mrs. Rohweder was elected secretary for 1965-66.

Next summer's 10th anniversary tournament will be staged over the Washtenaw Country Club course.

Fun in Summer and Winter

The Irish Hills Sports Park, located in the scenic Irish Hills on US-12 and 15 minutes from Tecumseh, is one of the most complete recreation centers in the country.

Newest addition to the facilities is an over-night camping area, where guests can park trailers. It was added this year.

Electricity and rest rooms with showers are available and reservations for trailers may be made for both summer and winter.

Pleasant in the warm months, this newest accommodation will certainly be a welcome one for skiiers on the slopes this winter.

One of the few lighted golf courses in the country, it is also the oldest in Lenawee County and the most unique, tough to score on because of hills, trees and small greens. The course is not a long one, however.

The beautiful club house is nestled in 200 acres of picturesque terrain.

Many people like to dine on the deck, overlooking the No. 1 tee directly below them. The chef specializes in charcoal broiled steaks, sea food, gourmet buffets and smorgasbord.

The air conditioned building is equipped for banquet and group meals as well as individual parties.

The lighted Park offers year around pleasures including golf and skiing. A cocktail lounge, the restaurant, ski pro shop with over 500 pair of skis, a golf pro shop and cafeteria, fireplaces and the deck which overlooks 90% of the area.

Power carts are available for golfers. A special package offer of nine holes of golf with a two-man cart before dinner —choice of steak or seafood—followed by another nine holes under the lights with a two-man cart, all for $6.50.

Gene Sell, a native of Clinton, owns the golf course. He bought it 17 years ago.

A graduate of Clinton High School, he obtained a bachelor degree from the University of Michigan in general science and a master's degree in accounting from the University of Toledo.

Mr. Sell has gradually improved the Sports Park until it is one of the finest in the state.

He and his wife, Alice, visited the lovely spot several winters ago and found it teeming with people using the golf course for skiing, tobogganing, etc. and asking for a ski tow.

The request led to the lighted facilities found at the Park now for golf in summer and skiing in winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sell have four children, Gary, 12, twins Claudia and David, 10, and Carol, 5.

THE MOUNTBATTENS, the last royal success story, by Alden Hatch. The Mountbattens are the most important family in Great Britain; not because of their friendship to the Royal Family, whom they far outshine, but because, by brains, energy, and determination they have made themselves so. THE GRANDFATHERS by Conrad Richter. Vivid and sometimes startling in its comic invention, this is the story of a sixteen-year-old girl, the eldest of a brood of fatherless children in a Maryland mountain valley community, and the story also of the men, some young and some old, whose lives, personalities, and strong characters supply the routes through which she enters young womanhood.

Judy Martin and Daniel Harvey Marry

Judy Martin became the bride of Airman Daniel Harvey June 26 at the First Methodist Church in a ceremony performed by the groom's father, the Rev. Dale Harvey, former Tecumseh pastor and teacher.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William D. Martin, 5 Occidental Hwy. The Rev. and Mrs. Harvey are residents of Hastings where Mr. Harvey is pastor of a Nazarene Church.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of lace over organza with fitted bodice, short sleeves and rounded neckline and a chapel train attached at the waistline.

A double tiarra princess crown secured her elbow-length veil and she carried a white Bible topped with white blossoms.

Mrs. George Hawkins of Britton was matron of honor and the bridesmaid was Judy Harvey, sister of the groom, from Crescent City, Ill.

They were attired in pink and blue floor-length lace gowns and wore matching veils on their heads. The attendants carried arrangements of carnations.

Susan and Steve Hawkins were the flower girl and the ring bearer. Susan wore a yellow lace gown with a yellow bow in her hair and carried a basket of blooms.

David Grigg was best man with Gary Kaye as groomsman. He also assisted Tim Harvey, brother of the groom, with ushering.

Dennis Bryan was soloist and sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. He was accompanied by Mrs. Donald Bush.

A reception was held for 150 guests in the social room of the church with Patricia Warner, Alving Pollitz, Ann Marks and Christine Reeves assisting.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Stautzenberger Business College, Toledo, O.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

OCCASIONAL GLIMPSES

Combining last week's article with this one presents a real Mutt and Jeff situation. The one dealt with the towering great blue heron whereas this week our subject is at the other end of the scale.

It is the case of a four or five foot bird against a tiny mite measuring scarcely two feathers over five inches — because that is the length of a handsome indigo bunting.

Both the big and little have been visitors lately and really, since that is the only thing they have in common, we should let our heron fly back to his own article.

Our usual habit of indigo bunting sightings was upset this year. Being warm weather lovers, they dawdle a bit during the springtime trek north and it is the first of May or later before they cross the Michigan-Ohio border.

Since we started keeping a bird calendar there is a notation, one per year, of an indigo bunting visit. As regular as spring wings, his brilliant color is covmale once and that was it until the next year.

All this changed now however, and guess who has been seen often enough to almost be called an old friend? Of course, none other than vividly colored Mr. Indigo Bunting.

★

AN ATTEMPT at description soon bankrupts the vocabulary. The blue of this bird defies words — we who have seen him will never forget the color and anyone merely reading about it will never believe.

Interestingly enough, the bunting's color comes not from blue pigment in the feathers, because there is none, but is instead the result of light refraction.

It is the same principal which allows bright sunshine to transform an ugly smear of grimy oil into a rainbow of color.

While Mr. I. B. is the picture of splendor in his all over suit of blue, his poor little wife personifies all that is dull, drab and nondescript.

She looks much like a faintly striped, mousey sparrow. Although she no doubt appears in the yard, I have little hope of ever recognizing her.

If ever, when watching her handsome husband, she feels pangs of envy, the results of a fall feather growing season must be sweet indeed. After the mating session, the males' plumage is brown tipped. With the exception of slight traces on tail and wings, his brilliant color is covered up until next spring.

★

FOR A CHANGE, I believe we have the answer to the "whys" of a bird's behavior — why this year we have the indigo bunting staying in the neighborhood.

In back of us, what formerly was a large garden has gone "wild" and the resulting thick tangle is ideal indigo bunting habitat. In addition to the dense ground cover, the creek is just so much extra icing on the cake, a near perfect home-site.

Undoubledly in the crotch of one of the small maple trees, probably just a few feet from the ground, there is a neat little woven cup of grass, twigs and dead leaves.

Most of the family raising responsibility is shouldered by Mrs. I. B. She builds the nest, lays three or four bluish white eggs and does the incubating. An especially thoughtful husband, and I am sure our blue boy must be that, will sometimes bring food to his mate while she spends tedious hours egg sitting.

★

HE WILL also help with the seemingly unending task of feeding the youngsters. Most books agree that two broods are raised each year, but there is complete disagreement about the nest.

One says a new nest is built, another states the same nest is used and the third indicates that, while unusual in the bird world, buntings may repair year-old nests.

About the only thing for sure is that the female does the construction work while her gayblade husband is flitting around looking pretty.

So it is that, like the great blue heron, our indigo bunting [illegible] show himself often, but, oh, my, how thrilling are the occasional glimpses!

Math Being Ignored

ANN ARBOR — Most teachers feel that general mathematics has been completely neglected in the current high school math reform, says Joseph N. Payne, University of Michigan professor of education.

The National Science Foundation-sponsored institutes for high school teachers have largely ignored general mathematics courses by heavy emphasis on content geared primarily to the needs for college mathematics, Payne says.

Payne also said experimental work in general mathematics places greater emphasis on mathematical ideas than most courses have in the past:

"The attempt seems to be to find new content, or at least new approaches to content, so that the mathematics of the course will have greater intrinsic interest for students.

"It is commonly believed that the principle difficulty in general mathematics is caused by the attitude of the pupils toward mathematics," Payne says.

"It could be the case that the content of general mathematics has not been the kind that teachers value.

"Long-range improvement in general mathematics will come as the content becomes more interesting for students and for teachers, and as teachers learn to adapt the content to the interests and abilities of the students," Payne said.

By KATHRYN M. SOMMERS

LOOK WHAT SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS WILL DO!

How would you mothers like a place where you could leave your children for five hours during a long morning in the care of a lady with a master's degree in elementary education — all for 75c?

It's possible in Fayetteville.

This "kindergarten," as it's called, is operated the year 'round, but during the summer months there is less stress on academic material.

I understand that if mothers want to leave their children for all day they furnish a sack lunch and pick up the tab of $1.50.

Mothers enrolled for classes at the University of Arkansas make good use of these schools.

And while on the subject of kindergartens, there are no public ones on Arkansas. However, private ones and quite a few nursery schools afford some schooling for five-year-olds.

★

I BECAME curious about the industry of Fayetteville. This is a city of nearly 23,000 people and I knew the University couldn't support them all.

In driving around we saw some spacious, new-looking plants and became even more interested. In the booklet called "Fayetteville" published by the local Chamber of Commerce, I found several familiar names among the industries:

Baldwin Piano Co.— 400 employees

Bear Brand Hosiery Co. — 120 employees

Campbell Soup Co. — 850 employees

EPC of Arkansas (Elkhart Products, one of the newcomers — 40 employees

The Standard Register Co., whose headquarters are in Dayton — 215 employees. This also is a new industry.

The publication listed perhaps a dozen additional smaller ones. Several of these were connected with the poultry business.

Two milling and feed stores were listed, a turkey hatchery, a chick hatchery, a poultry house and one business which hauls "finished broilers."

★

IF THIS CITY is blessed with industry, it is also well-churched. A directory lists 10 Baptist churches, four each of Church of Christ and Methodist, three each of Assembly of God and Pentecostal, two each of Christian, Christ's Church and Presbyterian and one of several more including Christ Scientist, Catholic, Episcopal, St. Thomas Aquinas, Seventh-Day Adventist, Latter Day Saints, Nazarene, Lutheran, and Unitarian.

Some of the church buildings look new with brick being a favorite material. They use traditional architecture for the most part on the exteriors.

Following advice we found in a brochure we traveled south on Rt. 71 one afternoon towards Fort Smith. I know that name rings a bell to Charlie Gross and Charles Staples Jr. and probably others in the area who took their basic army training there.

Highway 71 is a typical tourist-traveled road. Frequently, one will come upon souvenir shops, lookout points, and all sorts of enterprises designed to get a few dollars out of the passers-by.

We got lured into a zoo which turned out to be a dud as far as the animals were concerned, but offered a marvelous view of an artificial lake.

As we stood on a rock mysteriously labelled "Eagle's Eye" we saw far below us a moving, white dot which turned out to be a boat on a joy cruise.

If the traveler can wrest himself from the shops, there is mountain scenery to enjoy. We feasted our eyes on miles and miles of majestic mountains richly carpeted by thousands and thousands of trees.

"Who planted those?" our daughter asked.

★

BECAUSE FALL is my favorite season, I was seeing these mountains shrouded with autumn colors. Local author Fred Starr says the "Flaming Fall Revue" splashes the hills with "Joseph-coated colors." I'd love to see the display.

We saw valleys with rivers running through and occasionally a small farm would be laid out there. Sometimes a fabulous house was perched up on top of a rise, affording what must be a splendid view.

But for the most part we were seeing virgin territory still unscarred by the 20th century population explosion.

★

I HAVEN'T said much about the way the people talk here, but of course we're enjoying the southern accent. It's especially delightful in the children.

One little guy next door who hasn't learned to talk very well in the first place, has convinced one of our sons that this town is "Fatville."

Well, it is. It has a great deal to offer transplanted Michiganders.

ULTRA MODERN — General Motors President James M. Roche dedicated the new and ultra modern GM Training Center at Warren during festivities attended by more than 400 business and civic leaders.

New GM Center Dedicated

WARREN — Madison High School of Adrian became the 854th secondary school to receive a General Motors gift of mechanical equipment for use in vocational teaching, Myrle E. St. Aubin, Director of the Service Section of the Marketing Staff, announced.

The donation was received by Madison Principal Joe Winger during ceremonies dedicating the new GM Training Center at Van Dyke and Chicago Rds. here.

Included in the equipment presented to the Madison school were a Chevrolet engine, one standard transmission, one Powerglide transmission, two Delcotron generators, four carburetors, an engine stand, a transmission holding fixture and special tools used by mechanics to repair similar equipment.

Mechanical equipment similar to that given the Madison school is being made available by GM to qualifying schools which teach students automobile mechanics courses.

During the dedicatory ceremony General Motors President James M. Roche told an audience of more than 400 civic and business leaders that the program designed as an aid to education has produced more than 7,500 individual pieces of automotive equipment and tools for schools in the one-and-a-half years of operation.

He said many applications for assistance from other schools throughout the U.S. were currently being processed.

'Ghost Town Swindle'

Roy Smith, Ypsilanti Township supervisor, spoke June 28 to members of the Adrian Area Republican Women's Club.

Mr. Smith told of the "Poverty Project" of the Federal Government in his township where a request for a grant of $188,000 was made by several University of Michigan professors.

The grant is to be used for three subdivisions in the township where average income is $7,942, according to Mr. Smith.

WRAND — Willow Run Association Neighborhood Development — received quick response from the people of the community, who formed REPLY, Return Every Penny and Leave Ypsilanti.

★

MR. SMITH called his talk "The Ghost Town Swindle" because the remaining few buildings left from the World War II housing project called Willow Run have long since been removed.

The supervisor left his audience with these comments, "Bad seed does not produce and certainly this grant is not good seed. I know what poverty is for I was raised in Tennessee during the depression of the 1930's.

"We had one pair of shoes a year, one shirt and one pair of trousers. That's poverty and we have nothing like this in Ypsilanti."

In a survey of the three subdivisions made by disinterested parties, Mr. Smith found that there is not a single unemployed person, that none of the homes are more than 10 years old and that all have garbage pickup every week.

★

There is adequate fire and police protection. Sewer facilities covering the township are paid for. Industrial plants, schools and medical facilities are within easy access to the area.

★

ANOTHER SURVEY made by WRAND to obtain the grant, said that there are none of these facilities and that there is a lack of cultural facilities.

Eastern Michigan University campus is located in Ypsilanti less than three miles from the area and U of M less than 12 miles.

Mr. Smith offered to speak and show his documentation to any group or individual interested.

1,000 of 4-H Hold Session

More than 1,000 Michigan 4-H Club youths — including 16 from Lenawee County — will spend four days in July on the Michigan State University campus attending the 47th annual edition of 4-H Club Week, July 13 to 16.

The youthful delegates will come from all of Michigan's counties to attend the July 13-16 event having the general theme of "Destination-Leadership."

Delegates were selected for their outstanding record as 4-H Club members in their home counties, according to Sue Gleason, Lenawee County 4-H Club agent for the Lenawee County Cooperative Extension Service.

★

AMONG THOSE attending from Lenawee County are Alan Gilhouse and Kathleen Johnston of Tipton, Richard Jackson of Tecumseh and Mary Ann Woodward of Clinton.

This year's program, planned by a special 35-member planning committee composed of some of last year's delegates, will feature discussions on human relations, international understanding and boy-girl relationships.

Extensive use of closed circuit television will be a feature.

The international understanding program will be designed so delegates can return to their home communities and take active leadership roles in helping other teenagers and adults better understand the workings of the United Nations.

The human relations phase of 4-H Club week will explore the meaning and causes of discrimination, prejudice and other social problems concerning human relations.

★

THE YOUTHS will form 90 separate discussion groups to seek alternative solutions to problems and to find roles they as individuals can play in their home communities, state, nation and the entire world.

Katharine Jewell spent last week at Swartz Creek with her sister, Helen.

Terry's mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Godzina, planned the affair for his 16th birthday.

Thirty friends enjoyed swimming in the Godzina pool, dancing, basketball and volleyball. Hearty refreshments, including a birthday cake, were served to the active group. Mrs. Godzina was assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Ash.

Dear friends,

It has been our privilege to serve members of nearly all religions. Some require specific rituals as part of the funeral service. We are well aware of these requirements and meticulously fulfill them.

We are also most willing to comply with personal variations in the conduct of the funeral service.
